EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Advice and Assistance (Scotland) Regulations 1996, the Civil Legal Aid (Scotland) (Fees) Regulations 1989, the Criminal Legal Aid (Scotland) (Fees) Regulations 1989 and the Legal Aid in Contempt of Court Proceedings (Scotland) (Fees) Regulations 1992.

These Regulations insert new provision into each of the above instruments about how fees payable to solicitors, in relation to provision of legal aid or assistance by way of representation at court, and fees payable to solicitors and solicitors' clerks for time spent travelling, should be calculated. The inserted provisions state that certain fees will be calculated on the basis of the total time engaged per day. This means that where time is spent on a prescribed activity at various stages throughout the day, the individual blocks of time spent on that activity should be totalled up and then rounded up to the nearest unit of time specified, before the prescribed fee rate is applied.
