WHEREAS an Act was passed in the Parliament of Ireland in the Twenty-seventh Year of the Reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled An Act for improving and repairing the Road from Dublin to Dunleer: And whereas an Act was passed in the said Parliament in the Twenty-eighth Year of the Reign of His said late Majesty, intituled An Act to amend an Act passed in the last Session of Parliament, for improving and repairing the Turnpike Road from Dublin to Dunleer: And whereas another Act was passed in the said Parliament in the Twenty-ninth Year of the Reign of His said late Majesty, intituled An Act for amending the Laws for improving and repairing the Road from Dublin to Dunleer: And whereas the Directors or Trustees thereby appointed have proceeded in the Execution of the said Acts; but it has been found by Experience that the Tolls thereby authorized to be received are insufficient to defray the Expences of amending and repairing the said Road, and that the Provisions of the said Acts are insufficient to secure the due Collection of the Toll on the various Carriages and other Vehicles passing along the same: And whereas it would tend greatly to the Improvement of the said Road, and to the general Benefit and Advantage of the Public, if the Powers and Provisions contained in the said recited Acts were repealed, and other and more extensive Powers and Provisions granted in lieu thereof: May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by
