The FCA's general duties

1B The FCA's general duties

- (1) In discharging its general functions the FCA must, so far as is reasonably possible, act in a way which—
 - (a) is compatible with its strategic objective, and
 - (b) advances one or more of its operational objectives.
- (2) The FCA's strategic objective is: ensuring that the relevant markets (see section 1F) function well.
- (3) The FCA's operational objectives are—
 - (a) the consumer protection objective (see section 1C);
 - (b) the integrity objective (see section 1D);
 - (c) the competition objective (see section 1E).
- (4) The FCA must, so far as is compatible with acting in a way which advances the consumer protection objective or the integrity objective, discharge its general functions in a way which promotes effective competition in the interests of consumers.

[When discharging its general functions in the way mentioned in subsection (1) the ^{F10}(4A) FCA must, so far as reasonably possible, act in a way which, as a secondary objective, advances the competitiveness and growth objective (see section 1EB).]

- (5) In discharging its general functions the FCA must have regard to—
 - (a) the regulatory principles in section 3B, and
 - (b) the importance of taking action intended to minimise the extent to which it is possible for a business carried on—

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

(i) by an authorised person or a recognised investment exchange, or
(ii) in contravention of the general prohibition, to be used for a purpose connected with financial crime.

- (6) For the purposes of this Chapter, the FCA's general functions are—
- (a) its function of making rules under this Act (considered as a whole),
[its function of making technical standards in accordance with Chapter 2A of ^{F11}(aa) Part 9A;]
 - (b) its function of preparing and issuing codes under this Act (considered as a whole),
 - (c) its functions in relation to the giving of general guidance under this Act (considered as a whole), and
 - (d) its function of determining the general policy and principles by reference to which it performs particular functions under this Act.
- (7) Except to the extent that an order under section 50 of the Financial Services Act 2012 (orders relating to mutual societies functions) so provides, the FCA's general functions do not include functions that are transferred functions within the meaning of section 52 of that Act.

^{F12}(7A)

(8) “General guidance” has the meaning given in section 139B(5).

11A Modifications applying if core activity not regulated by PRA

- (1) If and so long as any regulated activity is a core activity (see section 142B) without also being a PRA-regulated activity (see section 22A), the provisions of this Chapter are to have effect subject to the following modifications.
- (2) Section 1B is to have effect as if—
 - (a) in subsection (3), after paragraph (c) there were inserted—
 - “(d) in relation to the matters mentioned in section 1EA(2), the continuity objective (see section 1EA).”, and
 - (b) in subsection (4), for “or the integrity objective,” there were substituted “, the integrity objective or (in relation to the matters mentioned in section 1EA(2)) the continuity objective.”.
- (3) After section 1E there is to be taken to be inserted—

“Continuity objective

- (1) In relation to the matters mentioned in subsection (2), the continuity objective is: protecting the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services (see section 142C).
- (2) Those matters are—
 - (a) Part 9B (ring-fencing);
 - (b) ring-fenced bodies (see section 142A);
 - (c) any body corporate incorporated in the United Kingdom that has a ring-fenced body as a member of its group;
 - (d) applications under Part 4A which, if granted, would result, or would be capable of resulting, in a person becoming a ring-fenced body.
- (3) The FCA's continuity objective is to be advanced primarily by—
 - (a) seeking to ensure that the business of ring-fenced bodies is carried on in a way that avoids any adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services,
 - (b) seeking to ensure that the business of ring-fenced bodies is protected from risks (arising in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) that could adversely affect the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services, and
 - (c) seeking to minimise the risk that the failure of a ring-fenced body or of a member of a ring-fenced body's group could adversely affect the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (4) In subsection (3)(c), “failure” is to be read in accordance with section 2J(3) to (4).”]

1RB Requirements in connection with public consultations

- (1) This section applies where the FCA issues a public consultation.
- (2) The FCA must include information in the consultation about any engagement by the FCA with the statutory panels of the FCA, the PRA or the Payment Systems Regulator in relation to the matters being consulted on.
- (3) The FCA is not required under subsection (2) to include any information whose publication would in the opinion of the FCA be against the public interest.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, the FCA issues a public consultation if it publishes the draft of any proposals for the purpose of bringing them to the attention of the public (whether or not under a duty to do so imposed by an enactment).
- (5) In this section “statutory panel”—
 - (a) in relation to the FCA, has the meaning given by section 1RA(8),
 - (b) in relation to the PRA, has the meaning given by section 2NA(8), and
 - (c) in relation to the Payment Systems Regulator, means a panel established under section 103(3) of the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013.]

Reviews

1S Reviews

- (1) The Treasury may appoint an independent person to conduct a review of the economy, efficiency and effectiveness with which the FCA has used its resources in discharging its functions.
- (2) A review may be limited by the Treasury to such functions of the FCA (however described) as the Treasury may specify in appointing the person to conduct it.
- (3) A review is not to be concerned with the merits of the FCA's general policy or principles in complying with its general duties under section 1B(1) and (4) ^{F58}....
- (4) On completion of a review, the person conducting it must make a written report to the Treasury—
 - (a) setting out the result of the review, and
 - (b) making such recommendations (if any) as the person considers appropriate.
- (5) A copy of the report must be—
 - (a) laid before Parliament, and
 - (b) published in such manner as the Treasury consider appropriate.
- (6) Any expenses reasonably incurred in the conduct of the review are to be met by the Treasury out of money provided by Parliament.

- (3) That objective is to be advanced primarily by—
- (a) seeking to ensure that the business of PRA-authorised persons is carried on in a way which avoids any adverse effect on the stability of the UK financial system,^{F64} ...
 - (b) seeking to minimise the adverse effect that the failure of a PRA-authorised person could be expected to have on the stability of the UK financial system [^{F65}, and
 - (c) discharging its general functions in relation to the matters mentioned in subsection (4A) in a way that seeks to—
 - (i) ensure that the business of ring-fenced bodies is carried on in a way that avoids any adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services,
 - (ii) ensure that the business of ring-fenced bodies is protected from risks (arising in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) that could adversely affect the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services, and
 - (iii) minimise the risk that the failure of a ring-fenced body or of a member of a ring-fenced body's group could affect the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services].

- (4) The adverse effects mentioned in [^{F66}subsection (3)(a) and (b)] may, in particular, result from the disruption of the continuity of financial services.

[The matters referred to in subsection (3)(c) are—

- ^{F67}(4A)
 - (a) Part 9B (ring-fencing);
 - (b) ring-fenced bodies (see section 142A);
 - (c) any body corporate incorporated in the United Kingdom that has a ring-fenced body as a member of its group;
 - (d) applications under Part 4A which, if granted, would result, or would be capable of resulting, in a person becoming a ring-fenced body.]

- (5) In this Act “PRA-authorised person” means an authorised person who has permission—

- (a) given under Part 4A, or
- (b) resulting from any other provision of this Act, to carry on regulated activities that consist of or include one or more PRA-regulated activities (see section 22A).

- (6) Subsection (1) is subject to sections 2C and 2D.

2C Insurance objective

- (1) In discharging its general functions so far as relating to a PRA-regulated activity relating to the effecting or carrying out of contracts of insurance or PRA-authorized persons carrying on that activity, the PRA must, so far as is reasonably possible, act in a way—
 - (a) which is compatible with its general objective and its insurance objective, and
 - (b) which the PRA considers most appropriate for the purpose of advancing those objectives.
- (2) The PRA's insurance objective is: contributing to the securing of an appropriate degree of protection for those who are or may become policyholders.
- (3) This section applies only if the effecting or carrying out of contracts of insurance as principal is to any extent a PRA-regulated activity.

2D Power to provide for additional objectives

- (1) Subsection (2) applies to an order under section 22A which—
 - (a) is made at any time after the coming into force of the first order under that section, and
 - (b) contains a statement by the Treasury that, in their opinion, the effect (or one of the effects) of the proposed order is that an activity would become a PRA-regulated activity.
- (2) An order to which this subsection applies may specify an additional objective (“the specified objective”) in relation to specified activities that become PRA-regulated activities by virtue of the order (“the additional activities”).
- (3) In discharging its general functions so far as relating to the additional activities or PRA-authorized persons carrying on those activities, the PRA must, so far as is reasonably possible, act in a way—
 - (a) which is compatible with its general objective and the specified objective, and
 - (b) which the PRA considers most appropriate for the purpose of advancing those objectives.

2E Strategy

- (1) The PRA must—
 - (a) determine its strategy in relation to its objectives, and
 - (b) from time to time review, and if necessary revise, the strategy.
- (2) Before determining or revising its strategy, the PRA must consult the court of directors of the Bank of England about a draft of the strategy or of the revisions.
- (3) The PRA must determine its strategy within 12 months of the coming into force of this section.
- (4) The PRA must carry out and complete a review of its strategy before the end of each relevant period.
- (5) The relevant period is 12 months beginning with the date on which the previous review was completed, except that in the case of the first review the relevant period is the period of 12 months beginning with the date on which the strategy was determined under subsection (3).

- (6) The PRA must publish its strategy.
- (7) If the strategy is revised the PRA must publish the revised strategy.
- (8) Publication under subsection (6) or (7) is to be in such manner as the PRA thinks fit.

2F Interpretation of references to objectives

In this Act, a reference, in relation to any function of the PRA, to the objectives of the PRA is a reference to its general objective but—

- (a) so far as the function is exercisable in relation to the activity of effecting or carrying out contracts of insurance, or PRA-authorised persons carrying on that activity, is a reference to its general objective and its insurance objective;
- (b) so far as the function is exercisable in relation to an activity to which an objective specified by order by virtue of section 2D(2) relates, or PRA-authorised persons carrying on that activity, is a reference to its general objective and the objective specified by the order.

2G Limit on effect of sections 2B to 2D

Nothing in sections 2B to 2D is to be regarded as requiring the PRA to ensure that no PRA-authorised person fails.

[^{F68}2H Secondary [^{F69}objectives] and duty to have regard to regulatory principles

[^{F70}(1) When discharging its general functions in a way that advances its objectives (see section 2F), the PRA must, so far as reasonably possible, act in a way that advances the following secondary objectives—

- (a) the competition objective, and
- (b) the competitiveness and growth objective.

(1A) The competition objective is: facilitating effective competition in the markets for services provided by PRA-authorised persons in carrying on regulated activities.

(1B) The competitiveness and growth objective is: facilitating, subject to aligning with relevant international standards—

- (a) the international competitiveness of the economy of the United Kingdom (including in particular the financial services sector through the contribution of PRA-authorised persons), and
- (b) its growth in the medium to long term.]

(2) In discharging its general functions, the PRA must also have regard to the regulatory principles in section 3B.]

FURTHER PROVISIONS RELATING TO FCA AND PRA

Introductory

3A Meaning of “regulator”

- (1) This section has effect for the interpretation of this Act.
- (2) The FCA and the PRA are the “regulators”, and references to a regulator are to be read accordingly.
- (3) Subsection (2) does not affect—
 - (a) the meaning of the following expressions—
 - “home state regulator”;
 - “host state regulator”;
 - “overseas regulator”;^{F83} ...
 - (b) the meaning of “the appropriate regulator” in Part 18 ([^{F84}recognised investment exchanges, clearing houses and CSDs]) [^{F85}or

Regulatory principles

3B Regulatory principles to be applied by both regulators

- (1) In relation to the regulators, the regulatory principles referred to in section 1B(5)(a) and [^{F86}2H(2)] are as follows—
 - (a) the need to use the resources of each regulator in the most efficient and economic way;
 - (b) the principle that a burden or restriction which is imposed on a person, or on the carrying on of an activity, should be proportionate to the benefits,

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (d) the general principle that consumers should take responsibility for their decisions;
- (e) the responsibilities of the senior management of persons subject to requirements imposed by or under this Act, including those affecting consumers, in relation to compliance with those requirements;
- (f) the desirability where appropriate of each regulator exercising its functions in a way that recognises differences in the nature of, and objectives of, businesses carried on by different persons [^{F88}(including different kinds of person such as mutual societies and other kinds of business organisation)] subject to requirements imposed by or under this Act;
- (g) the desirability in appropriate cases of each regulator publishing information relating to persons on whom requirements are imposed by or under this Act, or requiring such persons to publish information, as a means of contributing to the advancement by each regulator of its objectives;
- (h) the principle that the regulators should exercise their functions as transparently as possible.

(2) “Consumer” has the meaning given in section 1G.

[^{F89}(3) “Objectives”—

- (a) in relation to the FCA means—
- (i) operational objectives, and
- (ii) in its application as a secondary objective, the competitiveness and growth objective (see section 1EB), and
- (b) in relation to the PRA means—
- (i) the PRA’s objectives, and
- (ii) in their application as secondary objectives, the competition objective and competitiveness and growth objective (see section 2H).]

 - (b) that where appropriate each regulator obtains information and advice from the other regulator in connection with the exercise of its functions in relation to matters of common regulatory interest in cases where the other regulator may be expected to have relevant information or relevant expertise;
 - (c) that where either regulator exercises functions in relation to matters of common regulatory interest, both regulators comply with their respective duties under section 1B(5)(a) or 2H(1)(a), so far as relating to the regulatory principles in section 3B(1)(a) and (b).
- (2) The duty in subsection (1) applies only to the extent that compliance with the duty—
- (a) is compatible with the advancement by each regulator of any of its objectives, and
 - (b) does not impose a burden on the regulators that is disproportionate to the benefits of compliance.
- (3) A function conferred on either regulator by or under this Act relates to matters of common regulatory interest if—
- (a) the other regulator exercises similar or related functions in relation to the same persons,
 - (b) the other regulator exercises functions which relate to different persons but relate to similar subject-matter, or

- (c) its exercise could affect the advancement by the other regulator of any of its objectives.

[^{F92}(4) In this section, “objectives”—

- (a) in relation to the FCA means—
- (i) operational objectives [^{F93}, or the purpose for which the FCA must exercise its functions under Part 8B (see section 131U(1))], and
 - (ii) in its application as a secondary objective, the competitiveness and growth objective (see section 1EB), and
- (b) in relation to the PRA means—
- (i) the PRA’s objectives, and
 - (ii) in their application as secondary objectives, the competition objective and competitiveness and growth objective (see section 2H).

- (5) Where a regulator is proposing to exercise a function that is not one of its general functions, the reference to “objectives” in subsection (1)(a) does not include the secondary objectives mentioned in subsection (4)(a)(ii) and (b)(ii).

(6) In this section, “general functions”—

- (a) in relation to the FCA, has the same meaning as in section 1B(6), and
- (b) in relation to the PRA, has the same meaning as in section 2J(1).]

3F With-profits insurance policies

- (1) The regulators must prepare and maintain a memorandum which describes in general terms—
 - (a) the role of each regulator in relation to the exercise of functions conferred by or under this Act so far as they relate to with-profits insurers, and
 - (b) how the regulators intend to comply with section 3D in relation to the exercise of those functions so far as they relate to the effecting or carrying out of with-profits policies by with-profits insurers.
- (2) The memorandum required by this section may be combined with the memorandum required by section 3E.
- (3) If the memorandum required by this section is contained in a separate document, the PRA and the FCA must publish the memorandum as currently in force in such manner as they think fit.
- (4) Subsections (1) to (3) apply only if the effecting or carrying out of with-profits policies is a PRA-regulated activity.
- (5) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) a “with-profits policy” is a contract of insurance under which the policyholder is eligible to receive a financial benefit at the discretion of the insurer;
 - (b) a “with-profits insurer” is a PRA-authorized person who has a Part 4A permission, or permission resulting from any other provision of this Act, relating to the effecting or carrying out of with-profits policies (whether or not the permission also relates to contracts of insurance of other kinds).
- (6) The Treasury may by order amend the definition of “with-profits policy” applying for the purposes of this section.

3G Power to establish boundary between FCA and PRA responsibilities

- (1) The Treasury may by order specify matters that, in relation to the exercise by either regulator of its functions relating to PRA-authorized persons, are to be, or are to be primarily, the responsibility of one regulator rather than the other.
- (2) The order may—
 - (a) provide that one regulator is or is not to have regard to specified matters when exercising specified functions;

- (b) require one regulator to consult the other.

3H Parliamentary control of orders under section 3G

- (1) No order may be made under section 3G unless—
- (a) a draft of the order has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House, or
 - (b) subsection (3) applies.
- (2) Subsection (3) applies if an order under section 3G contains a statement that the Treasury are of the opinion that, by reason of urgency, it is necessary to make the order without a draft being so laid and approved.
- (3) Where this subsection applies the order—
- (a) must be laid before Parliament after being made, and
 - (b) ceases to have effect at the end of the relevant period unless before the end of that period the order is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament (but without that affecting anything done under the order or the power to make a new order).
- (4) The “relevant period” is a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the order is made.
- (5) In calculating the relevant period no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days.

Power of PRA to restrain proposed action by FCA

3I Power of PRA to require FCA to refrain from specified action

- (1) Where the first, second and third conditions are met, the PRA may give a direction under this section to the FCA.
- (2) The first condition is that the FCA is proposing—
- (a) to exercise any of its regulatory powers in relation to PRA-authorized persons generally, a class of PRA-authorized persons or a particular PRA-authorized person, or
 - (b) to exercise any of its insolvency powers in relation to—
 - (i) a PRA-authorized person,
 - (ii) an appointed representative whose principal, or one of whose principals, is a PRA-authorized person, or
 - (iii) a person who is carrying on a PRA-regulated activity in contravention of the general prohibition.
- (3) In subsection (2)—
- (a) “regulatory powers”, in relation to the FCA, means
 - [its powers in relation to the regulation of authorised persons, other
 - ^{F98}(i) than its powers in relation to consent for the purposes of section 55F or 55I [^{F99}, a power conferred on it by sections 234I to 234M] or its powers under Part 24 [^{F100}, or
 - (ii) its powers in relation to designated activities under Part 5A;]

(See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (b) “insolvency powers”, in relation to the FCA, means its powers under Part 24.
- (4) The second condition is that the PRA is of the opinion that the exercise of the power in the manner proposed may—
- (a) threaten the stability of the UK financial system, ^{F101} ...
 - (b) result in the failure of a PRA-authorized person in a way that would adversely affect the UK financial system [^{F102}, or
 - (c) threaten the continuity of core services provided in the United Kingdom].
- (5) The third condition is that the PRA is of the opinion that the giving of the direction is necessary in order to avoid the possible consequence falling within subsection (4).
- (6) A direction under this section is a direction requiring the FCA not to exercise the power or not to exercise it in a specified manner.
- (7) The direction may be expressed to have effect during a specified period or until revoked.
- (8) The FCA is not required to comply with a direction under this section if or to the extent that in the opinion of the FCA compliance would be incompatible with any ^{F103} ... international obligation of the United Kingdom.
- (9) The reference in subsection (4)(b) to the “failure” of a PRA-authorized person is to be read in accordance with section 2J(3) and (4).

3L Further provisions about directions under section 3I or 3J

- (1) Before giving a direction under section 3I or 3J, the PRA must consult the FCA.
- (2) A direction under section 3I or 3J must be given or confirmed in writing, and must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons for giving it.
- (3) A notice revoking a direction under section 3I or 3J must be given or confirmed in writing.
- (4) The PRA must—
 - (a) publish the direction and statement, or the notice, in such manner as it thinks fit, and
 - (b) where the direction or notice relates to a particular authorised person or a particular with-profits insurer, give a copy of the direction and statement, or the notice, to that person.
- (5) The PRA must give the Treasury a copy of—
 - (a) a direction under section 3I;
 - (b) a statement relating to such a direction;
 - (c) a notice revoking such a direction.
- (6) The Treasury must lay before Parliament any document received by them under subsection (5).
- (7) Subsection (4) does not apply where the PRA, after consulting the Treasury, decides that compliance with that subsection would be against the public interest, and at any time when this subsection excludes the application of subsection (4) in relation to a direction under section 3I, subsection (6) also does not apply.
- (8) Where the PRA decides that compliance with subsection (4) would be against the public interest, it must from time to time review that decision and if it subsequently decides that compliance is no longer against the public interest it must—
 - (a) comply with that subsection, and
 - (b) in the case of a direction under section 3I, notify the Treasury for the purposes of subsection (6).

Directions relating to consolidated supervision

3M Directions relating to consolidated supervision of groups

- (1) This section applies where one of the regulators (“the supervising regulator”), but not the other, is the competent authority for the purpose of consolidated supervision that is required in relation to some or all of the members of a group (“the relevant group”) in pursuance of ^{F105}—
 - (a) any implementing provision contained in subordinate legislation (within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978) made otherwise than by any of the following—
 - (i) statutory instrument, and
 - (ii) statutory rule for the purposes of the Statutory Rules (Northern Ireland) Order 1979 (S.I. 1979/1573 (N.I. 12)); ^{F106}...
 - (b) any other implementing provision (as amended from time to time),
[Part 9C rules;

- (3) The “relevant directives” are—
- (a) the [F109 capital requirements directive];
- (b) Directive 2002/87/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the supplementary supervision of credit institutions, insurance undertakings and investment firms in a financial conglomerate;
- F110(c)
- (d) Directive 2009/138/EC of the European Parliament and the Council of 25 November 2009 on the taking-up and pursuit of the business of Insurance and Reinsurance (Solvency II).
- [Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15th
- F111(e) May 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms.]
- (4) The supervising regulator may, if it considers it necessary to do so for the effective consolidated supervision of the relevant group, give the other regulator a direction under this section.
- (5) A direction under this section is a direction requiring the other regulator to exercise, or not to exercise, a relevant function in a specified manner in relation to authorised persons who are members of the relevant group.
- (6) The direction may relate to members of the relevant group other than the members in respect of which consolidated supervision is required.
- (7) A “relevant function”, in relation to either regulator, is a function conferred by or under this Act which relates to the regulation of authorised persons, but does not include—
- (a) the regulator's function of making rules under this Act;
- (b) its function of preparing and issuing codes under this Act;
- (c) its function of determining the general policy and principles by reference to which it performs particular functions;
- (d) the FCA's functions in relation to the giving of general guidance;
- (e) the PRA's functions in relation to the giving of guidance under section 2I;
- (f) the FCA's functions in relation to consent for the purposes of section 55F or 55I.
- (8) The direction may not require the regulator to which it is given (“the directed regulator”) to do anything that it has no power to do, but the direction is relevant to the exercise of any discretion conferred on the directed regulator.
- (9) The directed regulator must comply with the direction as soon as practicable, but this is subject to subsections (10) and (11).
- (10) The directed regulator is not required to comply with a direction under this section if or to the extent that in its opinion compliance would be incompatible with any F112... international obligation of the United Kingdom.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

3N Revocation of directions under section 3M

- (1) The supervising regulator may at any time by notice to the other regulator revoke a direction under section 3M.
- (2) The revocation of the direction does not affect the validity of anything previously done in accordance with it.
- (3) Expressions defined for the purposes of section 3M have the same meaning in this section.

3O Further provisions about directions under section 3M

- (1) Before giving a direction under section 3M, the supervising regulator must consult the other regulator.
- (2) A direction under section 3M must be given or confirmed in writing, and must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons for giving it.
- (3) A notice revoking a direction under section 3M must be given or confirmed in writing.
- (4) The regulator to which a direction under section 3M is given must give a copy of the direction and statement to each of the authorised persons to whom the direction relates.
- (5) The supervising regulator must publish the direction and statement, or the notice, in such manner as it thinks fit.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (6) But subsection (4) or (5) does not apply in a case where the regulator on which the duty is imposed considers that compliance with that subsection would be against the public interest.
- (7) In a case where a regulator decides that compliance with subsection (4) or (5) would be against the public interest, the regulator must from time to time review that decision and if it subsequently decides that compliance is no longer against the public interest it must comply with the subsection.
- (8) Expressions defined for the purposes of section 3M have the same meaning in this section.

3P Consultation by regulator complying with direction

- (1) If the directed regulator is required by this Act to consult any person other than the supervising regulator before exercising the relevant function to which the direction relates, the directed regulator must give the supervising regulator copies of any written representations received from the persons consulted.
- (2) Expressions defined for the purposes of section 3M have the same meaning in this section.

Co-operation with Bank of England

3Q Co-operation by FCA ^{F113}... with Bank of England

- (1) [^{F114}The FCA] must take such steps as it considers appropriate to co-operate with the Bank of England in connection with—
 - (a) the pursuit by the Bank of its Financial Stability Objective, and
 - (b) the Bank's compliance with its duties under sections 58 and 59 of the Financial Services Act 2012 (duty to notify Treasury of possible need for public funds and of subsequent changes).
- (2) Co-operation under subsection (1) may include the sharing of information that the [^{F115}FCA] is not prevented from disclosing.

3RA Duty of FCA and PRA to review rules

- (1) Each regulator must keep under review generally any rules made by the regulator under this Act or any other enactment (whenever passed or made).
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to rules made for the purpose of complying with a direction or recommendation of the Financial Policy Committee of the Bank of England under—
 - (a) section 9H of the Bank of England Act 1998 (directions to FCA or PRA requiring macro-prudential measures), or
 - (b) section 9Q of that Act (recommendations to FCA and PRA).

3RB Statement of policy relating to review of rules

- (1) Each regulator must prepare and publish a statement of its policy with respect to its review of rules under section 3RA.
- (2) The statement must provide information about—
 - (a) how representations (including by a statutory panel) can be made to each regulator with respect to its review of rules under section 3RA, and
 - (b) the arrangements to ensure that those representations are considered.
- (3) In this section “statutory panel” has the meaning given by section 1RB(5).
- (4) If a statement published under this section is altered or replaced by a regulator, the regulator must publish the altered or replaced statement.
- (5) A statement prepared under this section must be published by the regulator in the way appearing to that regulator to be best designed to bring it to the attention of the public.

3RC Requirement to review specified rules

- (1) The Treasury may by direction require a regulator to carry out a review of specified rules if—
 - (a) the rules have been in force for at least 12 months,
 - (b) the Treasury consider that it is in the public interest that the rules are reviewed, and
 - (c) it does not appear to the Treasury that—
 - (i) the regulator is carrying out, or proposes to carry out, a review of those rules, or
 - (ii) if the regulator proposes to carry out a review, the proposals are appropriate for the purposes of carrying out an effective review.
- (2) Subsection (1) only applies to rules falling within section 3RA(1).
- (3) The Treasury must consult the regulator concerned before giving a direction under subsection (1).
- (4) In exercising the power under this section, the Treasury must have regard to the desirability of minimising any adverse effect that the carrying out of the review may have on the exercise by the regulator of any of its other functions.
- (5) A direction under subsection (1) may—
 - (a) specify the period within which a review must be carried out;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (b) determine the scope and conduct of a review;
 - (c) require the provision of interim reports during the carrying out of a review.
- (6) Provision made in a direction under subsection (5)(b) may include a requirement—
- (a) for a review to be carried out by a person appointed by the regulator who is independent of the regulator;
 - (b) for any such appointment to be made only with the approval of the Treasury.
- (7) As soon as practicable after giving a direction under subsection (1) the Treasury must—
- (a) lay before Parliament a copy of the direction, and
 - (b) publish the direction in such manner as the Treasury think fit.
- (8) Subsection (7) does not apply where the Treasury consider that publication of the direction would be against the public interest.
- (9) A direction under subsection (1) may be varied or revoked by the giving of a further direction.

3RD Report on certain reviews

- (1) This section applies where the Treasury have given a direction to a regulator under section 3RC(1) to carry out a review.
- (2) The regulator must make a written report to the Treasury as to the opinion of the regulator in relation to the following matters—
- (a) if the regulator is the FCA, whether the rules under review—
 - (i) are compatible with the FCA's strategic objective,
 - (ii) advance one or more of the FCA's operational objectives, and
 - (iii) advance the competitiveness and growth objective;
 - (b) if the regulator is the PRA, whether the rules under review—
 - (i) advance one or more of the PRA's objectives, and
 - (ii) advance the PRA's competition objective and the PRA's competitiveness and growth objective;
 - (c) whether and to what extent the rules are functioning effectively and achieving their intended purpose;
 - (d) whether any amendments should be made to the rules and, if so, what those amendments should be;
 - (e) whether any rules should be revoked (with or without replacement);
 - (f) whether any other action should be taken and, if so, what that action should be.
- (3) As soon as practicable after receiving the report the Treasury must—
- (a) lay before Parliament a copy of the report, and
 - (b) publish the report in such manner as the Treasury think fit.
- (4) When complying with subsection (3) the Treasury may withhold material from the report if the Treasury consider that publication of the material would be against the public interest.

^{F122}3RE Power of Treasury to require making of rules by regulations

- (1) The Treasury may by regulations require a regulator to exercise a power under this Act to make rules in relation to a specified activity or a specified description of person.
- (2) Regulations under this section may—
 - (a) specify matters that the rules must cover;
 - (b) specify a period within which the rules must be made.
- (3) But except so far as permitted by subsection (2), regulations under this section may not require rules to be made—
 - (a) in a specified form or with specified content, or
 - (b) to achieve or advance a specified outcome.
- (4) If no period is specified under subsection (2)(b) the rules must be made as soon as reasonably practicable after the coming into force of the regulations.]]

^{F150}22A Designation of activities requiring prudential regulation by PRA

- (1) The Treasury may by order specify the regulated activities that are “PRA-regulated activities” for the purposes of this Act.
- (2) An order under subsection (1) may—
 - (a) provide for exceptions;
 - (b) confer powers on the Treasury or either regulator;
 - (c) authorise the making of rules or other instruments by either regulator for purposes of, or connected with, any relevant provision;
 - (d) make provision in respect of any information or document which in the opinion of the Treasury or either regulator is relevant for purposes of, or connected with, any relevant provision;
 - (e) make such consequential, transitional, or supplemental provision as the Treasury consider appropriate for purposes of, or connected with, any relevant provision.
- (3) Provision made as a result of subsection (2)(e) may amend any primary or subordinate legislation, including any provision of, or made under, this Act.
- (4) “Relevant provision” means this section or any provision made under this section.

- (b) subsection (5) applies.
- (4) Subsection (5) applies if an order to which this section applies contains a statement that the Treasury are of the opinion that, by reason of urgency, it is necessary to make the order without a draft being so laid and approved.
- (5) Where this subsection applies the order—
 - (a) must be laid before Parliament after being made, and
 - (b) ceases to have effect at the end of the relevant period unless before the end of that period the order is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament (but without that affecting anything done under the order or the power to make a new order).
- (6) The “relevant period” is a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the order is made.
- (7) In calculating the relevant period no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days.]

 - (b) is unenforceable because of section 26, 26A or 27.
- (2) The amount of compensation recoverable as a result of that section is—
 - (a) the amount agreed by the parties, or
 - (b) on the application of either party, the amount specified in a written notice given by the FCA to the applicant.
- (3) If on application by the relevant firm the FCA is satisfied that it is just and equitable in the circumstances of the case, it may by written notice to the applicant allow—
 - (a) the agreement to be enforced, or
 - (b) money paid or property transferred under the agreement to be retained.
- (4) In considering whether to allow the agreement to be enforced or (as the case may be) the money or property paid or transferred under the agreement to be retained the FCA must—
 - (a) if the case arises as a result of section 26 or 26A, have regard to the issue mentioned in subsection (5), or
 - (b) if the case arises as a result of section 27, have regard to the issue mentioned in subsection (6).
- (5) The issue is whether the relevant firm reasonably believed that by making the agreement the relevant firm was neither contravening the general prohibition nor contravening section 20.
- (6) The issue is whether the provider knew that the third party was (in carrying on the credit-related regulated activity) either contravening the general prohibition or contravening section 20.

29 Accepting deposits in breach of general prohibition.

- (1) This section applies to an agreement between a person (“the depositor”) and another person (“the deposit-taker”) made in the course of the carrying on by the deposit-taker of accepting deposits in contravention of the general prohibition.
- (2) If the depositor is not entitled under the agreement to recover without delay any money deposited by him, he may apply to the court for an order directing the deposit-taker to return the money to him.
- (3) The court need not make such an order if it is satisfied that it would not be just and equitable for the money deposited to be returned, having regard to the issue mentioned in subsection (4).
- (4) The issue is whether the deposit-taker reasonably believed that he was not contravening the general prohibition by making the agreement.
- (5) “Agreement” means an agreement—
 - (a) made after this section comes into force; and
 - (b) the making or performance of which constitutes, or is part of, accepting deposits.

30 Enforceability of agreements resulting from unlawful communications.

- (1) In this section—
 - “unlawful communication” means a communication in relation to which there has been a contravention of section 21(1);
 - “controlled agreement” means an agreement the making or performance of which by either party constitutes a controlled activity for the purposes of that section; and
 - “controlled investment” has the same meaning as in section 21.
- (2) If in consequence of an unlawful communication a person enters as a customer into a controlled agreement, it is unenforceable against him and he is entitled to recover—
 - (a) any money or other property paid or transferred by him under the agreement; and
 - (b) compensation for any loss sustained by him as a result of having parted with it.
- (3) If in consequence of an unlawful communication a person exercises any rights conferred by a controlled investment, no obligation to which he is subject as a result of exercising them is enforceable against him and he is entitled to recover—
 - (a) any money or other property paid or transferred by him under the obligation; and
 - (b) compensation for any loss sustained by him as a result of having parted with it.
- (4) But the court may allow—
 - (a) the agreement or obligation to be enforced, or
 - (b) money or property paid or transferred under the agreement or obligation to be retained, if it is satisfied that it is just and equitable in the circumstances of the case.
- (5) In considering whether to allow the agreement or obligation to be enforced or (as the case may be) the money or property paid or transferred under the agreement to be retained the court must have regard to the issues mentioned in subsections (6) and (7).

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (6) If the applicant made the unlawful communication, the issue is whether he reasonably believed that he was not making such a communication.
- (7) If the applicant did not make the unlawful communication, the issue is whether he knew that the agreement was entered into in consequence of such a communication.
- (8) “Applicant” means the person seeking to enforce the agreement or obligation or retain the money or property paid or transferred.
- (9) Any reference to making a communication includes causing a communication to be made.
- (10) The amount of compensation recoverable as a result of subsection (2) or (3) is—
 - (a) the amount agreed between the parties; or
 - (b) on the application of either party, the amount determined by the court.
- (11) If a person elects not to perform an agreement or an obligation which (by virtue of subsection (2) or (3)) is unenforceable against him, he must repay any money and return any other property received by him under the agreement.
- (12) If (by virtue of subsection (2) or (3)) a person recovers money paid or property transferred by him under an agreement or obligation, he must repay any money and return any other property received by him as a result of exercising the rights in question.
- (13) If any property required to be returned under this section has passed to a third party, references to that property are to be read as references to its value at the time of its receipt by the person required to return it.

