EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations further amend the Supplementary Benefit (Requirements) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1983 and the Supplementary Benefit (Resources) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1984 to make further provision for boarders.

The principal changes are as follows

- they define board and lodging areas in Northern Ireland (the areas are described in the publication “Supplementary Benefit Board and Lodging Areas in Northern Ireland”) and set out in a new Schedule 1AA the maximum limits and initial periods for persons in ordinary board and lodging accommodation (regulations 2, 3(b), 4, 8(b), 9 and 10(b));
- they increase to £125 the limit for the elderly and physically disabled, and introduce a new limit of £140 for the blind, and severely disabled entitled to an attendance allowance, in homes for persons in need as well as an addition up to £10 for those with transitional protection; and, in the case of those in receipt of attendance allowance they substitute a new transitional rate equal to the protected amount plus so much of the attendance allowance as immediately before 29th April 1985 was used to meet the charge (regulations 3 and 8);
- they make provision for retaining fees to be met during short absences from such homes (regulation 5);
- they continue the exemption from time limits for persons who were boarders at 24th November 1985 which would otherwise have expired at 28th July 1986 (regulation 10);
- they provide for the partner of a deceased person entitled to the protected amount to receive equivalent protection; and, in the case of a couple, they provide for the same amount to be applicable in respect of the partner, or a dependant aged at least 11, as the claimant (regulations 3(e)(iv) and 8(c));
- they disregard in the calculation of a person’s income resources any contribution made by a third party, other than a liable relative, towards any unmet excess of that person’s board and lodging charge (regulation 12).

The regulations also raise from 21 to 25 the age at which a non-householder is entitled to a contribution in respect of housing expenses; provide that no reduction will be made in respect of a non-dependant not receiving such a contribution; and make transitional provision for persons under 25 before 28th July 1986 (regulations 6, 7 and 11).

The publication “Supplementary Benefit Board and Lodging Areas in Northern Ireland” is published by Her Majesty’s Stationery Office and numbered ISBN 0 337 07369 4 and is available from Her Majesty’s Stationery Office, Government Bookshop, 80 Chichester Street, Belfast BT1 4JY; it may also be inspected at any social security office of the Department.
