EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations bring into force specified provisions of the Environment Act 2021 (“the Act”).

Regulation 2 brings into force on 9 November 2022 specified provisions of the Act. Section 50 and schedule 4 are commenced so far as they relate to Scotland and provide for the Scottish Ministers to make regulations about producer responsibility obligations and the enforcement of those regulations. Section 64 amends the Environment Act 1995 in so far as it applies to the Scottish Environment Protection Agency to supplement existing charging powers.

Regulation 3 contains a saving provision for the Producer Responsibility Obligations (Packaging Waste) Regulations 2007 (S.I. 2007/871), which were principally made under sections 93 to 95 of the Environment Act 1995, which are repealed by section 50(6)(a) of the Act. It provides for those Regulations to remain in force in relation to Scotland despite the repeal of their enabling power, and to have effect as if made under schedules 4 and 6 of the Act.

The Bill for the Act received Royal Assent on 9 November 2021. Section 63 and Part 8 (partially) came into force on the same day. The following provisions came into force two months after the Act received Royal Assent: section 51 and schedule 5 (partially); section 52 and schedule 6 (partially); section 53 and schedule 7 (partially); section 54 and schedule 8 (partially); section 55 and schedule 9 (partially); section 56 (partially); section 58; section 66 and schedule 10; section 70; section 80; section 84; section 88; section 89 (partially); section 90; sections 92 and 93; and section 97. Section 50 and schedule 4 (so far as relating to Scotland) and section 64 (so far as relating to the Scottish Environment Protection Agency) are the only provisions of the Act which fall to the Scottish Ministers to commence (see section 147(5) of the Act).