^{F202}(ii) relates to mortgage agreements entered into on or after 21st March 2016,] unless A meets the requirements of subsection (1BB).

(1BB) The requirements of this subsection are—

- (a) that A is entered on the record maintained by the FCA by virtue of section 347(1)(hb);
- (b) that A’s principal is a person who has a Part 4A permission to carry on one or more of the regulated activities mentioned in subsection (1BA)(b)(i); and
- (c) that A’s principal is not a tied mortgage intermediary.]

[Subsection (1D) applies where an authorised person (“A”)—

- ^{F203}(1C) (a) has permission under Part 4A, or permission resulting from any other provision of this Act, only in relation to one or more qualifying activities,
- (b) is a party to a contract with another authorised person (A’s “principal”) which—
- (i) permits or requires A to carry on business of a prescribed description (“the relevant business”), and
- (ii) complies with such requirements as may be prescribed, and
- (c) is someone for whose activities in carrying on the whole or part of the relevant business A’s principal has accepted responsibility in writing.

(1D) Sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) do not apply in relation to the carrying on by A of a relevant additional activity.

[^{F211}39A Certain tied agents operating outside United Kingdom

- (1) This section applies to an authorised person whose relevant office is in the United Kingdom if—
 - (a) he is a party to a contract with a person (other than an authorised person) who is [^{F212}established in the United Kingdom; and]
 - (b) the contract is a relevant contract.
- (2) A contract is a “relevant contract” if it satisfies conditions A to C.
- (3) Condition A is that the contract permits or requires the person mentioned in subsection (1)(a) (the “agent”) to carry on investment services business.
- (4) Condition B is that [^{F213}the FCA is satisfied that no such business is, or is likely to be, carried on by the agent in the United Kingdom.]
- (5) Condition C is that the business is of a description that, if carried on in the United Kingdom, would be prescribed for the purposes of section 39(1)(a)(i).
- (6) An authorised person to whom this section applies who—
 - (a) enters into or continues to perform a relevant contract with an agent which does not comply with the applicable requirements,
 - (b) enters into or continues to perform a relevant contract without accepting or having accepted responsibility in writing for the agent's activities in carrying on investment services business,
 - [^{F214}(c) enters into a relevant contract with an agent who is not entered on—
 - (i) the record maintained by the FCA by virtue of section 347(1)(ha), or
 - ^{F215}(ii)]
 - (d) continues to perform a relevant contract with an agent when he knows or ought to know that the agent is not entered on that record ^{F216}... , is to be taken for the purposes of this Act to have contravened a requirement imposed on him by or under this Act.

- (7) The “applicable requirements” are the requirements prescribed for the purposes of subsection (1)(a)(ii) of section 39 which have effect in the case of a person to whom subsection (1A) of that section applies.

- [^{F217}(8) Section 39(7) applies for the purposes of this section.]

Application for permission

55A Application for permission

- (1) An application for permission to carry on one or more regulated activities may be made to the appropriate regulator by—
 - (a) an individual,
 - (b) a body corporate,
 - (c) a partnership, or
 - (d) an unincorporated association.
- (2) “The appropriate regulator”, in relation to an application under this section, means ^{F221}(subject to subsection (2B))—
 - (a) the PRA, in a case where—
 - (i) the regulated activities to which the application relates consist of or include a PRA-regulated activity, or
 - (ii) the applicant is a PRA-authorized person otherwise than by virtue of a Part 4A permission;
 - (b) the FCA, in any other case.

[An application under this section for permission to carry on the regulated activity

^{F222}(2A) specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001 may not include an application for permission to carry on any other regulated activity.

(2B) The appropriate regulator, in relation to an application under this section for permission to carry on the regulated activity specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001, is the FCA.]

- (3) An authorised person who has a permission under this Part which is in force may not apply for permission under this section.
- ^{F223}(4)

55B The threshold conditions

- (1) “The threshold conditions”, in relation to a regulated activity, means the conditions set out in or specified under Schedule 6, as read with any threshold condition code made by either regulator under section 137O.
- (2) Any reference in this Part to the threshold conditions for which either regulator is responsible is to be read as a reference to the conditions set out in or specified under Schedule 6 that are expressed to be relevant to the discharge by that regulator of its functions, as read with any threshold condition code made by that regulator under section 137O.
- (3) In giving or varying permission, imposing or varying a requirement, or giving consent, under any provision of this Part, each regulator must ensure that the person concerned will satisfy, and continue to satisfy, in relation to all of the regulated activities for which the person has or will have permission, the threshold conditions for which that regulator is responsible.
- (4) But the duty imposed by subsection (3) does not prevent a regulator, having due regard to that duty, from taking such steps as it considers are necessary, in relation to a particular person, in order to advance—
 - (a) in the case of the FCA, any of its operational objectives;
 - (b) in the case of the PRA, any of its objectives.

55C Power to amend Schedule 6

- (1) The Treasury may by order amend Parts 1 and 2 of Schedule 6 by altering, adding or repealing provisions, or by substituting for those Parts as they have effect for the time being provisions specified in the order.
- (2) Different provision may be made under this section—
 - (a) in relation to the discharge of the functions of each regulator;
 - (b) in relation to different regulated activities;
 - (c) in relation to persons who carry on, or seek to carry on, activities that consist of or include a PRA-regulated activity and in relation to other persons.

55D Firms based outside [^{F226}the United Kingdom]

- (1) This section applies in relation to a person (“the [^{F227}non-UK] firm”)—
 - (a) who is a body incorporated in, or formed under the law of, or is an individual who is a national of, any country or territory outside the [^{F228}United Kingdom], and
 - (b) who is carrying on a regulated activity in any country or territory outside the United Kingdom in accordance with the law of that country or territory (“the overseas state”).
- (2) In determining whether the [^{F227}non-UK] firm is satisfying or will satisfy, and continue to satisfy, any one or more of the threshold conditions for which a UK regulator is responsible, the UK regulator may have regard to any opinion notified to it by a regulatory authority in the overseas state (“the overseas regulator”) which relates to the [^{F227}non-UK] firm and appears to the UK regulator to be relevant to compliance with those conditions.
- (3) In considering how much weight (if any) to attach to the opinion, the UK regulator must have regard to the nature and scope of the supervision exercised in relation to the [^{F227}non-UK] firm by the overseas regulator.
- (4) In this section “UK regulator” means the FCA or the PRA.

55E Giving permission: the FCA

- (1) This section applies where the FCA is the appropriate regulator in relation to an application for permission under section 55A.
 - (2) The FCA may give permission for the applicant to carry on the regulated activity or activities to which the application relates or such of them as may be specified in the permission.
 - (3) If the applicant is a member of a group which includes a PRA-authorised person, the FCA must consult the PRA before determining the application.
- [The FCA must consult the PRA before determining an application for permission to
- ^{F229}(3A) carry on the regulated activity specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001 (administering a benchmark) made by a person who is a PRA-authorised person otherwise than by virtue of a Part 4A permission.]
- (4) If it gives permission, the FCA must specify the permitted regulated activity or activities, described in such manner as the FCA considers appropriate.
 - (5) The FCA may—
 - (a) incorporate in the description of a regulated activity such limitations (for example as to circumstances in which the activity may, or may not, be carried on) as it considers appropriate;
 - (b) specify a narrower or wider description of regulated activity than that to which the application relates;
 - (c) give permission for the carrying on of a regulated activity which is not included among those to which the application relates and is not a PRA-regulated activity.

- (4) If the applicant—
 - (a) is a person to whom, in relation to a particular regulated activity, the general prohibition does not apply as a result of Part 19, but
 - (b) has applied for permission in relation to another regulated activity, the application is to be treated as relating only to that other regulated activity.
- (5) Subsection (6) applies where either regulator (“the responsible regulator”) receives an application for permission under section 55A which is in the regulator's opinion similar to an application which was previously made to the other regulator and was either—
 - (a) treated by the other regulator as not being a valid application to that regulator because of the regulated activities to which it related, or
 - (b) refused by the other regulator after being considered.
- (6) The responsible regulator must have regard to the desirability of minimising—
 - (a) the additional work for the applicant in dealing with the new application, and
 - (b) the time taken to deal with the new application.

55J Variation or cancellation on initiative of regulator

- (1) Either regulator may exercise its power under this section in relation to an authorised person with a Part 4A permission (“A”) if it appears to the regulator that—
 - (a) A is failing, or is likely to fail, to satisfy the threshold conditions for which the regulator is responsible,
 - (b) A has failed, during a period of at least 12 months, to carry on a regulated activity to which the Part 4A permission relates,^{F242}...
 - (c) it is desirable to exercise the power in order to advance—
 - (i) in the case of the FCA, one or more of its operational objectives,
 - (ii) in the case of the PRA, any of its objectives [^{F243}, or
 - (d) in the case of the FCA, A has failed to comply with a requirement in Part 5 of the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Regulations 2013 (AIFs which acquire control of non-listed companies and issuers), or it is for some other reason desirable to exercise the power for the purposes of ensuring compliance with such a requirement].
- (2) The FCA's power under this section is the power—
 - (a) to vary the Part 4A permission by—
 - (i) adding a regulated activity other than a PRA-regulated activity to those to which the permission relates,
 - (ii) removing a regulated activity from those to which the permission relates, or
 - (iii) varying the description of a regulated activity to which the permission relates in a way which, if it is a PRA-regulated activity, does not, in the opinion of the FCA, widen the description, or
 - (b) to cancel the Part 4A permission.
- (3) The PRA's power under this section is the power—
 - (a) in the case of a PRA-authorised person, to vary the Part 4A permission in any of the ways mentioned in section 55I(1) or to cancel it;
 - (b) in the case of an authorised person who is not a PRA-authorised person, to vary the Part 4A permission by adding a PRA-regulated activity to those to which the permission relates and, if the PRA does so, to vary the Part 4A permission in any of the other ways mentioned in section 55I(1).
- (4) The FCA—
 - (a) must consult the PRA before exercising its power under this section in relation to—
 - (i) a PRA-authorised person, or
 - (ii) a member of a group which includes a PRA-authorised person, and
 - (b) in the case of a PRA-authorised person, may exercise the power so as to add a new activity to those to which the permission relates or to widen the description of a regulated activity to which the permission relates, only with the consent of the PRA

[^{F244}, but paragraph (b) does not apply in relation to the regulated activity specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001 (administering a benchmark).]

^{F256}(6B) [Without prejudice to the generality of subsections (1) to (3), the FCA may, in relation to an authorised person who is a mortgage intermediary and who has a Part 4A permission to carry on a relevant mortgage activity, exercise its power under this section to cancel the Part 4A permission or to vary the Part 4A permission by removing a relevant mortgage activity from the activities to which the permission relates, if it appears to the FCA that any of the following conditions is met—

- (a) during a period of at least six months, the person has not carried on a relevant mortgage activity;
- (b) the person obtained the Part 4A permission to carry on a relevant mortgage activity by making a false statement or by any other irregular means;
- (c) the person no longer meets the conditions which the person was ^{F257}... required to meet in order to be granted a Part 4A permission to carry on a relevant mortgage activity; or
- (d) the person has seriously or systematically infringed any provision made by or under this Act which [^{F258}sets] the operating conditions for mortgage intermediaries ^{F259}....

(6C) In subsection (6B) “relevant mortgage activity” means—

- (a) an activity of a kind specified in article 25A (arranging regulated mortgage contracts), article 53A (advising on regulated mortgage contracts) or article 53DA (advising on regulated credit agreements the purpose of which is to acquire land) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001, or

^{F268}(7ZC) [Without prejudice to the generality of subsections (1) and (2), if it appears to the FCA, in relation to a person who has a permission to carry on the regulated activity specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001 (administering a benchmark), that the conditions in Article 35(1) of the EU Benchmarks Regulation 2016 are met, the FCA may exercise its powers under this section—

- (a) to vary the Part 4A permission by removing that activity from those to which the permission relates, or
- (b) to cancel the Part 4A permission.]

^{F269}(7A) [Without prejudice to the generality of subsections (1) and (3), if it appears to the PRA that there has been a serious failure by a PRA-authorised person who is an insurance undertaking or reinsurance undertaking to comply with requirements imposed by or under this Act in pursuance of the Solvency 2 Directive, the PRA may exercise its powers under this section to cancel the undertaking’s Part 4A permission.

(7B) If it appears to the PRA that the conditions in section 55KA are met in relation to a PRA-authorised person who is an insurance undertaking, reinsurance undertaking or third-country insurance undertaking, the PRA must—

- (a) in relation to the undertaking’s Part 4A permission so far as the permission relates to the regulated activity of effecting contracts of insurance as principal (“activity A”), exercise the PRA’s powers under this section by varying the permission—

- (i) where the permission relates to activity A in relation to both contracts of long-term insurance and contracts of general insurance and the conditions in section 55KA are met only in relation to the business of the undertaking so far as relating to contracts of one of those kinds, so as to remove activity A so far as relating to contracts of that kind from the regulated activities to which the permission relates, and
- (ii) in any other case, so as to remove activity A from the regulated activities to which the permission relates;

- (b) in relation to the undertaking’s Part 4A permission so far as the permission relates to the regulated activity of carrying out contracts of insurance as principal (“activity B”), exercise the PRA’s powers under this section, if it appears to the PRA to be necessary to do so to protect the interests of the undertaking’s policyholders, by varying the Part 4A permission—

- (i) where the permission relates to activity B in relation to both contracts of long-term insurance and contracts of general insurance and the conditions in section 55KA are met only in relation to the business of the undertaking so far as relating to contracts of one of the those kinds, so as to remove activity B so far as relating to contracts of that kind from the regulated activities to which the permission relates, and
- (ii) in any other case, so as to remove activity B from the regulated activities to which the permission relates.

(7C) If the effect of a variation required by subsection (7B) is to remove all the regulated activities to which the Part 4A permission relates, the PRA must instead cancel the permission.]

- (8) If, as a result of a variation of a Part 4A permission under this section, there are no longer any regulated activities for which the authorised person concerned has permission, the regulator responsible for the variation must, once it is satisfied that it is no longer necessary to keep the permission in force, cancel it.
- (9) Before cancelling under subsection (8) a Part 4A permission which relates to a person who (before the variation) was a PRA-authorised person, the regulator must consult the other regulator.
- (10) The power of either regulator to vary a Part 4A permission under this section extends to including in the permission as varied any provision that could be included if a fresh permission were being given in response to an application to that regulator under section 55A.
- (11) Consent given by one regulator for the purpose of subsection (4)(b) or (5)(b) may be conditional on the manner in which the other regulator exercises its powers under section 55E(4) and (5) or 55F(3) and (4) (as a result of subsection (10)).
- (12) The power of the FCA or the PRA under this section is referred to in this Part as its own-initiative variation power.

55M Imposition of requirements by PRA

(1) Where—

- (a) a person has applied for a Part 4A permission in relation to activities which consist of or include a PRA-regulated activity,
- (b) a PRA-authorized person has applied for a Part 4A permission or the variation of a Part 4A permission, or
- (c) an authorised person other than a PRA-authorized person has applied for a Part 4A permission to be varied by adding to the regulated activities to which it relates one or more regulated activities which include a PRA-regulated activity, the PRA may impose on that person such requirements, taking effect on or after the giving or variation of the permission, as the PRA considers appropriate.

(2) The PRA may exercise its power under subsection (3) in relation to a PRA-authorized person with a Part 4A permission (“P”) if it appears to the PRA that—

- (a) P is failing, or is likely to fail, to satisfy the threshold conditions for which the PRA is responsible,
- (b) P has failed, during a period of at least 12 months, to carry on a regulated activity to which the Part 4A permission relates, or
- (c) it is desirable to exercise the power in order to advance any of the PRA's objectives.

(3) The PRA's power under this subsection is a power—

- (a) to impose a new requirement,
- (b) to vary a requirement imposed by the PRA under this section, or
- (c) to cancel such a requirement.

(4) The PRA's power under subsection (3) is referred to in this Part as its own-initiative requirement power.

(5) The PRA may, on the application of a PRA-authorized person with a Part 4A permission—

- (a) impose a new requirement,
- (b) vary a requirement imposed by the PRA under this section, or
- (c) cancel such a requirement.

(6) The PRA may refuse an application under subsection (5) if it appears to it that it is desirable to do so in order to advance any of its objectives.

55N Requirements under section 55L or 55M: further provisions

- (1) A requirement may, in particular, be imposed—
 - (a) so as to require the person concerned to take specified action, or
 - (b) so as to require the person concerned to refrain from taking specified action.
- (2) A requirement may extend to activities which are not regulated activities.
- (3) A requirement may be imposed by reference to the person's relationship with—
 - (a) the person's group, or
 - (b) other members of the person's group.
- (4) A requirement may be expressed to expire at the end of such period as the regulator imposing it may specify, but the imposition of a requirement that expires at the end of a specified period does not affect the regulator's power to impose a new requirement.
- (5) A requirement may refer to the past conduct of the person concerned (for example, by requiring the person concerned to review or take remedial action in respect of past conduct).
- (6) In this section “requirement” means a requirement imposed under section 55L or 55M.

General requirement relating to financial promotion approval

F280 55NA

- (1) An authorised person must not approve the content of a communication for the purposes of section 21 unless the person has permission to do so given by the FCA under this section.
- (2) An authorised person who approves the content of a communication for the purposes of section 21 otherwise than in accordance with permission granted under this section is to be taken to have contravened a requirement imposed on the person by the FCA under this Act.
- (3) Permission may be granted by the FCA under this section on the application of—
 - (a) an authorised person, or
 - (b) an applicant for Part 4A permission that has yet to be determined.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (4) The FCA may grant a person permission under this section—
 - (a) on the terms sought in the application (which may include the grant of permission to give approvals generally for the purposes of section 21), or
 - (b) subject to any other terms the FCA considers appropriate (which may in particular provide for the giving of permission in a narrower description of case than that sought in the application).
- (5) Where the FCA grants permission to a person under this section, the FCA may vary or cancel the permission—
 - (a) on the application of the person to whom it was given, or
 - (b) of its own initiative,and subsection (4)(b) applies to the variation of permission as it applies to its grant.
- (6) If the FCA grants or varies permission under this section it must set out the terms on which the permission is given, described in such way as it considers appropriate.
- (7) The FCA may refuse to grant an application for permission under this section, or for its variation or cancellation under subsection (5)(a), if it appears to the FCA that it is desirable to do so in order to advance one or more of its operational objectives.
- (8) The FCA may vary or cancel a person’s permission under subsection (5)(b) if it appears to the FCA that—
 - (a) the person has failed, during a period of at least 12 months, to give, or to refuse to give, any approvals for the purposes of section 21 in accordance with the permission, or
 - (b) it is desirable to vary or cancel the permission in order to advance one or more of its operational objectives.
- (9) The FCA must consult—
 - (a) the PRA before giving permission under this section to, or before varying or cancelling permission under this section given to—
 - (i) a person who is, or will on the granting of an application for Part 4A permission be, a PRA-authorised person, or
 - (ii) a person who is a member of a group which includes a PRA-authorised person;
 - (b) the Gibraltar regulator (within the meaning of Schedule 2A) before giving permission under this section to, or before varying or cancelling permission under this section given to, a Gibraltar-based person.
- (10) Subsection (9)(b) does not apply in a case where the FCA varies or cancels permission of a Gibraltar-based person in exercise of its power under subsection (5)(b), but the FCA must inform the Gibraltar regulator in writing of the variation or cancellation.
- (11) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if the giving of approval falls within an exemption conferred by regulations made under section 55NB.
- (12) Nothing in this section limits any other power under this Act to impose requirements in relation to approvals given for the purposes of section 21 so far as those requirements are additional to the requirement imposed by subsection (1) of this section (but any such other requirement that is inconsistent with the requirement imposed by that subsection is of no effect to the extent of that inconsistency).

55O Imposition of requirements on acquisition of control

- (1) This section applies if it appears to the appropriate regulator that—
 - (a) a person has acquired control over a UK authorised person who has a Part 4A permission, but
 - (b) there are no grounds for exercising its own-initiative requirement power [^{F281} or (as the case may be) the power under section 55NA(5)(b)].
- (2) If it appears to the appropriate regulator that the likely effect of the acquisition of control on the UK authorised person, or on any of its activities, is uncertain, the appropriate regulator may—
 - (a) impose on the UK authorised person a requirement that could be imposed by that regulator under section 55L [^{F282}, 55M or 55NA] (as the case may be) on the giving of permission, or
 - (b) vary a requirement imposed by that regulator under that section on the UK authorised person.

55P Prohibitions and restrictions

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) on a person being given a Part 4A permission, either regulator imposes an assets requirement on that person,
 - (b) an assets requirement is imposed on an authorised person, or
 - (c) an assets requirement previously imposed on such a person is varied.
- (2) A person on whom an assets requirement is imposed is referred to in this section as “A”.
- (3) The “appropriate regulator” is the regulator which imposed the requirement.
- (4) “Assets requirement” means a requirement under section 55L or 55M—
 - (a) prohibiting the disposal of, or other dealing with, any of A's assets (whether in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) or restricting such disposals or dealings, or
 - (b) that all or any of A's assets, or all or any assets belonging to consumers but held by A or to A's order, must be transferred to and held by a trustee approved by the appropriate regulator.
- (5) If the appropriate regulator—
 - (a) imposes a requirement of the kind mentioned in subsection (4)(a), and
 - (b) gives notice of the requirement to any institution with whom A keeps an account,the notice has the effects mentioned in subsection (6).
- (6) Those effects are that—

- (7) If the appropriate regulator imposes a requirement of the kind mentioned in subsection (4)(b), no assets held by a person as trustee in accordance with the requirement may, while the requirement is in force, be released or dealt with except with the consent of the appropriate regulator.
- (8) If, while a requirement of the kind mentioned in subsection (4)(b) is in force, A creates a charge over any assets of A held in accordance with the requirement, the charge is (to the extent that it confers security over the assets) void against the liquidator and any of A's creditors.
- (9) Assets held by a person as trustee (“T”) are to be taken to be held by T in accordance with any requirement mentioned in subsection (4)(b) only if—
- (a) A has given T written notice that those assets are to be held by T in accordance with the requirement, or
 - (b) they are assets into which assets to which paragraph (a) applies have been transposed by T on the instructions of A.
- (10) A person who contravenes subsection (7) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale.

- (3) Subsection (1) does not affect any duty of one UK regulator to consult or obtain the consent of the other UK regulator in relation to the exercise of its own-initiative powers.
- ^{F288}(4)
- (5) In deciding whether or not to [^{F289}exercise its own-initiative powers in response to a request, the UK regulator] may take into account in particular—
- (a) whether in the country or territory of the overseas regulator concerned, corresponding assistance would be given to a United Kingdom regulatory authority;
 - (b) whether the case concerns the breach of a law, or other requirement, which has no close parallel in the United Kingdom or involves the assertion of a jurisdiction not recognised by the United Kingdom;
 - (c) the seriousness of the case and its importance to persons in the United Kingdom;
 - (d) whether it is otherwise appropriate in the public interest to give the assistance sought.
- (6) The UK regulator may decide not to exercise its own-initiative powers, in response to a request, unless the overseas regulator concerned undertakes to make such contribution towards the cost of their exercise as the UK regulator considers appropriate.
- ^{F290}(7)
- (8) In [^{F291}subsections (5) and] (6) “request” means a request of a kind mentioned in subsection (1).
- (9) In this section—

Procedure

55U Applications under this Part

- (1) An application for a Part 4A permission must—
- (a) contain a statement of the regulated activity or regulated activities which the applicant proposes to carry on and for which the applicant wishes to have permission, and
 - (b) give the address of a place in the United Kingdom for service on the applicant of any notice or other document which is required or authorised to be served on the applicant under this Act.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (2) An application for the variation of a Part 4A permission must contain a statement—
 - (a) of the desired variation, and
 - (b) of the regulated activity or regulated activities which the applicant proposes to carry on if the permission is varied.
- (3) An application for the variation of a requirement imposed under section 55L or 55M or for the imposition of a new requirement must contain a statement of the desired variation or requirement.
[An application for permission under section 55NA, or for the variation of permission ^{F297}(3A) under that section, must contain a statement of the desired permission or variation.]
- (4) An application under this Part must—
 - (a) be made in such manner as the regulator to which it is to be made may direct, and
 - (b) contain, or be accompanied by, such other information as that regulator may reasonably require.
- (5) At any time after the application is received and before it is determined, the appropriate regulator may require the applicant to provide it with such further information as it reasonably considers necessary to enable it to determine the application or, as the case requires, to decide whether to give consent.
- (6) In subsection (5), the “appropriate regulator” means—
 - (a) in a case where the application is made to the FCA, the FCA;
 - (b) in a case where the application is made to the PRA, the FCA or the PRA.
- (7) Different directions may be given, and different requirements imposed, in relation to different applications or categories of application.
- (8) Each regulator may require an applicant to provide information which the applicant is required to provide to it under this section in such form, or to verify it in such a way, as the regulator may direct.
- (9) The PRA must consult the FCA before—
 - (a) giving a direction under this section in relation to a class of applications, or
 - (b) imposing a requirement under this section in relation to a class of applications.

55V Determination of applications

- (1) An application under this Part must be determined by the regulator to which it is required to be made (“the appropriate regulator”) before the end of the period of 6 months beginning with the date on which it received the completed application.
- (2) The appropriate regulator may determine an incomplete application if it considers it appropriate to do so; and it must in any event determine such an application within 12 months beginning with the date on which it received the application.
- (3) Where the application cannot be determined by the appropriate regulator without the consent of the other regulator, the other regulator's decision must also be made within the period required by subsection (1) or (2).
- (4) The applicant may withdraw the application, by giving the appropriate regulator written notice, at any time before the appropriate regulator determines it.
- (5) If the appropriate regulator grants an application—
 - (a) for Part 4A permission,
 - (b) for the variation or cancellation of a Part 4A permission,
 - (c) for the variation or cancellation of a requirement imposed under section 55L or 55M, ^{F298} ...
 - (d) for the imposition of a new requirement under either of those sections [^{F299}, or
 - (e) for permission under section 55NA or for the variation or cancellation of permission granted under that section,] it must give the applicant written notice.

- (6) The notice must state the date from which the permission, variation, cancellation or requirement has effect.
- (7) A notice under this section which is given by the PRA and relates to the grant of an application for Part 4A permission or for the variation of a Part 4A permission must state that the FCA has given its consent to the grant of the application.

[In the case of an application for permission under this Part which—^{F300}(8) (a) relates to the regulated activity of managing an AIF, and
(b) would if granted result in the applicant becoming a full-scope UKAIFM, this section has effect subject to [^{F301}regulation 5][^{F301}regulations 5 and 5A] of the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Regulations 2013 and, accordingly, subsections (1) to (3) do not apply.]

[In the case of an application which—
^{F302}(9) (a) is for a Part 4A permission or a variation of a Part 4A permission, and
(b) relates only to the undertaking of insurance distribution activity, subsection (1) has effect as if the reference to “6 months” were to “3 months”.

- (10) In this section, “insurance distribution activity” has the meaning given in article 92 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001.]

- (2) A written notice under subsection (1) must—
 - (a) give details of the decision made by the FCA,
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for the decision,
 - (c) state whether the decision takes effect immediately or on such date as may be specified in the notice,
 - (d) inform the applicant that the applicant may either—
 - (i) request a review of the decision, and make written representations for the purpose of the review, within such period as may be specified in the notice, or
 - (ii) refer the matter to the Tribunal within such period as may be specified in the notice, and
 - (e) indicate the procedure on a reference to the Tribunal.
- (3) If the applicant requests a review of the decision made by the FCA (“the original decision”), the FCA must consider any written representations made by the applicant and review the original decision.
- (4) On a review under subsection (3) the FCA may make any decision (“the new decision”) the FCA could have made on the application.
- (5) The FCA must give the applicant written notice of its decision on the review.
- (6) If the new decision is to do any of the things mentioned in subsection (1)(a) to (f), the written notice under subsection (5) must—
 - (a) give details of the new decision made by the FCA,
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for the new decision,
 - (c) inform the applicant that the applicant may, within such period as may be specified in the notice, refer the new decision to the Tribunal, and

55Y Exercise of own-initiative power: procedure

- (1) This section applies to an exercise of either regulator's own-initiative variation power or own-initiative requirement power in relation to an authorised person (“A”).
- [This section also applies to an exercise of the FCA’s power under subsection (5)(b)
- ^{F311}(1A) of section 55NA to vary of its own initiative a permission given under that section to an authorised person (“A”).
- (1B) References in this section to a regulator’s own initiative variation power are to be taken as including the power mentioned in subsection (1A).]
- (2) A variation of a permission or the imposition or variation of a requirement takes effect—
- immediately, if the notice given under subsection (4) states that that is the case,
 - on such date as may be specified in the notice, or
 - if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (3) A variation of a permission, or the imposition or variation of a requirement, may be expressed to take effect immediately (or on a specified date) only if the regulator concerned, having regard to the ground on which it is exercising its own-initiative variation power or own-initiative requirement power, reasonably considers that it is necessary for the variation, or the imposition or variation of the requirement, to take effect immediately (or on that date).
- [If either regulator—
- ^{F312}(4) (a) proposes to vary a Part 4A permission or to impose or vary a requirement,
- (b) varies a Part 4A permission, or imposes or varies a requirement, with immediate effect,
- (c) proposes to vary a permission under section 55NA, or
- (d) varies permission under section 55NA with immediate effect,
- it must give A written notice.]
- (5) The notice must—
- give details of the variation of the permission or the requirement or its variation,
 - state the regulator's reasons for the variation of the permission or the imposition or variation of the requirement,
 - inform A that A may make representations to the regulator within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not A has referred the matter to the Tribunal),

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (d) inform A of when the variation of the permission or the imposition or variation of the requirement takes effect, and
 - (e) inform A of A's right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (6) The regulator may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (7) If, having considered any representations made by A, the regulator decides—
- (a) to vary the permission, or impose or vary the requirement, in the way proposed, or
 - (b) if the permission has been varied or the requirement imposed or varied, not to rescind the variation of the permission or the imposition or variation of the requirement,
- it must give A written notice.
- (8) If, having considered any representations made by A, the regulator decides—
- (a) not to vary the permission, or impose or vary the requirement, in the way proposed,
 - (b) to vary the permission or requirement in a different way, or impose a different requirement, or
 - (c) to rescind a variation or requirement which has effect,
- it must give A written notice.
- (9) A notice under subsection (7) must inform A of A's right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (10) A notice under subsection (8)(b) must comply with subsection (5).
- (11) If a notice informs A of A's right to refer a matter to the Tribunal, it must give an indication of the procedure on such a reference.
- (12) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), whether a matter is open to review is to be determined in accordance with section 391(8).

Prohibition orders

56 Prohibition orders.

[^{F319}(1) The FCA may make a prohibition order if it appears to it that an individual is not a fit and proper person to perform functions in relation to a regulated activity carried on by—

- (a) an authorised person,
- (b) a person who is an exempt person in relation to that activity, or
- (c) a person to whom, as a result of Part 20, the general prohibition does not apply in relation to that activity.

(1A) The PRA may make a prohibition order if it appears to it that an individual is not a fit and proper person to perform functions in relation to a regulated activity carried on by—

- (a) a PRA-authorised person, or
- (b) a person who is an exempt person in relation to a PRA-regulated activity carried on by the person.]

(2) [^{F320}A “prohibition order” is an order] prohibiting the individual from performing a specified function, any function falling within a specified description or any function.

(3) A prohibition order may relate to—

- (a) a specified regulated activity, any regulated activity falling within a specified description or all regulated activities;
- [^{F321}(b) all persons falling within subsection (3A) or a particular paragraph of that subsection or all persons within a specified class of person falling within a particular paragraph of that subsection.]

- [^{F322}(3A) A person falls within this subsection if the person is—
- (a) an authorised person,
 - (b) an exempt person, or
 - (c) a person to whom, as a result of Part 20, the general prohibition does not apply in relation to a regulated activity.]
- (4) An individual who performs or agrees to perform a function in breach of a prohibition order is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale.
- (5) In proceedings for an offence under subsection (4) it is a defence for the accused to show that he took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid committing the offence.
- (6) [^{F323}A person falling within subsection (3A)] must take reasonable care to ensure that no function of his, in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity, is performed by a person who is prohibited from performing that function by a prohibition order.
- (7) [^{F324}The regulator that has made a prohibition order] may, on the application of the individual named in [^{F325}the order], vary or revoke it.

- [^{F326}(7A) If—
- (a) the FCA proposes to vary or revoke a prohibition order, and
 - (b) as a result of the proposed variation or revocation, an individual—
 - (i) will no longer be prohibited from performing a function of interest to the PRA, or
 - (ii) will be prohibited from performing such a function,
- the FCA must consult the PRA before varying or revoking the order.
- (7B) A function is of interest to the PRA if it is performed in relation to a regulated activity carried on by—
- (a) a PRA-authorised person, or
 - (b) a person who is an exempt person in relation to a PRA-regulated activity carried on by the person.

(7C) The PRA must consult the FCA before varying or revoking a prohibition order.]

- [^{F327}(7D) If—
- (a) the FCA proposes to vary or revoke a prohibition order which makes provision in relation to a recognised body, and
 - (b) the FCA is not the appropriate regulator in relation to recognised bodies of that type,
- the FCA must consult the appropriate regulator.

(7E) If the PRA proposes to vary or revoke a prohibition order which makes provision in relation to a recognised body, the PRA must consult the appropriate regulator in relation to recognised bodies of that type.]

