

SCHEDULE 2

METHODS OF ANALYSIS

PART II

12.

DETERMINATION OF COPPER

2 PRINCIPLE

2. The sample is ashed and dissolved in dilute hydrochloric acid or, if it contains no organic substances, it is dissolved directly in dilute hydrochloric acid. The solution is diluted and the copper content is determined by atomic absorption spectrophotometry.