Sexual Offences (Scotland) Act 2009

2009 asp 9

PART 1

RAPE ETC.

Sexual assault and other sexual offences

4 Sexual coercion

If a person ("A")—

(a) without another person ("B") consenting to participate in a sexual activity, and

(b) without any reasonable belief that B consents to participating in that activity, intentionally causes B to participate in that activity, then A commits an offence, to be known as the offence of sexual coercion.

Changes to legislation:
There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Sexual Offences (Scotland) Act 2009, Section 4.