[^{F348}59ZA Senior management functions

- (1) This section has effect for determining whether a function is for the purposes of section 59(6) or (6A) a senior management function.
- (2) A function is a “senior management function”, in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by an authorised person, if—
 - (a) the function will require the person performing it to be responsible for managing one or more aspects of the authorised person's affairs, so far as relating to the activity, and
 - (b) those aspects involve, or might involve, a risk of serious consequences—
 - (i) for the authorised person, or
 - (ii) for business or other interests in the United Kingdom.
- (3) In subsection (2)(a) the reference to managing one or more aspects of an authorised person's affairs includes a reference to taking decisions, or participating in the taking of decisions, about how one or more aspects of those affairs should be carried on.]

[^{F349}59ZB] Designated senior management functions

For the purposes of this Part the following are “designated senior management functions”—

- (a) a function of a description specified in rules made by the FCA under section 59(3)(a) or (b) which is designated as a senior management function by the FCA under section 59(6A);
- (b) a function of a description specified in rules made by the PRA under section 59(3)(a).]

[^{F350}59A] Specifying functions as controlled functions: supplementary

- (1) The FCA must—
 - (a) keep under review the exercise of its power under section 59(3)(a) to specify any [^{F351}senior management] function as a controlled function, and
 - (b) exercise that power in a way that it considers will minimise the likelihood that approvals fall to be given by both the FCA and the PRA in respect of the performance by a person of [^{F351}senior management] functions in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by the same PRA-authorised person.
- (2) The FCA and the PRA must each consult the other before exercising any power under section 59(3)(a).
- (3) Any reference in this section to the exercise of a power includes its exercise by way of amendment or revocation of provision previously made in the exercise of the power.

[^{F352}(3A) “Senior management function” has the meaning given by section 59ZA.]

- (4) “Approval” means an approval under section 59.
- (5) Any expression which is used both in this section and section 59 has the same meaning in this section as in that section.

61 Determination of applications.

- [^{F368}(1) The regulator to which an application for approval is made under section 60 may grant the application only if—
- (a) it is satisfied that the person in respect of whom the application is made (“the candidate”) is a fit and proper person to perform the function to which the application relates, or
 - (b) in a case where the application is for approval to perform a designated senior management function ^{F369} ... [^{F370}(a “senior] management application”), it is satisfied that the condition in paragraph (a) will be met if the application is granted subject to one or more conditions (as to which, see subsection (2B)).]
- (2) In [^{F371}determining the application], [^{F372}the regulator] may have regard (among other things) to whether the candidate, or any person who may perform a function on his behalf—
- (a) has obtained a qualification,
 - (b) has undergone, or is undergoing, training, ^{F373} ...
 - (c) possesses a level of competence, [^{F374}or
 - (d) has the personal characteristics,]
- required by general rules [^{F375}made by that regulator] in relation to persons performing functions of the kind to which the application relates.
- [^{F376}(2A) Subsections (1) and (2) apply in relation to the giving by the FCA of any required consent as they apply in relation to the grant of the application.]
- [^{F377}(2B) The regulator to which a ^{F378} ... senior management application is made under section 60 may in particular—
- (a) grant the application subject to any conditions that the regulator considers appropriate, and
 - (b) grant the application so as to give approval only for a limited period.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (2C) A regulator may exercise the power under paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (2B) only if—

- (a) where the regulator is the FCA, it appears to the FCA that it is desirable to do so in order to advance one or more of its operational objectives, and
- (b) where the regulator is the PRA, it appears to the PRA that it is desirable to do so in order to advance any of its objectives.

(2D) Consent given by the FCA for the granting of the application may be conditional on the manner in which the PRA exercises its power under subsection (2B).]

(3) [^{F379}The regulator to which an application is made under section 60 must, before the end of the period for consideration, determine] whether—

- (a) to grant the application; or
- (b) to give a warning notice under section 62(2).

[^{F380}(3ZA) In the case of a ^{F381}... senior management application, the reference in subsection (3)

(a) to granting the application is a reference to granting it without imposing conditions or limiting the period for which the approval has effect.]

[^{F382}(3A) The period for consideration?—

(a) in any case where the application under section 60 is made by a person applying for permission under Part 4A (see section 60(6)), means whichever ends last of—

- (i) the period within which the application for that permission must be determined under section 55V(1) or (2), and
- (ii) the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which the regulator receives the application under section 60, and

(b) in any other case, means the period of 3 months beginning with the date on which the regulator receives the application under section 60.]

(4) If [^{F383}a regulator] imposes a requirement under section 60(3), the period for consideration stops running on the day on which the requirement is imposed but starts running again—

- (a) on the day on which the required information is received by [^{F383}a regulator]; or
- (b) if the information is not provided on a single day, on the last of the days on which it is received by [^{F383}a regulator].

(5) A person who makes an application under section 60 may withdraw his application by giving written notice to the [^{F384}regulator to which the application was made] at any time before the [^{F385}regulator] determines it, but only with the consent of—

- (a) the candidate; and
- (b) the person by whom the candidate is to be retained to perform the function concerned, if not the applicant.

63ZC Exercise of power under section 63ZB: procedure

- (1) This section applies to an exercise, by either regulator, of the power to vary an approval under section 63ZB.
- (2) A variation takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice given under subsection (4) states that that is the case,
 - (b) on such date as is specified in the notice, or
 - (c) if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (3) A variation may be expressed to take effect immediately (or on a specified date) only if the regulator concerned, having regard to the ground on which it is exercising the power to vary, reasonably considers that it is necessary for the variation to take effect immediately (or on that date).
- (4) If either regulator proposes to vary an approval or varies an approval with immediate effect, it must give each of the interested parties written notice.
- (5) The notice must—
 - (a) give details of the variation,
 - (b) state the regulator's reasons for the variation,
 - (c) inform the interested parties that each of them may make representations to the regulator within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not any of the interested parties has referred the matter to the Tribunal),

63ZE Statement of policy: procedure

- (1) Before issuing a statement of policy under section 63ZD, a regulator (“the issuing regulator”) must—
 - (a) consult the other regulator, and
 - (b) publish a draft of the proposed statement in the way appearing to the issuing regulator to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (2) The duty of the FCA to consult the PRA under subsection (1)(a) applies only in so far as the statement of policy applies to persons whose approval under section 59 relates to the performance of a function designated by the FCA as a senior management function under section 59(6A) in relation to the carrying on by PRA-authorized persons of regulated activities.
- (3) The draft must be accompanied by notice that representations about the proposal may be made to the issuing regulator within a specified time.
- (4) Before issuing the proposed statement, the issuing regulator must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (3).
- (5) If the issuing regulator issues the proposed statement it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (3), and
 - (b) its response to them.
- (6) If the statement differs from the draft published under subsection (1) in a way which is in the opinion of the issuing regulator significant, the issuing regulator—
 - (a) must before issuing it carry out any consultation required by subsection (1)(a), and
 - (b) must (in addition to complying with subsection (5)) publish details of the difference.
- (7) The issuing regulator may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a draft published under subsection (1)(b).

63A Power to impose penalties

- (1) If the [^{F426}appropriate regulator] is satisfied that—
- (a) a person (“P”) has at any time performed a controlled function without approval, and
 - (b) at that time P knew, or could reasonably be expected to have known, that P was performing a controlled function without approval,
- it may impose a penalty on P of such amount as it considers appropriate.
- (2) For the purposes of this section P performs a controlled function without approval at any time if at that time—
- (a) P performs a controlled function under an arrangement entered into by an authorised person (“A”), or by a contractor of A, in relation to the carrying on by A of a regulated activity; and
 - [^{F427}(b) P, when performing the function, is not acting in accordance with an approval given under section 59.]
- (3) The [^{F426}appropriate regulator] may not impose a penalty under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the person concerned under section 63B(1).
- (4) “The limitation period” means the [^{F428}relevant period] beginning with the first day on which the [^{F426}appropriate regulator] knew that the person concerned had performed a controlled function without approval.
- (5) For this purpose the [^{F426}appropriate regulator] is to be treated as knowing that a person has performed a controlled function without approval if it has information from which that can reasonably be inferred.

[The appropriate regulator”—

- ^{F429}(5A) (a) in relation to a controlled function which is of a description specified in rules made by the FCA, means the FCA, and
- (b) in relation to a controlled function which is of a description specified in rules made by the PRA, means the PRA.]

63E Certification of employees by ^{F455}... authorised persons

- (1) [^{F456}An] authorised person (“A”) must take reasonable care to ensure that no employee of A performs a specified function under an arrangement entered into by A in relation to the carrying on by A of a regulated activity, unless the employee has a valid certificate issued by A under section 63F.
- (2) “Specified function”—
 - (a) in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by a PRA-authorised person, means a function of a description specified in rules made by the FCA or the PRA, and
 - (b) in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by any other authorised person, means a function of a description specified in rules made by the FCA.
- (3) The FCA may specify a description of function under subsection (2)(a) or (b) only if, in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by [^{F457}an] authorised person of a particular description—
 - (a) the function is not a controlled function in relation to the carrying on of that activity by [^{F457}an] authorised person of that description, but
 - (b) the FCA is satisfied that the function is nevertheless a significant-harm function.
- (4) The PRA may specify a description of function under subsection (2)(a) only if, in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by a ^{F458}... PRA-authorised person of a particular description—
 - (a) the function is not a controlled function in relation to the carrying on of that activity by a ^{F458}... PRA-authorised person of that description, but
 - (b) the PRA is satisfied that the function is nevertheless a significant-harm function.
- (5) A function is a “significant-harm function”, in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by an authorised person, if—

- (a) the function will require the person performing it to be involved in one or more aspects of the authorised person's affairs, so far as relating to the activity, and
 - (b) those aspects involve, or might involve, a risk of significant harm to the authorised person or any of its customers.
- (6) Each regulator must—
- (a) keep under review the exercise of its power under subsection (2) to specify any significant-harm function as a specified function, and
 - (b) exercise that power in a way that it considers will minimise the risk of employees of ^{F459}... authorised persons performing significant-harm functions which they are not fit and proper persons to perform.
- ^{F460}(7)
- (8) In this section—
- “controlled function” has the meaning given by section 59(3);
- [^{F461}“customer”—
- (a) in relation to an authorised person, means a person who is using, or who is or may be contemplating using, any of the services provided by the authorised person; and
 - (b) in relation to an authorised person carrying on a regulated claims management activity, also means (so far as not included in paragraph (a)) a person who has or may have a claim within the meaning of section 419A in respect of which the authorised person is carrying on a regulated claims management activity.]
- ^{F462} ...
- (9) In this section any reference to an employee of a person (“A”) includes a reference to a person who—
- (a) personally provides, or is under an obligation personally to provide, services to A under an arrangement made between A and the person providing the services or another person, and
 - (b) is subject to (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control by A as to the manner in which those services are provided.

64B Rules of conduct: responsibilities of ^{F479}... authorised persons

- (1) This section applies where a regulator makes rules under section 64A (“conduct rules”).
- (2) Every ^{F480}... authorised person must—
 - (a) notify all relevant persons of the conduct rules that apply in relation to them, and
 - (b) take all reasonable steps to secure that those persons understand how those rules apply in relation to them.
- (3) The steps which [^{F481}an] authorised person must take to comply with subsection (2)(b) include, in particular, the provision of suitable training.
- (4) In this section “relevant person”, in relation to an authorised person, means—
 - (a) any person in relation to whom an approval is given under section 59 on the application of the authorised person, ^{F482}...
 - (b) any employee of the authorised person [^{F483}, and
 - (c) any person who is a director of the authorised person].
- ^{F484}(5)
- (6) In this section “employee”, in relation to an authorised person, has the same meaning as in section 64A.

[In this section “director”, in relation to an authorised person, has the same meaning ^{F485}(6A) as in section 64A.]

 - (i) an approved person in relation to the authorised person, ^{F528} ...
 - (ii) ^{F529} ... an employee of the authorised person [^{F530}, or
 - (iii) a director of the authorised person].

(4) In this section “relevant requirement” means a requirement—

- (a) imposed by or under this Act, ^{F531} ...
 - ^{F532}(aa) [imposed by the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Regulations 2013 ^{F533} ...;]
 - ^{F534}(ab) [imposed by the Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities Regulations 2011, [^{F535}or]]
 - ^{F536}(ac) [imposed by or under the Securitisation Regulations 2024, or]
- (b) imposed by any [^{F537}qualifying provision] specified, or of a description specified, for the purposes of this subsection by the Treasury by order.

(5) Condition C is that—

- (a) the person has at any time been a senior manager in relation to [^{F538}an] authorised person,
- (b) there has at that time been (or continued to be) a contravention of a relevant requirement by the authorised person, ^{F539} ...
- (c) the senior manager was at that time responsible for the management of any of the authorised person's activities in relation to which the contravention occurred [^{F540}, and
- (d) the senior manager did not take such steps as a person in the senior manager's position could reasonably be expected to take to avoid the contravention occurring (or continuing).]

^{F541}(6)

(7) For the purposes of subsection (5)—

“senior manager”, in relation to [^{F542}an] authorised person, means a person who has approval under section 59 to perform a designated senior

69 Statement of policy.

- (1) [^{F584}Each regulator must] prepare and issue a statement of its policy with respect to—
 - (a) [^{F585}the imposition of penalties, suspensions]^{F586}, conditions or limitations] under section 66;
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section; ^{F587} ...
 - (c) the period for which suspensions or [^{F588}conditions] under that section are to have effect.][^{F589}; and
 - (d) the period for which approvals under section 59 are to have effect as a result of a limitation under section 66.]
- (2) [^{F590}A regulator's] policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be [^{F591}, or what the period for which a suspension or restriction is to have effect should be,] must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the misconduct in question in relation to the nature of the principle or requirement concerned;
 - (b) the extent to which that misconduct was deliberate or reckless; and
 - (c) whether [^{F592}the person against whom action is to be taken] is an individual.
- (3) [^{F593}A regulator] may at any time alter or replace a statement issued [^{F594}by it] under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or [^{F595}replaced by a regulator, the regulator] must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) [^{F596}A regulator] must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.
- (6) A statement issued under this section [^{F597}by a regulator] must be published by [^{F598}the regulator] in the way appearing to [^{F598}the regulator] to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The [^{F599}regulator] may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement.
- (8) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, its power under section 66 in the case of any particular misconduct, [^{F600}a regulator] must have regard to any statement of policy published [^{F601}by it] under this section and in force at the time when the misconduct in question occurred.

70 Statements of policy: procedure.

- (1) Before [^{F602}a regulator issues] a statement under section 69, the [^{F603}regulator] must publish a draft of the proposed statement in the way appearing to the [^{F603}regulator] to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by notice that representations about the proposal may be made to the [^{F604}regulator] within a specified time.
- (3) Before issuing the proposed statement, the [^{F605}regulator] must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2).
- (4) If the [^{F606}regulator] issues the proposed statement it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2); and
 - (b) its response to them.
- (5) If the statement differs from the draft published under subsection (1) in a way which is, in the opinion of the [^{F607}regulator], significant, the [^{F607}regulator] must (in addition to complying with subsection (4)) publish details of the difference.
- (6) [^{F608}A regulator] may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published [^{F609}by it] under subsection (1).

- (b) in the case of a parent undertaking which is not a relevant firm, that the conditions in section 71D(1) and (4) are met in relation to that parent undertaking,
- the appropriate regulator may appoint a person to act (or one or more persons to act jointly) as a temporary manager of that firm or that parent undertaking.
- (2) Where the appropriate regulator makes an appointment under subsection (1) in relation to a parent undertaking which is not a relevant firm, the regulator may also require the undertaking to remove—
- (a) all of its directors;
 - (b) all of its senior executives.
- (3) A temporary manager may be appointed under subsection (1)—
- (a) to replace the directors of a relevant firm or a parent undertaking where they have been removed in compliance with a requirement imposed under section 71B or subsection (2), or
 - (b) to work with the directors of a relevant firm or a parent undertaking.
- (4) A temporary manager has the functions specified in the instrument of appointment (see section 71F).
- (5) The functions which may be specified include (amongst other things)—
- (a) ascertaining the financial position of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking;
 - (b) managing the business or part of the business of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking in order to preserve or restore the financial position of the firm or the parent undertaking;
 - (c) taking measures to restore the prudent management of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking;
 - (d) any function of the directors.
- (6) The temporary manager may, with the consent of the appropriate regulator—
- (a) require the directors to call a general meeting of the shareholders or members of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking, or
 - (b) in the case where all of the directors have been removed in compliance with a requirement imposed under section 71B or subsection (2), call a general meeting of the shareholders or members of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking.
- (7) The temporary manager may propose business for consideration at the general meeting.
- (8) If the temporary manager is being appointed to work with the directors, the appropriate regulator—
- (a) may require the directors not to exercise specified functions during the period of appointment;
 - (b) may require the directors to consult the temporary manager, or obtain the consent of the temporary manager, before taking specified decisions or specified action.
- “Specified” means specified in the requirement.

71D. Sections 71B and 71C: conditions

- (1) The condition in this subsection is met in relation to a relevant firm or a parent undertaking if—
 - (a) there is a deterioration in the financial situation of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking which is a significant deterioration, or
 - (b) there is a serious infringement by the relevant firm or the parent undertaking of—
 - (i) a relevant requirement, or
 - (ii) its memorandum or articles of association or other constituent instrument.
 - (2) The condition in this subsection is met in relation to a relevant firm if it is not reasonably likely that the deterioration would be reversed or the infringement would be brought to an end by [^{F614}any measure defined as a “relevant measure” by article 107 of the Bank Recovery and Resolution (No. 2) Order 2014 (S.I. 2014/3348)] which could be taken by the appropriate regulator under the provisions listed in subsection (3).
 - (3) The provisions mentioned in subsection (2) are—
 - (a) section 55J (variation or cancellation on initiative of regulator),
 - (b) section 55L (imposition of requirements by FCA),
 - (c) section 55M (imposition of requirements by PRA),
 - (d) section 55PB (requirements relating to general meetings),
 - (e) section 56 (prohibition orders),
 - (f) section 63 (withdrawal of approval),
 - (g) section 63ZA (variation of senior manager’s approval at request of authorised person),
 - (h) section 63ZB (variation of senior manager’s approval on initiative of regulator),
 - (i) section 63A (power to impose penalties),
 - (j) section 66 (disciplinary powers),
 - (k) Part 12A (powers exercisable in relation to parent undertakings), or
 - (l) Part 14 (disciplinary measures).
 - (4) The condition in this subsection is met if the following action would not be sufficient to reverse the deterioration or bring the infringement to an end—
 - (a) in the case of a relevant firm, the imposition of one or more requirements under section 71B (removal and replacement of directors and senior executives); or
 - (b) in the case of a parent undertaking which is not a relevant firm, the exercise of any of the appropriate regulator’s powers under Part 12A.
- [The condition in this subsection is met in relation to a director of an institution, of a
- ^{F615}(4A) financial holding company or of a mixed financial holding company, if the director—
- (a) is no longer of sufficiently good repute to perform their duties,
 - (b) no longer possesses sufficient knowledge, skills, experience, honesty, integrity or independence of mind to perform their duties, or
 - (c) is no longer able to commit sufficient time to perform their duties.]
- (5) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) “relevant requirement” has the meaning given in section 204A;

71E. Temporary manager: further provisions in relation to the appointment

- (1) Before appointing a person to act as a temporary manager, the appropriate regulator must be satisfied that the person—
 - (a) has the qualifications, ability and knowledge to carry out the functions to be given to the temporary manager, and
 - (b) would not be subject to any conflict of interest as a result of the appointment.
- (2) A person may not be appointed to act as a temporary manager for a period longer than one year, but is eligible for re-appointment (or further re-appointment) if subsection 71C(1) continues to apply in relation to the relevant firm or parent undertaking.
- (3) The appropriate regulator may vary the terms of the appointment of a temporary manager, or remove the temporary manager, at any time.
- (4) A temporary manager is not liable for damages in respect of anything done in good faith for the purposes of or in connection with the functions of the appointment (subject to section 8 of the Human Rights Act 1998).

71F. Temporary manager: instrument of appointment

- (1) The power in section 71C(1) is to be exercised by an instrument of appointment.
- (2) The instrument of appointment must—
 - (a) specify the functions of the temporary manager,
 - (b) specify the date on which the appointment of the temporary manager has effect,
 - (c) specify the period for which the temporary manager is appointed, and
 - (d) make provision for the resignation and replacement of the person who is appointed as the temporary manager.
- (3) The instrument of appointment may—
 - (a) require the temporary manager to consult the appropriate regulator or other specified person before exercising specified functions,

- (b) specify particular matters on which the appropriate regulator or other specified person must be consulted, and
 - (c) provide that the temporary manager is not to exercise specified functions without the consent of the appropriate regulator or other specified person.
- (4) The instrument of appointment may require the temporary manager to make reports to the appropriate regulator, at specified times or intervals, on—
- (a) the financial position of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking,
 - (b) the actions taken by the temporary manager during the course of the temporary manager’s appointment,
 - (c) any other specified matters.
- (5) In subsections (3) and (4), “specified” means specified in the instrument of appointment.
- (6) The instrument of appointment may provide for the payment of remuneration and allowances to a temporary manager.
- (7) Provision under subsection (6) may provide that the amounts are—
- (a) to be paid by the appropriate regulator, or
 - (b) to be determined by the appropriate regulator and paid by the relevant firm or the parent undertaking.
- (8) If a temporary manager—
- (a) is appointed to replace the directors of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking, or
 - (b) is appointed to work with the directors of the relevant firm or the parent undertaking and has the power to represent that firm or parent undertaking,
- the appropriate regulator must publish the instrument of appointment on its website.

71G. Right to refer matters to the Tribunal

- (1) A relevant firm which is aggrieved by—
- (a) the imposition of a requirement on that firm under section 71B, or
 - (b) the appointment, or the terms of the appointment, of a person to act as a temporary manager of that firm under section 71C(1),
- may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

^{F616}(1A) [An institution, financial holding company or mixed financial holding company which is aggrieved by the imposition of a requirement on that institution or holding company under section 71B(3) may refer the matter to the Tribunal.]

71H. Removal of directors and senior executives and appointment of temporary manager: procedure

- (1) A requirement under section 71B or 71C(2) or (8) or the appointment of a temporary manager under section 71C(1) may be expressed to take effect immediately or on a specified date only if the appropriate regulator, having regard to the grounds for imposing the requirement or making the appointment, reasonably considers that it is necessary for the requirement or the appointment to take effect immediately or on that date.
- (2) If either regulator proposes to impose a requirement on a relevant firm [F619, institution, financial holding company or mixed financial holding company] under section 71B or a parent undertaking under section 71C(2), or imposes such a requirement with immediate effect, it must give written notice—
- (a) to that firm [F620, institution, holding company] or parent undertaking, and
 - (b) to each of the directors or senior executives to whom the requirement relates (“the interested parties”).
- (3) If either regulator—
- (a) proposes to appoint a person to act as a temporary manager under section 71C or to vary the terms on which such a person is appointed, or
 - (b) makes such an appointment or variation with immediate effect,
- the regulator must give written notice to the relevant firm or the parent undertaking concerned.
- (4) If either regulator proposes to impose a requirement on the directors under section 71C(8), or imposes such a requirement with immediate effect, the regulator must give written notice to each director.
- (5) A notice given under subsection (2) must—

71K Designated activities

- (1) The Treasury may by regulations provide for an activity of a specified description to be a designated activity for the purposes of this Act.
- (2) Regulations under this section are referred to in this Act as designated activity regulations.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (3) Designated activity regulations may provide for an activity to be a designated activity only if the activity relates or is connected to—
 - (a) the financial markets or exchanges of the United Kingdom, or
 - (b) financial instruments, financial products or financial investments that are (or are proposed to be) issued or sold to, or by, persons in the United Kingdom.
- (4) The description of an activity as a designated activity may be framed by reference to—
 - (a) the way in which the activity is carried on, or
 - (b) the description of persons who carry on the activity.
- (5) Schedule 6B contains examples of activities that may be specified as designated activities.
- (6) Nothing in Schedule 6B limits the powers conferred by subsection (1).
- (7) The financial instruments, financial products and financial investments mentioned in subsection (3)(b) may include cryptoassets.

71L Restrictions on carrying on of designated activities

- (1) A person must not carry on a designated activity if, or to the extent that, designated activity regulations prohibit the carrying on of that activity.
- (2) A person carrying on a designated activity that is not prohibited by virtue of subsection (1) must comply with—
 - (a) designated activity rules relating to that activity, and
 - (b) any other requirements imposed in relation to that activity by designated activity regulations.
- (3) For the purposes of this Act designated activity rules are rules made under section 71N.

71M Designated activity regulations: general

- (1) Designated activity regulations may make provision generally in relation to the carrying on of designated activities.
- (2) The following are examples of provision that may be made by designated activity regulations—
 - (a) provision about cases in which the restrictions imposed by section 71L are to apply to persons carrying on a designated activity outside the United Kingdom;
 - (b) provision supplementing, or in connection with, any requirements relating to a designated activity under designated activity rules.
- (3) Designated activity regulations may—
 - (a) provide for exemptions (including exemptions that are subject to specified conditions);
 - (b) confer powers on the Treasury or the FCA.

71N Designated activities: rules

- (1) The FCA may make rules relating to designated activities.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (2) The power under subsection (1) is only exercisable in so far as designated activity regulations provide for the FCA to make rules—
 - (a) relating to the designated activity, or
 - (b) relating to specified matters relating to designated activities.
- (3) The FCA may by notice suspend any rules made under subsection (1) for such period as it considers appropriate.
- (4) Rules under subsection (1) may include provision enabling requirements imposed by the rules to be dispensed with, or modified, in such cases or circumstances as may be determined by the FCA under the rules (subject to subsection (5)).
- (5) The powers under subsections (3) and (4) are only exercisable in such circumstances as may be specified in designated activity regulations.
- (6) Before suspending any rules in accordance with subsection (3), the FCA must consult the PRA.
- (7) A notice under subsection (3) must be published by the FCA in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of persons likely to be affected by it.
- (8) The reference in section 137T(a) (supplementary powers) to “authorised persons” includes, in relation to rules made under this section, a reference to any persons to whom the rules under this section apply.

710 Designated activities: directions

- (1) The FCA may by directions impose such requirements on a person, or such description of persons, relating to the carrying on of designated activities as the FCA considers appropriate.
- (2) The power under subsection (1) is only exercisable in so far as designated activity regulations provide for the FCA to make directions relating to the designated activity.
- (3) A requirement may, in particular, be imposed so as to require the person concerned—
 - (a) to take specified action, or
 - (b) to refrain from taking specified action.
- (4) A requirement may extend to activities which are not designated activities.
- (5) A direction under this section—
 - (a) may specify the way in which, and the time by which, a thing is to be done;
 - (b) may be varied;
 - (c) may be expressed to have effect during a specified period or until revoked.
- (6) The FCA may at any time revoke a direction under this section by notice.
- (7) The revocation of a direction does not affect the validity of anything previously done in accordance with it.
- (8) A direction or notice under this section must be given in writing to the person or persons to whom it applies.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (9) But if in the circumstances the FCA considers it appropriate, the FCA may, in addition to, or instead of, proceeding under subsection (8), publish the direction or notice in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of persons likely to be affected by it.
- (10) Designated activity regulations may make provision for the exercise of the power under subsection (1) to be subject to such conditions as may be specified in the regulations.
- (11) Provision under subsection (10) may (among other things) require, where the exercise of the power relates to a PRA-authorised person, consultation with the PRA.
- (12) The imposition of a requirement that expires at the end of a specified period does not affect the FCA's power to impose a new requirement.

71P Designated activities: liability

- (1) Designated activity regulations may make provision about liability and compensation in connection with this Part.
- (2) A contravention of a requirement under designated activity regulations or designated activity rules—
 - (a) does not, except as provided by designated activity regulations under section 71Q or by regulations under section 71R, make a person guilty of an offence;
 - (b) does not, except as provided by designated activity regulations—
 - (i) make any transaction void or unenforceable, or
 - (ii) give rise to any action for breach of statutory duty.
- (3) Designated activity regulations may in particular—
 - (a) in cases where the regulations make provision for liability, make provision excluding civil liability (whether generally or to such extent as may be specified),
 - (b) make provision for liability to be determined in accordance with designated activity rules,
 - (c) make provision so that a person being subject to a liability includes another person being entitled as against that person to rescind or repudiate an agreement, and
 - (d) make provision for the purposes of subsection (1) by applying provisions of this Act with or without modifications.

71Q Designated activities: enforcement

- (1) Designated activity regulations may make provision about enforcement in connection with this Part.
- (2) Provision about enforcement includes (among other things) provision—
 - (a) requiring the supply of information;
 - (b) about investigations (including the making of reports);
 - (c) conferring powers of entry;
 - (d) conferring powers of inspection, search and seizure;
 - (e) conferring powers of censure;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (f) imposing monetary penalties;
 - (g) about appeals;
 - (h) conferring functions (including functions involving the exercise of a discretion) on a person.
- (3) Designated activity regulations may in particular make provision for the purposes of subsection (1) by applying provisions of this Act with or without modifications, including any criminal offences created by this Act (and modifications made by virtue of this subsection may widen the scope of any such offences).
- (4) The power under this section includes power to amend or repeal provisions of this Act.

71R Designated activities and rules: connected amendments

- (1) The Treasury may by regulations make such modifications to provision made by or under this Act or any other enactment as the Treasury consider appropriate for purposes of, or connected with, any designated activity regulations or designated activity rules.
- (2) The power under subsection (1) may in particular be exercised for the purpose of removing or varying any requirement imposed by or under this Act so far as applying to the carrying on of any designated activity.
- (3) The power under subsection (1) includes power to modify any criminal offence created by this Act (including by widening the scope of any such offence).
- (4) In this section—
- “enactment” includes—
 - (a) an enactment comprised in subordinate legislation (within the meaning given by section 21 of the Interpretation Act 1978),
 - (b) an enactment comprised in, or in an instrument made under, a Measure or Act of Senedd Cymru,
 - (c) an enactment comprised in, or in an instrument made under, an Act of the Scottish Parliament, and
 - (d) an enactment comprised in, or in an instrument made under, Northern Ireland legislation;
 - “modify” includes amend, repeal or revoke.

71S Designated activities regulations: Parliamentary control

- (1) This section applies to regulations which contain provision made under section 71K which provides for an activity of a specified description to be a designated activity.
- (2) A statutory instrument containing regulations to which this section applies, other than regulations to which subsection (3) applies, may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House.
- (3) This subsection applies to regulations which contain a statement made by the Treasury that they are of the opinion that, by reason of urgency, it is necessary to make the regulations without a draft of the statutory instrument containing the regulations being laid and approved under subsection (2).

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (4) Where subsection (3) applies to regulations, a statutory instrument containing the regulations must be laid before Parliament after being made.
- (5) Regulations contained in a statutory instrument laid before Parliament under subsection (4) cease to have effect at the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the instrument is made unless, during that period, the instrument is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.
- (6) In calculating the period of 28 days, no account is to be taken of any whole days that fall within a period during which—
 - (a) Parliament is dissolved or prorogued, or
 - (b) either House of Parliament is adjourned for more than four days.
- (7) If regulations cease to have effect as a result of subsection (5), that does not—
 - (a) affect the validity of anything previously done under the regulations, or
 - (b) prevent the making of new regulations.]

Listing particulars

79 Listing particulars and other documents.

- (1) Listing rules may provide that securities ^{F664} . . . of a kind specified in the rules may not be admitted to the official list unless—
- (a) listing particulars have been submitted to, and approved by, the [^{F638}FCA] and published; or
 - (b) in such cases as may be specified by listing rules, such document (other than listing particulars or a prospectus of a kind required by listing rules) as may be so specified has been published.
- (2) “Listing particulars” means a document in such form and containing such information as may be specified in listing rules.
- (3) For the purposes of this Part, the persons responsible for listing particulars are to be determined in accordance with regulations made by the Treasury.
- [^{F665}(3A) Listing rules made under subsection (1) may not specify securities of a kind for which [^{F666}an approved prospectus is required as a result of section 85][^{F666}a prospectus is required as a result of rules made by virtue of the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024].]
- (4) Nothing in this section affects the [^{F638}FCA's] general power to make listing rules.

80 General duty of disclosure in listing particulars.

- (1) Listing particulars submitted to the [^{F638}FCA] under section 79 must contain all such information as investors and their professional advisers would reasonably require, and reasonably expect to find there, for the purpose of making an informed assessment of—
 - (a) the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses, and prospects of the issuer of the securities; and
 - (b) the rights attaching to the securities.
- (2) That information is required in addition to any information required by—
 - (a) listing rules, or
 - (b) the [^{F638}FCA],
 as a condition of the admission of the securities to the official list.
- (3) Subsection (1) applies only to information—
 - (a) within the knowledge of any person responsible for the listing particulars; or
 - (b) which it would be reasonable for him to obtain by making enquiries.
- (4) In determining what information subsection (1) requires to be included in listing particulars, regard must be had (in particular) to—
 - (a) the nature of the securities and their issuer;
 - (b) the nature of the persons likely to consider acquiring them;
 - (c) the fact that certain matters may reasonably be expected to be within the knowledge of professional advisers of a kind which persons likely to acquire the securities may reasonably be expected to consult; and
 - (d) any information available to investors or their professional advisers as a result of requirements imposed on the issuer of the securities by a recognised investment exchange, by listing rules or by or under any other enactment.

81 Supplementary listing particulars.

- (1) If at any time after the preparation of listing particulars which have been submitted to the [F638FCA] under section 79 and before the commencement of dealings in the securities concerned following their admission to the official list—
 - (a) there is a significant change affecting any matter contained in those particulars the inclusion of which was required by—
 - (i) section 80,
 - (ii) listing rules, or
 - (iii) the [F638FCA], or
 - (b) a significant new matter arises, the inclusion of information in respect of which would have been so required if it had arisen when the particulars were prepared,the issuer must, in accordance with listing rules, submit supplementary listing particulars of the change or new matter to the [F638FCA], for its approval and, if they are approved, publish them.
- (2) “Significant” means significant for the purpose of making an informed assessment of the kind mentioned in section 80(1).
- (3) If the issuer of the securities is not aware of the change or new matter in question, he is not under a duty to comply with subsection (1) unless he is notified of the change or new matter by a person responsible for the listing particulars.
- (4) But it is the duty of any person responsible for those particulars who is aware of such a change or new matter to give notice of it to the issuer.
- (5) Subsection (1) applies also as respects matters contained in any supplementary listing particulars previously published under this section in respect of the securities in question.

