Definitions

1 For the purposes of this Regulation, the definitions laid down in Articles 2 and 3 of Regulation (EC) No 178/2002 apply.

2 The following definitions also apply:

- a [^{F3}“novel food” means any food that was not used for human consumption to a significant degree within the EU or the United Kingdom before 15 May 1997, irrespective of the dates of accession of member States, and that falls under at least one of the following categories—]
- (i) food with a new or intentionally modified molecular structure, where that structure was not used as, or in, a food within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] before 15 May 1997;
 - (ii) food consisting of, isolated from or produced from microorganisms, fungi or algae;
 - (iii) food consisting of, isolated from or produced from material of mineral origin;
 - (iv) food consisting of, isolated from or produced from plants or their parts, except when the food has a history of safe food use within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] and is consisting of, isolated from or produced from a plant or a variety of the same species obtained by:
 - traditional propagating practices which have been used for food production within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] before 15 May 1997; or
 - non-traditional propagating practices which have not been used for food production within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] before 15 May 1997, where those practices do not give rise to significant changes in the composition or structure of the food affecting its nutritional value, metabolism or level of undesirable substances;
 - (v) food consisting of, isolated from or produced from animals or their parts, except for animals obtained by traditional breeding practices which have been used for food production within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] before 15 May 1997 and the food from those animals has a history of safe food use within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom];
 - (vi) food consisting of, isolated from or produced from cell culture or tissue culture derived from animals, plants, micro-organisms, fungi or algae;
 - (vii) food resulting from a production process not used for food production within the [^{F4}EU or the United Kingdom] before 15 May 1997, which gives rise to

- e ‘valid’ in respect to an application or a notification means an application or a notification which falls within the scope of this Regulation and contains the information required for risk assessment and authorisation procedure;
- f ‘engineered nanomaterial’ means any intentionally produced material that has one or more dimensions of the order of 100 nm or less or that is composed of discrete functional parts, either internally or at the surface, many of which have one or more dimensions of the order of 100 nm or less, including structures, agglomerates or aggregates, which may have a size above the order of 100 nm but retain properties that are characteristic of the nanoscale.
- Properties that are characteristic of the nanoscale include:
- (i) those related to the large specific surface area of the materials considered; and/or
 - (ii) specific physico-chemical properties that are different from those of the non-nanoform of the same material.
- [F6g “third country” means any country or territory other than the British Islands;
- h “prescribe” means prescribe by regulations;
- i “appropriate authority” means—
- i in relation to England, the Secretary of State;
