Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

STATUTORY INSTRUMENTS

1987 No. 249

The Food Protection (Emergency Prohibitions) (England) (No. 2) Amendment No. 2 Order 1987

Partial revocation and amendment

2. The Food Protection (Emergency Prohibitions) (England) (No. 2) Order 1986 is revoked to the extent that it imposes prohibitions on—

(a) the slaughter of a sheep which was moved from a place in accordance with a consent given under section 2(1) of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 which consent was subject to the condition that the sheep to which it applies should be marked with a blue mark; and

(b) the supply or having in possession for supply of meat, or food containing meat, derived from such a sheep, and accordingly that Order is further amended in accordance with the following provisions of this Order.