- (b) that its disclosure would be seriously detrimental to the issuer; or
 - (c) in the case of securities of a kind specified in listing rules, that its disclosure is unnecessary for persons of the kind who may be expected normally to buy or deal in securities of that kind.
- (2) But—
- (a) no authority may be granted under subsection (1)(b) in respect of essential information; and
 - (b) no authority granted under subsection (1)(b) extends to any such information.
- (3) The Secretary of State or the Treasury may issue a certificate to the effect that the disclosure of any information (including information that would otherwise have to be included in listing particulars for which they are themselves responsible) would be contrary to the public interest.
- (4) The [^{F638}FCA] is entitled to act on any such certificate in exercising its powers under subsection (1)(a).
- (5) This section does not affect any powers of the [^{F638}FCA] under listing rules made as a result of section 101(2).
- (6) “Essential information” means information which a person considering acquiring securities of the kind in question would be likely to need in order not to be misled about any facts which it is essential for him to know in order to make an informed assessment.
- (7) “Listing particulars” includes supplementary listing particulars.

(2) Where—

- (a) a person [^{F701} (“the client”) who is not a qualified investor (as defined in ^{F702}... Article 2(e) of the prospectus regulation)] has engaged a qualified investor falling within [^{F703}paragraph 3(a) of Schedule 1 to the markets in financial instruments regulation] to act as his agent, and
- (b) the terms on which the qualified investor is engaged enable him to make decisions concerning the acceptance of offers of transferable securities on the client's behalf without reference to the client, an offer made to or directed at the qualified investor is not to be regarded for the purposes of subsection (1) as also having been made to or directed at the client.

(3) For the purposes of [^{F704}subsection (1)], the making of an offer of transferable securities to—

- (a) trustees of a trust,
- (b) members of a partnership in their capacity as such, or
- (c) two or more persons jointly, is to be treated as the making of an offer to a single person.

(4) In determining whether subsection (1)(e) is satisfied in relation to an offer (“offer A”), offer A is to be taken together with any other offer of transferable securities of the same class made by the same person which—

- (a) was open at any time within the period of 12 months ending with the date on which offer A is first made; and
- (b) had previously satisfied subsection (1)(e).

[^{F705}(4A) A person does not contravene section 85(2) if the admission to trading falls within Article 1(5) of the prospectus regulation.]

(5) For the purposes of this section, an amount (in relation to an amount denominated in euros) is an “equivalent amount” if it is an amount of equal value denominated wholly or partly in another currency or unit of account.

(6) The equivalent is to be calculated at the latest practicable date before (but in any event not more than 3 working days before) the date on which the offer is first made.

Power to suspend scrutiny of prospectus

87JA

- (1) Where the FCA has received an application for approval of a prospectus, it may suspend its scrutiny of the prospectus on the ground that—
 - (a) before receiving the application, it had imposed a prohibition or restriction under Article 42 of the markets in financial instruments regulation in relation to any financial activity or practice of the applicant;
 - (b) in considering the application, it has decided to impose a prohibition or restriction under that Article in relation to the transferable securities to which the prospectus relates or any financial activity or practice of the applicant;
 - (c) before receiving the application, it had found that a financial activity or practice of the applicant had contravened product intervention rules; or
 - (d) in considering the application, it has decided that the approval of the prospectus would be likely to result in a contravention of product intervention rules.
- (2) The FCA must resume its consideration of the application for approval of the prospectus—
 - (a) where it suspended scrutiny of the prospectus on the ground specified in subsection (1)(a) or (b)—
 - (i) upon revoking the prohibition or restriction under Article 42(6) of the markets in financial instruments regulation; or
 - (ii) when it is satisfied that the prohibition or restriction does not have, or no longer has, any bearing on the approval of the prospectus;
 - (b) where it suspended scrutiny of the prospectus on the ground specified in subsection (1)(c), when it is satisfied that the contravention of product intervention rules does not have, or no longer has, any bearing on the approval of the prospectus;
 - (c) where it suspended scrutiny of the prospectus on the ground specified in subsection (1)(d), when it is satisfied that its approval of the prospectus would not result in a contravention of product intervention rules;
 - (d) upon giving notice under section 87O(5) revoking its decision to suspend scrutiny of the prospectus;
 - (e) where its decision to suspend scrutiny of the prospectus is quashed on a reference to the Tribunal or in other legal proceedings, on the date of the judgment of the Tribunal or of the court concerned.

[^{F784}88A Disciplinary powers: contravention of s.88(3)(c) or (e)

- (1) The FCA may take action against a sponsor under this section if it considers that the sponsor has contravened a requirement or restriction imposed on the sponsor by rules made as a result of section 88(3)(c) or (e).
- (2) If the FCA is entitled to take action under this section against a sponsor, it may do one or more of the following—
 - (a) impose a penalty on the sponsor of such amount as it considers appropriate;
 - (b) suspend, for such period as it considers appropriate, the sponsor's approval;
 - (c) impose, for such period as it considers appropriate, such limitations or other restrictions in relation to the performance of services to which the sponsor's approval relates as it considers appropriate;
 - (d) publish a statement to the effect that the sponsor has contravened a requirement or restriction imposed on the sponsor by rules made as a result of section 88(3)(c) or (e).
- (3) The period for which a suspension or restriction is to have effect may not exceed 12 months.
- (4) A suspension may relate only to the performance in specified circumstances of a service to which the approval relates.
- (5) A restriction may, in particular, be imposed so as to require the sponsor to take, or refrain from taking, specified action.
- (6) The FCA may—
 - (a) withdraw a suspension or restriction; or
 - (b) vary a suspension or restriction so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect.
- (7) The FCA may not take action against a sponsor under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the sponsor under section 88B(1).
- (8) “The limitation period” means the period of 3 years beginning with the first day on which the FCA knew that the sponsor had contravened the requirement or restriction.
- (9) For this purpose the FCA is to be treated as knowing that a sponsor has contravened a requirement or restriction if it has information from which that can reasonably be inferred.

89D Notification of voting rights held by issuer

- (1) Transparency rules may require notification of voteholder information relating to the proportion of voting rights held by an issuer in respect of voting shares in [^{F802}the issuer in accordance with the following provisions].
- (2) Transparency rules ^{F803}... may require notification of voteholder information relating to the proportion of voting rights held by an issuer in respect of voting shares in the issuer only where there is a notifiable change in the proportion of—
 - (a) the total voting rights in respect of shares in the issuer, or
 - (b) the total voting rights in respect of a particular class of share in the issuer, held by the issuer.
- (3) For this purpose there is a “notifiable change” in the proportion of voting rights held by a person when the proportion changes—
 - (a) from being a proportion less than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or greater than that designated proportion,
 - (b) from being a proportion equal to a designated proportion to a proportion greater or less than that designated proportion, or
 - (c) from being a proportion greater than a designated proportion to a proportion equal to or less than that designated proportion.
- (4) In subsection (3) “designated” means designated by the rules.

89P Primary information providers

- (1) Part 6 rules may require issuers of financial instruments to use primary information providers for the purpose of giving information of a specified description to a market of a specified description.
- (2) “Primary information provider” means a person approved by the FCA for the purposes of this section.
- (3) “Specified” means specified in the Part 6 rules.
- (4) Part 6 rules made by virtue of subsection (1) may—
 - (a) provide for the FCA to maintain a list of providers;
 - (b) impose requirements on a provider in relation to the giving of information or of information of a specified description;
 - (c) specify the circumstances in which a person is qualified for being approved as a provider;
 - (d) provide for limitations or other restrictions to be imposed on the giving of information to which an approval relates (whether or not the approval has already been granted);
 - (e) provide for the approval of a provider to be suspended on the application of the provider.
- (5) If the FCA proposes—
 - (a) to refuse a person's application under information provider rules,
 - (b) to impose limitations or other restrictions on the giving of information to which a person's approval relates, or

- (c) to cancel a person's approval as a provider otherwise than at the person's request, it must give the person a warning notice.
- (6) If the FCA decides—
 - (a) to grant the application under information provider rules,
 - (b) not to impose limitations or other restrictions on the giving of information to which a person's approval relates, or
 - (c) not to cancel the approval,it must give the person concerned written notice of its decision.
- (7) If the FCA decides—
 - (a) to refuse to grant the application under information provider rules,
 - (b) to impose limitations or other restrictions on the giving of information to which a person's approval relates, or
 - (c) to cancel the approval,it must give the person concerned a decision notice.
- (8) A person to whom a decision notice is given under this section may refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (9) In this section any reference to an application under information provider rules means—
 - (a) an application for approval as a provider,
 - (b) an application for the suspension of an approval as a provider,
 - (c) an application for the withdrawal of the suspension of an approval as a provider, or
 - (d) an application for the withdrawal or variation of a limitation or other restriction on the giving of information to which a provider's approval relates.

89Q Disciplinary powers: contravention of s.89P(4)(b) or (d)

- (1) The FCA may take action against a provider under this section if it considers that the provider has contravened a requirement or restriction imposed on the provider by rules made as a result of section 89P(4)(b) or (d).
- (2) If the FCA is entitled to take action under this section against a provider, it may do one or more of the following—
 - (a) impose a penalty on the provider of such amount as it considers appropriate;
 - (b) suspend, for such period as it considers appropriate, the provider's approval;
 - (c) impose, for such period as it considers appropriate, such limitations or other restrictions in relation to the giving by the provider of information as it considers appropriate;
 - (d) publish a statement to the effect that the provider has contravened a requirement or restriction imposed on the provider by rules made as a result of section 89P(4)(b) or (d).
- (3) The period for which a suspension or restriction is to have effect may not exceed 12 months.
- (4) A suspension may relate only to the giving of information in specified circumstances.

- (5) A restriction may, in particular, be imposed so as to require the provider to take, or refrain from taking, specified action.
- (6) The FCA may—
 - (a) withdraw a suspension or restriction, or
 - (b) vary a suspension or restriction so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect.
- (7) The FCA may not take action against a provider under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the provider under section 89R(1).
- (8) “The limitation period” means the period of 3 years beginning with the first day on which the FCA knew that the provider had contravened the requirement or restriction.
- (9) For this purpose the FCA is to be treated as knowing that a provider has contravened a requirement or restriction if it has information from which that can reasonably be inferred.

89R Action under s.89Q: procedure and right to refer to Tribunal

- (1) If the FCA proposes to take action against a provider under section 89Q, it must give the provider a warning notice.
- (2) A warning notice about a proposal to impose a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (3) A warning notice about a proposal—
 - (a) to suspend an approval, or
 - (b) to impose a restriction in relation to the giving of information,must state the period for which the suspension or restriction is to have effect.
- (4) A warning notice about a proposal to publish a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (5) If the FCA decides to take action against a provider under section 89Q, it must give the provider a decision notice.
- (6) A decision notice about the imposition of a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (7) A decision notice about—
 - (a) the suspension of an approval, or
 - (b) the imposition of a restriction in relation to the giving of information,must state the period for which the suspension or restriction is to have effect.
- (8) A decision notice about the publication of a statement must set out the terms of the statement.

89S Action under s.89Q: statement of policy

- (1) The FCA must prepare and issue a statement of its policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of penalties, suspensions or restrictions under section 89Q,
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section,
 - (c) the period for which suspensions or restrictions under that section are to have effect, and
 - (d) the matters in relation to which suspensions or restrictions under that section are to have effect.
- (2) The FCA's policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be, or what the period for which a suspension or restriction is to have effect should be, must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention in question in relation to the nature of the requirement concerned,
 - (b) the extent to which that contravention was deliberate or reckless, and
 - (c) whether the provider concerned is an individual.
- (3) The FCA may at any time alter or replace a statement issued under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or replaced, the FCA must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, its power under section 89Q in the case of any particular contravention, the FCA must have regard to any statement of policy published under this section and in force at a time when the contravention in question occurred.
- (6) A statement issued under this section must be published by the FCA in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The FCA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement.
- (8) The FCA must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.

89T Statement of policy under s.89S: procedure

- (1) Before issuing a statement under section 89S, the FCA must publish a draft of the proposed statement in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by notice that representations about the proposal may be made to the FCA within a specified time.
- (3) Before issuing the proposed statement, the FCA must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2).
- (4) If the FCA issues the proposed statement it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2); and
 - (b) its response to them.

- (5) If the statement differs from the draft published under subsection (1) in a way which is, in the opinion of the FCA, significant, the FCA must (in addition to complying with subsection (4)) publish details of the difference.
- (6) The FCA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published under subsection (1).
- (7) This section also applies to a proposal to alter or replace a statement.

89U Powers exercisable to advance operational objectives

- (1) The FCA may take action against a provider under this section if it considers that it is desirable to do so in order to advance one or more of its operational objectives.
- (2) If the FCA is entitled to take action under this section against a provider, it may—
 - (a) suspend, for such period as it considers appropriate, the provider's approval, or
 - (b) impose, for such period as it considers appropriate, such limitations or other restrictions in relation to the giving by the provider of information as it considers appropriate.
- (3) A suspension may relate only to the giving of information in specified circumstances.
- (4) A restriction may, in particular, be imposed so as to require the provider to take, or refrain from taking, specified action.
- (5) The FCA may—
 - (a) withdraw a suspension or restriction, or
 - (b) vary a suspension or restriction so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect.
- (6) A person against whom the FCA takes action under this section may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

89V Action under s.89U: procedure

- (1) Action against a provider under section 89U takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice given under subsection (2) so provides, or
 - (b) on such later date as may be specified in the notice.
- (2) If the FCA—
 - (a) proposes to take action against a provider under that section, or
 - (b) takes action against a provider under that section with immediate effect,it must give the provider written notice.
- (3) The notice must—
 - (a) give details of the action,
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for taking the action and for its determination as to when the action takes effect,
 - (c) inform the provider that the provider may make representations to the FCA within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not the matter has been referred to the Tribunal),
 - (d) inform the provider of when the action takes effect,

- (e) inform the provider of the right to refer the matter to the Tribunal, and
 - (f) give an indication of the procedure on such a reference.
- (4) The FCA may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (5) If the FCA decides—
- (a) to take the action in the way proposed, or
 - (b) if the action has taken effect, not to rescind it,
- the FCA must give the provider written notice.
- (6) If the FCA decides—
- (a) not to take the action in the way proposed,
 - (b) to take action under section 89U that differs from the action originally proposed, or
 - (c) to rescind action which has taken effect,
- the FCA must give the provider written notice.
- (7) A notice under subsection (5) must—
- (a) inform the provider of the right to refer the matter to the Tribunal, and
 - (b) give an indication of the procedure on such a reference.
- (8) A notice under subsection (6)(b) must comply with subsection (3).]

[^{F832}89W Storage of regulated information

- (1) The FCA must ensure that there is at least one mechanism for the central storage of regulated information ^{F833}

[The mechanism must comply with minimum quality standards of security, certainty

90 [^{F837}Compensation for statements in listing particulars [^{F838}or prospectus]]

- (1) Any person responsible for listing particulars is liable to pay compensation to a person who has—
 - (a) acquired securities to which the particulars apply; and
 - (b) suffered loss in respect of them as a result of—
 - (i) any untrue or misleading statement in the particulars; or
 - (ii) the omission from the particulars of any matter required to be included by section 80 or 81.
- (2) Subsection (1) is subject to exemptions provided by Schedule 10.
- (3) If listing particulars are required to include information about the absence of a particular matter, the omission from the particulars of that information is to be treated as a statement in the listing particulars that there is no such matter.
- (4) Any person who fails to comply with section 81 is liable to pay compensation to any person who has—
 - (a) acquired securities of the kind in question; and
 - (b) suffered loss in respect of them as a result of the failure.
- (5) Subsection (4) is subject to exemptions provided by Schedule 10.
- (6) This section does not affect any liability which may be incurred apart from this section.
- (7) References in this section to the acquisition by a person of securities include references to his contracting to acquire them or any interest in them.
- (8) No person shall, by reason of being a promoter of a company or otherwise, incur any liability for failing to disclose information which he would not be required to disclose in listing particulars in respect of a company's securities—
 - (a) if he were responsible for those particulars; or
 - (b) if he is responsible for them, which he is entitled to omit by virtue of section 82.
- (9) The reference in subsection (8) to a person incurring liability includes a reference to any other person being entitled as against that person to be granted any civil remedy or to rescind or repudiate an agreement.

93 Statement of policy.

- (1) The [^{F788}FCA] must prepare and issue a statement (“its policy statement”) of its policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of penalties under section 91; and
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section.
- (2) The [^{F788}FCA's] policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention in question in relation to the nature of the requirement contravened;
 - (b) the extent to which that contravention was deliberate or reckless; and
 - (c) whether the person on whom the penalty is to be imposed is an individual.
- (3) The [^{F788}FCA] may at any time alter or replace its policy statement.
- (4) If its policy statement is altered or replaced, the [^{F788}FCA] must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, its power under section 91 in the case of any particular contravention, the [^{F788}FCA] must have regard to any policy statement published under this section and in force at the time when the contravention in question occurred.
- (6) The [^{F788}FCA] must publish a statement issued under this section in the way appearing to the [^{F788}FCA] to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The [^{F788}FCA] may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement.
- (8) The [^{F788}FCA] must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any policy statement which it publishes under this section.

money-market instruments for the purposes of that [F⁹¹⁴regulation] which have a maturity of less than 12 months.

[F⁹¹⁵(3A) “Debt securities” means bonds or other forms of transferable securitised debts, with the exception of—

- (a) transferable securities which are equivalent to shares, and
- (b) transferable securities which, if converted or if the rights conferred by them are exercised, give rise to a right to acquire—
 - (i) shares, or
 - (ii) transferable securities equivalent to shares.]

[F⁹¹⁶(4) “Financial instrument” [F⁹¹⁷means those instruments specified in Part 1 of Schedule 2 to the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001].]

[F⁹¹⁸(5) “Non-equity transferable securities” means all transferable securities that are not equity securities; and for this purpose the following are “equity securities”—

- (a) shares,
- (b) other transferable securities which are equivalent to shares, and
- (c) transferable securities which—
 - (i) are within neither of paragraphs (a) and (b),
 - (ii) give the right to acquire securities within paragraph (a) or (b) if converted or if the rights conferred by them are exercised, and
 - (iii) are issued by the issuer of the underlying shares or by an entity belonging to the group of that issuer.]

(6) “Issuer”—

- (a) [F⁹¹⁹: in relation to an offer of transferable securities to the public or admission of transferable securities to trading on a regulated market for which an approved prospectus is required [F⁹²⁰under the prospectus regulation], means a legal person who issues or proposes to issue the transferable securities in question,]

[F⁹²¹(aa) [in relation to transparency rules, means a F⁹²²... person whose securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market or whose voting shares are admitted to trading on a UK market other than a regulated market, and in the case of depository receipts [F⁹²³admitted to trading on a regulated market, the issuer is the issuer of the securities represented by the depository receipt, whether or not those securities are admitted to trading on a regulated market].]

- (b) in relation to anything else which is or may be admitted to the official list, has such meaning as may be prescribed by the Treasury, and
- (c) in any other case, means a person who issues financial instruments.

106 Banking business transfer schemes.

- (1) A scheme is a banking business transfer scheme if it—
 - (a) satisfies one of the conditions set out in subsection (2);
 - (b) is one under which the whole or part of the business to be transferred includes the accepting of deposits; and
 - (c) is not an excluded scheme [^{F964}or a ring-fencing transfer scheme].
- (2) The conditions are that—
 - (a) the whole or part of the business carried on by a UK authorised person who has permission to accept deposits (“^{F946}the transferor concerned”) is to be transferred to another body (“the transferee”);
 - (b) the whole or part of the business carried on in the United Kingdom by an authorised person who is not a UK authorised person but who has permission to accept deposits (“^{F946}the transferor concerned”) is to be transferred to another body which will carry it on in the United Kingdom (“the transferee”).
- (3) A scheme is an excluded scheme for the purposes of this section if—
 - (a) [^{F946}the transferor concerned] is a building society or a credit union; or
 - [^{F965}(b) the scheme is a compromise or arrangement to which Part 27 of the Companies Act 2006 (mergers and divisions of public companies) applies.]
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2)(a) it is immaterial whether or not the business to be transferred is carried on in the United Kingdom.
- (5) “UK authorised person” has the same meaning as in section 105.
- (6) “Building society” has the meaning given in the ^{M1}Building Societies Act 1986.
- (7) “Credit union” means a credit union within the meaning of—
 - (a) the ^{M2}Credit Unions Act 1979;
 - (b) the ^{M3}Credit Unions (Northern Ireland) Order 1985.

112 Effect of order sanctioning business transfer scheme.

- (1) If the court makes an order under section 111(1), it may by that or any subsequent order make such provision (if any) as it thinks fit—
- (a) for the transfer to the transferee of the whole or any part of the undertaking concerned and of any property or liabilities of [^{F946}the transferor concerned];
 - (b) for the allotment or appropriation by the transferee of any shares, debentures, policies or other similar interests in the transferee which under the scheme are to be allotted or appropriated to or for any other person;
 - (c) for the continuation by (or against) the transferee of any pending legal proceedings by (or against) [^{F946}the transferor concerned];
 - (d) with respect to such incidental, consequential and supplementary matters as are, in its opinion, necessary to secure that the scheme is fully and effectively carried out.
- (2) An order under subsection (1)(a) may—
- (a) transfer property or liabilities whether or not [^{F946}the transferor concerned] otherwise has the capacity to effect the transfer in question;
 - (b) make provision in relation to property which was held by [^{F946}the transferor concerned] as trustee;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (c) make provision as to future or contingent rights or liabilities of [^{F946}the transferor concerned], including provision as to the construction of instruments (including wills) under which such rights or liabilities may arise;
 - (d) make provision as to the consequences of the transfer in relation to any [^{F986}occupational pension scheme (within the meaning of section 150(5) of the Finance Act 2004)] operated by or on behalf of [^{F946}the transferor concerned].
- [^{F987}(2A) Subsection (2)(a) is to be taken to include power to make provision in an order—
- (a) for the transfer of property or liabilities which would not otherwise be capable of being transferred or assigned;
 - (b) for a transfer of property or liabilities to take effect as if there were—
 - (i) no such requirement to obtain a person's consent or concurrence, and
 - (ii) no such contravention, liability or interference with any interest or right, as there would otherwise be (in the case of a transfer apart from this section) by reason of any provision falling within subsection (2B).
- (2B) A provision falls within this subsection to the extent that it has effect (whether under an enactment or agreement or otherwise) in relation to the terms on which [^{F946}the transferor concerned] is entitled to the property or subject to the liabilities in question.
- (2C) Nothing in subsection (2A) or (2B) is to be read as limiting the scope of subsection (1).]
- (3) If an order under subsection (1) makes provision for the transfer of property or liabilities—
 - (a) the property is transferred to and vests in, and
 - (b) the liabilities are transferred to and become liabilities of, the transferee as a result of the order.
 - (4) But if any property or liability included in the order is governed by the law of any country or territory outside the United Kingdom, the order may require [^{F946}the transferor concerned], if the transferee so requires, to take all necessary steps for securing that the transfer to the transferee of the property or liability is fully effective under the law of that country or territory.
 - (5) Property transferred as the result of an order under subsection (1) may, if the court so directs, vest in the transferee free from any charge which is (as a result of the scheme) to cease to have effect.
 - (6) An order under subsection (1) which makes provision for the transfer of property is to be treated as an instrument of transfer for the purposes of [^{F988}section 770(1) of the Companies Act 2006] and any other enactment requiring the delivery of an instrument of transfer for the registration of property.
 - (7) ^{F989}
 - (8) If the court makes an order under section 111(1) in relation to an insurance business transfer scheme, it may by that or any subsequent order make such provision (if any) as it thinks fit—
 - (a) for dealing with the interests of any person who, within such time and in such manner as the court may direct, objects to the scheme;
 - (b) for the dissolution, without winding up, of [^{F946}the transferor concerned];

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (c) for the reduction, on such terms and subject to such conditions (if any) as it thinks fit, of the benefits payable under—
- (i) any description of policy, or
 - (ii) policies generally,
- entered into by [^{F946}the transferor concerned] and transferred as a result of the scheme.

^{F990}(9)

- (10) The transferee must, if an insurance or banking business transfer scheme [^{F991}or ring-fencing transfer scheme] is sanctioned by the court, deposit two office copies of the order made under subsection (1) with the [^{F992}appropriate regulator] within 10 days of the making of the order.
- (11) But the [^{F993}appropriate regulator] may extend that period.
- (12) “Property” includes property, rights and powers of any description.
- (13) “Liabilities” includes duties.
- (14) “Shares” and “debentures” have the same meaning as in [^{F994}the Companies Acts (see sections 540 and 738 of the Companies Act 2006).]
- (15) “Charge” includes a mortgage (or, in Scotland, a security over property).

[^{F1008}Powers to require information and supplemental provisions

Textual Amendments

F1008Ss. 122A-122I and cross-headings inserted (3.7.2016) by The Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 \(Market Abuse\) Regulations 2016 \(S.I. 2016/680\), regs. 1, 9(4)

122A. Power to require information from issuers

- (1) The FCA may require an issuer, a person discharging managerial responsibilities or a person closely associated with a person discharging managerial responsibilities to provide—
 - (a) any information the FCA reasonably requires for the purpose of protecting—
 - (i) the interests of users of financial markets and exchanges in the United Kingdom; or
 - (ii) the orderly operation of financial markets and exchanges in the United Kingdom; or
 - (b) any information or explanation the FCA reasonably requires to verify whether Article 17 (public disclosure of inside information) or Article 19 (managers’ transactions) of the market abuse regulation is being, or has been, complied with.
- (2) Information required under this section must be provided—
 - (a) before the end of such reasonable period as may be specified by the FCA; and
 - (b) at such place as may be specified by the FCA.
- (3) The FCA may require any information provided under this section to be provided in such form as it may reasonably require.
- (4) The FCA may require any information provided, whether in a document or otherwise, to be verified in such manner as it may reasonably require.
- (5) In this section—

“person closely associated” has the meaning given in Article 3.1(26) of the market abuse regulation (see section 131AC (meaning of “persons closely associated” in the market abuse regulation)); and “person discharging managerial responsibilities” has the meaning given in Article 3.1(25) of the market abuse regulation.

- (6) For the meaning of “issuer” in this Part, see section 131AB.

122B. General power to require information

- (1) The FCA may, by notice in writing, require a person—
 - (a) to provide specified information or information of a specified description; or
 - (b) to produce specified documents or documents of a specified description.

- (2) In subsection (1)(b) “relevant person”, in relation to a person who is required to produce a document, means a person who—
- (a) has been, is, or is proposed to be, a director or controller of that person;
 - (b) has been or is an auditor of that person;
 - (c) has been or is an actuary, accountant or lawyer appointed or instructed by that person; or
 - (d) has been or is an employee of that person.
- (3) If a person who is required under section 122B to produce a document fails to do so, the FCA may require the person to state, to the best of the person’s knowledge and belief, where the document is.
- (4) A lawyer may be required under section 122B to provide the name and address of the lawyer’s client.
- (5) A person (“P”) may not be required under section 122A or 122B to disclose information or produce a document in respect of which P owes an obligation of confidence by virtue of carrying on the business of banking unless condition A, B or C is met.
- (6) Condition A is met if the FCA suspects that P or a member of P’s group—
- (a) has contravened Article 14 (prohibition of insider dealing and of unlawful disclosure of inside information) or Article 15 (prohibition of market manipulation) of the market abuse regulation; or
 - (b) has contravened, or been knowingly concerned in the contravention of—
 - (i) a provision of the market abuse regulation other than Article 14 or 15 of that regulation; or
 - (ii) a provision of a supplementary EU regulation.
- (7) Condition B is met if the FCA suspects that the person to whom the obligation of confidence is owed or a member of that person’s group—
- (a) has contravened Article 14 or Article 15 of the market abuse regulation; or
 - (b) has contravened, or been knowingly concerned in the contravention of—
 - (i) a provision of the market abuse regulation other than Article 14 or 15 of that regulation; or
 - (ii) a provision of a supplementary EU regulation.
- (8) Condition C is met if the person to whom the obligation of confidence is owed consents to the disclosure or production.
- (9) If a person claims a lien on a document, its production under section 122B does not affect the lien.

122D. Entry of premises under warrant

- (1) A justice of the peace may issue a warrant under this section if satisfied on information on oath given by or on behalf of the FCA that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the conditions in subsection (2) are met.
- (2) The conditions are—
- (a) that a person on whom a requirement has been imposed under section 122B or 122C has failed (wholly or in part) to comply with it; and

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (b) that on the premises specified in the warrant—
 - (i) there are documents which have been required; or
 - (ii) there is information which has been required.
- (3) A warrant under this section shall authorise a constable—
 - (a) to enter the premises specified in the warrant;
 - (b) to search the premises and take possession of any documents or information appearing to be documents or information of a kind in respect of which a warrant under this section was issued (“the relevant kind”) or to take, in relation to any such documents or information, any other steps which may appear to be necessary for preserving them or preventing interference with them;
 - (c) to take copies of, or extracts from, any documents or information appearing to be of the relevant kind;
 - (d) to require any person on the premises to provide an explanation of any document or information appearing to be of the relevant kind or to state where it may be found; and
 - (e) to use such force as may be reasonably necessary.
- (4) A warrant under this section may be executed by any constable.
- (5) The warrant may authorise persons to accompany any constable who is executing it.
- (6) The powers in subsection (3) may be exercised by a person authorised by the warrant to accompany a constable; but that person may exercise those powers only in the company of, and under the supervision of, a constable.
- (7) In England and Wales, sections 15(5) to (8) and 16(3) to (12) of the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 (execution of search warrants and safeguards) apply to warrants issued under this section.
- (8) In Northern Ireland, Articles 17(5) to (8) and 18(3) to (12) of the Police and Criminal Evidence (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 (S.I. 1989/1341 (N.I. 12)) apply to warrants issued under this section.
- (9) In the application of this section to Scotland—
 - (a) for the reference to a justice of the peace substitute a reference to a justice of the peace or a sheriff; and
 - (b) for the references to information on oath substitute references to evidence on oath.
- (10) The FCA may give information under subsection (1) or under section 176(1) at the request of an [^{F1011}overseas] regulator where the regulator makes the request in the exercise of its [^{F1012}relevant functions].

^{F1067}129 Power of court to impose administrative sanctions in cases of market abuse

- (1) The FCA may, on an application to the court under ^{F1068}Part 25 which relates to the market abuse regulation], request the court to consider whether it is appropriate to impose one or more of the following on the person to whom the application relates—
 - (a) a penalty;
 - (b) if the person concerned is an individual, a temporary prohibition or a permanent prohibition; or
 - (c) a suspension or restriction.
- (2) The court may, if it considers it appropriate, make an order which does one or more of the following—
 - (a) requires the person concerned to pay to the FCA a penalty of such amount as the court considers appropriate;
 - (b) if the person concerned is an individual, imposes a temporary prohibition or a permanent prohibition on that individual; or
 - (c) imposes a suspension or restriction on the person concerned.
- (3) But the court may impose a permanent prohibition only where it is satisfied the person concerned has contravened Article 14 (prohibition of insider dealing and of unlawful disclosure of inside information) or Article 15 (prohibition of market manipulation) of the market abuse regulation.
- (4) Section 123A(4) to (6) apply to a prohibition imposed by an order made under subsection (2) as they do to a prohibition under section 123A, but with—
 - (a) references to a prohibition under section 123A having effect as references to a prohibition under this section; and
 - (b) references to the FCA having effect as references to the court which makes the order under this section.
- (5) Section 123B(4) to (6) and (8) apply to a suspension or restriction imposed by an order under subsection (2) as they do to a suspension or restriction imposed under section 123B.
- (6) The court may—
 - (a) vary or revoke a prohibition imposed under this section;
 - (b) withdraw a suspension or restriction imposed under this section; or
 - (c) vary a suspension or a restriction imposed under this section so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect.

- (1) The [F1095FCA] must prepare and issue a statement of its policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of penalties under section 131G; and
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section.
- (2) The [F1095FCA's] policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention;
 - (b) the extent to which the contravention was deliberate or reckless; and
 - (c) whether the person on whom the penalty is to be imposed is an individual.
- (3) The [F1095FCA] may at any time alter or replace a statement issued under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or replaced, the [F1095FCA] must issue the altered or replaced statement.
- (5) The [F1095FCA] must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.
- (6) A statement issued under this section must be published by the [F1095FCA] in the way appearing to the [F1095FCA] to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The [F1095FCA] may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement.
- (8) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, a power under section 131G in the case of any particular contravention, the [F1095FCA] must have regard to any statement

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Introductory

131M Overview

This Part—

- (a) requires the Treasury to publish a statement of policy concerning cash deposit and withdrawal services,
- (b) enables the Treasury to designate persons involved in the provision of such services, and
- (c) gives the FCA functions in relation to designated persons.

131N Cash access services and coordination arrangements

- (1) This section defines “cash”, “cash access service”, “free cash access service” and “cash access coordination arrangements” for the purposes of this Part.
- (2) “Cash” means—
 - (a) banknotes issued by the Bank of England, or an authorised bank in its capacity as an issuer of banknotes in Scotland or Northern Ireland (see Part 6 of the Banking Act 2009), or
 - (b) coins made by the Mint, within the meaning of the Coinage Act 1971 (see section 11 of that Act).
- (3) A “cash access service” is—
 - (a) a service which enables cash to be placed on a relevant current account (a “cash deposit service”), or
 - (b) a service which enables cash to be withdrawn from a relevant current account (a “cash withdrawal service”).
- (4) A “free cash access service” is a cash access service that is—
 - (a) a free of charge service which enables cash to be placed on a relevant personal current account, or
 - (b) a free of charge service which enables cash to be withdrawn from a relevant personal current account.
- (5) “Cash access coordination arrangements” are arrangements—
 - (a) which are designed to coordinate the provision of cash access services by two or more providers of such services, but
 - (b) which do not directly provide cash access services to any person.
- (6) In relation to cash access coordination arrangements—
 - (a) a reference to the “operator” of such arrangements is to any person with responsibility under the arrangements for managing or operating them;
 - (b) a reference to the operation of such arrangements includes their management.
- (7) In this section, “relevant current account” has the meaning given by section 131O.

