
SCOTTISH STATUTORY INSTRUMENTS

2002 No. 321

The Housing (Scotland) Act 2001 (Commencement
No. 5, Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order 2002

Transitional provisions and savings

3. Notwithstanding the commencement of provisions by article 2 above, the Housing (Scotland) Act 1987⁽¹⁾ (and any regulations made thereunder) shall apply, as they applied immediately before 30th September 2002 to a tenancy in relation to which the landlord is Scottish Homes and which was created before that date, and to any tenancy created on or after that date in relation to which Scottish Homes is the landlord until such time as the tenancy is brought to an end or the house which is the subject of the tenancy is transferred to another landlord.