Rights of regulating a fishery

3. The right of regulating a fishery for the prescribed species with respect to the whole of the area of the fishery is hereby conferred on the Organisation until 31st January 2028.

Power to impose restrictions and make regulations

4.—(1) The Organisation may, with the consent of the Scottish Ministers, from time to time impose restrictions on, and make regulations respecting, the dredging, fishing for and taking of the prescribed species within the whole or any specified part of the fishery.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of paragraph (1), regulations may be made under that paragraph for the purpose of—

(4) S.S.I. 2004/5.

(5) Section 1(1) of the Sea Fisheries (Shellfish) Act 1967 provides that the shellfish that may be regulated under an order made in terms of that section are oysters, mussels, cockles, clams, lobsters and any other molluscs or crustaceans of a kind specified in regulations. Scallops and queens were specified for the purposes of section 1 by the Shellfish (Specification of Molluscs) Regulations 1987 (S.I. 1987/218), and crabs, whelks and razorshells were specified for that purpose by the Shellfish (Specification of Molluscs and Crustaceans) (Scotland) Regulations 1999 (S.S.I. 1999/139).

- (a) determining the size below which or above which it is unlawful to take any of the prescribed species from the fishery or to remove them from one part of the fishery to another; and
 - (b) determining the size or description of vessels, dredges and fishing instruments to be used in dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species.
- (3) The production of a copy of any restriction or regulation purporting to be certified by the Scottish Ministers is conclusive evidence of the restriction or existence of the regulation and of the making of it.

Licensing of fishing

5.—(1) No person may dredge, fish for or take any of the prescribed species within the fishery except under the authority of a licence issued, on application, by the Organisation and, subject to paragraphs (4) and (5), a licence is valid for the period, not exceeding 12 months, specified therein.

(2) No person may use a vessel for dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species within the fishery except under the authority of a licence issued under paragraph (1) in which the vessel is named.

(3) The prohibitions in paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply to any person—

- (a) fishing for or taking; or
- (b) using a vessel wholly to fish for or take, any of the prescribed species within the fishery where none of those species caught or taken is to be sold, traded or otherwise exchanged for benefit.

(4) A person who is the owner of a vessel may apply for, and be issued with, a licence for dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species from a vessel.

(5) A licence for dredging, fishing for or taking of any of the prescribed species from a vessel, in addition to authorising the applicant, may also authorise—

- (a) subject to paragraph (9), a person nominated by the applicant as the applicant's representative; or
- (b) with the written authority of the Organisation and in accordance with any conditions contained in that authority, a person nominated by the applicant or the applicant's representative as a deputy,

to dredge, fish for or take any of the prescribed species from that vessel.

(6) No applicant who is the registered joint owner of a vessel may be issued with a licence in accordance with paragraph (4) to dredge, fish for or take any of the prescribed species from that vessel if, for the period in respect of which the application relates, the Organisation has—

- (a) received from another joint owner an application for a licence; or
- (b) granted to another joint owner a licence, to dredge, fish for or take any of the prescribed species from that vessel.

(7) The Organisation may, after consultation with such organisations as appear to it to be representative of interests likely to be substantially affected by a limitation on the number of licences issued, and such other persons as the Organisation thinks fit, place a limitation on the number of such licences which may be issued in any one fishing season having particular regard to scientific advice on the desirability of limiting the level of exploitation.

(8) Any person dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species within the fishery under the authority of a licence issued under this article must, when so requested by any officer authorised by the Organisation and after production by that officer of written evidence of the officer's authority if so required, produce the licence and must desist from dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species within the fishery until it is produced.

(9) At the discretion of the Organisation, no person may be named on a licence in accordance with paragraph (5)(a) as the representative of an applicant if on at least two separate occasions within the period of 24 months immediately preceding the date of application for the licence that person has been convicted of an offence under section 3(3) of the 1967 Act.

Tolls payable for fishing

6. Any applicant to whom the Organisation proposes to issue a licence under the provisions of article 5 must pay to the Organisation before or upon receipt of the licence a toll in respect of the licence of £250 per annum.

Power to create reserves

7. The Organisation may from time to time designate and mark out as reserves such parts of the fishery as it thinks necessary for—

- (a) experimental, management or scientific purposes, including the control of pests or diseases of any of the prescribed species;
- (b) cleansing and subsequent restocking with any of the prescribed species and the protection of stock introduced;
- (c) the collection of spat of any of the prescribed species; and
- (d) the deposit or re-laying of any of the prescribed species for the purposes of cleansing before their removal from the fishery, and may use such reserves for their designated purposes and prohibit their use for any other purpose connected with or ancillary to dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species.

Power to remove juvenile shellfish

8. For the purpose of cultivating the fishery, any person authorised by the Organisation may remove any spat or small shellfish of the prescribed species from the fishery or from one part of the fishery to any other part at such times and in such quantities as the Organisation may direct.

Exemptions for scientific purposes

9.—(1) The Organisation may, by authority given in writing, exempt any person who is dredging, fishing for or taking any of the prescribed species for scientific purposes from any provision of this Order or from any restriction imposed or regulation made under this Order.

(2) A reference in this article to anything done in writing includes a reference to an electronic communication, as defined in section 15 of the Electronic Communications Act 2000⁽⁶⁾, which has been recorded and is consequently capable of being reproduced.

Accounts of income and expenditure and other information

10. The Organisation must—

- (a) render to the Scottish Ministers annual accounts of its income and expenditure under this Order;

(6) 2000 c.7. Section 15 was amended by paragraph 158 of Schedule 17 to the Communications Act 2003 (c.21).

- (b) furnish to the Scottish Ministers all other information required by them with reference to this Order and to the fishery in such form and at such times as they may require;
- (c) allow any person authorised by the Scottish Ministers in that behalf to inspect the fishery and all books of account and other documents in the possession of the Organisation relating to this Order and to the fishery and the Organisation must give to such person any information relating thereto as that person may require.

Rights of the Crown

11.—(1) Nothing in this Order or in any restriction imposed or regulation made by the Organisation may affect prejudicially any estate, right, power, privilege or exemption of the Crown and in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing, nothing in this Order authorises the Organisation to take, use, enter upon or in any manner interfere with any land, or interest in land, any rights of whatever description (including any portion of the shore or bed of the sea, or of any river, channel, creek, bay or estuary) belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown and under the management of the Crown Estate Commissioners without the consent in writing of those Commissioners.

(2) A consent under paragraph (1) may be given unconditionally or subject to such conditions and upon such terms as are considered necessary or appropriate.
