TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS AND SAVINGS

PART I

General Provisions

1.—(1) In so far as any order, rule, regulation, appointment, approval or other thing made or done, or deemed to be made or done, under an enactment repealed by this Order could have been made or done under a corresponding provision of this Order, it shall not be invalidated by the repeal but shall have effect as if made or done under that provision.

(2) Anything begun under an enactment repealed by this Order may be continued under the corresponding provision of this Order as if begun under that provision.

(3) References in this Order to things done, suffered or occurring in the past shall, so far as the context requires for the continuity of operation between enactments repealed by this Order and the corresponding provisions of this Order, be construed as including references to things done, suffered or occurring before the commencement of this Order.

(4) Where any instrument or document refers expressly or by implication to an enactment repealed by this Order, the reference shall, except where the context otherwise requires, be construed as, or as including, a reference to the corresponding provision of this Order.
