

Dock Work Act 1989

1989 CHAPTER 13

Compensation schemes and employment protection

6 Employment protection for dock workers.

(1) This section applies to any employee who immediately before the date of the passing of this Act was a registered dock worker in the employment of a registered employer and is in the same employment on that date.

^{F1}(2)

(3) In computing for the purposes of any provision of [^{F2}the Employment Rights Act 1996] the period of continuous employment of an employee to whom this section applies—

- (a) any period during which the employee's name was entered in any statutory register of dock workers (whether or not he was in the employment of a registered employer) shall be treated for the purposes of [^{F3}Chapter I of Part XIV of] that Act as if it had been a period of employment under a contract of employment with the employer by whom he is employed on the date of the passing of this Act, and
- (b) any week during the whole or part of which his name was entered in any statutory register of dock workers (whether or not he was in the employment of a registered employer) shall, without prejudice to [^{F4}section 216 of that Act], be treated as if it were such a week as is mentioned in [^{F5}section 212(1) of that Act].