131O Current accounts and relevant current account providers

- (1) This section defines “current account”, “relevant current account”, “relevant personal current account” and “relevant current account provider” for the purposes of this Part.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (2) “Current account” means an account by means of which one or more named persons are able to—
 - (a) place cash,
 - (b) withdraw cash, and
 - (c) execute and receive payment transactions to and from third parties, including the execution of credit transfers.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), “payment transaction” means an act initiated by the payer or payee, or on behalf of the payer, of placing, transferring or withdrawing funds, irrespective of any underlying obligations between the payer and payee.
- (4) A “relevant personal current account” means a relevant current account held by one or more individuals for purposes outside any business, trade, craft or profession of that individual or those individuals.
- (5) “Relevant current account provider” means a person—
 - (a) who has a Part 4A permission to accept deposits, and
 - (b) who provides current accounts in reliance on that permission (“relevant current accounts”).
- (6) But the following are not relevant current account providers—
 - (a) credit unions, within the meaning given by section 31(1) of the Credit Unions Act 1979 or Article 2(2) of the Credit Unions (Northern Ireland) Order 1985 (S.I. 1985/1205)(N.I.12);
 - (b) a society that is registered within the meaning of the Friendly Societies Act 1974 (see section 111(1) of that Act) or incorporated under the Friendly Societies Act 1992.
- (7) The Treasury may by regulations—
 - (a) amend a definition in this section;
 - (b) amend any other provision of this Part in consequence of provision made under paragraph (a).

Cash access policy statement

131P Cash access policy statement

- (1) The Treasury must prepare a cash access policy statement.
- (2) A “cash access policy statement” is a statement of the policies of His Majesty’s Government concerning cash access services in the United Kingdom, or a part of the United Kingdom.
- (3) The reference to cash access services in subsection (2) includes free cash access services.
- (4) Policies may be stated in relation to, among other things—
 - (a) cash deposit services and cash withdrawal services;
 - (b) services provided in relation to current accounts of different descriptions;
 - (c) services provided in predominantly urban areas and services provided in predominantly rural areas.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (5) In preparing a cash access policy statement, the Treasury must—
 - (a) consult the FCA, and
 - (b) have regard to any report provided under section 131Q.
- (6) The Treasury must publish a cash access policy statement in such manner as they consider appropriate.
- (7) The Treasury—
 - (a) must keep the cash access policy statement under review;
 - (b) may prepare a revised statement (and subsections (5) and (6) apply in relation to any revised statement).

131Q Provision of reports to assist the Treasury

- (1) The FCA must, on a request from the Treasury, prepare and send to the Treasury a report on a matter specified in the request.
- (2) The Treasury may only make a request under this section for a report that they reasonably require in connection with—
 - (a) the preparation of a cash access policy statement (see section 131P), or
 - (b) a decision whether or not to designate a person for the purposes of this Part (see section 131R).
- (3) A request for a report under this section—
 - (a) must be made in writing, and
 - (b) may require the FCA to send the report to the Treasury within such reasonable period as may be specified in the request (or such other period as may be agreed).
- (4) Nothing in section 348, or in regulations made under section 349, is to be taken as preventing or restricting the ability of the FCA to disclose information to the Treasury for the purposes of this section.
- (5) Subsection (4) does not apply in relation to information provided to the FCA by a regulatory authority outside the United Kingdom.

Designation

131R Designation

- (1) The Treasury may designate a person for the purposes of this Part if the person is—
 - (a) a relevant current account provider, or
 - (b) an operator of cash access coordination arrangements, and at least one of the participants in the arrangements is a relevant current account provider designated under this section.
- (2) A person is designated by giving the person (the “designated person”) a notice in accordance with this Part (a “designation notice”).
- (3) A designation notice must specify whether the person is designated in relation to—
 - (a) the United Kingdom,
 - (b) Great Britain only, or

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

(See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (c) Northern Ireland only.
- (4) A designation notice given to the operator of cash access coordination arrangements must specify the arrangements in as much detail as is reasonably practicable.
- (5) Before giving a designation notice to a person the Treasury must—
 - (a) consult the FCA,
 - (b) notify the person, and
 - (c) consider any representations made.
- (6) A designated person must—
 - (a) comply with rules made by the FCA under section 131V;
 - (b) comply with directions given by the FCA to the designated person under section 131W.

131S Designation criteria

- (1) The Treasury may designate a person for the purposes of this Part, in relation to the United Kingdom, Great Britain only, or Northern Ireland only (as the case may be), only if satisfied that doing so is likely to further the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1).
- (2) In considering whether to designate a relevant current account provider, the Treasury must have regard to—
 - (a) the distribution of cash access services operated by the provider in the United Kingdom, Great Britain or Northern Ireland (as the case may be);
 - (b) the distribution in the United Kingdom, Great Britain or Northern Ireland (as the case may be) of persons holding current accounts provided by the provider;
 - (c) the provider’s share of the current account market in the United Kingdom, Great Britain or Northern Ireland (as the case may be);
 - (d) the total value of the deposits held in current accounts provided by the provider in the United Kingdom, Great Britain or Northern Ireland (as the case may be).
- (3) If a relevant current account provider is part of a group which includes one or more other relevant current account providers, references in subsection (2) to the provider are to be read as references to—
 - (a) the provider, and
 - (b) each of those other relevant current account providers.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), section 421 (meaning of “group”) applies with the omission of subsection (1)(g) of that section.

131T Cancellation or variation of a designation notice

- (1) If a designation notice has been given to a person the Treasury may, by further notice, cancel the designation notice.
- (2) If a designation notice has been given to a person (including a designation notice as varied by a notice under this subsection), the Treasury may by further notice, vary the earlier notice.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (3) If a further notice under subsection (2) would designate a person in relation to a part of the United Kingdom in relation to which the person was not designated by the earlier notice, sections 131R(3) and (5) and 131S apply in relation to the further notice.

Supervision of designated persons

131U Purpose for which FCA must exercise functions under this Part

- (1) The FCA must exercise its functions under this Part for the purpose of seeking to ensure reasonable provision of cash access services in the United Kingdom, or a part of the United Kingdom.
- (2) In this section references to cash access services include references to free cash access services.
- (3) “Reasonable provision” of cash access services is provision of such nature and extent as the FCA may determine, having regard to—
 - (a) the cash access policy statement currently in effect (see section 131P), and
 - (b) such other matters as it considers appropriate.
- (4) In making a determination for the purposes of subsection (3) the FCA must, in particular, have regard to any local deficiencies in provision of cash access services—
 - (a) which the FCA is aware of, and
 - (b) the impacts of which the FCA considers to be significant.
- (5) A local deficiency in provision of cash access services is a circumstance which limits the ability of persons in any locality in a part of the United Kingdom to—
 - (a) withdraw cash from a relevant current account, or
 - (b) place cash on a relevant current account.
- (6) In determining whether there are local deficiencies in the provision of cash access services, and the significance of the impacts of such deficiencies, the FCA must have regard to—
 - (a) the cash access policy statement currently in effect, and
 - (b) such other matters as it considers appropriate.
- (7) Those other matters may include (but are not limited to)—
 - (a) the number of persons likely to be affected by the deficiency;
 - (b) the characteristics of the persons likely to be affected by the deficiency;
 - (c) the likely impact on the persons likely to be affected.

131V FCA rules

- (1) The FCA may make such rules applying to designated persons as appear to the FCA to be necessary or expedient for the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1).
- (2) Rules under this section must not require a designated person to do (or refrain from doing) any thing in relation to a part of the United Kingdom in relation to which the person is not designated.
- (3) Section 137T (general supplementary powers for rules made by a regulator) applies in relation to rules made by the FCA under this section as if, in paragraph (a),

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes the reference to descriptions of authorised persons, activity or investment were to descriptions of designated persons and activities carried on by such persons.

- (4) Section 138A (modification or waiver of rules) applies in relation to rules made by the FCA under this section as if subsection (4)(b) were omitted.
- (5) Section 138I (consultation by FCA before making rules) applies to rules under this section as if, in subsection (2)(d), the reference to the FCA's duties under section 1B(1) and (5)(a) were to the purpose for which the FCA must exercise its functions under this Part.

131W Power to direct designated persons

- (1) The FCA may give a direction under this section to a designated person if it considers that it is desirable to give the direction for the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1).
- (2) A direction under this section must not require a designated person to do (or refrain from doing) any thing in relation to a part of the United Kingdom in relation to which the person is not designated.
- (3) A direction under this section may require the person to—
 - (a) take specified action;
 - (b) refrain from taking specified action;
 - (c) review, or take remedial action in respect of, past conduct.
- (4) A requirement imposed by a direction under this section may be expressed to expire at the end of a specified period, but the imposition of a requirement that expires at the end of a specified period does not affect the power to give a further direction imposing a new requirement.
- (5) A direction under this section—
 - (a) may be revoked by the FCA by written notice to the person to whom it is given, and
 - (b) ceases to be in force if the person to whom it is given ceases to be a designated person.

131X Procedure for directions

- (1) If the FCA proposes to give a direction under section 131W, or gives such a direction with immediate effect, it must give written notice to the designated person to whom the direction is given (or to be given).
- (2) A direction under section 131W takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice under subsection (1) states that is the case,
 - (b) on such other date as may be specified in the notice, or
 - (c) if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (3) A direction under section 131W may be expressed to take effect immediately (or on a specified date) only if the FCA reasonably considers that it is necessary for the direction to take effect immediately (or on that date).
- (4) The notice under subsection (1) must—
 - (a) give details of the direction;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (b) state the FCA’s reasons for the direction and for its determination as to when the direction takes effect;
 - (c) inform the designated person that the person may make representations to the FCA within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not the person has referred the matter to the Tribunal);
 - (d) inform the designated person of the person’s right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (5) The FCA may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (6) The FCA must give the designated person written notice if, having considered any representations made by the person, it decides—
- (a) to give the direction proposed;
 - (b) if the direction has been given, not to revoke the direction.
- (7) The FCA must give the designated person written notice if, having considered any representations made by the person, it decides—
- (a) not to give the direction proposed;
 - (b) to give a different direction;
 - (c) to revoke a direction.
- (8) A notice given under subsection (6) must inform the notified person of the person’s right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (9) A notice under subsection (7)(b) must comply with subsection (4).
- (10) If a notice informs the designated person of the person’s right to refer a matter to the Tribunal, it must give an indication of the procedure on such a reference.
- (11) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), whether a matter is open to review is to be determined in accordance with section 391(8).

131Y Information gathering and investigations

- (1) For the purposes of this Part, Part 11 (information gathering and investigations) applies in accordance with this section.
- (2) Sections 165A to 165C, 169 and 169A do not apply.
- (3) Any reference to an authorised person includes a person designated for the purposes of this Part (whether or not the person is an authorised person).
- (4) In addition—
 - (a) references to an authorised person in sections 165 and 176(3A)(a) include a person mentioned in subsection (5) (whether or not the person is an authorised person);
 - (b) sections 175 to 177 apply in relation to section 165 as modified in accordance with paragraph (a).
- (5) The persons are—
 - (a) a relevant current account provider who is not a designated person for the purposes of this Part;
 - (b) an operator of cash access coordination arrangements who is not a designated person for the purposes of this Part;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (c) the operator of, or an infrastructure provider in relation to, a payment system, who is not a designated person for the purposes of this Part;
 - (d) a person (other than a person mentioned in paragraph (a), (b) or (c)) who provides cash access services and is not a designated person for the purposes of this Part;
 - (e) a person who provides a relevant service to a person mentioned in paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) and is not a designated person for the purposes of this Part.
- (6) In subsection (5)(c), “payment system”, and “operator” and “infrastructure provider” in relation to a payment system, have the same meanings as in Part 5 of the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 (see section 110 of that Act).
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (5)(e), a “relevant service” is a service provided in connection with the provision of cash access services.
- (8) In relation to a person who is not an authorised person but is treated as such for the purposes of this Part (by virtue of subsection (3) or (4)), any reference to “either regulator” is to the FCA only.

131Z Disciplinary measures

For the purposes of enforcing a requirement imposed by or under this Part, Part 14 (disciplinary measures) applies as if—

- (a) any reference to an authorised person includes a person designated for the purposes of this Part (whether or not that person is an authorised person), and
- (b) section 206A (suspending permission to carry on regulated activities etc) were omitted.

131Z1 Costs of supervision

Rules made under paragraph 23 of Schedule 1ZA, in connection with the carrying out of any of the FCA’s functions under this Part, must not provide for the payment of fees to the FCA by any person other than a designated person who is a relevant current account provider.

131Z2 Exclusion and modification of other FCA duties

- (1) Where the FCA is discharging a function under this Part, section 1B (FCA’s general duties) applies as if—
- (a) in subsection (1)(b), the reference to one or more of the FCA’s operational objectives were to the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1);
 - (b) subsections (4) and (4A) (promoting effective competition in the interests of consumers and advancing competitiveness and growth) do not apply.
- (2) In discharging its functions under this Part, the regulatory principles in section 3B(1) have effect as if, in paragraph (g), the reference to the FCA’s objectives included the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1).
- (3) Section 395 applies in relation to a decision of the FCA made in connection with a function under this Part as if, in subsection (3)(a), the reference to the FCA’s operational objectives included the purpose mentioned in section 131U(1).]

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Textual Amendments

F1122 S. 132 omitted (6.4.2010) by virtue of The Transfer of Tribunal Functions Order 2010 \(S.I. 2010/22\), arts. 1(2)(e), 5(1), Sch. 2 para. 44

^{F1123}133 Proceedings before Tribunal: general provision

- (1) This section applies in the case of a reference or appeal to the Tribunal (whether made under this or any other Act) in respect of—
- (a) a decision of ^{F1124}the FCA or the PRA];
 - (b) a decision of the Bank of England; or
 - (c) a decision of a person relating to the assessment of any compensation or consideration under the ^{M5}Banking (Special Provisions) Act 2008 ^{F1125}, the Banking Act 2009 or the Financial Services and Markets Act 2023].

^{F1126}(1A) For the purposes of this section, in the case of a reference to the Tribunal under section 290(4A) (which relates to an application by a central securities depository under section 288A), the failure by the Bank of England to make a decision is treated as a decision to refuse the application (and accordingly is treated as falling within subsection (1)(b).]

- (2) In this section—
- “relevant decision” means a decision mentioned in subsection (1)(a), (b) or (c); and
- “the decision-maker”, in relation to a relevant decision, means the person who made the relevant decision.
- (3) Tribunal Procedure Rules may make provision for the suspension of a relevant decision which has taken effect, pending determination of the reference or appeal.
- (4) The Tribunal may consider any evidence relating to the subject-matter of the reference or appeal, whether or not it was available to the decision-maker at the material time.

^{F1127}(5) In the case of a disciplinary reference or a reference under section 393(11), the Tribunal—

- (a) must determine what (if any) is the appropriate action for the decision-maker to take in relation to the matter; and
- (b) on determining the reference, must remit the matter to the decision-maker with such directions (if any) as the Tribunal considers appropriate for giving effect to its determination.

^{F1128}(5A) In the case of a reference under paragraph 7 of Schedule 6A, the Tribunal—

- (a) must determine what (if any) is the appropriate action that must be taken in relation to the matter, and
- (b) on determining the reference, must give such directions (if any) to such persons as the Tribunal considers appropriate for giving effect to its determination.]

(6) In any other case, the Tribunal must determine the reference or appeal by either—

- (a) dismissing it; or
- (b) remitting the matter to the decision-maker with a direction to reconsider and reach a decision in accordance with the findings of the Tribunal.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (6A) The findings mentioned in subsection (6)(b) are limited to findings as to—
- (a) issues of fact or law;
 - (b) the matters to be, or not to be, taken into account in making the decision; and
 - (c) the procedural or other steps to be taken in connection with the making of the decision.]

- (7) The decision-maker must act in accordance with the determination of, and any direction given by, the Tribunal.

[^{F1129}(7A) A reference is a “disciplinary reference” for the purposes of this section if it is in respect of any of the following decisions—

- (a) a decision to impose a penalty under section 63A;
- (b) a decision to take action under section 66;
- (c) a decision to take action under section 87M;
- (d) a decision to take action under section 88A;
- (e) a decision to take action under section 89K;
- (f) a decision to take action under section 89Q;
- (g) a decision to take action under section 91;
- [^{F1130}(h) a decision to impose a penalty or publish a statement of censure under section 123, impose a prohibition under section 123A or impose a suspension or restriction under section 123B;]
- (i) a decision to take action under section 131G;
- [a decision to take action under section 142S;]
- ^{F1131}(ia) [a decision to take action under section 143W;]
- ^{F1132}(ib) (j) a decision to take action under section 192K;
- (k) a decision to publish a statement under section 205, impose a penalty under section 206 or suspend a permission or impose a restriction under section 206A;
- (l) a decision to take action under section 249 [^{F1133}or 261K];
- [a decision to impose a penalty under section 309U;
- ^{F1134}(la) (lb) a decision to take action under section 309Z2;]
- (m) a decision to publish a statement under section 312E [^{F1135}or 312FA] or impose a penalty under section 312F [^{F1135}or 312FA];
- (n) a decision to take action under section 345 or 345A.
- [a decision to take action under section 83ZR of the Banking Act 2009.]]
- ^{F1136}(o)

- (8) An order of the Tribunal may be enforced—
- (a) [^{F1137}in England and Wales, as if it were an order of the county court or, in Northern Ireland,] as if it were an order of a county court; or
 - (b) in Scotland, as if it were an order of the Court of Session.]

[^{F1138}133] Proceedings before Tribunal: decision and supervisory notices, etc.

(1) In determining [^{F1139}in accordance with section 133(5)] a reference made (whether under this or any other Act) as a result of a decision notice [^{F1140}given by a body, the Tribunal may not direct the body to take action which it would] not, as a result of section 388(2), have had power to take when giving the notice.

^{F1142}(3)

(4) [^{F1143}The action specified in a decision notice must not be taken—]

(a) during the period within which the matter to which the notice relates may be referred to the Tribunal (whether under this or any other Act); and

(b) if the matter is so referred, until the reference, and any appeal against the Tribunal's determination, has been finally disposed of.

(5) The Tribunal may, on determining a reference (whether made under this or any other Act) in respect of a decision of [^{F1144}the FCA or the PRA], make recommendations as to [^{F1145}its] regulating provisions or its procedures.

Legal assistance before the Tribunal

134 Legal assistance scheme.

- (1) The Lord Chancellor may by regulations establish a scheme governing the provision of legal assistance in connection with proceedings before the Tribunal.
- (2) If the Lord Chancellor establishes a scheme under subsection (1), it must provide that a person is eligible for assistance only if—
 - (a) he falls within subsection (3); and
 - (b) he fulfils such other criteria (if any) as may be prescribed as a result of section 135(1)(d).
- (3) A person falls within this subsection if he is an individual who has referred a matter to the Tribunal under section 127(4).
- (4) In this Part of this Act “the legal assistance scheme” means any scheme in force under subsection (1).

135 Provisions of the legal assistance scheme.

- (1) The legal assistance scheme may, in particular, make provision as to—
 - (a) the kinds of legal assistance that may be provided;
 - (b) the persons by whom legal assistance may be provided;
 - (c) the manner in which applications for legal assistance are to be made;
 - (d) the criteria on which eligibility for legal assistance is to be determined;
 - (e) the persons or bodies by whom applications are to be determined;
 - (f) appeals against refusals of applications;
 - (g) the revocation or variation of decisions;
 - (h) its administration and the enforcement of its provisions.
- (2) Legal assistance under the legal assistance scheme may be provided subject to conditions or restrictions, including conditions as to the making of contributions by the person to whom it is provided.

136 Funding of the legal assistance scheme.

- (1) The [^{F1148}FCA] must pay to the Lord Chancellor such sums at such times as he may, from time to time, determine in respect of the anticipated or actual cost of legal assistance provided in connection with proceedings before the Tribunal under the legal assistance scheme.
- (2) In order to enable it to pay any sum which it is obliged to pay under subsection (1), the [^{F1148}FCA] must make rules requiring the payment to it by authorised persons or any class of authorised person of specified amounts or amounts calculated in a specified way.

- (3) Sums received by the Lord Chancellor under subsection (1) must be paid into the Consolidated Fund.
- (4) The Lord Chancellor must, out of money provided by Parliament fund the cost of legal assistance provided in connection with proceedings before the Tribunal under the legal assistance scheme.
- (5) Subsection (6) applies if, as respects a period determined by the Lord Chancellor, the amount paid to him under subsection (1) as respects that period exceeds the amount he has expended in that period under subsection (4).
- (6) The Lord Chancellor must—
 - (a) repay, out of money provided by Parliament, the excess to the [F1149FCA]; or
 - (b) take the excess into account on the next occasion on which he makes a determination under subsection (1).
- (7) The [F1150FCA] must make provision for any sum repaid to it under subsection (6)(a)—
 - (a) to be distributed among—
 - (i) the authorised persons on whom a levy was imposed in the period in question as a result of rules made under subsection (2); or
 - (ii) such of those persons as it may determine;
 - (b) to be applied in order to reduce any amounts which those persons, or such of them as it may determine, are or will be liable to pay to the [F1150FCA], whether under rules made under subsection (2) or otherwise; or
 - (c) to be partly so distributed and partly so applied.
- (8) If the [F1151FCA] considers that it is not practicable to deal with any part of a sum repaid to it under subsection (6)(a) in accordance with provision made by it as a result of subsection (7), it may, with the consent the Lord Chancellor, apply or dispose of that part of that sum in such manner as it considers appropriate.
- (9) “Specified” means specified in the rules.

CHAPTER 1

RULE-MAKING POWERS

General rule-making powers of the FCA and the PRA

137A The FCA's general rules

- (1) The FCA may make such rules applying to authorised persons—
 - (a) with respect to the carrying on by them of regulated activities, or
 - (b) with respect to the carrying on by them of activities which are not regulated activities,as appear to the FCA to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of advancing one or more of its operational objectives.
- (2) Rules made under this section are referred to in this Act as the FCA's general rules.
- (3) The FCA's general rules may make provision applying to authorised persons even though there is no relationship between the authorised persons to whom the rules will apply and the persons whose interests will be protected by the rules.
- (4) The FCA's general rules may contain requirements which take into account, in the case of an authorised person who is a member of a group, any activity of another member of the group.

The FCA's general rules: Gibraltar

F1157 137AA

- (1) The FCA's general rules may not make provision prohibiting a Gibraltar-based person from carrying on, or holding itself out as carrying on, an activity which it has a Schedule 2A permission to carry on in the United Kingdom.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to rules described in section 137C, 137D or 137FD.
- (3) The Treasury may by regulations impose other limitations on what provision applying to Gibraltar-based persons with a Schedule 2A permission to carry on a regulated activity may be made in the FCA's general rules, but may not impose limitations relating to rules described in section 137C, 137D or 137FD.
- (4) Before making regulations under subsection (3), the Treasury must consult the FCA.]

137B FCA general rules: clients' money, right to rescind etc.

- (1) Rules relating to the handling of money held by an authorised person in specified circumstances (“clients' money”) may—
 - (a) make provision which results in that clients' money being held on trust in accordance with the rules,
 - (b) treat 2 or more accounts as a single account for specified purposes (which may include the distribution of money held in the accounts),
 - (c) authorise the retention by the authorised person of interest accruing on the clients' money, and
 - (d) make provision as to the distribution of such interest which is not to be retained by the authorised person.
- (2) An institution with which an account is kept in pursuance of rules relating to the handling of clients' money does not incur any liability as constructive trustee if the money is wrongfully paid from the account, unless the institution permits the payment—
 - (a) with knowledge that it is wrongful, or
 - (b) having deliberately failed to make enquiries in circumstances in which a reasonable and honest person would have done so.
- (3) Rules may—
 - (a) confer rights on persons to rescind agreements with, or withdraw offers to, authorised persons within a specified period, and
 - (b) make provision, in respect of authorised persons and persons exercising those rights, for the restitution of property and the making or recovery of payments where those rights are exercised.
- (4) “Rules” means general rules of the FCA.
- (5) “Specified” means specified in the rules.

- (b) imposing charges of a specified description or exceeding a specified amount on a person who is the borrower under a regulated credit agreement;
 - (c) entering into a regulated credit agreement that—
 - (i) is capable of remaining in force after the end of a specified period,
 - (ii) when taken with one or more other regulated credit agreements which are treated by the rules as being connected with it, would be capable of remaining in force after the end of a specified period, or
 - (iii) is treated by the rules as being connected with a number of previous regulated credit agreements that exceeds a specified maximum;
 - (d) exercising the rights of the lender under a regulated credit agreement (as a person for the time being entitled to exercise them) in a way that enables the agreement to remain in force after the end of a specified period or enables the imposition on the borrower of charges within paragraph (a)(i) or (ii).
- [The FCA must make rules by virtue of subsection (1)(a)(ii) and (b) in relation to one
- ^{F1158}(1A) or more specified descriptions of regulated credit agreement appearing to the FCA to involve the provision of high-cost short-term credit, with a view to securing an appropriate degree of protection for borrowers against excessive charges.
- (1B) Before the FCA publishes a draft of any rules to be made by virtue of subsection (1) (a)(ii) or (b), it must consult the Treasury.]
- (2) “Charges” means charges payable, by way of interest or otherwise, in connection with the provision of credit under the regulated credit agreement, whether or not the agreement itself makes provision for them and whether or not the person to whom they are payable is a party to the regulated credit agreement or an authorised person.
- (3) “The borrower” includes—
- (a) any person providing a guarantee or indemnity under the regulated credit agreement, and
 - (b) a person to whom the rights and duties of the borrower under the regulated credit agreement or a person falling within paragraph (a) have passed by assignment or operation of law.
- (4) In relation to an agreement entered into or obligation imposed in contravention of the rules, the rules may—
- (a) provide for the agreement or obligation to be unenforceable against any person or specified person;
 - (b) provide for the recovery of any money or other property paid or transferred under the agreement or other obligation by any person or specified person;
 - (c) provide for the payment of compensation for any loss sustained by any person or specified person as a result of paying or transferring any money or other property under the agreement or obligation.
- (5) The provision that may be made as a result of subsection (4) includes provision corresponding to that made by section 30 (enforceability of agreements resulting from unlawful communications).
- (6) A credit agreement is a contract of the kind mentioned in paragraph 23 of Schedule 2, other than one under which the obligation of the borrower to repay is secured on land: and a credit agreement is a “regulated credit agreement” if any of the following is a regulated activity—
- (a) entering into or administering the agreement;

137D FCA general rules: product intervention

- (1) The power of the FCA to make general rules includes power to make such rules (“product intervention rules”) prohibiting authorised persons from doing anything mentioned in subsection (2) as appear to it to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of advancing—
- (a) the consumer protection objective or the competition objective, or
 - (b) if the Treasury by order provide for this paragraph to apply, the integrity objective.
- (2) Those prohibited things are—
- (a) entering into specified agreements with any person or specified person;
 - (b) entering into specified agreements with any person or specified person unless requirements specified in the rules have been satisfied;
 - (c) doing anything that would or might result in the entering into of specified agreements by persons or specified persons, or the holding by them of a beneficial or other kind of economic interest in specified agreements;
 - (d) doing anything within paragraph (c) unless requirements specified in the rules have been satisfied.
- (3) “Specified agreements” means agreements of a description specified in general rules made by the FCA.
- (4) “Specified persons” means persons of a description specified in general rules made by the FCA.
- (5) It is of no relevance—
- (a) whether the entering into of a specified agreement itself constitutes the carrying on of a regulated activity, or
 - (b) whether, in a case within subsection (2)(c) or (d), the specified agreements are with the authorised persons concerned or anyone else.
- (6) The requirements that may be specified under subsection (2)(b) or (d) include in particular—

- (5) In calculating the relevant period no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days.

137F Rules requiring participation in benchmark

- (1) The power of the FCA to make general rules includes power to make rules requiring authorised persons to take specified steps in connection with the setting by a specified person of a specified benchmark.
- (2) The rules may in particular—
 - (a) require authorised persons to whom the rules apply to provide information of a specified kind, or expressions of opinion as to specified matters, to persons determined in accordance with the rules;
 - (b) make provision about the form in which and the time by which any information or expression of opinion is to be provided;
 - (c) make provision by reference to any code or other document published by the person responsible for the setting of the benchmark or by any other person determined in accordance with the rules, as the code or other document has effect from time to time.
- (3) Rules making provision of the kind mentioned in subsection (2)(c) may provide that the code or other document is to be capable of affecting obligations imposed by the rules only if specified requirements are met in relation to it.
- (4) In this section—
 - [^{F1159}“benchmark” means a benchmark within the meaning of section 22^{F1160} ... (6A);]

F1165 Ss. 137FAA-137FAC inserted (11.2.2021 for specified purposes, 14.10.2022 in so far as not already in force) by Pension Schemes Act 2021 (c. 1), ss. 121(2), 131(1)(3)(a); S.I. 2022/1044, reg. 2(c)

F1166 FCA general rules: disclosure of information about the availability of pensions guidance

(1) The FCA must make general rules requiring information about the availability of pensions guidance to be given by the trustees or managers of a relevant pension scheme to members of the scheme, and survivors of members of the scheme, with subsisting rights in respect of any flexible benefits.

F1167 [The FCA must also make general rules requiring the trustees or managers of a relevant (1A) pension scheme to take the steps mentioned in subsections (1B) and (1C) in relation to an application from a member or survivor—

- (a) to transfer any rights accrued under the scheme, or
- (b) to start receiving benefits provided by the scheme.

(1B) As part of the application process, the trustees or managers must ensure that—

- (a) the member or survivor is referred to appropriate pensions guidance, and
- (b) the member or survivor is provided with an explanation of the nature and purpose of such guidance.

(1C) Before proceeding with the application, the trustees or managers must ensure that the member or survivor has either received appropriate pensions guidance or has opted out of receiving such guidance.

(1D) The rules may—

- (a) specify what constitutes appropriate pensions guidance;
- (b) make further provision about how the trustees or managers must comply with the duties in subsections (1B) and (1C) (such as provision about methods of communication and time limits);
- (c) make further provision about how, and to whom, a member or survivor may indicate that they have received or opted out of receiving appropriate pensions guidance for the purposes of subsection (1C);
- (d) specify what the duties of the trustees or managers are in the situation where a member or survivor does not respond to a communication that is made for the purposes of complying with the duty in subsection (1C);
- (e) provide for exceptions to the duties in subsections (1B) and (1C) in specified cases.]

(2) Before the FCA publishes a draft of any rules to be made by virtue of F1168 subsection (1)], it must consult—

- (a) the Secretary of State, and
- (b) the Treasury.

F1169 [Before the FCA publishes a draft of any rules to be made by virtue of subsection (1A), (2A) it must consult—

F1173 137FBA FCA general rules: advice about transferring or otherwise dealing with annuity payments

- (1) The FCA must make general rules requiring specified authorised persons to check that an individual—
 - (a) who has a right to payments under a relevant annuity, and
 - (b) if the Treasury make regulations under subsection (3), who is not an exempt person by virtue of those regulations,has received appropriate advice before transferring or otherwise dealing with the right to those payments.
- (2) The reference in subsection (1) to a right to payments under a relevant annuity does not include a contingent right to such payments.
- (3) The Treasury may by regulations provide that an individual whose financial circumstances meet criteria specified in the regulations is an exempt person for the purposes of subsection (1)(b).
- (4) Regulations made under subsection (3) may (amongst other things) specify criteria based on the proportion of the individual's financial resources that is represented by the payments under the relevant annuity or the value of that annuity.
- (5) The rules made by virtue of subsection (1) may include provision—
 - (a) about what specified authorised persons must do to check that an individual has received appropriate advice for the purposes of those rules;
 - (b) about when the check must be carried out.
- (6) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) “relevant annuity” means an annuity specified (by type, value or otherwise) as a relevant annuity in regulations made by the Treasury;
 - (b) “appropriate advice” means advice specified (by reference to the person giving the advice or otherwise) as appropriate advice in regulations made by the Treasury;
 - (c) “specified authorised person” means an authorised person of a description specified in rules made by virtue of subsection (1).
- (7) If regulations under subsection (3) or (6)(a) make provision about the value of an annuity, the regulations may also make provision about the basis on which the value of an annuity is to be calculated.]

F1174 137FBB FCA general rules: early exit pension charges

- (1) The FCA must make general rules prohibiting authorised persons from—
 - (a) imposing specified early exit charges on members of relevant pension schemes, and
 - (b) including in relevant pension schemes provision for the imposition of specified early exit charges on members of such schemes.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (2) The rules must be made with a view to securing, so far as is reasonably possible, an appropriate degree of protection for members of relevant pension schemes against early exit charges being a deterrent on taking, converting or transferring benefits under the schemes.
- (3) The rules may specify early exit charges by reference to charges of a specified class or description, or by reference to charges which exceed a specified amount.
- (4) The rules made by virtue of subsection (1)(a) must prohibit the imposition of the charges after those rules come into force, whether the relevant pension scheme was established before or after those rules (or this section) came into force.
- (5) In relation to a charge which is imposed, or provision for the imposition of a charge which is included in a pension scheme, in contravention of the rules, the rules may (amongst other things)—
 - (a) provide for the obligation to pay the charge to be unenforceable or unenforceable to a specified extent;
 - (b) provide for the recovery of amounts paid in respect of the charge;
 - (c) provide for the payment of compensation for any losses incurred as a result of paying amounts in respect of the charge.
- (6) Subject to subsection (8) an early exit charge, in relation to a member of a pension scheme, is a charge which—
 - (a) is imposed under the scheme when a member who has reached normal minimum pension age takes the action mentioned in subsection (7), but
 - (b) is only imposed, or only imposed to that extent, if the member takes that action before the member's expected retirement date.
- (7) The action is the member taking benefits under the scheme, converting benefits under the scheme into different benefits or transferring benefits under the scheme to another pension scheme.
- (8) The Treasury may by regulations specify matters that are not to be treated as early exit charges for the purposes of this section.
- (9) For the purposes of this section—

“charge”, in relation to a member of a pension scheme, includes a reduction in the value of the member's benefits under the scheme;

“expected retirement date”, in relation to a member of a pension scheme, means the date determined by, or in accordance with, the scheme as the date on which the member's benefits under the scheme are expected to be taken;

“normal minimum pension age” has the same meaning as in section 279(1) of the Finance Act 2004;

“relevant pension scheme” has the same meaning as in section 137FB;

and a reference to benefits includes all or any part of those benefits.]

