(a) 1996 c. 16

(b) 1967 c. 77

(2) The Police Authority shall not so suspend a senior officer unless it appears to them that either of the following conditions (“the suspension conditions”) is satisfied, namely—

- (a) that the effective investigation of the report allegation or complaint may be prejudiced unless the senior officer concerned is so suspended; or
- (b) that the public interest, having regard to the nature of the report, allegation or complaint, and any other relevant considerations, requires that he should be so suspended.

(3) If the Police Authority determine that a senior officer ought to be suspended under this regulation, they shall forthwith notify the Ombudsman of their decision and of the suspension condition appearing to them to justify their decision.

(4) If, upon being so notified of the decision of the Police Authority, the Ombudsman is satisfied that the suspension condition in question is fulfilled, he shall as soon as practicable notify his approval of the suspension of the senior officer concerned to the Police Authority; and the suspension of the officer shall not have effect unless the approval of the Ombudsman is so given.

(5) Where the Ombudsman gives his approval to the suspension of a senior officer, this suspension shall take effect from the time he receives notice of that approval from the Police Authority and he shall be suspended until—whichever first occurs.

Suspension—urgent cases

6.—(1) In cases of urgency, the like power of suspension as under regulation 5 may be exercised with immediate effect—

- (a) in relation to the Chief Constable or a person for the time being discharging his functions, by the Police Authority, and
- (b) in any other case, by the Chief Constable.

Investigating officers

7.—(1) Where a report, allegation or complaint is received which indicates that the conduct of a senior officer did not meet the appropriate standard, the following provisions of this regulation shall have effect for the purpose of investigating the matter.

(2) The provisions of paragraphs (3) and (4) shall have effect—

(a) in relation to cases arising otherwise than from a complaint to which Part VII of the Act of 1998 applies; and

(b) to cases arising from such a complaint where the requirements of the said Act of 1998 are dispensed with by or under regulations made thereunder.

(3) Unless the Police Authority decide that, in the light of such preliminary enquires as they may make, that no proceedings under regulation 11 need be taken, the matter shall be referred to an investigating officer who shall cause it to be investigated.

(4) The investigating officer shall be—

(a) a member, or

(b) if the chief officer of a police force in the United Kingdom is requested and agrees to provide an investigating officer, a member of that force, and of at least the rank of the senior officer concerned; or

(6) The provisions of this regulation are without prejudice to the powers of the Ombudsman with regard to the approval of the investigating officer under Section 57(3) of the Act of 1998 or the appointment of an investigating officer of the Ombudsman under Section 56(1) of the Act of 1998.

Notice of investigation and giving of caution

8. The investigating officer shall, as soon as practicable (without prejudicing his or any other investigation of the matter), cause the senior officer concerned to be given written notice—

(b) the nature of the report, complaint or allegation;

(c) in all cases give that senior officer in writing the caution set out in paragraph 1 of Schedule 1;

(d) where he reasonably believes that the presence of any object, substance or mark found on the person of the senior officer or in or on his clothing, footwear or otherwise in his possession or in any place in which the senior officer was present at a time material to the subject matter of the report, allegation or complaint may be attributable to the senior officer having breached the Code of Conduct, inform the senior officer that he so believes and give him in writing the caution set out in paragraph 2 of Schedule 1,

- (e) where he reasonably believes that the presence of the senior officer at a place at or about the time the breach of the Code of Conduct was alleged to have been committed may be attributable to his involvement in that breach, inform the senior officer that he so believes and give him in writing the caution set out in paragraph 3 of Schedule 1.

Personal explanation following investigation

9.—(1) Where, following or, where paragraph (2) applies, during the investigation of a report, complaint or allegation, it appears that the conduct of a senior officer may not have met the appropriate standard, the Police Authority shall consider what proceedings under regulation 11 need be taken.

(2) This paragraph applies where, before the end of the investigation, it appears to the investigating officer that the case is one in respect of which the conditions specified in Part I of Schedule 2 to these regulations are likely to be satisfied and so informs the Police Authority or the Ombudsman as appropriate.

(3) Unless the Police Authority decide that no such proceedings need be taken, the Police Authority shall inform the senior officer in writing of the report, allegation or complaint and give him a written notice asking him whether or not he accepts that his conduct did not meet the appropriate standard, and at the same time the senior officer shall also be given in writing—

- (a) in all cases, the caution set out in paragraph 1 Schedule 1,
- (b) where the Police Authority reasonably believes that the presence of any object, substance or mark found on the person of the senior officer or in or on his clothing, footwear or otherwise in his possession or in any place in which the senior officer was present at a time material to the subject matter of the report, allegation or complaint may be attributable to the senior officer having breached the Code of Conduct, the caution set out in paragraph 2 of Schedule 1,
- (c) where the Police Authority reasonably believes that the presence of the senior officer at a place at or about the time the breach of the Code of Conduct was alleged to have been committed may be attributable to his involvement in that breach, the caution set out in paragraph 3 of Schedule 1.

