- (1) The Crown Court and a magistrates' court shall each have power, in addition to dealing with an offender in any other way, to make an order under this section requiring him to pay such sum as the court thinks fit.
- (2) The Crown Court may make such an order against an offender where—
 - (a) he is found guilty of any offence to which this Part of this Act applies; and
 - (b) it is satisfied—
 - (i) that he has benefited from that offence or from that offence taken together with some other offence of which he is convicted in the same proceedings, or which the court takes into consideration in determining his sentence, and which is not a drug trafficking offence; and
 - (ii) that his benefit is at least the minimum amount.
- (3) A magistrates' court may make such an order against an offender where—
 - (a) he is convicted of an offence listed in Schedule 4 to this Act; and
 - (b) it is satisfied—
 - (i) that he has benefited from that offence or from that offence taken together with some other offence listed in that Schedule of which he is convicted in the same proceedings, or which the court takes into consideration in determining his sentence; and
 - (ii) that his benefit is at least the minimum amount.
- (4) For the purposes of this Part of this Act a person benefits from an offence if he obtains property as a result of or in connection with its commission and his benefit is the value of the property so obtained.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally enacted).

- (5) Where a person derives a pecuniary advantage as a result of or in connection with the commission of an offence, he is to be treated for the purposes of this Part of this Act as if he had obtained as a result of or in connection with the commission of the offence a sum of money equal to the value of the pecuniary advantage.
- (6) The sum which an order made by a court under this section requires an offender to pay must be at least the minimum amount, but must not exceed—
- (a) the benefit in respect of which it is made; or
 - (b) the amount appearing to the court to be the amount that might be realised at the time the order is made,
- whichever is the less.
- (7) For the purposes of this Part of this Act the minimum amount is £10,000 or such other amount as the Secretary of State may specify by order made by statutory instrument.
- (8) A statutory instrument containing an order made by the Secretary of State under this section shall be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament.
- (9) In this Part of this Act—
- (a) an order made by a court under this section is referred to as a “confiscation order”;
 - (b) “drug trafficking offence” has the same meaning as in the Drug Trafficking Offences Act 1986;

 - (i) is listed in Schedule 4 to this Act; or
 - (ii) if not so listed, is an indictable offence, other than a drug trafficking offence; and
 - (d) a person against whom proceedings have been instituted for an offence to which this Part of this Act applies is referred to (whether or not he has been convicted) as “the defendant”.

72 Making of confiscation orders

- (1) A court shall not make a confiscation order unless the prosecutor has given written notice to the court to the effect that it appears to him that, were the court to consider that it ought to make such an order, it would be able to make an order requiring the offender to pay at least the minimum amount.
- (2) If the prosecutor gives the court such a notice, the court shall determine whether it ought to make a confiscation order.
- (3) When considering whether to make a confiscation order the court may take into account any information that has been placed before it showing that a victim of an offence to which the proceedings relate has instituted, or intends to institute, civil proceedings against the defendant in respect of loss, injury or damage sustained in connection with the offence.
- (4) If the court determines that it ought to make such an order, the court shall, before sentencing or otherwise dealing with the offender in respect of the offence or, as the case may be, any of the offences concerned, determine the amount to be recovered in his case by virtue of this section and make a confiscation order for that amount specifying the offence or offences.

(5) Where a court makes a confiscation order against a defendant in any proceedings, it shall be its duty, in respect of any offence of which he is convicted in those proceedings, to take account of the order before—

- (a) imposing any fine on him;
- (b) making any order involving any payment by him, other than an order under section 35 of the Powers of Criminal Courts Act 1973 (compensation orders); or
- (c) making any order under—
 - (i) section 27 of the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 (forfeiture orders); or
 - (ii) section 43 of the Powers of Criminal Courts Act 1973 (deprivation orders), but subject to that shall leave the order out of account in determining the appropriate sentence or other manner of dealing with him.