FCA general rules: charges for claims management services

F1178 137FD

- (1) The power of the FCA to make general rules includes power to make rules prohibiting authorised persons from—
 - (a) entering into a specified regulated claims management agreement that provides for the payment by a person of charges which, taken with charges payable under an agreement treated by the rules as being connected with the regulated claims management agreement (if any), are specified charges, and
 - (b) imposing specified charges on a person in connection with the provision of a service which is, or which is provided in connection with, a specified regulated claims management activity.
- (2) The FCA must make rules by virtue of subsection (1) in relation to all regulated claims management agreements, and all regulated claims management activities, which concern claims in relation to financial products or services.
- (3) The rules must be made with a view to securing an appropriate degree of protection against excessive charges for the provision of a service which is, or which is provided in connection with, a regulated claims management activity.

137H General rules about remuneration

- (1) This section applies where either regulator exercises its power to make general rules so as to make rules prohibiting persons, or persons of a specified description, from being remunerated in a specified way.
- (2) The rules may—
 - (a) provide that any provision of an agreement that contravenes such a prohibition is void, and
 - (b) provide for the recovery of any payment made, or other property transferred, in pursuance of a provision that is void by virtue of paragraph (a).
- (3) A provision that, at the time the rules are made, is contained in an agreement made before that time may not be rendered void under subsection (2)(a) unless it is subsequently amended so as to contravene a prohibition referred to in that subsection.

137I Remuneration policies: Treasury direction to consider compliance

- (1) This section applies where either regulator exercises its power to make general rules so as to make rules requiring authorised persons, or authorised persons of a description specified in the rules, to act in accordance with a remuneration policy.
- (2) A “remuneration policy” is a policy about the remuneration by an authorised person of—
 - (a) officers,
 - (b) employees, or
 - (c) other persons,
 of a description specified in the rules.
- (3) The Treasury may direct the regulator to consider whether the remuneration policies of authorised persons specified in the direction (or of authorised persons of a description so specified) comply with requirements imposed by rules made by that regulator as to the contents of the policies.
- (4) Before giving a direction under subsection (3), the Treasury must consult the regulator concerned.
- (5) If the regulator considers that a remuneration policy of an authorised person fails to make provision which complies with the requirements mentioned in subsection (3), the regulator must take such steps as it considers appropriate to deal with the failure.
- (6) The steps that the regulator may take include requiring the remuneration policy to be revised.
- (7) “Authorised person”, in relation to the PRA, means PRA-authorised person.

137J Rules about recovery plans: duty to consult

- (1) Before either regulator prepares a draft of any general rules that require [^{F1182}a] relevant person (or [^{F1182}a] relevant person of a specified description) to prepare a recovery plan, the regulator must consult [^{F1183}the Treasury].

[The FCA must also consult the Bank of England.]

Specific rule-making powers

137O Threshold condition code

- (1) Either regulator may make rules supplementing any of the conditions for the time being set out in or specified under Schedule 6 that is expressed to be relevant to the discharge of that regulator's functions.
- (2) Rules made under this section by a regulator are referred to as that regulator's "threshold condition code".
- (3) A threshold condition code may in particular—
 - (a) specify requirements which a person must satisfy in order to be regarded as satisfying a particular condition in relation to any regulated activities;
 - (b) specify matters which are, or may be, or are not, relevant in determining whether a person satisfies a particular condition in relation to any regulated activities.
- (4) Except where a regulator's threshold condition code so provides, it is not to be regarded as limiting the matters that are, or may be, relevant in determining whether a person satisfies a particular condition in relation to any regulated activities.
- (5) A threshold condition code cannot impose obligations that are enforceable against authorised persons otherwise than through the threshold conditions.

137P Control of information rules

- (1) Either regulator may make rules ("control of information rules") about the disclosure and use of information held by an authorised person ("A").
- (2) Control of information rules may—
 - (a) require the withholding of information which A would otherwise be required to disclose to a person ("B") for or with whom A does business in the course of carrying on any regulated or other activity;
 - (b) specify circumstances in which A may withhold information which A would otherwise be required to disclose to B;
 - (c) require A not to use for the benefit of B information—
 - (i) which is held by A, and
 - (ii) which A would otherwise be required to use for the benefit of B;
 - (d) specify circumstances in which A may decide not to use for the benefit of B information within paragraph (c).

137R Financial promotion rules

- (1) The FCA may make rules applying to authorised persons about the communication by them, or their approval of the communication by others, of invitations or inducements—
 - (a) to engage in investment activity, [^{F1214}or] [^{F1215}to engage in claims management activity, or]
(aa)
 - (b) to participate in a collective investment scheme.
 - (2) Rules under this section may, in particular, make provision about the form and content of communications.
 - (3) Subsection (1) applies only to communications which—
 - (a) if made by a person other than an authorised person, without the approval of an authorised person, would contravene section 21(1), and
 - (b) may be made by an authorised person without contravening section 238(1).
 - (4) But subsection (3) does not prevent the FCA from making rules under subsection (1) in relation to a communication that would not contravene section 21(1) if made by a person other than an authorised person, without the approval of an authorised person, if the conditions set out in subsection (5) are satisfied.
 - (5) Those conditions are—
 - (a) that the communication would not contravene subsection (1) of section 21 because it is a communication to which that subsection does not apply as a result of an order under subsection (5) of that section,
 - (b) that the FCA considers that any of the [^{F1216}listed requirements], apply to the communication, and
 - (c) that the FCA considers that the rules are necessary to secure that the communication satisfies such of the [^{F1217}listed requirements] as the FCA considers apply to the communication.
- [In subsection (5) “the listed requirements” means—
- ^{F1218}(5A) (a) requirements under the law of any part of the United Kingdom that appear to the FCA to correspond to requirements of—
 - (i) Articles 24 (general principles and information to clients) and 25 (assessment of suitability and appropriateness and reporting to clients) of the markets in financial instruments directive,
 - (ii) Commission Delegated Directive (EU) 2017/593 of 7 April 2016, so far as adopted under those Articles,
 - (iii) Article 77 of the UCITS directive,
 - (iv) Articles 10 and 11 of the mortgages directive,
 - (v) Article 17 of the insurance distribution directive, or
 - (vi) Article 44a of the recovery and resolution directive (as defined in paragraph (c)), and

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (b) requirements of any [^{F1219}assimilated direct] legislation originally made under Article 24(13) or 25(8) of the markets in financial instruments directive.
 - (c) In paragraph (a)(vi), “recovery and resolution directive” means Directive 2014/59/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 15 May 2014 establishing a framework for the recovery and resolution of credit institutions and investment firms, as it had effect immediately before IP completion day.]
- (6) “Engage in investment activity” [^{F1220}has][^{F1220}and “engage in claims management activity” have] the same meaning as in section 21.
- (7) The Treasury may by order impose limitations on the power to make rules under this section.

137S Financial promotion rules: directions given by FCA

- (1) The FCA may give a direction under this section if—
- (a) an authorised person has made, or proposes to make, a communication or has approved, or proposes to approve, another person's communication, and
 - (b) the FCA considers that there has been, or is likely to be, a contravention of financial promotion rules in respect of the communication or approval.
- (2) A direction under this section may require the authorised person—
- (a) to withdraw the communication or approval;
 - (b) to refrain from making the communication or giving the approval (whether or not it has previously been made or given);
 - (c) to publish details of the direction;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (d) to do anything else specified in the direction in relation to the communication or approval.
- (3) A requirement in a direction under this section to refrain from making or approving a communication includes a requirement to refrain from making or approving another communication where—
 - (a) the other communication is in all material respects the same as, or substantially the same as, the communication to which the direction relates, and
 - (b) in all the circumstances a reasonable person would think that another direction would be given under this section in relation to the other communication.
- (4) The requirements contained in a direction under this section have effect as follows—
 - (a) a requirement to publish details of the direction has effect at such time (if any) as the FCA gives a notice under subsection (8)(a);
 - (b) any other requirement takes effect immediately.
- (5) If the FCA gives a direction under this section to an authorised person—
 - (a) it must give written notice to the authorised person, and
 - (b) if the direction relates to the approval by the authorised person of another person's communication, it must also give written notice to that other person.
- (6) The notice must—
 - (a) give details of the direction,
 - (b) inform the person to whom the notice is given that the direction takes effect immediately,
 - (c) state the FCA's reasons for giving the direction, and
 - (d) inform the person to whom the notice is given that the person may make representations to the FCA within such period as may be specified in the notice (which may be extended by the FCA).
- (7) The FCA may amend the direction if, having considered any representations made by a person to whom notice is given under subsection (5), it considers it appropriate to do so.
- (8) If, having considered any such representations, the FCA decides not to revoke the direction—
 - (a) the FCA must give separate written notice to the persons mentioned in subsection (5)(a) or (b), and
 - (b) any such person may refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (9) A notice under subsection (8)(a) must—
 - (a) give details of the direction and of any amendment of it,
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for deciding not to revoke the direction and, if relevant, for amending it,
 - (c) inform the person to whom the notice is given of the person's right to refer the matter to the Tribunal, and
 - (d) give an indication of the procedure on such a reference.
- (10) If, having considered any representations made by a person to whom notice is given under subsection (5), the FCA decides to revoke the direction, it must give separate written notice to those persons.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Rules to recover expenses relating to the [F1222]Money and Pensions Service]

[F1221]137SA

- (1) The Secretary of State may, from time to time, notify the FCA of the amount of—
- (a) the expenses incurred, or expected to be incurred, by the Secretary of State under section 11 of the Financial Guidance and Claims Act 2018 (financial assistance from Secretary of State to [F1223]Money and Pensions Service]), and
 - (b) any other expenses incurred, or expected to be incurred, by the Secretary of State in connection with the operation of the [F1224]Money and Pensions Service],
- that the Secretary of State considers should be recovered under this section.
- (2) Where the Secretary of State has notified the FCA of an amount of expenses under subsection (1), the FCA must make rules for imposing levies with a view to recovering—
- (a) the amount notified, and
 - (b) expenses incurred by the FCA in connection with its functions under this section.
- (3) The rules must require the payment to the FCA of specified sums, or sums calculated in a specified way, by—
- (a) authorised persons, electronic money issuers or payment service providers, or
 - (b) any specified class of authorised person, electronic money issuer or payment service provider.
- (4) Before the FCA publishes a draft of rules to be made under this section it must consult the Secretary of State.
- (5) The rules may be made only with the consent of the Secretary of State.
- (6) The Secretary of State may notify the FCA of matters that will be taken into account when deciding whether or not to give consent under subsection (5).
- (7) The FCA must have regard to any matters notified under subsection (6) before publishing a draft of rules to be made under this section.
- (8) The FCA must pay the Secretary of State the sums it receives under rules made under this section, apart from those paid to recover the expenses mentioned in subsection (2) (b) (which the FCA may keep).
- (9) Subsection (10) applies where—

Modification or waiver of rules

138A Modification or waiver of rules

- (1) Either regulator may, on the application or with the consent of a person who is subject to rules made by that regulator, direct that all or any of those rules—
- (a) are not to apply to that person, or
 - (b) are to apply to that person with such modifications as may be specified in the direction.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to—
- ^{F1227}(za) [rules made by either regulator under section 64A (rules of conduct);]
 - (a) rules made by either regulator under section 137O (threshold condition code);
 - (b) rules made by the FCA under section 247 (trust scheme rules) [^{F1228}, section 248 (scheme particulars rules), section 261I (contractual scheme rules) or section 261J (contractual scheme particulars rules)];
 - ^{F1229}(c) [rules made by the FCA under section 309Z1 (rules of conduct).]
- (3) An application must be made in such manner as the regulator may direct.
- (4) A regulator may not give a direction unless it is satisfied that—

- (a) compliance by the person with the rules, or with the rules as unmodified, would be unduly burdensome or would not achieve the purpose for which the rules were made, and
 - (b) the direction would not adversely affect the advancement of any of the regulator's objectives.
- (5) In subsection (4)(b) “objectives”, in relation to the FCA, means operational objectives.
- (6) A direction may be given subject to conditions.
- (7) The regulator may—
- (a) revoke a direction, or
 - (b) vary it on the application, or with the consent, of the person to whom it relates.
- (8) “Direction” means a direction under this section.

138B Publication of directions under section 138A

- (1) Subject to subsection (2), a direction must be published by the regulator concerned in the way appearing to the regulator to be best calculated for bringing it to the attention of—
 - (a) persons likely to be affected by it, and
 - (b) persons who are, in the opinion of the regulator, likely to make an application for a similar direction.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the regulator is satisfied that it is inappropriate or unnecessary to publish the direction.
- (3) In deciding whether it is satisfied as mentioned in subsection (2), the regulator must—
 - (a) consider whether the publication of the direction would be detrimental to the stability of the UK financial system,
 - (b) take into account whether the direction relates to a rule contravention of which is actionable in accordance with section 138D,
 - (c) consider whether publication of the direction would prejudice, to an unreasonable degree, the commercial interests of the person concerned or any other member of the person's immediate group, and
 - (d) consider whether its publication would be contrary to an international obligation of the United Kingdom.
- (4) The FCA must consult the PRA before publishing or deciding not to publish a direction which relates to—
 - (a) a PRA-authorized person, or
 - (b) an authorised person who has as a member of its immediate group a PRA-authorized person.
- (5) For the purposes of paragraphs (c) and (d) of subsection (3), the regulator must consider whether it would be possible to publish the direction without either of the consequences mentioned in those paragraphs by publishing it without disclosing the identity of the person concerned.
- (6) “Direction” means a direction under section 138A.

Contravention of rules

138C Evidential provisions

- (1) If a particular rule made by either regulator so provides, contravention of the rule does not give rise to any of the consequences provided for by other provisions of this Act.
- (2) A rule made by a regulator which so provides must also provide—
 - (a) that contravention may be relied on as tending to establish contravention of such other rule made by that regulator as may be specified, or
 - (b) that compliance may be relied on as tending to establish compliance with such other rule made by that regulator as may be specified.
- (3) A rule may include the provision mentioned in subsection (1) only if the regulator making the rule considers that it is appropriate for it also to include the provision required by subsection (2).
- (4) In this section “rule” does not include a rule made under—

- (4) In prescribed cases, a contravention of a rule which by virtue of subsection (1) or (2) would be actionable at the suit of a private person is actionable at the suit of a person who is not a private person, subject to the defences and other incidents applying to actions for breach of statutory duty.
- (5) In subsections (1), (2) and (3) “rule” does not include—
- ^{F1231}(za) [rules under section 64A (rules of conduct);]
 - ^{F1232}(zaa) [rules under Part 5A;]
 - (a) Part 6 rules;
 - (b) rules under section 137O (threshold condition code);
 - (c) rules under section 192J (provision of information by parent undertakings);
 - (d) a rule requiring an authorised person to have or maintain financial resources.
- (6) “Private person” has such meaning as may be prescribed.

Procedural provisions

Matters to consider when making rules

F1240 138EA

- (1) This section applies where either regulator proposes to make rules.
- (2) The regulator must have regard to any specified matters that are relevant to the making of the rules in question.
- (3) “Specified” means specified in regulations made by the Treasury for the purposes of this section.
- (4) The specification of a matter for the purposes of this section may apply generally to the making of rules or be limited in whatever way the Treasury consider appropriate, including by reference to—
 - (a) the power under which the rules are made;
 - (b) the persons to whom the rules apply;
 - (c) the activities or subject-matter to which the rules relate.
- (5) The requirement imposed by subsection (2) does not apply in respect of any rules if, or to the extent that, the rules are made for the purposes of—
 - (a) complying with a direction given by the Financial Policy Committee of the Bank of England under section 9H of the Bank of England Act 1998 (directions requiring macro-prudential measures), or
 - (b) acting in accordance with a recommendation made by that Committee under section 9Q of that Act (recommendations about the exercise of the FCA and PRA functions).
- (6) The requirement to have regard to specified matters under this section when making rules is in addition to any other requirements to have regard to matters when making such rules imposed by another provision of this Act or by any other enactment.]

138G Rule-making instruments

- (1) Any power conferred on either regulator to make rules is exercisable in writing.
- (2) An instrument by which rules are made by either regulator (“a rule-making instrument”) must specify the provision under which the rules are made.
- (3) To the extent that a rule-making instrument does not comply with subsection (2), it is void.
- (4) A rule-making instrument must be published by the regulator making the rule in the way appearing to that regulator to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (5) The regulator making the rule may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a rule-making instrument.
- (6) A person is not to be taken to have contravened any rule made by a regulator if the person shows that at the time of the alleged contravention the rule-making instrument concerned had not been made available in accordance with this section.

138H Verification of rules

- (1) The production of a printed copy of a rule-making instrument purporting to be made by a regulator—
 - (a) on which is endorsed a certificate signed by a member of staff of that regulator who is authorised by the regulator for that purpose, and
 - (b) which contains the required statements, is evidence (or in Scotland sufficient evidence) of the facts stated in the certificate.
- (2) The required statements are—
 - (a) that the instrument was made by the FCA or the PRA (as the case may be),
 - (b) that the copy is a true copy of the instrument, and
 - (c) that on a specified date the instrument was made available to the public in accordance with section 138G(4).
- (3) A certificate purporting to be signed as mentioned in subsection (1) is to be taken to have been properly signed unless the contrary is shown.
- (4) A person who wishes in any legal proceedings to rely on a rule-making instrument may require the regulator that made the rule to endorse a copy of the instrument with a certificate of the kind mentioned in subsection (1).

138I Consultation by the FCA

- (1) Before making any rules, the FCA must—
- (a) consult the PRA, and
 - (b) after doing so, publish a draft of the proposed rules in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring them to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by—
- (a) a cost benefit analysis,
 - (b) an explanation of the purpose of the proposed rules,
 - (c) any statement prepared under section 138K(2),
 - (d) an explanation of the FCA's reasons for believing that making the proposed rules is compatible with its duties under section 1B(1) [^{F1254}, (4A)] and (5)
- ^{F1253}(ba) [an explanation of the ways in which having regard to specified matters under section 138EA(2) has affected the proposed rules,]
- (a), and

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (e) notice that representations about the proposals may be made to the FCA within a specified time.
- (3) Before making the proposed rules, the FCA must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2)(e).
- (4) If the FCA makes the proposed rules, it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2)(e), and
 - (b) its response to them.
- [The FCA must include, in the account mentioned in subsection (4), a list of the respondents who made the representations, where those respondents have consented to the publication of their names.
- (4A) ^{F1255} The duty in subsection (4A) is not to be read as authorising or requiring such processing of personal data as would contravene the data protection legislation (but the duty is to be taken into account in determining whether particular processing of data would contravene that legislation).
- (4B) For the purposes of this section, the exemption relating to functions conferred on the FCA mentioned in paragraph 11 of Schedule 2 to the Data Protection Act 2018 (exemption from application of listed GDPR provisions) does not apply.
- (4C) Where representations are made to the FCA by a Committee of the House of Commons or the House of Lords or a Joint Committee of both Houses in accordance with subsection (2)(e), the FCA’s account mentioned in subsection (4) must also describe how the FCA has considered the representations made by that Committee in making the proposed rules.]
- (4D) If the rules differ from the draft published under subsection (1)(b) in a way which is, in the opinion of the FCA, significant the FCA must publish—
 - (a) details of the difference (in addition to complying with subsection (4)) together with a cost benefit analysis, and
 - (b) any statement prepared under section 138K(4).
- (5) The requirements to carry out a cost benefit analysis under this section do not apply in relation to rules made under—
 - (a) section 136(2);
 - ^{F1256}(aa) [section 137FB;]
 - ^{F1257}(ab) [section 137FBA;]
 - ^{F1258}(ac) [section 137FC;]

- ^{F1263}(cc)
- (d) paragraph 23 of Schedule 1ZA;
- ^{F1264}(e)
- (7) “Cost benefit analysis” means—
- (a) an analysis of the costs together with an analysis of the benefits that will arise—
- (i) if the proposed rules are made, or
- (ii) if subsection (5) applies, from the rules that have been made, and
- (b) subject to subsection (8), an estimate of those costs and of those benefits.
- (8) If, in the opinion of the FCA—
- (a) the costs or benefits referred to in subsection (7) cannot reasonably be estimated, or
- (b) it is not reasonably practicable to produce an estimate,
- the cost benefit analysis need not estimate them, but must include a statement of the FCA’s opinion and an explanation of it.
- [The requirement to provide the explanation referred to in subsection (2)(ba) does not
- ^{F1265}(8A) apply in relation to any rules if—
- (a) the FCA considers that the delay involved in complying with that requirement would be prejudicial to the interests of consumers (as defined in section 425A) or other persons whose interests would be protected by the rules, or
- (b) the rules change existing rules and the changes consist of, or include, changes which, in the FCA’s opinion, are not material.
- (8B) Where an explanation is not provided by virtue of subsection (8A)(b), the draft of the rules must be accompanied by a statement of the FCA’s opinion.]
- (9) The FCA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published under subsection (1)(b).
- [This section does not apply to rules made by the FCA under section 271E.]
- ^{F1266}(9A)
- (10) Subsection (1)(a) does not apply to ^{F1267}—
- (a) rules made by the FCA under section 137FB, ^{F1268}[137FBA,]^{F1269}[137FC]^{F1270}, 137SA^{F1271}, 137SB^{F1272}... ^{F1273}[or 333T], or
- (b) rules made by the FCA in relation to recognised investment exchanges under Part 18.
- (11) This section is subject to section 138L.

FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel

F1274

138IA

- (1) The FCA must establish and maintain a panel of persons (to be known as the “FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel”) to provide advice in relation to cost benefit analyses for the purposes of section 138I.
- (2) Except as provided by subsection (3), the FCA must consult the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel about the following matters—
 - (a) the preparation of a cost benefit analysis under section 138I(2)(a) or (5)(a);
 - (b) the preparation of its statement of policy under section 138IB.
- (3) The requirement to consult under subsection (2)(a) does not apply in such cases as may be set out in the statement of policy maintained under section 138IB.
- (4) Arrangements made by the FCA under subsection (1) for the establishment and maintenance of the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel must include arrangements for the Panel to—
 - (a) keep under review how the FCA is performing generally in carrying out its duties under section 138I(2)(a) and (5)(a), and
 - (b) provide to the FCA whatever recommendations the Panel thinks appropriate as a result of such review.
- (5) The FCA must appoint one of the members of the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel to be the chair of the Panel.
- (6) The Treasury’s approval is required for the appointment or dismissal of the chair.
- (7) The FCA must appoint to the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel such persons with knowledge or experience of the preparation of cost benefit analyses as it considers appropriate.
- (8) The FCA must appoint to the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel at least two individuals who are employed by persons authorised for the purposes of this Act by the FCA, with each one being employed by a different person.
- (9) The FCA may appoint to the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel such other persons as it considers appropriate.
- (10) Subsections (7) to (9) are subject to section 1MA.
- (11) The FCA must consider representations that are made to it by the FCA Cost Benefit Analysis Panel.
- (12) The FCA must from time to time publish in such manner as it thinks fit responses to the representations.]

138J Consultation by the PRA

- (1) Before making any rules, the PRA must—
- (a) consult the FCA, and
 - (b) after doing so, publish a draft of the proposed rules in the way appearing to the PRA to be best calculated to bring them to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by—
- (a) a cost benefit analysis,
 - (b) an explanation of the purpose of the proposed rules,
 - ^{F1276}(ba) [an explanation of the ways in which having regard to specified matters under section 138EA(2) has affected the proposed rules,]
 - (c) any statement prepared under section 138K(2),
 - (d) an explanation of the PRA's reasons for believing that making the proposed rules is compatible with its duties under—
 - (i) section 2B(1) or, as the case requires, section 2C(1) or 2D(3), and
 - (ii) section 2H, and
 - (e) notice that representations about the proposals may be made to the PRA within a specified time.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (3) Before making the proposed rules, the PRA must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2)(e).
- (4) If the PRA makes the proposed rules, it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
- (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2)(e), and
 - (b) its response to them.
- [The PRA must include, in the account mentioned in subsection (4), a list of the
- ^{F1277}(4A) respondents who made the representations, where those respondents have consented to the publication of their names.
- (4B) The duty in subsection (4A) is not to be read as authorising or requiring such processing of personal data as would contravene the data protection legislation (but the duty is to be taken into account in determining whether particular processing of data would contravene that legislation).
- (4C) For the purposes of this section, the exemption relating to functions conferred on the PRA mentioned in paragraph 9 of Schedule 2 to the Data Protection Act 2018 (exemption from application of listed GDPR provisions) does not apply.
- (4D) Where representations are made to the PRA by a Committee of the House of Commons or the House of Lords or a Joint Committee of both Houses in accordance with subsection (2)(e), the PRA’s account mentioned in subsection (4) must also describe how the PRA has considered the representations made by that Committee in making the proposed rules.]
- (5) If the rules differ from the draft published under subsection (1)(b) in a way which is, in the opinion of the PRA, significant the PRA must publish—
- (a) details of the difference (in addition to complying with subsection (4)) together with a cost benefit analysis, and
 - (b) any statement prepared under section 138K(4).
- (6) The requirements to carry out a cost benefit analysis under this section do not apply in relation to rules made under—
- (a) section 136(2);
 - (b) subsection (1) of section 213 as a result of subsection (4) of that section;
 - (c) section 234;
 - (d) paragraph 31 of Schedule 1ZB;
 - ^{F1278}(e)
- (7) “Cost benefit analysis” means—
- (a) an analysis of the costs together with an analysis of the benefits that will arise—
 - (i) if the proposed rules are made, or
 - (ii) if subsection (5) applies, from the rules that have been made, and
 - (b) subject to subsection (8), an estimate of those costs and of those benefits.
- (8) If, in the opinion of the PRA—
- (a) the costs or benefits referred to in subsection (7) cannot reasonably be estimated, or
 - (b) it is not reasonably practicable to produce an estimate, the cost benefit analysis need not estimate them, but must include a statement of the PRA's opinion and an explanation of it.

^{F1279} [The requirement to provide the explanation referred to in subsection (2)(ba) does not (8A) apply in relation to any rules if—

- (a) the PRA considers that the delay involved in complying with that requirement would—
 - (i) be prejudicial to the safety and soundness of PRA-authorised persons, or
 - (ii) in a case where section 2C applies, be prejudicial to securing the appropriate degree of protection for policyholders, or
- (b) the rules change existing rules and the changes consist of, or include, changes which, in the PRA's opinion, are not material.

(8B) Where an explanation is not provided by virtue of subsection (8A)(b), the draft of the rules must be accompanied by a statement of the PRA's opinion.]

(9) The PRA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published under subsection (1)(b).

138L Consultation: general exemptions

- (1) Sections 138I(1)(b) and (2) to (5) and 138K do not apply in relation to rules made by the FCA if the FCA considers that the delay involved in complying with them would be prejudicial to the interests of consumers, as defined in section 425A.
- (2) Sections 138J(1)(b) and (2) to (5) and 138K do not apply in relation to rules made by the PRA if the PRA considers that the delay involved in complying with them would—
 - (a) be prejudicial to the safety and soundness of PRA-authorized persons, or
 - (b) in a case where section 2C applies, be prejudicial to securing the appropriate degree of protection for policyholders.
- (3) The provisions listed in subsection (4) do not apply if the regulator concerned considers that, making the appropriate comparison—
 - (a) there will be no increase in costs, or

138M Consultation: exemptions for temporary product intervention rules

- (1) Sections 138I(1)(b) and (2) to (5) and 138K do not apply in relation to product intervention rules made by the FCA if it considers that it is necessary or expedient not to comply with them for the purpose of advancing—
 - (a) the consumer protection objective or the competition objective, or
 - (b) if an order under section 137D(1)(b) is in force, the integrity objective.
- (2) Any rules made as a result of subsection (1) (“temporary product intervention rules”) are to cease to have effect at the end of the period specified in the rules.
- (3) The longest period that may be specified is the period of 12 months beginning with the day on which the rules come into force.
- (4) Nothing in subsection (2) prevents the FCA from revoking temporary product intervention rules before the end of the period mentioned there.
- (5) If the FCA has made temporary product intervention rules (“the initial rules”), it may not make further temporary product intervention rules containing the same, or substantially the same, provision as that contained in the initial rules until the prohibited period has ended.
- (6) “The prohibited period” means the period of 12 months beginning with the day on which the period mentioned in subsection (2) ends (whether or not the initial rules have been revoked before the end of the period mentioned there).

TECHNICAL STANDARDS

Textual Amendments

- F1286Pt. 9A Ch. 2A inserted (26.10.2018) by The Financial Regulators Powers \(Technical Standards etc.\) \(Amendment etc.\) \(EU Exit\) Regulations 2018 \(S.I. 2018/1115\), regs. 1(2), 7(8)

138P. Technical standards

- (1) This Chapter applies where a power for the FCA, the PRA, the Bank of England, or any combination of them to make technical standards is substituted for the power of an EU entity to make EU tertiary legislation (“the original EU power”) by regulations made under section 8 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018.
- (2) The power to make technical standards includes power to modify, amend or revoke—
 - (a) any technical standards made by the regulator under that power;
 - (b) any EU tertiary legislation made by an EU entity under the original EU power which forms part of [^{F1287}assimilated] law.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (3) Where power to make a technical standard for the same purposes (as set out in the provision creating the power) and applying to the same persons or class of persons has been given to more than one regulator, no regulator may exercise the power without the consent of the other regulator or regulators.
- (4) Before a regulator makes a technical standard in which another regulator has an interest, it must consult the other regulator.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4)—
- (a) the PRA has an interest in a technical standard which—
 - (i) applies to PRA-authorised persons or other persons connected to them, or
 - (ii) may affect the exercise of the PRA’s functions under or by virtue of this Act or under [^{F1288}assimilated] law;
 - (b) the FCA has an interest in all technical standards which a regulator or the Payment Systems Regulator has power to amend;
 - (c) the Bank of England has an interest in technical standards which—
 - (i) apply to central counterparties, to financial counterparties or non-financial counterparties within the meaning of the EMIR regulation or to central securities depositories, or
 - (ii) may affect the exercise of the Bank’s functions under or by virtue of this Act, the Banking Act 2009 or [^{F1289}assimilated] law.
- (6) For the purposes of this Chapter—
- (a) “EU tertiary legislation” has the meaning given in section 20 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018;
 - (b) “regulator” means the FCA, the PRA or the Bank of England;
 - (c) a person is connected with another person in the circumstances set out in section 165(11).
 - [^{F1290}(d) “the EMIR regulation” has the meaning given in section 313.]

- (2) A standards instrument must specify the provision under which the instrument is being made.
- (3) To the extent that a standards instrument does not comply with subsection (2), it is void.
- (4) A standards instrument must be published by the regulator making the instrument in the way appearing to the regulator to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (5) The Treasury must lay before Parliament a copy of each standards instrument made under this section.
- (6) The regulator making the instrument may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a standards instrument.

138R. Treasury approval

- (1) A standards instrument may be made only if it has been approved by the Treasury.
- (2) The Treasury may refuse to approve a standards instrument if subsection (3) or (5) applies.
- (3) This subsection applies if it appears to the Treasury that the instrument would—
 - (a) have implications for public funds (within the meaning of section 78(2) of the Banking Act 2009); or
 - (b) prejudice any current or proposed negotiations for an international agreement between the United Kingdom and one or more other countries, international organisations or institutions.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), “international organisations” includes the European Union.
- (5) This subsection applies if it appears to the Treasury that they may direct the regulator not to make the standards instrument under section 410 (international obligations).
- (6) The Treasury must notify the regulator in writing whether or not they approve a standards instrument within four weeks after the day on which that instrument is submitted to the Treasury for approval (“the relevant period”).
- (7) Provision of a draft standards instrument to the Treasury for consultation does not amount to submission of the instrument for approval.
- (8) If the Treasury do not approve the instrument, they must—
 - (a) set out in the notice given under subsection (6) the Treasury’s reasons for not approving the instrument;
 - (b) lay before Parliament—
 - (i) a copy of that notice;
 - (ii) a copy of any statement made by the regulator as to its reasons for wishing to make the instrument.
- (9) If the Treasury do not give notice under subsection (6) before the end of the relevant period, the Treasury is deemed to have approved the standards instrument.

138S. Application of Chapters 1 and 2

- (1) The sections listed in subsection (2) apply, subject to the modifications specified in that subsection, to—
- (a) technical standards made by the FCA or the PRA as they apply to rules made by the FCA or the PRA;
 - (b) technical standards made by the Bank of England, as they apply to rules made by the Bank under this Act in accordance with paragraph 10(1), (3) and (4) of Schedule 17A to this Act.
- (2) The sections referred to in subsection (1) are—
- (a) section 137T (general supplementary powers), as if—
 - (i) the reference in paragraph (a) to authorised persons were a reference to persons,
 - (ii) the reference in paragraph (b) to rules included a reference to technical standards;
 - (b) section 138C (evidential provisions);
 - (c) section 138E (limit on effect of contravening rules);
 - (d) section 138F (notification of rules);
 - (e) section 138H (verification of rules), treating the reference in subsection (2)(c) to section 138G(4) of the Act as a reference to section 138Q(4);
 - (f) section 138I (consultation by the FCA), as if—
 - (i) subsection (1)(a) were omitted, and
 - (ii) references to making rules were references to submitting a standards instrument to the Treasury for approval;
 - (g) section 138J (consultation by the PRA), as if—
 - (i) subsection (1)(a) were omitted, and
 - (ii) references to making rules were references to submitting a standards instrument to the Treasury for approval;
 - (h) section 138K (consultation: mutual societies);
 - [^{F1291}(i) section 138L (consultation: general exemptions), as if—
 - (i) in subsection (1), for “425A” there were substituted “1G”;
 - (ii) references to making rules were references to submitting a standards instrument to the Treasury for approval.]]

