

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO
The Social Security Contributions and Benefits (Northern Ireland) Act 1992
(Application of Parts 12ZA, 12ZB and 12ZC to Parental Order Cases)
Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2015

S.R. 2015 No. 90

1. Introduction

- 1.1. This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Employment and Learning to accompany the Statutory Rule (details above) which is laid before the Northern Ireland Assembly.
- 1.2. The Statutory Rule is made under sections 167ZK(2), 167ZT(2) and 167ZZ8(2) of the Social Security Contributions and Benefits (Northern Ireland) Act 1992 ("the 1992 Act") and is subject to the negative resolution procedure.

2. Purpose

- 2.1. These Regulations modify requirements in the 1992 Act to provide that an employee who has a baby with the help of a surrogate and is a parental order parent may be entitled to statutory adoption pay, statutory paternity pay or statutory shared parental pay if they meet the eligibility requirements.
- 2.2. A parental order parent is someone who on the day of the child's birth intends to apply for a parental order under section 54 of the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 with another person in respect of the child and they expect the court to make such an order; or someone who obtains such an order.
- 2.3. The modifications to the 1992 Act provide different triggers and qualification points to recognise that the statutory pay relates to the birth of a child and not an adoption. The powers modified ordinarily concern adoption situations and hence require adjustment to deal with these specific circumstances.

3. Background

- 3.1. The Work and Families Act (Northern Ireland) 2015 ("the 2015 Act") provides a legislative framework for the making of regulations that allow for the voluntary sharing of leave and pay entitlement between parents following the birth or adoption of a child, and for conferring other rights relating to the first year after birth, or placement, of the child. The Act further facilitates extension to the right to request flexible working for all qualifying employees.
- 3.2. These Regulations are part of a group of Statutory Rules which, taken collectively, have the purpose of enabling eligible working parents to share leave and pay entitlement in respect of children due to be born, or placed for adoption, on or after 5th April 2015.

- 3.3. The 2015 Act enables powers in Parts 12ZA (statutory paternity pay), 12ZB (statutory adoption pay) and 12ZC (statutory shared parental pay) of the 1992 Act to be modified so that they can apply in relation to cases concerning applications for a parental order.
- 3.4. These Regulations make use of this position, modifying the 1992 Act so that Regulations can be made to provide entitlement to statutory paternity pay, statutory adoption pay, and statutory shared parental pay in parental order cases. Such regulations, relying on the modified powers, have been made separately.

4. Consultation

- 4.1. Public consultation explaining Great Britain proposals and asking whether it would be appropriate to take forward comparable measures in Northern Ireland took place between 6th June and 23rd August 2013.
- 4.2. The consultation asked for views on the merits of the Great Britain programme; the extent (if any) to which it should be implemented in Northern Ireland; and whether alternative options would be appropriate.
- 4.3. There were 28 substantive responses to the consultation, demonstrating substantial support for the introduction of rights to leave and pay for Northern Ireland's working parents corresponding to the entitlements being brought forward in Great Britain.
- 4.4. The Department considered a number of policy options. The first was to retain unchanged the present leave, pay and/or flexible working arrangements, making such minor legislative amendments as necessary to support that objective. This received no substantive support.
- 4.5. The second option was to develop pay, leave and/or flexible working arrangements bespoke to Northern Ireland. Although the consultation did not make any specific alternative proposals concerning leave and pay, it did ask for stakeholder input on available options. None were identified.
- 4.6. The third option available to the Department was to provide leave, pay and/or flexible working entitlements corresponding to those envisaged in Great Britain. As this option received substantial support, the Department proceeded on this basis.

5. Equality Impact

- 5.1. An assessment of the equality impact of the complete package of proposals concluded that, of the nine equality categories set out under section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998, the primary beneficiaries of the proposals are anticipated to be older workers, male and female employees, dependants and persons with disabilities.
- 5.2. These Regulations, constituting part of that package, will contribute to a positive impact from an equality perspective in that they will support parents availing of surrogacy arrangements, providing them with access to entitlements not previously available to them.

6. Regulatory Impact

- 6.1. A Regulatory Impact Assessment, carried out on the basis of the corresponding exercise in Great Britain, has identified only modest costs in respect of the package of new rights for working parents.
- 6.2. The assessment anticipates one-off transitional costs across all employers totalling £1,467,000, relating to the cost of management time in changes to payroll/HR systems in implementing the new rights.
- 6.3. Annually recurring costs of £747,000 are expected to be associated with parents exercising the new rights in respect of adoption leave and pay, antenatal appointments, unpaid parental leave and shared parental leave and pay.

7. Financial Implications

- 7.1. Estimated additional costs to the Exchequer in respect of introducing the new rights to Northern Ireland are: one-off transitional costs of £207,000 associated with preparing for the implementation of the new rights; and annually recurring costs totalling £288,000 comprised of administrative costs and costs associated with parents exercising the new rights in respect of adoption leave and pay and shared parental leave and pay.

8. Section 24 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998

- 8.1. The Department is satisfied that the Regulations are compliant with section 24 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998.
- 8.2. The package of which the Regulations are part impacts on family life to the extent that it increases choice and flexibility, improving options with regard to childcare. Negative impacts on the right to family life are not considered to arise.

9. EU Implications

- 9.1. Not applicable.

10. Parity or Replicatory Measure

- 10.1. The Regulations correspond to the Social Security Contributions and Benefits Act 1992 (Application of Parts 12ZA, 12ZB and 12ZC to Parental Order Cases) Regulations 2014 in Great Britain (S.I. 2014/2866), and contribute to the continuation and enhancement of a UK wide system of rights for working parents. This reflects the wishes of contributors to successive public consultations in this area of law.

11. Additional Information

- 11.1. Not applicable.

12. 21-Day Rule

- 12.1. These Regulations form part of a very substantial series of Statutory Rules intended to extend new rights to parents of children expecting a child to be born or placed for adoption from 5th April 2015. As there is a need to cater (insofar as is possible) for premature births of babies due on or after 5th April, the Department considers that it is in the interests of this group of new parents to bring these Regulations into operation at the earliest possible date. Doing so enables parents to notify their employers from an early date of plans to avail of the new leave/pay entitlement; 8 weeks' notice is required to be given in order to do so. Given that the proposed system will operate on a UK wide basis, and that the corresponding regulations in Great Britain are already operative, it is also a priority for the Department to introduce relevant Northern Ireland provisions as soon as possible so as to minimise inconsistency and potential for confusion. The Department is conscious that this decision occasions a breach of the 21-day rule but, on balance, considers this action merited for the reasons given.
