ADULTS WITH INCAPACITY

The Adults with Incapacity (Evidence in Relation to Dispensing with Intimation or Notification) (Scotland) Regulations 2001

Made	- - - -	7th March 2001
Laid before the Scottish Parliament	- - - - -	8th March 2001
Coming into force	- -	2nd April 2001

The Scottish Ministers, in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 7(1)(d) and 86(2) of the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000⁽¹⁾ and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, hereby make the following Regulations:

Citation and commencement

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Adults with Incapacity (Evidence in Relation to Dispensing with Intimation or Notification) (Scotland) Regulations 2001 and shall come into force on 2nd April 2001.

Evidence to be taken into account

2.—(1) For the purposes of section 11(2) of the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000, the evidence which the Public Guardian shall take into account when deciding whether to dispense with intimation or notification to the adult shall be two medical certificates stating that intimation or notification could be likely to pose a serious risk to the health of the adult.

(2) Those medical certificates shall be prepared by medical practitioners independent of each other.

(3) In any case where the incapacity of the adult is by reason of mental disorder, one of the two medical practitioners must be a medical practitioner approved for the purposes of section 20 of the Mental Health (Scotland) Act 1984⁽²⁾ as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.

⁽²⁾ 1984 c. 36, as amended by the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 (c. 19), Schedule 9 and the Adults with Incapacity Act 2000, section 88 and Schedule 5

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the regulations)

These Regulations set out the evidence to be taken into account by the Public Guardian when deciding whether to dispense with intimation or notification to an adult for the purposes of section 11(2) of the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000. This evidence shall consist of two medical certificates stating that intimation or notification could be likely to pose a serious risk to the health of the adult. These certificates shall be prepared by medical practitioners independent of each other, and, where the incapacity of the adult is by reason of mental disorder, one of the two medical practitioners must be approved as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.