CHAPTER 3

GUIDANCE

139A Power of the FCA to give guidance

- (1) The FCA may give guidance consisting of such information and advice as it considers appropriate—

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (a) with respect to the operation of specified parts of this Act and of any rules made by the FCA;
- (b) with respect to any other matter relating to functions of the FCA;
- (c) with respect to any other matters about which it appears to the FCA to be desirable to give information or advice.

^{F1292}(1A)

- (2) The FCA may give financial or other assistance to persons giving information or advice of a kind which the FCA could give under this section.
- (3) Subsection (5) applies where the FCA proposes to give guidance to FCA-regulated persons generally, or to a class of FCA-regulated persons, in relation to rules to which those persons are subject.
- (4) Subsection (5) also applies in relation to guidance which the FCA proposes to give to persons generally, or to a class of person, in relation to its functions under the short selling regulation [^{F1293}or the market abuse regulation [^{F1294}, any [^{F1295}assimilated direct] legislation originally made under the market abuse regulation or any subordinate legislation (within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978) made on or after IP completion day under the market abuse regulation]].
- (5) Where this subsection applies, subsections (1), (2)(e) and (3) of section 138I (consultation) apply to the proposed guidance as they apply to proposed rules, unless the FCA considers that the delay in complying with those provisions would be prejudicial to the interests of consumers.
- (6) The FCA may—
 - (a) publish its guidance,
 - (b) offer copies of its published guidance for sale at a reasonable price, and
 - (c) if it gives guidance in response to a request made by any person, make a reasonable charge for that guidance.
- (7) In this Chapter, references to guidance given by the FCA include references to any recommendations made by the FCA to FCA-regulated persons generally, or to any class of FCA-regulated person.
- (8) “Consumers” has the meaning given in section 1G.
- (9) “FCA-regulated person” means—
 - (a) an authorised person, or
 - (b) any person who is otherwise subject to rules made by the FCA.

CHAPTER 4

COMPETITION SCRUTINY

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C574 Pt. 9A Ch. 4 applied (1.3.2014) by Financial Services \(Banking Reform\) Act 2013 \(c. 33\), ss. 107\(1\), 148\(5\); S.I. 2014/377, art. 2\(1\)\(a\), Sch. Pt. 1

140A Interpretation

(1) In this Chapter—

[^{F1296}“the CMA” means the Competition and Markets Authority.]

“market in the United Kingdom” includes—

- (a) so far as it operates in the United Kingdom or a part of the United Kingdom, any market which operates there and in another country or territory or in a part of another country or territory, and
- (b) any market which operates only in a part of the United Kingdom;

^{F1297} ...

“practices”, in relation to each regulator, means practices adopted by that regulator in the exercise of functions under this Act;

“regulating provisions” means—

(a) in relation to the FCA, any—

(i) rules of the FCA;

(ii) general guidance (as defined by section 139B(5) ^{F1298} ...);

(iii) ^{F1299} ...

(iv) ^{F1300} ...

(v) ^{F1301} ...

(vi) ^{F1301} ...

(b) in relation to the PRA, any—

(i) rules of the PRA;

(ii) ^{F1302} ...

(iii) ^{F1302} ...

^{F1303}(2)

(3) For the purposes of this Chapter, any reference to a feature of a market in the United Kingdom for goods or services is to be read as a reference to—

- (a) the structure of the market concerned or any aspect of that structure,
- (b) any conduct (whether or not in the market concerned) of one or more than one person who supplies or acquires goods or services in the market concerned, or
- (c) any conduct relating to the market concerned of customers of any person who supplies or acquires goods or services.

(4) In subsection (3) “conduct” includes any failure to act (whether or not intentional) and any other unintentional conduct.

140B Advice about effect of regulating provision or practice

(1) In this Chapter, any reference to the giving of “section 140B advice” to a regulator is to be read in accordance with this section.

[^{F1304}(2) The CMA gives “section 140B advice” to a regulator if—

- (a) it gives advice to the regulator under section 7 of the Enterprise Act 2002 (provision of competition advice to Ministers etc) and the advice states that in the opinion of the CMA one or more of the things mentioned in subsection (4) may cause, or contribute to, the effect mentioned in subsection (5), or might be expected to do so in the future;
- (b) a report published by it under section 136 of the Enterprise Act 2002 (investigations and reports on market investigation reference) contains—
 - (i) a decision that one or more of the things mentioned in subsection (4) may cause, or contribute to, the effect mentioned in subsection (5), and
 - (ii) a recommendation that any action should be taken by that regulator.]

[^{F1305}(3)

(4) Those things are—

- (a) a regulating provision or practice of the regulator,
- (b) two or more regulating provisions or practices (of that regulator or of both regulators) taken together,
- (c) a particular combination of regulating provision or practices (of that regulator or of both regulators), or

CHAPTER 5

POWER TO MAKE CONSEQUENTIAL AMENDMENTS

141A Power to make consequential amendments of references to rules etc.

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) a provision of primary or subordinate legislation (whenever passed or made) contains a reference (however expressed) to rules of either regulator or to guidance of the FCA,
 - (b) it appears to the Treasury or the Secretary of State that the reference requires amendment in consequence of the exercise by that regulator of its power under this Part to make, alter or revoke its rules or the exercise by the FCA of its power to make, alter or revoke its guidance.
 - (2) The Treasury or the Secretary of State may by order make such amendment of the legislation referred to in subsection (1)(a) as appears to them to be necessary or expedient in consequence of the exercise by the regulator of the power mentioned in subsection (1)(b).
 - (3) The power conferred by subsection (2) includes power—
 - (a) to replace a reference to the rules of one regulator with a reference to the rules of the other regulator or to the rules of both regulators;
 - (b) to replace a reference to the rules of both regulators with a reference to the rules of one regulator.
 - (4) In subsection (1)(a) “subordinate legislation” does not include rules of either regulator.
- [A regulator's power under Part 2 of the Powers Regulations to amend its rules is treated
- ^{F1321}(5) for the purposes of this section as a power under this Part; and for this purpose “the Powers Regulations” means the Financial Regulators' Powers (Technical Standards etc.) (Amendment etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2018 (S.I. 2018/1115).]

Introductory

142A “Ring-fenced body”

- (1) In this Act “ring-fenced body” means a UK institution which carries on one or more core activities (see section 142B) in relation to which it has a Part 4A permission.
- (2) But “ring-fenced body” does not include—
 - (a) a building society within the meaning of the Building Societies Act 1986, or
 - (b) a UK institution of a class exempted by order made by the Treasury.
- (3) An order under subsection (2)(b) may be made in relation to a class of UK institution only if the Treasury are of the opinion that the exemption conferred by the order would not be likely to have a significant adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (4) Subject to that, in deciding whether and, if so, how to exercise their powers under subsection (2)(b), the Treasury must have regard to the desirability of minimising any adverse effect that the ring-fencing provisions might be expected to have on competition in the market for services provided in the course of carrying on core activities, including any adverse effect on the ease with which new entrants can enter the market.
- (5) In subsection (4) “the ring-fencing provisions” means ring-fencing rules and the duty imposed as a result of section 142G.
- (6) An order under subsection (2)(b) may provide for the exemption to be subject to conditions.
- (7) In this section “UK institution” means a body corporate incorporated in the United Kingdom.

142B Core activities

- (1) References in this Act to a “core activity” are to be read in accordance with this section.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (2) The regulated activity of accepting deposits (whether carried on in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) is a core activity unless it is carried on in circumstances specified by the Treasury by order.
- (3) An order under subsection (2) may be made only if the Treasury are of the opinion that it is not necessary for either of the following purposes that the regulated activity of accepting deposits should be a core activity when carried on in the specified circumstances.
- (4) Those purposes are—
 - (a) to secure an appropriate degree of protection for the depositors concerned, or
 - (b) to protect the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of services provided in the course of carrying on the regulated activity of accepting deposits.
- (5) The Treasury may by order provide for a regulated activity other than that of accepting deposits to be a core activity, either generally or when carried on in circumstances specified in the order.
- (6) An order under subsection (5) may be made only if the Treasury are of the opinion—
 - (a) that an interruption of the provision of services provided in the United Kingdom in the carrying on of the regulated activity concerned could adversely affect the stability of the UK financial system or of a significant part of that system, and
 - (b) that the continuity of the provision of those services can more effectively be protected by treating the activity as a core activity.

142C Core services

- (1) References in this Act to “core services” are to be read in accordance with this section.
- (2) The following are core services—
 - (a) facilities for the accepting of deposits or other payments into an account which is provided in the course of carrying on the core activity of accepting deposits;
 - (b) facilities for withdrawing money or making payments from such an account;
 - (c) overdraft facilities in connection with such an account.
- (3) The Treasury may by order provide that any other specified services provided in the course of carrying on the core activity of accepting deposits are also core services.
- (4) If an order under section 142B(5) provides for an activity other than that of accepting deposits to be a core activity, the Treasury must by order provide that specified services provided in the course of carrying on that activity are core services.
- (5) The services specified by order under subsection (4) must be services in relation to which the Treasury are of the opinion mentioned in section 142B(6)(a).

142D Excluded activities

- (1) References in this Act to an “excluded activity” are to be read in accordance with this section.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (2) The regulated activity of dealing in investments as principal (whether carried on in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) is an excluded activity unless it is carried on in circumstances specified by the Treasury by order.
- (3) An order under subsection (2) may be made only if the Treasury are of the opinion that allowing ring-fenced bodies to deal in investments as principal in the specified circumstances would not be likely to result in any significant adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (4) The Treasury may by order provide for an activity other than the regulated activity of dealing in investments as principal to be an excluded activity, either generally or when carried on in circumstances specified in the order.
- (5) An activity to which an order under subsection (4) relates—
 - (a) need not be a regulated activity, and
 - (b) may be an activity carried on in the United Kingdom or elsewhere.
- (6) In deciding whether to make an order under subsection (4) in relation to any activity, the Treasury must—
 - (a) have regard to the risks to which a ring-fenced body would be exposed if it carried on the activity concerned, and
 - (b) consider whether the carrying on of that activity by a ring-fenced body would make it more likely that the failure of the body would have an adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (7) An order under subsection (4) may be made only if the Treasury are of the opinion that the making of the order is necessary or expedient for the purpose of protecting the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.

142E Power of Treasury to impose prohibitions

- (1) The Treasury may by order prohibit ring-fenced bodies from—
 - (a) entering into transactions of a specified kind or with persons falling within a specified class;
 - (b) establishing or maintaining a branch in a specified country or territory;
 - (c) holding in specified circumstances shares or voting power in companies of a specified description.
- (2) In deciding whether to make an order under this section imposing a prohibition, the Treasury must—
 - (a) have regard to the risks to which a ring-fenced body would be exposed if it did the thing to which the prohibition relates, and
 - (b) consider whether the doing of that thing by a ring-fenced body would make it more likely that the failure of the body would have an adverse effect on the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (3) An order under this section may be made only if the Treasury are of the opinion that the making of the order is necessary or expedient for the purpose of protecting the continuity of the provision in the United Kingdom of core services.
- (4) An order under this section may in particular—
 - (a) provide for any prohibition to be subject to exemptions specified in the order;
 - (b) provide for any exemption to be subject to conditions specified in the order.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. 142F Orders under section 142A, 142B, 142D or 142E

- (1) An order made under section 142A, 142B, 142D or 142E may—
 - (a) authorise or require the making of rules by a regulator for the purposes of, or for purposes connected with, any provision of the order;
 - (b) authorise the making of other instruments by a regulator for the purposes of, or for purposes connected with, any provision of the order;
 - (c) refer to a publication issued by a regulator, another body in the United Kingdom or an international organisation, as the publication has effect from time to time.
- (2) If the order confers powers on a regulator or authorises or requires the making of rules or other instruments by a regulator, the order may also—
 - (a) impose conditions on the exercise of any power conferred on the regulator;
 - (b) impose consultation requirements on the regulator;
 - (c) make the exercise of a power by the regulator subject to the consent of the Treasury.

Ring-fenced bodies not to carry on excluded activities or contravene prohibitions

142G Ring-fenced bodies not to carry on excluded activities or contravene prohibitions

- (1) A ring-fenced body which—
 - (a) carries on an excluded activity or purports to do so, or
 - (b) contravenes any provision of an order under section 142E,is to be taken to have contravened a requirement imposed on the body by the appropriate regulator under this Act.
- (2) The contravention does not—
 - (a) make a person guilty of an offence;
 - (b) make a transaction void or unenforceable;
 - (c) (subject to subsection (3)) give rise to any right of action for breach of statutory duty.
- (3) In such cases as the Treasury may specify by order, the contravention is actionable at the suit of a person who suffers loss as a result of the contravention, subject to the defences and other incidents applying to actions for breach of statutory duty.
- (4) In this section “the appropriate regulator” means—
 - (a) in relation to a ring-fenced body which is a PRA-authorized person, the PRA;
 - (b) in relation to any other ring-fenced body, the FCA.

Ring-fencing rules

142H Ring-fencing rules

- (1) In the exercise of its power to make general rules, the appropriate regulator must in particular make rules—
 - (a) requiring a ring-fenced body to make arrangements to ensure the effective provision to the ring-fenced body of services and facilities that it requires in relation to the carrying on of a core activity, and

- (b) making provision for the group ring-fencing purposes applying to ring-fenced bodies and to authorised persons who are members of a ring-fenced body's group.
- (2) Section 142E(1)(c) does not affect the power of the appropriate regulator to make general rules imposing restrictions on the extent of the shares or voting power that a ring-fenced body may hold in another company, except where a restriction on the extent of the shares or voting power that the ring-fenced body may hold in the company is imposed by order under section 142E(1)(c).
- (3) General rules that are required by this section or make provision falling within subsection (2) are in this Act referred to as “ring-fencing rules”.
- (4) The “group ring-fencing purposes” are—
- (a) ensuring as far as reasonably practicable that the carrying on of core activities by a ring-fenced body is not adversely affected by the acts or omissions of other members of its group;
 - (b) ensuring as far as reasonably practicable that in carrying on its business a ring-fenced body—
 - (i) is able to take decisions independently of other members of its group, and
 - (ii) does not depend on resources which are provided by a member of its group and which would cease to be available to the ring-fenced body in the event of the insolvency of the other member;
 - (c) ensuring as far as reasonably practicable that the ring-fenced body would be able to continue to carry on core activities in the event of the insolvency of one or more other members of its group.
- (5) Ring-fencing rules made for the group ring-fencing purposes must include—
- (a) provision restricting the power of a ring-fenced body to enter into contracts with other members of its group otherwise than on arm's length terms;
 - (b) provision restricting the payments that a ring-fenced body may make (by way of dividend or otherwise) to other members of its group;
 - (c) provision requiring the disclosure to the appropriate regulator of information relating to transactions between a ring-fenced body and other members of its group;
 - (d) provision requiring a ring-fenced body to ensure that its board of directors (or if there is no such board, the equivalent management body) includes to a specified extent—
 - (i) members who are treated by the rules as being independent of other members of the ring-fenced body's group,
 - (ii) members who are treated by the rules as being independent of the ring-fenced body itself, and
 - (iii) non-executive members;
 - (e) provision requiring a ring-fenced body to act in accordance with a remuneration policy meeting specified requirements;
 - (f) provision requiring a ring-fenced body to act in accordance with a human resources policy meeting specified requirements;
 - (g) provision requiring arrangements made by the ring-fenced body for the identification, monitoring and management of risk to meet specified requirements;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (h) such other provision as the appropriate regulator considers necessary or expedient for any of the purposes in subsection (4).
- (6) The reference in subsection (5)(e) to a remuneration policy is a reference to a policy about the remuneration of officers, employees and other persons who (in each case) are of a specified description.
- (7) The reference in subsection (5)(f) to a human resources policy is a reference to a policy about the appointment and management of officers, employees and other persons who (in each case) are of a specified description.
- (8) In this section—
 - “the appropriate regulator” means—
 - (a) in relation to a PRA-authorised person, the PRA;
 - (b) in relation to any other authorised person, the FCA;
 - “shares” has the meaning given in section 422;
 - “specified” means specified in the rules;
 - “voting power” has the meaning given in section 422.

142I Powers of Treasury in relation to ring-fencing rules

- (1) The Treasury may by order require the appropriate regulator, as defined in section 142H(8), to include (or not to include) in ring-fencing rules specified provision relating to—
 - (a) any of the matters mentioned in section 142H(5)(a) to (g), or
 - (b) any other specified matter.
- (2) The power to make an order under this section is exercisable only if the Treasury consider it necessary or expedient to do so—
 - (a) for any of the group ring-fencing purposes as defined in section 142H(4), or
 - (b) otherwise for securing the independence of ring-fenced bodies from other members of their groups.
- (3) “Specified” means specified in the order.

142J Review of ring-fencing rules etc

- (1) The PRA must carry out reviews of its ring-fencing rules and of any rules made by it under section 192JA (rules applying to parent undertakings of ring-fenced bodies).
- (2) The first review must be completed before the end of the period of 5 years beginning with the day on which the first ring-fencing rules come into force.
- (3) Subsequent reviews must be completed before the end of the period of 5 years beginning with the day on which the previous review was completed.
- (4) The PRA must give the Treasury a report of each review.
- (5) The Treasury must lay a copy of the report before Parliament.
- (6) The PRA must publish the report in such manner as it thinks fit.

- (7) If (because any ring-fenced body is not a PRA-authorized person) section 142H has the effect of requiring the FCA to make ring-fencing rules, subsections (1) to (6) apply to the FCA as they apply to the PRA.

Group restructuring powers

142K Cases in which group restructuring powers become exercisable

- (1) The appropriate regulator may exercise the group restructuring powers only if it is satisfied that one or more of Conditions A to D is met in relation to a ring-fenced body that is a member of a group.
- (2) Condition A is that the carrying on of core activities by the ring-fenced body is being adversely affected by the acts or omissions of other members of its group.
- (3) Condition B is that in carrying on its business the ring-fenced body—
 - (a) is unable to take decisions independently of other members of its group, or
 - (b) depends on resources which are provided by a member of its group and which would cease to be available in the event of the insolvency of the other member.
- (4) Condition C is that in the event of the insolvency of one or more other members of its group the ring-fenced body would be unable to continue to carry on the core activities carried on by it.
- (5) Condition D is that the ring-fenced body or another member of its group has engaged, or is engaged, in conduct which is having, or would apart from this section be likely to have, an adverse effect on the advancement by the appropriate regulator—
 - (a) in the case of the PRA, of the objective in section 2B(3)(c), or
 - (b) in the case of the FCA, of the continuity objective.
- (6) The appropriate regulator may not exercise the group restructuring powers in relation to any person if—
 - (a) either regulator has previously exercised the group restructuring powers in relation to that person, and
 - (b) the decision notice in relation to the current exercise is given before the second anniversary of the day on which the decision notice in relation to the previous exercise was given.
- (7) In this section and sections 142L to 142Q “the appropriate regulator” means—
 - (a) where the ring-fenced body is a PRA-authorized person, the PRA;
 - (b) where it is not, the FCA.

142L Group restructuring powers

- (1) In this Part “the group restructuring powers” means one or more of the powers conferred by this section.
- (2) Where the appropriate regulator is the PRA, the powers conferred by this section are as follows—
 - (a) in relation to the ring-fenced body, power to impose a requirement on the ring-fenced body requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (5),

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (b) in relation to any member of the ring-fenced body's group which is a PRAauthorised person, power to impose a requirement on the PRAauthorised person requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6),
 - (c) in relation to any member of the ring-fenced body's group which is an authorised person but not a PRAauthorised person, power to direct the FCA to impose a requirement on the authorised person requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6), and
 - (d) in relation to a qualifying parent undertaking, power to give a direction under this paragraph to the parent undertaking requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6).
- (3) Where the appropriate regulator is the FCA, the powers conferred by this section are as follows—
- (a) in relation to the ring-fenced body, power to impose a requirement on the ring-fenced body requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (5),
 - (b) in relation to any member of the ring-fenced body's group which is an authorised person but not a PRAauthorised person, power to impose a requirement on the authorised person requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6),
 - (c) in relation to any member of the ring-fenced body's group which is a PRAauthorised person, power to direct the PRA to impose a requirement on the authorised person requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6), and
 - (d) in relation to a qualifying parent undertaking, power to give a direction under this paragraph to the parent undertaking requiring it to take any of the steps mentioned in subsection (6).
- (4) A parent undertaking of a ring-fenced body by reference to which the group restructuring powers are exercisable is for the purposes of this Part a “qualifying parent undertaking” if—
- (a) it is a body corporate which is incorporated in the United Kingdom and has a place of business in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) it is not itself an authorised person.
- (5) The steps that the ring-fenced body may be required to take are—
- (a) to dispose of specified property or rights to an outside person;
 - (b) to apply to the court under Part 7 for an order sanctioning a ring-fencing transfer scheme relating to the transfer of the whole or part of the business of the ring-fenced body to an outside person;
 - (c) otherwise to make arrangements discharging the ring-fenced body from specified liabilities.
- (6) The steps that another authorised person or a qualifying parent undertaking may be required to take are—
- (a) to dispose of any shares in, or securities of, the ring-fenced body to an outside person;
 - (b) to dispose of any interest in any other body corporate that is a member of the ring-fenced body's group to an outside person;
 - (c) to dispose of other specified property or rights to an outside person;

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (d) to apply to the court under Part 7 for an order sanctioning a ring-fencing transfer scheme relating to the transfer of the whole or part of the business of the authorised person or qualifying parent undertaking to an outside person.
- (7) In subsections (5) and (6) “outside person” means a person who, after the implementation of the disposal or scheme in question, will not be a member of the group of the ring-fenced body by reference to which the powers are exercised (whether or not that body is to remain a ring-fenced body after the implementation of the disposal or scheme in question).
- (8) It is immaterial whether a requirement to be imposed on an authorised person by the appropriate regulator, or by the other regulator at the direction of the appropriate regulator, is one that the regulator imposing it could impose under section 55L or 55M.

142M Procedure: preliminary notices

- (1) If the appropriate regulator proposes to exercise the group restructuring powers in relation to any authorised person or qualifying parent undertaking (“the person concerned”), the regulator must give each of the relevant persons a notice (a “preliminary notice”).
- (2) The preliminary notice must—
 - (a) state that it is a preliminary notice,
 - (b) state that the regulator proposes to exercise the group restructuring powers,
 - (c) state the action which the regulator proposes to take in the exercise of those powers,
 - (d) be in writing, and
 - (e) give reasons for the proposed action (which must include the regulator's reasons for being satisfied as to the matters mentioned in section 142K(1)).
- (3) The appropriate regulator must give a copy of the preliminary notice to the Treasury.
- (4) The preliminary notice must specify a reasonable period (which may not be less than 14 days) within which any of the relevant persons may make representations to the regulator.
- (5) The relevant persons are—
 - (a) the person concerned,
 - (b) the ring-fenced body, if not the person concerned, and
 - (c) any other authorised person who will, in the opinion of the appropriate regulator, be significantly affected by the exercise of the group restructuring powers.

142N Procedure: warning notice and decision notice

- (1) If the appropriate regulator has given a preliminary notice under section 142M, it must either—
 - (a) if, having considered any representations made by any of the relevant persons, it still proposes to exercise the group restructuring powers, give each of the relevant persons a warning notice during the warning notice period, or
 - (b) before the end of the warning notice period, give each of them a written notice stating that it has decided not to exercise the powers and give a copy of that notice to the Treasury.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (2) The “warning notice period” is the period—
 - (a) beginning 3 months after the end of the period specified under section 142M(4) as that within which any representations must be made, and
 - (b) ending 6 months after the end of that period.
- (3) Before giving a warning notice under subsection (1)(a), the appropriate regulator must—
 - (a) give the Treasury a draft of the notice,
 - (b) provide the Treasury with any information that the Treasury may require in order to decide whether to give their consent, and
 - (c) obtain the consent of the Treasury.
- (4) The action specified in the warning notice may be different from that specified in the preliminary notice if—
 - (a) the appropriate regulator considers that different action is appropriate as a result of any change in circumstances since the preliminary notice was given, or
 - (b) the person concerned consents to the change.
- (5) The regulator must, in particular, have regard to anything that—
 - (a) has been done by the person concerned since the giving of the preliminary notice, and
 - (b) represents action that would have been required in pursuance of the proposals in that notice.
- (6) If the regulator decides to exercise the group restructuring powers it must give each of the relevant persons a decision notice.
- (7) The decision notice must specify the date or dates by which each of the following must be completed—
 - (a) any disposal of shares, securities or other property that is required by the notice;
 - (b) any transfer of liabilities for which the notice requires arrangements to be made.
- (8) The giving of consent for the purpose of subsection (4)(b) does not affect any right to refer to the Tribunal the matter to which any decision notice resulting from the warning notice relates.
- (9) “The relevant persons” has the same meaning as in section 142M.

142O References to Tribunal

- (1) A notified person who is aggrieved by—
 - (a) the imposition by either regulator of a requirement as a result of section 142L(2)(a) or (b) or (3)(a) or (b),
 - (b) a requirement to be imposed as a result of the giving by one regulator to the other of a direction under section 142L(2)(c) or (3)(c), or
 - (c) the giving by either regulator of a direction under section 142L(2)(d) or (3)(d),may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

- (2) “Notified person” means a person to whom a decision notice under section 142N(6) was given or ought to have been given.

142P Subsequent variation of requirement or direction

- (1) A regulator may at any time with the consent of the person concerned vary—
- (a) a requirement imposed by it as a result of section 142L(2)(a) or (b) or (3)(a) or (b), or
 - (b) a direction given by it as a result of section 142L(2)(c) or (d) or (3)(c) or (d).
- (2) The person concerned may at any time apply to the appropriate regulator for the variation of—
- (a) a requirement imposed by it as a result of section 142L(2)(a) or (b) or (3)(a) or (b), or
 - (b) a direction given by it as a result of section 142L(2)(c) or (d) or (3)(c) or (d).
- (3) Sections 55U, 55V, 55X and 55Z3 apply to an application under subsection (2) as they apply to an application for the variation of a requirement imposed by the appropriate regulator under section 55L or 55M.

142Q Consultation etc. between regulators

- (1) Where a notice under section 142M or a warning notice or decision notice under section 142N relates to a requirement to be imposed in pursuance of a direction to be given as a result of section 142L(2)(c) or (3)(c), the appropriate regulator must—
- (a) consult the other regulator before giving the notice, and
 - (b) give a copy of the notice to the other regulator.
- (2) The appropriate regulator must consult the other regulator before varying under section 142P a direction given as a result of section 142L(2)(c) or (3)(c).
- (3) Directions given by the FCA as a result of section 142L(3)(c) are subject to any directions given to the FCA under section 3I.

142R Relationship with regulators' powers under Parts 4A and 12A

- (1) Subsection (2) applies in relation to—
- (a) a ring-fenced body which is a member of a mixed group, and
 - (b) a parent undertaking of such a ring-fenced body.
- (2) A regulator may not exercise its general powers in relation to the ring-fenced body or parent undertaking so as to achieve either of the results in subsection (3).
- (3) Those results are—
- (a) that no existing group member is a parent undertaking of the ring-fenced body;
 - (b) that the ring-fenced body is not a member of a mixed group.
- (4) In subsection (3)(a) “existing group member” means a person who is a member of the ring-fenced body's group at the time when the requirement is imposed or the direction given.
- (5) Except as provided by subsections (1) to (4), the provisions of sections 142K to 142Q do not limit the general powers of either regulator.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (6) For the purposes of this section, a regulator's "general powers" are its powers under the following provisions—
 - (a) section 55L or 55M (imposition of requirements in connection with Part 4A permission);
 - (b) section 192C (power to direct qualifying parent undertaking).
- (7) For the purposes of this section, a ring-fenced body is a member of a mixed group if a member of the ring-fenced body's group carries on an excluded activity.

Failure of parent undertaking to comply with direction

142S Power to impose penalty or issue censure

- (1) This section applies if a regulator is satisfied that a person who is or has been a qualifying parent undertaking ("P") has contravened a requirement of a direction given to P by that regulator as a result of section 142L(2)(d) or (3)(d).
- (2) The regulator may impose a penalty of such amount as it considers appropriate on—
 - (a) P, or
 - (b) any person who was knowingly concerned in the contravention.
- (3) The regulator may, instead of imposing a penalty on a person, publish a statement censuring the person.
- (4) The regulator may not take action against a person under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the person under section 142T.
- (5) "The limitation period" means the period of 3 years beginning with the first day on which the regulator knew of the contravention.
- (6) For this purpose a regulator is to be treated as knowing of a contravention if it has information from which the contravention can reasonably be inferred.
- (7) The requirements that a regulator may be required to impose as a result of a direction under section 142L(2)(c) or (3)(c) include requirements that the regulator would not but for the direction have power to impose.

142T Procedure and right to refer to Tribunal

- (1) If a regulator proposes to take action against a person under section 142S, it must give the person a warning notice.
- (2) A warning notice about a proposal to impose a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (3) A warning notice about a proposal to publish a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (4) If the regulator decides to take action against a person under section 142S, it must give the person a decision notice.
- (5) A decision notice about the imposition of a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.

- (6) A decision notice about the publication of a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (7) If the regulator decides to take action against a person under section 142S, the person may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

142U Duty on publication of statement

After a statement under section 142S(3) is published, the regulator must send a copy of the statement to—

- (a) the person in respect of whom it is made, and
- (b) any person to whom a copy of the decision notice was given under section 393(4).

142V Imposition of penalties under section 142S: statement of policy

- (1) Each regulator must prepare and issue a statement of policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of penalties under section 142S, and
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section.
- (2) A regulator's policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention,
 - (b) the extent to which the contravention was deliberate or reckless, and
 - (c) whether the person on whom the penalty is to be imposed is an individual.
- (3) A regulator may at any time alter or replace a statement issued under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or replaced, the regulator must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, a power under section 142S(2) in the case of any particular contravention, a regulator must have regard to any statement of policy published under this section and in force at a time when the contravention occurred.
- (6) A statement under this section must be published by the regulator concerned in the way appearing to the regulator to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) A regulator may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement published under this section.
- (8) A regulator must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.
- (9) Section 192I applies in relation to a statement under this section as it applies in relation to a statement under section 192H.

Pension liabilities

142W Pension liabilities

- (1) The Treasury may by regulations require a ring-fenced body to make arrangements for any one or more of the following purposes—
 - (a) ensuring that, except in prescribed cases, the ring-fenced body cannot become liable to meet, or contribute to the meeting of, pension liabilities which arise in connection with persons' service on or after a date specified in the regulations (“the specified date”) in any employment, other than service in an employment in respect of which the employer is a ring-fenced body;
 - (b) ensuring that, except in prescribed cases, the default of a person other than another ring-fenced body would not result in the ring-fenced body becoming liable to meet, or contribute to the meeting of, pension liabilities arising in connection with persons' service in any employment before the specified date;
 - (c) to the extent that it is not possible to ensure the result mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b), minimising any potential liability falling within paragraph (a) or (b).
- (2) The regulations may make provision enabling the trustees or managers of a relevant pension scheme in respect of which the employer or one of the employers is a ring-fenced body—
 - (a) to transfer to another relevant pension scheme all or part of the pension liabilities arising in connection with persons' service before the specified date together with all or part of the assets of the scheme, or
 - (b) to divide the scheme into two or more sections in relation to which prescribed conditions are met.
- (3) The regulations may make provision—
 - (a) enabling a ring-fenced body to apply to the court in a case where the ring-fenced body has been unable to reach agreement with another person (“P”) about the making of arrangements with P on commercial terms for one or more of the purposes in subsection (1), and
 - (b) enabling the court on such an application to order P to enter into arrangements with the ring-fenced body for those purposes on such terms as the court considers fair and reasonable in the circumstances.
- (4) The regulations must provide that any terms specified by the court by virtue of provision made under subsection (3)—
 - (a) must be terms which, in the court's opinion, represent terms on which the arrangements might be entered into if they were being entered into for commercial reasons between willing parties dealing at arm's length, and
 - (b) may involve the payment of any sum by instalments.
- (5) The regulations may make other provision—
 - (a) about the making by a ring-fenced body of arrangements for one or more of the purposes in subsection (1);
 - (b) about any transfer or division falling within subsection (2).
- (6) The regulations may in particular—

- (a) require a ring-fenced body to cease to participate in a relevant pension scheme unless the scheme is divided into two or more sections in relation to which prescribed conditions are met;
 - (b) provide that assets or liabilities of a relevant pension scheme may not be transferred under the arrangements to another occupational pension scheme unless the other scheme meets prescribed conditions;
 - (c) require ring-fenced bodies to establish new occupational pension schemes in prescribed circumstances;
 - (d) provide that any provision of a relevant pension scheme that might prevent the making of the arrangements, other than a provision requiring the consent of the trustees or managers of the scheme, is not to have effect in prescribed circumstances;
 - (e) make provision enabling the trustees or managers of a relevant pension scheme, with the consent of the employers in relation to the scheme, to modify the scheme by resolution for the purpose of enabling the arrangements to be made;
 - (f) require the trustees or managers of a relevant pension scheme or any employer in relation to a relevant pension scheme to give notice of prescribed matters to prescribed persons;
 - (g) make provision enabling the court, on an application made in accordance with the regulations by a ring-fenced body, if it appears to the court that the trustees or managers of a relevant pension scheme, or an employer in relation to such a scheme, have unreasonably refused their consent to any step that would enable the arrangements to be made, to order that the step may be taken without that consent;
 - (h) confer exemption from any provision of the regulations in prescribed cases;
 - (i) confer functions on the PRA;

- (a) regulations under this section, or
 - (b) any provision made by or under this Part (other than this section) when the provision comes into force.
- (8) A “clearance statement” is a statement issued by the Pensions Regulator under any of the following provisions—
- (a) section 42 of the Pensions Act 2004 (clearance statements relating to contribution notice under section 38);
 - (b) section 46 of that Act (clearance statements relating to financial support directions);

143F Part 9C rules

- (1) In this Act, “Part 9C rules” means rules made, or to be made, by the FCA—
 - (a) in the performance of its duties under section 143C or 143D, or
 - (b) in exercise of the powers conferred by, or described in, section 143E.
- (2) The FCA must publish a list of all Part 9C rules in force in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of people likely to be affected by the rules.
- (3) The FCA's opinion as to whether a rule is a Part 9C rule is conclusive for all purposes.

