EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations make provision for the enforcement of Article 35 of Regulation No. 136/66/EEC of the Council on the establishment of a common organisation of the market in oils and fats (“the Council Regulation”) (O.J. No. 172, 30.8.66, p. 3025/66; O.J./SE 1965-66 p. 221), as amended by Council Regulation (EEC) No. 1915/87 (O.J. No. L183, 3.7.87, p. 7). The regulations come into operation on 31st December 1987.

Article 35 of the Council Regulation makes the use of prescribed descriptions and definitions of olive oils and olive-pomace oils (formerly known as olive residue oils) compulsory for the purposes of trade, and prohibits the marketing by retail of certain categories of such oil. These descriptions and definitions are set out in the Annex to the Council Regulation. There are transitional measures (applicable until 31st December 1989) permitting the continued use of definitions and descriptions of olive oil and olive-pomace oil in use in Member States and allowing the expression “pure olive oil” to be used for exports of olive oil as defined in point 3 of the Annex to the Council Regulation.

In implementation of Article 35 of the Council Regulation, these regulations—

- (a) prescribe offences and penalties for contravention of Article 35 of the Council Regulation, and provide for certain defences (regulation 3);
- (b) designate the authorities who are to enforce Article 35 of the Council Regulation (regulation 4);
- (c) create powers of entry, inspection and sampling (regulation 5); and
- (d) prescribe that obstruction of an authorised officer shall be an offence, and prescribe a penalty for that offence (regulation 6).