(6) No enactment restricting the power of a court dealing with an offender in a particular way from dealing with him also in any other way shall by reason only of the making of a confiscation order restrict the court from dealing with an offender in any way it considers appropriate in respect of an offence to which this Part of this Act applies.

(7) Where—

- (a) a court makes both a confiscation order and an order for the payment of compensation under section 35 of the Powers of Criminal Courts Act 1973 against the same person in the same proceedings; and
- (b) it appears to the court that he will not have sufficient means to satisfy both the orders in full,

it shall direct that so much of the compensation as will not in its opinion be recoverable because of the insufficiency of his means shall be paid out of any sums recovered under the confiscation order.

73 Statements, etc. relevant to making confiscation orders

(1) Where—

- (a) a defendant has been convicted of an offence to which this Part of this Act applies and the prosecutor tenders to the court a statement as to any matters relevant—
 - (i) to determining whether the defendant has benefited from the offence or from any other offence to which this Part of this Act applies of which he is convicted in the same proceedings or which is taken into consideration in determining his sentence; or
 - (ii) to an assessment of the value of the defendant's benefit from the offence or any other offence to which this Part of this Act applies of which he is so convicted or which is so taken into consideration; and
 - (b) the defendant accepts to any extent any allegation in the statement;
- the court may, for the purposes of so determining or making such an assessment, treat his acceptance as conclusive of the matters to which it relates.

(2) Where—

- (a) a statement is tendered under subsection (1)(a) above, and

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally enacted).

- (b) the court is satisfied that a copy of that statement has been served on the defendant,
- the court may require the defendant to indicate to what extent he accepts each allegation in the statement and, so far as he does not accept any such allegation, to indicate any matters he proposes to rely on.
- (3) If the defendant fails in any respect to comply with a requirement under subsection (2) above, he may be treated for the purposes of this section as accepting every allegation in the statement apart from—
- (a) any allegation in respect of which he has complied with the requirement; and
 - (b) any allegation that he has benefited from an offence or that any property was obtained by him as a result of or in connection with the commission of an offence.
- (4) Where—
- (a) there is tendered to the court by the defendant a statement as to any matters relevant to determining the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made; and
 - (b) the prosecutor accepts to any extent any allegation in the statement;
- the court may, for the purposes of that determination, treat the acceptance by the prosecutor as conclusive of the matters to which it relates.
- (5) An allegation may be accepted or a matter indicated for the purposes of this section either—
- (a) orally before the court; or
 - (b) in writing in accordance with rules of court.
- (6) If the court is satisfied as to any matter relevant for determining the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made (whether by an acceptance under this section or otherwise), the court may issue a certificate giving the court's opinion as to the matters concerned and shall do so if satisfied that the amount that might be realised at the time the confiscation order is made is less than the amount the court assesses to be the value of the defendant's benefit from the offence or, if more than one, all the offences in respect of which the order may be made.

74 Definition of principal terms used

 - (b) pay any sum which would be included among the preferential debts (within the meaning given by section 386 of the Insolvency Act 1986) in the defendant's bankruptcy commencing on the date of the confiscation order or winding up under an order of the court made on that date.

 - (b) the court considers it appropriate in all the circumstances to take the gift into account.
- (11) The reference in subsection (10) above to an offence to which the proceedings for the time being relate includes, where the proceedings have resulted in the conviction of the defendant, a reference to any offence which the court takes into consideration when determining his sentence.
- (12) For the purposes of this Part of this Act—
- (a) the circumstances in which the defendant is to be treated as making a gift include those where he transfers property to another person directly or indirectly for a consideration the value of which is significantly less than the value of the consideration provided by the defendant; and
 - (b) in those circumstances, the preceding provisions of this section shall apply as if the defendant had made a gift of such share in the property as bears to the whole property the same proportion as the difference between the values referred to in paragraph (a) above bears to the value of the consideration provided by the defendant.
