

A Statute Concerning Tallage (1297)

1297 CHAPTER 1 25 Edw 1

I No Tallage or Aid without Assent of Parliament.

No Tallage or Aid shall be [^{X1}taken] or levied by Us or our Heirs in our Realm, without the good will and Assent of (^{X2}) Archbishops, Bishops, Earls, Barons, Knights, Burgesses, and other [^{X3}Freemen of the Land.]

Statutu de Tallag.

Ex MS. 377. in Coll. Corp.
Clavii, Cantab.
Nullum Tallagium vel auxilium p
nos vel heredi nostri (*) in regno nostro hponat' i' sine lever sine voluntate & assensu [sociis]
Archepos, Epus (*) Coth, Bar-ones, Milii, Burgi, & alios liberos [h'biu] i' de i' regno nro.

De consensu H. tempore H. ME.
i' Coll. Cantab.
i' MSS. P. 100. H. 100. ANM.
i' MSS. ME. Clav.
Cant.
i' H.

Editorial Information

- X1 Variant reading of the text noted in The Statutes of the Realm as follows: laid
- X2 Variant reading of the text noted in The Statutes of the Realm as follows: the
- X3 Variant reading of the text noted in The Statutes of the Realm as follows: Free Commons of our Realm.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the A Statute Concerning Tallage (1297), Section I.