Textual Amendments

F12 S. 33ZA inserted (3.1.2012) by Pensions Act 2011 \(c. 19\), s. 38(4), Sch. 5 para. 2\(3\); S.I. 2011/3034, art. 3(j)

[33A <sup>F13</sup> Voluntary contributions.

(1) Regulations shall make provision

- <sup>F14</sup>(a) [ entitling any member of a judicial pension scheme constituted by this Act or the Sheriffs' Pensions (Scotland) Act 1961 to make voluntary contributions towards the cost of the provision of additional benefits [<sup>F15</sup>whether under the scheme or otherwise; or
- (b) imposing conditions with respect to the exercise by any such person of any entitlement (whether or not under paragraph (a) above) which he may have to make any such voluntary contributions.]

[ The regulations may make provision for the purpose of imposing, in a case where a <sup>F16</sup>(1A) member makes voluntary contributions, upper limits with respect to—

- (a) the aggregate value of the aggregable benefits which may be paid to or in respect of any such member; and
- (b) the amount which any such member may pay by way of such contributions; and, without prejudice to the generality of paragraph (b) above, the regulations may, in particular, impose such an upper limit on the amount which a member may pay by way of voluntary contributions as will, so far as reasonably practicable, secure that the aggregate value referred to in paragraph (a) above will not exceed the limit prescribed under that paragraph.

(1B) The regulations may—

- (a) prescribe the manner in which aggregable benefits are to be valued for the purpose of any such aggregation as is mentioned in subsection (1A) above;
- (b) confer on the administrators of a judicial pension scheme power to require a member who is making, or who wishes to make, voluntary contributions to provide such information as they may require concerning any retained benefits of his;
- (c) permit the disclosure by those administrators of any information which they may obtain concerning any such retained benefits—
  - (i) to, or to any officers of, the Commissioners of Inland Revenue; or
  - (ii) to, or to any servants or agents of, any authorised provider who is, or may be, concerned in the investment of the voluntary contributions or the provision of the additional benefits in question.]

(2) The regulations—

- (a) may not prohibit the payment of voluntary contributions;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/04/2014.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Judicial Pensions Act 1981, Part III. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) may not impose any limit on the amount which any member may pay by way of voluntary contributions other than <sup>F17</sup>[<sup>F18</sup> . . . —
  - (i) such upper limit as may be imposed by virtue of subsection (1A)(b) above; or
  - (ii) <sup>F19</sup> . . . . .
- (c) must secure that any voluntary contributions paid by a member of a scheme are used to provide prescribed additional benefits for or in respect of him; and
- (d) must secure that the value of such additional benefits is reasonable, having regard to—
  - (i) the amount paid by way of voluntary contributions;
  - (ii) the value of the other benefits provided under the scheme; and
  - [ the general value of benefits available to a person under any contract <sup>F20</sup>(iii) of life insurance entered into by him with an insurer;]

[<sup>F21</sup>but paragraphs (c) and (d) above have effect only in relation to a voluntary contributions scheme constituted by or under this Act or the Sheriffs' Pensions (Scotland) Act 1961.]

(3) The regulations may, in particular—

- (a) provide that the value of additional benefits offered on payment of voluntary contributions shall be determined in accordance with prescribed rules based on tables prepared for the purposes of the regulations by the Government Actuary; <sup>F22</sup> . . .
- (b) prescribe the manner in which it is to be determined in any case whether the amount of a person's contributions exceeds any [<sup>F23</sup>such limit as is mentioned in] subsection (2)(b) above.
- [ <sup>F24</sup>(c) provide for any administrative expenses incurred by any person by virtue of this section to be defrayed out of sums received by way of voluntary contributions;
- (d) provide for the manner in which voluntary contributions are to be made;
- (e) make provision for, and in connection with, the valuation of a person's accrued rights—
  - (i) under any occupational or personal pension scheme, which are to be transferred into a voluntary contributions scheme, or
  - (ii) under any voluntary contributions scheme, which on termination of his membership of that scheme may fall to be transferred into another scheme;
- (f) prescribe the additional benefits which are to be available under a voluntary contributions scheme and the rates and times at which those benefits are to be payable;
- (g) make provision for and in connection with the making of elections between different benefits available under voluntary contributions schemes;
- (h) provide for the terms on which a person may terminate his membership of a voluntary contributions scheme;
- (j) provide for the terms on which surplus funds may be refunded to a person who has made payments by way of voluntary contributions to a voluntary contributions scheme;
- (k) specify any authorised providers—
  - (i) who are to invest any prescribed voluntary contributions, or
  - (ii) who are to provide any prescribed additional benefits,

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Judicial Pensions Act 1981, Part III. (See end of Document for details)

and, if two or more authorised providers are so specified, may make provision entitling any person who makes prescribed payments by way of voluntary contributions to elect between those authorised providers.]

[ The regulations may provide for such additional benefits arising under or by virtue of <sup>F26</sup>(4A) this section as may be prescribed—

- (a) to be charged on, and paid out of, the Consolidated Fund; or
- (b) to be paid out of money provided by Parliament.]

(5) Regulations made under this section may make provision for consequential and incidental matters, including, in particular, consequential provision with respect to any enactment referring or relating to lump sums payable under Part II of this Act.

[ The regulations may make different provision for different classes or descriptions of <sup>F27</sup>(5A) voluntary contributions scheme.]

(6) Regulations under this section may be made—

- (a) by the Lord Chancellor; or
- (b) in relation to pensions for service in offices existing only in Scotland, by the Secretary of State, with the consent of the Treasury.

(7) The power to make regulations under this section shall be exercisable by statutory instrument.

(8) Any such statutory instrument shall be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament.

[ In this section—

<sup>F28</sup>(9) “ administrators ”, in relation to any scheme, means the persons entrusted with the administration of that scheme;

“ aggregable benefits ” means—

- (a) any pensions or other benefits under a judicial pension scheme, other than such additional benefits as are mentioned in subsection (1) above;
