

SCHEDULE

Grounds for refusal to give effect to a European protection order

7. The protection measure on the basis of which the European protection order was issued relates to a criminal offence which, under the law of Northern Ireland, is regarded as having been committed wholly or for a major or essential part, within its territory.