Energy Conservation Act 1981 (repealed)

CHAPTER 17

ENERGY CONSERVATION ACT 1981 (REPEALED)

PART I

TYPE APPROVAL OF CERTAIN ENERGY-CONSUMING APPLIANCES

1 Power to prohibit supply of certain appliances without type approval mark or approved operating and maintenance instructions.
2 United KingdomU.K. requirements for type approval and approval of operating and maintenance instructions.
3 United KingdomU.K. type approval bodies.
4 United KingdomU.K. type approval and approval of operating and maintenance instructions.
5 Control of conformity to approved type or instructions.
6 Withdrawal of United KingdomU.K. approvals on change of standards under section 2.
7 Supervision by the Secretary of State of United KingdomU.K. type approval bodies.
8 Interpretation of Part I.

PART II

INDIVIDUAL TESTING OF CERTAIN HEAT GENERATORS

9 On-site testing orders.
10 Deferment of tests and modification of test standards.
11 Testing authorities.
12 Obligations of suppliers of generators subject to on-site testing.
13 Data plates for approved generators.
14 Interpretation of Part II.

PART III

MISCELLANEOUS AND SUPPLEMENTAL

15 Grants for purposes of energy conservation advice schemes.
16 Alleviation of charges for abstraction of water in certain cases.
17 Contravention of orders.
18 Saving for civil rights.
19 Exception of certain approved performance particulars from trade descriptions law.
20 Enforcement of orders under Part I.
21 Enforcement of orders under Part II.
22 Obstruction of enforcement officers and authorised inspectors.
23 Notice of test.
24 Compensation for loss, et ceteralaetc., of appliance seized under section 20.
25 Offences by corporations.
26 Orders.
27 Interpretation.
28 Application to Northern Ireland.
29 Citation.

Changes to legislation:
There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Energy Conservation Act 1981 (repealed).