Marriage (Secretaries of Synagogues) Act 1959

1959 CHAPTER 13 7 and 8 Eliz 2

1 Amendment of definition of "secretary of a synagogue."

In section sixty-seven of the [M1]Marriage Act, 1949, the definition of "secretary of a synagogue" shall be amended by substituting for paragraph (c) thereof the following paragraphs:—

"(c) the person whom twenty householders professing the Jewish religion and being members of the Liberal Jewish Synagogue, St. John's Wood, certify in writing to the Registrar General to be the secretary of that Synagogue;

(d) a person whom the secretary of either the West London Synagogue of British Jews or the Liberal Jewish Synagogue, St. Johns's Wood, certifies in writing to be the secretary of some other synagogue of not less than twenty householders professing the Jewish religion, being a synagogue which is connected with the said West London Synagogue or with the said Liberal Jewish Synagogue, St. Johns's Wood, as the case may be, and has been established for not less than one year."

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1 The text of s. 1 is in the form in which it was originally enacted: it was not reproduced in Statutes in Force and does not reflect any amendments or repeals which may have been made prior to 1.2.1991.

Marginal Citations

M1 12, 13 & 14 Geo. 6. c. 76.

2 Citation.

This Act may be cited as the Marriage (Secretaries of Synagogues) Act, 1959, and the Marriage Acts, 1949 to 1958, and this Act may be cited together as the Marriage Acts, 1949 to 1959.

Changes to legislation:
There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Marriage (Secretaries of Synagogues) Act 1959.