(4) If the Police Authority decide that no proceedings under regulation 11 need be taken, they shall so inform the senior officer in writing forthwith.

(5) In a case where paragraph (2) applies and where appropriate in consultation with the Ombudsman, the Police Authority shall—

- (a) determine whether the case is one in respect of which the conditions specified in Part I of Schedule 2 to these regulations are satisfied; and
- (b) if they determine that the case is one in respect of which these conditions are satisfied and unless they are of the opinion that the circumstances are such that it would be inappropriate to do so, certify the case as a special case;

and where the Police Authority certify the case under sub-paragraph (b), the notice to be given under paragraph (3) shall inform the senior officer concerned that it has been so certified.

Sanction without hearing

10.—(1) If the senior officer concerned accepts that his conduct did not meet the appropriate standard, the Police Authority may impose a sanction under regulation 22 without the case being dealt with in accordance with regulations 11 to 21.

(2) Notwithstanding that the senior officer concerned accepts that his conduct did not meet the appropriate standard, the Police Authority may, after considering the report of the investigation, deal with the matter according to the Police Authority's discretion if they are satisfied that it does not justify the imposition of any sanction under these regulations.

(a) accepts that his conduct did not meet the appropriate standard but the Police Authority do not proceed as mentioned in regulation 10(1) or (2); or

(3) The reference in paragraph (2) to an independent solicitor is a reference to a solicitor who is not a member, officer or servant of the Police Authority.

(4) Notwithstanding that a case is one to which this regulation applies by virtue of paragraph (1)(b), if, after considering the report of the investigation, the Police Authority are satisfied that the conduct in question, even if found to have failed to meet the appropriate standard, would not justify the imposition of any sanction under these regulations, the steps mentioned in paragraph (2) need not to be taken and the matter may be dealt with according to the Police Authority's discretion.

(5) Proceedings at or in connection with a hearing to which a case is referred under this regulation shall, for the purposes of Section 50 of the Act of 1998, Part VII, be disciplinary proceedings.

(6) A verbatim record of the proceedings before the tribunal shall be taken and the transcript of the record shall be made and sent to the Police Authority, and, if a sanction is imposed by the Police Authority and the senior officer concerned so requests within the time limit for any appeal and after he has lodged notice of appeal in accordance with regulation 5 of the Royal Ulster Constabulary (Appeals) Regulations 2000, a copy of the transcript shall be supplied to him.

(7) Where evidence is given that the accused, while subject to investigation—

- (a) after having been given in writing the caution set out in paragraph 1, of Schedule 1 failed to mention any fact relied on in his defence at the hearing, being a fact which in the circumstances existing at the time he could reasonably have been expected to mention during the investigation, or
- (b) after having been given in writing the caution set out in paragraph 2, of Schedule 1 failed or refused to account for any object, substance or mark, or

(5) Where the senior officer concerned gives evidence, then after the person presenting the case has had an opportunity of cross-examining him, the tribunal shall put to him any questions which the complainant requests should be so put and might have been properly so put by way of cross-examination and, at its discretion may allow the complainant himself to put such questions to the senior officer concerned.

These regulations replace Part III and Schedule 3 of the Royal Ulster Constabulary (Discipline and Disciplinary Appeals) Regulations 1988 and come into operation on 6th November 2000. They take account of the new provisions made by the Police (Northern Ireland) Act 1998 for complaints by members of the public against police officers.

They apply to members of the Royal Ulster Constabulary of the rank of Assistant Chief Constable and above, referred to as senior officers. The regulations set out the procedures to be followed where a senior officer's conduct is suspected of falling below the standard set out in the Code of Conduct, contained in the [Guidance to the Chief Constable on Police Complaints and Misconduct Procedures].

Part I provides for the commencement and interpretation of the regulations, defines the limitation of application and makes the appropriate revocations and necessary transitional arrangements.

Part II provides for the suspension of the officer concerned where the Chief Constable considers this appropriate, and for the investigation of the conduct to which the report, complaint or allegation relates, and provides for the hearing of the case, the various parties who may be required or permitted to attend the hearing, the documentation to be made available to them, and the sanctions which may be imposed.
