Citation, commencement and interpretation

1.—(1) These regulations may be cited as the Income Support (Transitional) (Amendment) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1988 and shall come into operation on 11th April 1988.

(2) In these regulations “the principal regulations” means the Income Support (Transitional) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1987(b).

Insertion of regulation 4A in the principal regulations

2. After regulation 4 of the principal regulations (deeming of claims for income support by former beneficiaries) there shall be inserted the following regulation—

“Payments on account of income support

4A.—(1) Where, by virtue of regulation 4 (deeming of claims for income support by former beneficiaries), a person’s entitlement to income support, for a period commencing in the week beginning 11th April 1988, falls to be determined as if a claim for it had been duly made and no determination has been made by that date, the Department may make a payment on account of income support and the amount of such payment shall be offset by the adjudicating authority in reduction of any income support, any transitional payment of income support under regulation 7 (transitional payments for former beneficiaries) and any addition under Part III, subsequently awarded.

(2) Where a payment on account has been made under paragraph (1) and the adjudicating authority determines that there is no entitlement to income support, or that the entitlement is less than the amount of the payment on account, that authority shall determine the amount of the overpayment.

(3) The amount of any overpayment determined under paragraph (2) shall be recoverable by the Department by the same procedures and subject to the same conditions as if it were recoverable under Article 54(1) of the Order (overpayments).

(4) A payment on account under this regulation may be made by means of an instrument of payment or such other means as appears to the Department to be appropriate in the circumstances of any particular case and, notwithstanding the repeal of any enactment, may be made by an instrument of payment or book of serial orders issued for the purpose of paying supplementary benefit.”.

Amendment of regulation 5 of the principal regulations

3. In regulation 5 of the principal regulations (questions deemed to have been determined and treatment of income) at the end there shall be added the following paragraph—

“(6) For the purposes of determining a claimant’s entitlement to income support for a period commencing on or after 11th April 1988, regulation 43 of the General Regulations (notional earnings of seasonal workers) shall apply for the purposes of determining a person’s earnings in the period of his off-season or last period of normal employment beginning before that date as if that regulation and Parts IV and V of the General Regulations (applicable amounts and income and capital) were in operation throughout that period.”.

4. After regulation 7 of the principal regulations (transitional payments for former beneficiaries) there shall be inserted the following regulation—

“Transitional payments for persons claiming supplementary benefit

7A.—(1) Except where regulation 7 applies (transitional payments for former beneficiaries), where a person makes a claim for supplementary benefit in the week commencing 4th April 1988 and, but for regulation 7(1)(a) of the Supplementary Benefit (Determination of Questions) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1980(a) (date of commencement of entitlement), he would have been entitled to supplementary benefit for a week beginning with the day on which the claim is made, he shall, if—

(a) he is entitled to income support on the first day of his second benefit week; and

(b) he is a person to whom income support is payable in arrears, be entitled to a transitional payment of income support in respect of a period of, or as the case may be, 2 or 3 consecutive periods of 7 days determined in accordance with paragraph (2).

(a) S.R. 1980 No. 423; the relevant amending regulations are S.R. 1981 No. 215

(4) Where a person is entitled to income support for a period falling before the first day of his second benefit week, the amount of the transitional payment shall be reduced by the amount of income support payable for that period.

(5) The transitional payment shall be made in advance and, in a case to which paragraph (2)(a) or (b) applies, the transitional payment may be made in 2 or, as the case may be, 3 instalments if it appears to the Department to be appropriate in the circumstances of the particular case.

(6) In calculating the income of a person entitled to a transitional payment under this regulation for the purpose of determining his entitlement to income support in respect of any day for which income support becomes payable to him in arrears there shall be disregarded any transitional payment payable to him under this regulation.

(7) Where a person is entitled to a transitional payment under this regulation or, but for his being a person to whom income support is payable in advance, would have been so entitled, Part III shall apply to him—

- (a) as if he were a former beneficiary who had been entitled to supplementary benefit in the first benefit week; and
- (b) as if that benefit week began on the day on which the claim for supplementary benefit was made.

(8) Where paragraph (7) applies, the amount of supplementary benefit to which that person is, for the purposes of Part III, to be treated as

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations amend the Income Support (Transitional) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1987 ("the principal regulations") to make further transitional provision consequential on the introduction of income support and make a consequential amendment to the Child Benefit (General) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1979.

They amend Part II of the principal regulations to provide for the making of payments on account of income support where a former beneficiary's entitlement has not been determined by 11th April 1988 (regulation 2); for calculating the earnings of seasonal workers before that date (regulation 3); for the making of a transitional payment to persons who would, but for their benefit week commencing after that date, have been former beneficiaries and for treating them as such for the purposes of Part III (regulation 4).

They also amend Part III of the principal regulations in the following respects:

- (a) they provide for a person's benefit income, in cases of voluntary unemployment, to be calculated as if there had been no reduction in his requirements or applicable amount and for disregarding a person's admission to hospital in his second benefit week (regulation 5);
- (b) they make provision for the benefit income of a partner who is a patient to be taken into account in calculating the claimant's transitional addition (regulation 6); for persons temporarily absent from board and lodging accommodation or homes for persons in need or nursing homes in either their first or second benefit week to be entitled on return to the addition and for the reduction of the personal expenses addition granted in such cases (regulation 7 and 8(a) and (c)); for persons absent from such homes to retain their additions only if they intend to return to the home; and for calculating the amount of the addition on return (regulation 8(b) and (d));
- (c) they also make provision for the transitional addition not to be reduced where there has been an increase in the personal expenses allowance or a person has temporarily entered residential accommodation or, in cases of voluntary unemployment, where the reduction in a person's applicable amount ceases to apply; for its reduction in cases where the claimant is entitled to both a transitional and special transitional addition; and make certain minor amendments to the provisions for re-entitlement to the addition (regulation 9);
- (d) in addition they provide for the cessation of the special transitional addition where a claimant ceases to be entitled to a transitional addition and income support, is entitled only to a transitional or special transitional addition or is entitled only to the special transitional addition; and for re-entitlement to the addition in such cases (regulation 10); for prisoners not to be entitled to any addition (regulation 11); and substitute in the Child Benefit (General) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1979 for the reference to supplementary benefit a reference to income support (regulation 12).

These regulations contain only provisions consequential on Articles 21 to 24 and 52 of the Social Security (Northern Ireland) Order 1986 ("the Order") in their application to income support and are made before the expiry of 12 months from the commencement of those Articles. Accordingly, the regulations are exempt, by virtue of Article 62(5) of the Order from reference to the Social Security Advisory Committee.
