CHAPTER 2

Temporary registration

The temporary registration period

54. The temporary registration period is the period of two years beginning with exit day.

Conditions to be satisfied for information to be temporarily recorded on the FCA register

55.—(1) Information that meets conditions A and B must be recorded on the FCA register during the temporary registration period (but see regulation 58).

(2) Condition A is that the information is recorded on the ESMA register at 5pm on the day on which exit day occurs.

Information to be recorded on the FCA register

56. The information is—

- (d) the identity of an administrator who has been authorised or registered by a competent authority of an EEA State under Article 34 of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and the competent authority responsible for the administrator's supervision.

Information to be added to the FCA register

57.—(1) The FCA must add a benchmark to the FCA register that is—

- (a) recorded on the ESMA register during the temporary registration period; and
- (b) provided by an administrator whose information is recorded on the FCA register as a result of the application of sub-paragraph (a) or (b) of regulation 56.

(2) The benchmark must be recorded on the FCA register—

- (a) before the end of the period of five working days beginning with the day on which the benchmark is recorded on the ESMA register;
- (b) until the end of the temporary registration period (but see regulation 58).

Removal of temporary information from the FCA register

58.—(1) The FCA must remove temporary information from the FCA register if paragraph (2) or (3) applies during the temporary registration period (but see regulation 59).

(2) This paragraph applies if the corresponding information on the ESMA register is removed from that register.

(3) This paragraph applies if the temporary information relates to—

- (a) an administrator who is refused recognition by the FCA under Article 32 of the UK Benchmarks Regulation;
- (b) a benchmark in respect of which the FCA has refused an application for endorsement under Article 33 of that Regulation; or
- (c) an administrator who is refused authorisation or registration by the FCA under Article 34 of that Regulation.

(4) The benchmark must be removed from the FCA register before the end of the period of five working days beginning with the day on which paragraph (2) or (3) applies.

Removal of temporary information and the FCA’s objectives

59. The FCA may only remove temporary information from the FCA register under regulation 58 if it considers that removal—

- (a) is compatible with the FCA’s strategic objective as defined in section 1B(2) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000(a); and
- (b) advances one or more of its operational objectives as defined in section 1B(3) of that Act.

Reinstatement of information on the FCA register

60.—(1) The FCA must reinstate information on the FCA register if—

- (a) the information has been removed from the FCA register under regulation 58(2); and
- (b) ESMA reinstates the corresponding information on the ESMA register during the temporary registration period.

(2) The information must be reinstated on the FCA register before the end of the period of five working days beginning with the day on which the benchmark is reinstated on the ESMA register.

Use of a benchmark that is temporarily recorded on the FCA register

61. During the temporary registration period, a supervised entity may use a benchmark in the United Kingdom that is—

- (a) recorded on the FCA register under this Chapter; or
- (b) provided by an administrator who is located in the European Union and recorded on the FCA register under this Chapter.

Use of a benchmark that is removed from the FCA register

62.—(1) A supervised entity may continue to use a benchmark in the United Kingdom which is—

- (a) used by virtue of regulation 61 as a reference for a financial instrument, a financial contract or for measuring the performance of an investment fund; and
- (b) either—
 - (i) removed from the FCA register; or
 - (ii) administered by an administrator who is removed from the FCA register.

(2) But the benchmark may only be used as a reference for the financial instrument, the financial contract or for measuring the performance of the investment fund referred to in paragraph (1)(a).

(a) 2000 c. 16. Section 1B was inserted by s.6(1) of the Financial Services Act 2012 (c.21). There are amendments to section 1B which are not relevant.

Application of the UK Benchmarks Regulation

63.—(1) The UK Benchmarks Regulation does not apply in respect of an administrator or benchmark recorded on the FCA register under this Chapter (but see paragraph 2 and regulation 64).

(2) Article 28(2) of the UK Benchmarks Regulation applies to a supervised entity using a benchmark by virtue of regulation 61.

(3) For the purposes of paragraph (2), Article 28(2) shall be read as if for “other than an administrator as referred to in paragraph 1” there were substituted “that are not administrators”.

New applications made under the UK Benchmarks Regulation

64.—(1) This paragraph applies to—

- (a) an administrator who satisfies the conditions in Article 30(1) of the UK Benchmarks Regulation;
- (b) an administrator who acquires recognition under Article 32 of that Regulation;
- (c) a benchmark that is endorsed under Article 33 of that Regulation;
- (d) an administrator who is authorised or registered under Article 34 of that Regulation.

(2) If paragraph (1) applies (or has applied) to an administrator or benchmark—

- (a) information recorded on the FCA register that relates to the administrator or benchmark is no longer temporary information (and so this Chapter does not apply to it, but see paragraph (3));
- (b) the FCA may remove temporary information relating to the administrator or benchmark from the FCA register; and
- (c) regulation 63 no longer applies to the administrator or benchmark (and so the UK Benchmarks Regulation applies to it).

(3) If paragraph (1) applies (or has applied) to an administrator or benchmark, regulation 62 continues to apply.
