EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations, but is intended to indicate their general purport.)

These regulations amend regulations made under the Supplementary Benefits (Northern Ireland) Order 1977 as amended by the Social Security (Northern Ireland) Order 1980.

Part I (regulation 1) contains provisions relating to citation, commencement and interpretation.

Part II (regulation 2) amends the Supplementary Benefit (Aggregation) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980. Provision is made so that a claimant is not treated as responsible for any member of the same household who is aged 19 and still at college or school (and whose requirements and resources would otherwise be aggregated with the claimant) who for example himself is the parent of and responsible for a child of his (so that he is eligible to claim supplementary benefit). It inserts a new regulation to provide for the aggregation of requirements and resources in a household where there is a polygamous relationship between the members of that household.

Part III (regulation 3) introduces the Schedule to the regulations which amends the Supplementary Benefit (Requirements) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980.

Part IV (regulations 4-9) amends the Supplementary Benefit (Resources) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980 ("the Resources Regulations"). The interpretation regulation is amended so as to restrict the definition of liable relative in particular to the parent of a child or other young person who is in the assessment unit and to make the regulations specifically subject to the provisions of the Social Security (No. 2) (Northern Ireland) Order 1980 in so far as it relates to the resources of persons affected by trade disputes. Regulation 5 inserts a rounding provision. Regulation 6 amends regulation 4 of the Resources Regulations, which provides that a person may be treated as possessing resources which he does not possess, so as to provide for underpaid services to be taken into account at a realistic rate; for payments to third parties to be taken into account where it is reasonable to do so; it substitutes the formula for determining whether a person is a high irregular earner and if so the notional amount of earnings to be taken into account and it also provides for a letting income to be assumed in cases where the value of the land is disregarded. Regulation 7 amends the provisions relating to disregard of capital resources so as to provide for the value of premises or land not wholly owned by the assessment unit to be disregarded for such period as is reasonable and it also provides for arrears of supplementary benefit to be disregarded for 12 months. Regulation 8 amends the provisions relating to periods to which income resources are attributable so as to allow for income from short-term letting to be taken into account for such period as is reasonable and it also provides for a resource to be taken into account in a benefit week later than that in which it is payable. Regulation 9 amends the provisions relating to calculation of income resources other than capital. In particular, the provisions treating as income lump sums paid by liable relatives are modified where the relative is making periodical payments to the person to whom the lump sum is paid and are amended so as to identify in every case the amount of lump sum to be taken into account. In addition, provision is made so as to restrict the income resources which are to be taken into account where a member of an unmarried couple is entitled to claim benefit in his own right by virtue of the Supplementary Benefit (Aggregation) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980. Provision is also made for expenses incurred in the upkeep of land which is let to be disregarded when assessing income.

The Schedule sets out the amendments to the Supplementary Benefit (Requirements) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980 ("the Requirements Regulations’). Paragraph 1 amends the definition of “blind” and “rent” in regulation 2(1), and paragraph 5 that of “boarder” in regulation 9(9)(b), and paragraph 2 inserts a rounding provision. Paragraph 3 amends regulation 6(3) (which provides for the normal requirements of persons who do not fully satisfy the householder conditions of regulation 5(2)) in relation to people who are blind and paragraph 4 amends regulation 8(4) in relation to the period of modification of normal requirements in certain cases of actual or notional unemployment benefit disqualification. Paragraph 6 inserts two new paragraphs into regulation 10 (modification of normal requirements in special cases), one relating to patients who have to pay a retaining fee for accommodation from which they are temporarily absent and the other defining the circumstances in which for the purposes of paragraph 6A of Schedule 2 to the Requirements Regulations a person is to be treated as present with limited leave, or without leave, to enter or remain in the United Kingdom. Paragraphs 7 and 8 make minor amendments to regulations 12 (heating) and 13 (items of additional requirements other than heating) including amendments consequential on those made by paragraph 6. Paragraph 9 amends regulation 14 (housing requirements), in particular to provide for housing requirements of a member of an assessment unit affected by a trade dispute to be treated as those of members not so affected; in relation to responsibility for expenditure for which one member of the household is liable to another; in relation to the situation where different members of the household are responsible for different items of expenditure; and as to the application of Part IV of the Requirements Regulations where paragraphs 6A and 6B of Schedule 2 to those regulations apply. Paragraph 10 amends regulation 15 (rent) in relation to deductions from the amount applicable for rent and in addition provides that an amount payable in respect of the home for land purchase annuity or analogous outgoings is to be treated as rent for the purposes of assessing housing requirements. Paragraphs 11 and 12 make minor amendments to regulations 17 (maintenance and insurance) and 18(1) (interest on loans for repairs and improvements).