143G Matters to consider when making Part 9C rules

- (1) When making Part 9C rules, the FCA must, among other things, have regard to—
 - (a) any relevant standards set by an international standard-setting body, ^{F1334}and
 - ^{F1335}(b)
 - ^{F1336}(c)
 - (d) any other matter specified by the Treasury by regulations.
- ^{F1337}(2)
- (3) When making Part 9C rules, the FCA must consider, and consult the Treasury about, the likely effect of the rules on relevant equivalence decisions.
- (4) For the purpose of this section, an equivalence decision is “relevant” if the Treasury have, by notice in writing, informed the FCA that it is relevant for that purpose.
- (5) In this section—

“equivalence decision” means a decision as to whether the law and practice of one country or territory is equivalent to the law and practice of another country or territory, either generally or as it relates to a particular matter;

“territory” includes the European Union and any other international organisation or authority comprising countries or territories.
- (6) This section is subject to section 143I.

143I Exceptions from sections 143G and 143H

- (1) Sections 143G and 143H do not apply where the FCA makes Part 9C rules—
 - (a) in order to comply with a direction given by the Financial Policy Committee of the Bank of England under section 9H of the Bank of England Act 1998 (directions requiring macro-prudential measures), or
 - (b) in order to act in accordance with a recommendation made by that Committee under section 9Q of that Act (recommendations about the exercise of the FCA's functions).
- (2) Section 143H does not apply in relation to Part 9C rules if the FCA considers that the delay involved in complying with that section would be prejudicial to the interests of consumers (as defined in section 425A).
- (3) If the FCA proposes Part 9C rules that change existing Part 9C rules and the changes consist of or include changes which, in the FCA's opinion, are not material—
 - (a) the explanations described in section 143H(1) are not required in relation to the rules to the extent that they make those changes, but
 - (b) the draft of the rules must be accompanied by a statement of the FCA's opinion.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (4) If the FCA makes Part 9C rules that change existing Part 9C rules and the changes consist of or include changes which, in the FCA's opinion, are not material—
 - (a) the summary and explanations described in section 143H(2) are not required in relation to the rules to the extent that they make those changes, but
 - (b) the FCA must publish a statement of its opinion.
- (5) For the purposes of this section, whether a change to Part 9C rules is material is to be determined by the FCA by reference to, among other things, the risks specified in or under section 143C(2) or 143D(2) and the matters specified in or under section 143G(1).

Requirement to have UK parent undertaking

143J Requirement to have UK parent undertaking

- (1) This section applies where—
 - (a) two or more FCA investment firms are subsidiary undertakings of the same parent undertaking,
 - (b) the parent undertaking's head office is in a country or territory outside the United Kingdom, and
 - (c) in the FCA's opinion, the law and practice in the other country or territory does not impose requirements on the parent undertaking which have equivalent effect to requirements imposed by Part 9C rules.
- (2) Where this section applies, the FCA may exercise its power under section 55L(3) to impose a requirement on the FCA investment firms to secure that a parent undertaking with its head office in the United Kingdom is established.

Imposition of requirements on non-authorised parent undertakings

143K Imposition of requirements on non-authorised parent undertakings

- (1) The FCA may, on the application of a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm—
 - (a) impose a requirement on the parent undertaking,
 - (b) vary a requirement imposed on the parent undertaking under this section, or
 - (c) cancel such a requirement.
- (2) The FCA may exercise its power under subsection (3) in relation to a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm if it appears to the FCA that—
 - (a) it is necessary or expedient to do so in order to manage risks specified in or under section 143D(2), and
 - (b) it is desirable to do so in order to advance one or more of its operational objectives.
- (3) The FCA's power under this subsection is a power—
 - (a) to impose a requirement,
 - (b) to vary a requirement imposed under this section, or
 - (c) to cancel such a requirement.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (4) The FCA may refuse an application under subsection (1) if it appears to the FCA that it is desirable to do so in order to advance one or more of the FCA's operational objectives.
- (5) A requirement may, in particular, be imposed under this section—
 - (a) so as to require the parent undertaking to take specified action, or
 - (b) so as to require the parent undertaking to refrain from taking specified action.
- (6) A requirement may be imposed by reference to the parent undertaking's relationship with—
 - (a) its group, or
 - (b) other members of its group.
- (7) A requirement may refer to the past conduct of the parent undertaking (for example, by requiring the parent undertaking to review or take remedial action in respect of past conduct).
- (8) A requirement may be expressed to expire at the end of a specified period, but the imposition of a requirement that expires at the end of a specified period does not affect the FCA's power to impose a new requirement.
- (9) A requirement ceases to be in force if the person on whom it is imposed ceases to be a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm.
- (10) For the purposes of a provision of this section which refers to the FCA's operational objectives, in relation to the exercise of a power in relation to a particular parent undertaking, it does not matter whether there is a relationship between the parent undertaking and the persons whose interests will be protected by the exercise of the power.

143L Applications under section 143K

- (1) An application under section 143K(1) for the imposition or variation of a requirement must contain a statement of the desired requirement or variation.
- (2) An application under section 143K(1)—
 - (a) must be made in such manner as the FCA may direct, and
 - (b) must contain, or be accompanied by, such other information as the FCA may reasonably require.
- (3) At any time after the application is received and before it is determined, the FCA may require the applicant to provide it with such further information as the FCA reasonably considers necessary to enable it to determine the application.
- (4) The FCA may require an applicant to provide information which the applicant is required to provide the FCA under this section in such form, or to verify it in such a way, as the FCA may direct.
- (5) Different directions may be given, and different requirements imposed, in relation to different applications or categories of application.

143M Determination of applications under section 143K

- (1) The FCA must determine an application under section 143K(1)—

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (a) if the application is complete, before the end of the period of six months beginning with the day on which the FCA received the application, or
 - (b) if the application is incomplete, before the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the day on which the FCA received the application.
- (2) The applicant may withdraw the application, by giving the FCA a written notice, at any time before the FCA determines it.
- (3) If the FCA grants an application under section 143K(1), it must give the applicant a written notice.
- (4) The notice must state the date from which the requirement or variation has effect.

143N Refusal of applications under section 143K

- (1) If the FCA proposes to refuse an application under section 143K(1), it must give the applicant a warning notice.
- (2) If the FCA decides to refuse an application under section 143K(1), it must give the applicant a decision notice.

143O Exercise of own-initiative power under section 143K

- (1) The imposition or variation of a requirement by the FCA under section 143K(2) takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice given under subsection (3) states that is the case,
 - (b) on such date as may be specified in the notice, or
 - (c) if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (2) The imposition or variation of the requirement may be expressed to take effect immediately, or on a specified date, only if the FCA reasonably considers that it is necessary for it to take effect immediately or on that date, having regard to the ground on which it is exercising its power under section 143K(2).
- (3) If the FCA—
 - (a) proposes to exercise its power under section 143K(2) so as to impose a requirement on a parent undertaking or to vary a requirement imposed on a parent undertaking, or
 - (b) exercises that power so as to impose a requirement on a parent undertaking, or to vary a requirement imposed on a parent undertaking, with immediate effect, it must give the parent undertaking a written notice.
- (4) The notice must—
 - (a) give details of the requirement or its variation,
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for imposing or varying the requirement,
 - (c) inform the parent undertaking that it may make representations to the FCA within the period specified in the notice (whether or not the parent undertaking has referred the matter to the Tribunal),
 - (d) inform the parent undertaking of when the imposition or variation of the requirement takes effect, and
 - (e) inform the parent undertaking of its right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (5) The FCA may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (6) If, having considered any representations made by the parent undertaking, the FCA decides—
 - (a) to impose the requirement or vary the requirement in the way proposed, or
 - (b) if the requirement has been imposed or varied, not to rescind its imposition or variation, it must give the parent undertaking a written notice.
- (7) A notice under subsection (6) must inform the parent undertaking of its right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (8) If, having considered any representations made by the parent undertaking, the FCA decides—
 - (a) not to impose the requirement or vary the requirement in the way proposed,
 - (b) to impose a different requirement or vary the requirement in a different way, or
 - (c) to rescind a requirement or variation which has effect,
 it must give the parent undertaking a written notice.
- (9) A notice under subsection (8)(b) must comply with subsection (4).
- (10) If a notice under this section informs a person of the person's right to refer a matter to the Tribunal, it must give an indication of the procedure for such a reference.
- (11) For the purposes of subsection (1)(c), whether a matter is open to review is to be determined in accordance with section 391(8).

143P Right to refer matters to the Tribunal

- (1) An applicant who is aggrieved by the determination of an application under section 143K(1) may refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (2) A parent undertaking aggrieved by the exercise by the FCA of its power under section 143K(2) to impose a requirement on the parent undertaking, or vary a requirement imposed on the parent undertaking, may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

143Q Assets requirements

- (1) This section makes provision about a requirement imposed on a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm (“N”) under section 143K—
 - (a) prohibiting the disposal of, or other dealing with, any of N's assets (whether in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) or restricting such disposals or dealings, or
 - (b) requiring that some or all of N's assets, or some or all assets belonging to consumers (as defined in section 1G) but held by N or to N's order, must be transferred to and held by a trustee approved by the FCA.
- (2) If the FCA—
 - (a) imposes a requirement described in subsection (1)(a), and
 - (b) gives notice of the requirement to an institution with whom N keeps an account, the notice has the effects set out in subsection (3).
- (3) Those effects are that—

- (a) the institution does not act in breach of a contract with N if, having been instructed by N (or on N's behalf) to transfer a sum or otherwise make a payment out of N's account, it refuses to do so in the reasonably held belief that complying with the instruction would be incompatible with the requirement, and
 - (b) if the institution complies with such an instruction, it is liable to pay to the FCA an amount equal to the amount transferred from, or otherwise paid out of, N's account in contravention of the requirement.
- (4) If the FCA imposes a requirement described in subsection (1)(b), no assets held by a person as trustee in accordance with the requirement may, while the requirement is in force, be released or dealt with except with the consent of the FCA.
- (5) If, while a requirement described in subsection (1)(b) is in force, N creates a charge over any assets of N held in accordance with the requirement, the charge is (to the extent that it confers security over the assets) void against the liquidator and N's creditors.
- (6) Assets held by a person as trustee are to be taken to be held by the trustee in accordance with a requirement mentioned in subsection (1)(b) only if—
- (a) N has given the trustee a written notice that those assets are to be held by the trustee in accordance with the requirement, or
 - (b) they are assets into which assets to which paragraph (a) applies have been transposed by the trustee on the instruction of N.
- (7) A person who contravenes subsection (4) commits an offence and is liable—
- (a) on summary conviction in England and Wales, to a fine;
 - (b) on summary conviction in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale.
- (8) In this section, references to imposing a requirement (however expressed) include imposing a requirement by varying an existing requirement.
- (9) In this paragraph, “charge” includes a mortgage (or, in Scotland, a security over property).
- (10) Subsections (4) and (6) do not affect any equitable interest or remedy in favour of a person who is a beneficiary of a trust as a result of a requirement described in subsection (1)(b).

Control of managers etc of non-authorized parent undertakings

143R Managers of non-authorized parent undertakings

A non-authorized parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm must take reasonable care to ensure that members of its management body—

- (a) are of sufficiently good repute, and
- (b) possess sufficient knowledge, skills and experience to perform their duties effectively.

143S Part 9C prohibition orders

- (1) Subsection (2) applies where it appears to the FCA that an individual—

- (a) is not of sufficiently good repute, or
 - (b) does not possess sufficient knowledge, skills and experience,
- to perform a function in relation to an activity carried on by a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm.
- (2) The FCA may make an order (“a Part 9C prohibition order”) prohibiting the individual from performing the function.
- (3) A Part 9C prohibition order may relate to—
- (a) all functions in relation to an activity carried on by a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm, or
 - (b) a function specified in the order or of a description specified in the order.
- (4) A Part 9C prohibition order may relate to—
- (a) all activities of a non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm, or
 - (b) an activity specified in the order or of a description specified in the order.
- (5) A Part 9C prohibition order may relate to—
- (a) all non-authorised parent undertakings of FCA investment firms, or
 - (b) an undertaking specified, or within a description specified, in the order.
- (6) A non-authorised parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm must take reasonable care to ensure that none of its functions is performed by a person who is prohibited from performing that function by a Part 9C prohibition order.

143T Procedure for making a Part 9C prohibition order

- (1) If the FCA proposes to make a Part 9C prohibition order it must give the individual to whom the order would apply a warning notice.
- (2) The warning notice must set out the terms of the prohibition.
- (3) If the FCA decides to make a Part 9C prohibition order it must give the individual to whom the order applies a decision notice.
- (4) The decision notice must—
 - (a) name the individual to whom the Part 9C prohibition order applies, and
 - (b) set out the terms of the order.
- (5) If the FCA decides to make a Part 9C prohibition order, the individual to whom the order applies may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

143U Varying and withdrawing a Part 9C prohibition order

- (1) The FCA may vary or revoke a Part 9C prohibition order on the application of the individual named in the order.
- (2) On an application for the variation or revocation of a Part 9C prohibition order—
 - (a) if the FCA decides to grant the application, it must give the applicant written notice of its decision,
 - (b) if the FCA proposes to refuse the application, it must give the applicant a warning notice, and

- (c) if the FCA decides to refuse the application, it must give the applicant a decision notice.
- (3) If the FCA gives the applicant a decision notice under subsection (2)(c), the applicant may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

143V Offence of breaching a Part 9C prohibition order

- (1) An individual who performs a function, or agrees to perform a function, in breach of a Part 9C prohibition order commits an offence.
- (2) An individual who commits an offence under this section is liable—
 - (a) on summary conviction in England and Wales, to a fine, and
 - (b) on summary conviction in Scotland or Northern Ireland, to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale.
- (3) In proceedings for an offence under this section, it is a defence for the individual to show that they took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid committing the offence.

Disciplinary measures for non-authorized parent undertakings

143W Disciplinary measures

- (1) This section applies if the FCA is satisfied that a non-authorized parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm has contravened—
 - (a) a provision of Part 9C rules,
 - (b) a requirement imposed under section 143K,
 - (c) section 143R, or
 - (d) section 143S(6).
- (2) The FCA may impose a penalty of such amount as it considers appropriate on any of the following—
 - (a) the non-authorized parent undertaking;
 - (b) a person who was knowingly concerned in the contravention.
- (3) The FCA may (instead of or in addition to imposing a penalty under subsection (2)) publish a statement to the effect that the person has contravened, or been knowingly concerned in a contravention of, a provision of Part 9C rules.
- (4) Subsection (5) applies to—
 - (a) a member of the management body of the non-authorized parent undertaking, or
 - (b) a person not falling within paragraph (a) who is an employee of the non-authorized parent undertaking,who was, at any time, knowingly concerned in the contravention.
- (5) The FCA may impose, for such period as it considers appropriate, restrictions (including a ban) on the exercise by the person of functions of an FCA investment firm or a parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm.
- (6) The FCA may—

- (a) vary a restriction imposed under subsection (5) so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect, or
 - (b) cancel the restriction.
- (7) The FCA may not take action against a person under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the person under section 143X.
- (8) In subsection (7), “the limitation period” means the period of six years beginning with the first day on which the FCA knew of the contravention.
- (9) For the purpose of subsection (8), the FCA is to be treated as knowing of a contravention if it has information from which the contravention can reasonably be inferred.
- (10) In this section, “management body” means the board of directors or, if there is no such board, the equivalent body responsible for the management of the undertaking concerned.
- (11) The reference in subsection (4) to an employee of a person (“P”) includes a person who—
- (a) personally provides, or is under an obligation personally to provide, services to P under an arrangement made between P and the person providing the services or another person, and
 - (b) is subject to (or to the right of) supervision, direction or control by P as to the manner in which those services are provided.

143X Procedure for disciplinary measures

- (1) If the FCA proposes to take action against a person under section 143W(2), (3) or (5) it must give the person a warning notice.
- (2) A warning notice about a proposal to impose a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (3) A warning notice about a proposal to publish a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (4) A warning notice about a proposal to impose a restriction under section 143W(5) must state—
 - (a) the terms of the restriction, and
 - (b) the period for which the restriction is to have effect.
- (5) If the FCA decides to take action against a person under section 143W(2), (3) or (5) it must give the person a decision notice.
- (6) A decision notice about the imposition of a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (7) A decision notice about the publication of a statement must state the terms of the statement.
- (8) After the statement is published, the FCA must send a copy of the statement to—
 - (a) the person in respect of whom it is made, and

- (b) any person to whom a copy of the decision notice was given under section 393(4).
- (9) A decision notice about the imposition of a restriction under section 143W(5) must state—
 - (a) the terms of the restriction, and
 - (b) the period for which the restriction is to have effect.
- (10) If the FCA decides to take action against a person under section 143W(2), (3) or (5), the person may refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (11) If the FCA decides to vary or cancel a restriction under section 143W(6), it must give written notice of its decision to the applicant.

143Y Statement of policy for penalties under section 143W

- (1) The FCA must prepare and issue a statement of policy with respect to—
 - (a) the imposition of penalties under section 143W, and
 - (b) the amount of penalties under that section.
- (2) The FCA's policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention,
 - (b) the extent to which the contravention was deliberate or reckless, and
 - (c) whether the person on whom the penalty is to be imposed is an individual.
- (3) The FCA may at any time alter or replace a statement issued under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or replaced, the FCA must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) In exercising, or deciding whether to exercise, a power under section 143W(2) in the case of any particular contravention, the FCA must have regard to any statement of policy published under this section and in force at a time when the contravention occurred.
- (6) A statement under this section must be published by the FCA in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The FCA must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.
- (8) The FCA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a statement published under this section.

143Z Procedure for statement of policy

- (1) Before issuing a statement of policy under section 143Y, the FCA must publish a draft of the proposed statement in the way appearing to the FCA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by notice that representations about the proposal may be made to the FCA within a specified time.

- (3) Before issuing the proposed statement, the FCA must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2).
- (4) If the FCA issues the proposed statement, it must publish an account in general terms of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2), and
 - (b) its response to them.
- (5) If the statement differs from the draft published under subsection (1) in a way which is, in the FCA's opinion, significant, the FCA must publish details of the difference (in addition to complying with subsection (4)).
- (6) The FCA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published under subsection (1).
- (7) This section also applies to a proposal to alter or replace a statement.]

Interpretation

144A CRR rules

- (1) In this Act, “CRR rules” means rules of a type described in subsection (2) to the extent that they make provision about a matter described in subsection (3).
- (2) The types of rules are—
 - (a) general rules made, or to be made, by the PRA applying to CRR firms or a description of CRR firm;
 - (b) rules made, or to be made, under section 192XA.
- (3) The matters are any matter that is the subject of—
 - (a) a relevant provision of the capital requirements regulation, or
 - (b) a CRR Basel standard.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3)(a), a provision is “relevant” if—
 - (a) it has been or may be revoked by regulations made under section 3(1) of the Financial Services Act 2021, or
 - (b) it has been revoked by regulations made under section 3(3) or (5) of that Act.
- (5) In subsection (3)—
 - (a) the reference to a matter that is the subject of a provision of the capital requirements regulation includes a matter that is the subject of an instrument made under the provision, and

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (b) the reference to a matter that is the subject of a CRR Basel standard includes such a matter as it relates to any CRR firm (even where the standard in question does not apply to all CRR firms).

144B Terms used in this Part

- (1) In this Part—

“CRR Basel standard” has the meaning given in section 4 of the Financial Services Act 2021;

“CRR firm” has the same meaning as in the capital requirements regulation;

“EU tertiary legislation” has the meaning given in section 20 of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018.

- (2) In this Part, references to instruments made under the capital requirements regulation include EU tertiary legislation made under that regulation which forms part of [^{F1339}assimilated] law.

Making CRR rules

144C Matters to consider when making CRR rules

- (1) When making CRR rules, the PRA must, among other things, have regard to—
- relevant standards recommended by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision from time to time,
 - the likely effect of the rules on the relative standing of the United Kingdom as a place for internationally active credit institutions and investment firms to be based or to carry on activities,
 - the likely effect of the rules on the ability of CRR firms to continue to provide finance to businesses and consumers in the United Kingdom on a sustainable basis in the medium and long term,
 - the target in section 1 of the Climate Change Act 2008 (carbon target for 2050), and
 - any other matter specified by the Treasury by regulations.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b), the PRA must consider the United Kingdom's standing in relation to the other countries and territories in which, in its opinion, internationally active credit institutions and investment firms are most likely to choose to be based or carry on activities.
- (3) When making CRR rules, the PRA must consider, and consult the Treasury about, the likely effect of the rules on relevant equivalence decisions.
- (4) For the purpose of this section, an equivalence decision is “relevant” if the Treasury have, by notice in writing, informed the PRA that it is relevant for that purpose.
- (5) In this section—

C587 S. 144C modified (temp.) (22.8.2023) by The Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 \(Commencement No. 2 and Transitional Provisions\) Regulations 2023 \(S.I. 2023/936\), reg. 5

144D Explanation to accompany consultation on CRR rules

(1) A draft of proposed CRR rules published in accordance with section 138J(1)(b) must be accompanied by an explanation of the ways in which having regard to the matters specified in or under section 144C(1) has affected the proposed rules (as well as being accompanied by the information listed in section 138J(2)).

(2) If the PRA makes the proposed CRR rules, it must publish—

- (a) a summary of the purpose of the proposed rules, and
- (b) an explanation complying with subsection (1),

(as well as the information required by section 138J(4) and (5)).

(3) This section is subject to section 144E.

144E Exceptions from sections 144C and 144D etc

(1) Sections 144C and 144D do not apply where the PRA makes CRR rules—

- (a) in order to comply with a direction given by the Financial Policy Committee of the Bank of England under section 9H of the Bank of England Act 1998 (directions requiring macro-prudential measures), or
- (b) in order to act in accordance with a recommendation made by that Committee under section 9Q of that Act (recommendations about the exercise of the PRA's functions).

(2) Section 144C does not apply where the PRA makes CRR rules to the extent that they make provision (“CRR restatement provision”) reproducing without any changes which, in the PRA's opinion, are material—

- (a) a provision of the capital requirements regulation as it had effect immediately before it was revoked by regulations made under section 3 of the Financial Services Act 2021, or
 - (b) a provision of an instrument made under the capital requirements regulation as it had effect immediately before it was revoked by such regulations.
- (3) The following do not apply in relation to CRR rules to the extent that they make CRR restatement provision—
- (a) section 138J, other than subsection (1)(a),
 - (b) section 138K, and
 - (c) section 144D,
- but, if it makes rules making such provision, the PRA must publish a statement of which provisions of the capital requirements regulation, or of the instrument made under that regulation, are reproduced and what changes (if any) are made.
- (4) Section 144D does not apply in relation to CRR rules if the PRA considers that the delay involved in complying with that section would be prejudicial to the safety and soundness of PRA-authorised persons.
- (5) If the PRA proposes CRR rules that change existing CRR rules and the changes consist of or include changes which, in the PRA's opinion, are not material—
- (a) the explanation described in section 144D(1) is not required in relation to the rules to the extent that they make those changes, but
 - (b) the draft of the rules must be accompanied by a statement of the PRA's opinion.
- (6) If the PRA makes CRR rules that change existing CRR rules and the changes consist of or include changes which, in the PRA's opinion, are not material—
- (a) the summary and explanation described in section 144D(2) are not required in relation to the rules to the extent that they make those changes, but
 - (b) the PRA must publish a statement of its opinion.
- (7) For the purposes of this section, whether a change is material is to be determined by the PRA by reference to, among other things, the matters specified in or under section 144C(1).

Content of CRR rules

144G Disapplication or modification of CRR rules in individual cases

- (1) This section applies to a CRR rule if, or to the extent that, CRR rules provide for it to apply to the rule.
- (2) The PRA may, on the application of or with the consent of a person who is subject to CRR rules, give the person a permission that enables the person—
 - (a) not to apply the CRR rule, or
 - (b) to apply the CRR rule with the modifications specified in the permission.
- (3) The PRA may—
 - (a) give permission under this section subject to conditions, and
 - (b) revoke or vary permission under this section.

144H Relationship with the capital requirements regulation

- (1) CRR rules may make provision by reference to the capital requirements regulation, to an instrument made under the capital requirements regulation or to Directive 2013/36/EU UK law, as amended from time to time.
- ^{F1338}(2)
- (3) In this section, “Directive 2013/36/EU UK law” means the law of the United Kingdom which was relied on immediately before [^{F1341}1 January 2022] to implement the capital requirements directive and its implementing measures as it has effect—
 - (a) on IP completion day, in the case of rules made by the PRA or the FCA under this Act, and
 - (b) as amended from time to time, in all other cases.

165C Orders under section 165A(2)(d)

^{F1378}(1) The Treasury may make an order under section 165A(2)(d) only if either or both of the following conditions is met in relation to the provision made by the order.

(1A) Condition A is that the Treasury consider that—

(a) the activities carried on by the prescribed person or persons of the prescribed description, or the way in which those activities (or any part of them) are carried on, or

(b) any failure to carry on those activities (or any part of them), pose, or would be likely to pose, a serious threat to the stability of the UK financial system.

(1B) Condition B is that the provision implements all or part of a recommendation made by the Financial Policy Committee of the Bank of England under section 9P of the Bank of England Act 1998.]

(2) Subject as follows, an order under section 165A(2)(d) may not be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply in any case where the Treasury are satisfied that it is necessary to make an order under section 165A(2)(d) without laying a draft for approval.

(4) In that case, the order—

(a) must be laid before Parliament after being made; and

(b) ceases to have effect at the end of the relevant period unless before the end of that period it is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.

(5) If an order ceases to have effect as a result of subsection (4)(b) that does not affect—

(a) anything done under it; or

(b) the power to make a new one.

(6) “Relevant period” means a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the order is made.

(7) In calculating the relevant period no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than four days.

(8) If a statutory instrument containing an order under section 165A(2)(d) would, apart from this subsection, be treated as a hybrid instrument for the purposes of the Standing Orders of either House of Parliament, it is to proceed in that House as if it were not a hybrid instrument.]

[^{F1379}166] Reports by skilled persons.

- (1) This section applies where either regulator has required or could require a person to whom subsection (2) applies (“the person concerned”) to provide information or produce documents with respect to any matter (“the matter concerned”).
- (2) This subsection applies to—
 - (a) an authorised person (“A”),
 - (b) any other member of A's group,
 - (c) a partnership of which A is a member, or
 - (d) a person who has at any relevant time been a person falling within paragraph (a), (b) or (c),who is, or was at the relevant time, carrying on a business.
- (3) The regulator mentioned in subsection (1) may either—
 - (a) by notice in writing given to the person concerned, require the person concerned to provide the regulator with a report on the matter concerned, or
 - (b) itself appoint a person to provide the regulator with a report on the matter concerned.
- (4) When acting under subsection (3)(a), the regulator may require the report to be in such form as may be specified in the notice.
- (5) The regulator must give notice of an appointment under subsection (3)(b) to the person concerned.
- (6) The person appointed to make a report—
 - (a) must be a person appearing to the regulator to have the skills necessary to make a report on the matter concerned, and
 - (b) where the appointment is to be made by the person concerned, must be a person nominated or approved by the regulator.
- (7) It is the duty of—
 - (a) the person concerned, and
 - (b) any person who is providing (or who has at any time provided) services to the person concerned in relation to the matter concerned,to give the person appointed to prepare a report all such assistance as the appointed person may reasonably require.
- (8) The obligation imposed by subsection (7) is enforceable, on the application of the regulator in question, by an injunction or, in Scotland, by an order for specific performance under section 45 of the Court of Session Act 1988.
- (9) A regulator may make rules providing for expenses incurred by it in relation to an appointment under subsection (3)(b) to be payable as a fee by the person concerned.

^{F1383} 166 Appointment of skilled person to collect and update information

- (1) This section applies if either regulator considers that an authorised person has contravened a requirement in rules made by that regulator to collect, and keep up to date, information of a description specified in the rules.
- (2) The regulator may either—
 - (a) require the authorised person to appoint a skilled person to collect or update the information, or
 - (b) itself appoint a skilled person to do so.
- (3) References in this section to a skilled person are to a person—
 - (a) appearing to the regulator to have the skills necessary to collect or update the information in question, and
 - (b) where the appointment is to be made by the authorised person, nominated or approved by the regulator.
- (4) The regulator must give notice of an appointment under subsection (2)(b) to the authorised person.
- (5) The skilled person may require any person to provide all such assistance as the skilled person may reasonably require to collect or update the information in question.
- (6) A requirement imposed under subsection (5) is enforceable, on the application of the regulator in question, by an injunction or, in Scotland, by an order for specific performance under section 45 of the Court of Session Act 1988.
- (7) A contractual or other requirement imposed on a person (“P”) to keep any information in confidence does not apply if—
 - (a) the information is or may be relevant to anything required to be done as a result of this section,
 - (b) an authorised person or a skilled person requests or requires P to provide the information for the purpose of securing that those things are done, and
 - (c) the regulator in question has approved the making of the request or the imposition of the requirement before it is made or imposed.

- (2) An investigator has the same powers as an investigator appointed under section 168(3) (as a result of subsection (1) of that section).
- [^{F1436}(2A) But where the investigator is—
- (a) appointed by the FCA, and
 - (b) the appointment is in response to a request to the FCA to investigate a possible contravention by a person of Article 14 (prohibition of insider dealing and of unlawful disclosure of inside information) or Article 15 (prohibition of market manipulation) of the market abuse regulation,
- the investigator has the same powers as an investigator appointed under section 168(3) (as a result of subsection (2) of that section).]
- ^{F1437}(3)
- (4) In deciding whether or not to exercise its investigative power, the [^{F1438}regulator] may take into account in particular—
- (a) whether in the country or territory of the overseas regulator concerned, corresponding assistance would be given to a United Kingdom regulatory authority;
 - (b) whether the case concerns the breach of a law, or other requirement, which has no close parallel in the United Kingdom or involves the assertion of a jurisdiction not recognised by the United Kingdom;
 - (c) the seriousness of the case and its importance to persons in the United Kingdom;
 - (d) whether it is otherwise appropriate in the public interest to give the assistance sought.
- (5) The [^{F1439}regulator] may decide that it will not exercise its investigative power unless the overseas regulator undertakes to make such contribution towards the cost of its exercise as the [^{F1439}regulator] considers appropriate.
- ^{F1437}(6)
- (7) If [^{F1440}a regulator] has appointed an investigator in response to a request from an overseas regulator, it may direct the investigator to permit a representative of that regulator to attend, and take part in, any interview conducted for the purposes of the investigation.
- (8) A direction under subsection (7) is not to be given unless the [^{F1441}regulator] is satisfied that any information obtained by an overseas regulator as a result of the interview will be subject to safeguards equivalent to those contained in Part XXIII.
- (9) [^{F1442}Each regulator] must prepare a statement of its policy with respect to the conduct of interviews in relation to which a direction under subsection (7) has been given.
- (10) The statement requires the approval of the Treasury.
- (11) If the Treasury approve the statement, the [^{F1443}regulator] must publish it.
- (12) No direction may be given under subsection (7) before the statement has been published.
- (13) “Overseas regulator” has the same meaning as in section 195.
- (14) “Investigative power” means one of the powers mentioned in subsection (1).

- (2) An “overseas regulator” means an authority in a country or territory outside the United Kingdom which exercises functions with respect to the stability of the financial system operating in that country or territory.
- (3) A “corresponding section 165A power” means a power corresponding to the one conferred by section 165A, but reading references in that section to the stability of the UK financial system as references to the stability of the financial system operating in the country or territory of the overseas regulator.
- (4) The following provisions apply in relation to the exercise of the corresponding section 165A power—
 - (a) section 165B(1) to (5); and
 - (b) section ^{F1446}169(4)(a) and (d) and (5)].
- (5) In this section “the financial system” includes—
 - (a) financial markets and exchanges;
 - (b) activities that would be regulated activities if carried on in the United Kingdom; and
 - (c) other activities connected with financial markets and exchanges.]

Conduct of investigations

170 Investigations: general.

- (1) This section applies if an investigating authority appoints one or more competent persons (“investigators”) under section 167 or 168(3) or (5) to conduct an investigation on its behalf.
- (2) The investigating authority must give written notice of the appointment of an investigator to the person who is the subject of the investigation (“the person under investigation”).
- (3) Subsections (2) and (9) do not apply if—
 - (a) the investigator is appointed as a result of section 168(1) or (4) and the investigating authority believes that the notice required by subsection (2) or (9) would be likely to result in the investigation being frustrated; or
 - (b) the investigator is appointed as a result of subsection (2) of section 168.
- (4) A notice under subsection (2) must—
 - (a) specify the provisions under which, and as a result of which, the investigator was appointed; and
 - (b) state the reason for his appointment.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (5) Nothing prevents the investigating authority from appointing a person who is a member of its staff as an investigator.
- (6) An investigator must make a report of his investigation to the investigating authority.
- (7) The investigating authority may, by a direction to an investigator, control—
- (a) the scope of the investigation;
 - (b) the period during which the investigation is to be conducted;
 - (c) the conduct of the investigation; and
 - (d) the reporting of the investigation.
- (8) A direction may, in particular—
- (a) confine the investigation to particular matters;
 - (b) extend the investigation to additional matters;
 - (c) require the investigator to discontinue the investigation or to take only such steps as are specified in the direction;
 - (d) require the investigator to make such interim reports as are so specified.
- (9) If there is a change in the scope or conduct of the investigation and, in the opinion of the investigating authority, the person subject to investigation is likely to be significantly prejudiced by not being made aware of it, that person must be given written notice of the change.
- (10) “Investigating authority”, in relation to an investigator, means—
- [^{F1447}(a) the FCA, if the FCA appointed the investigator;
 - (aa) the PRA, if the PRA appointed the investigator;
 - (b) the Secretary of State, if the Secretary of State appointed the investigator.]

171 Powers of persons appointed under section 167.

- (1) ^{F1448} An investigator may require a person to whom subsection (1A) applies—
- (a) to attend before the investigator at a specified time and place and answer questions; or
 - (b) otherwise to provide such information as the investigator may require.

^{F1449}(1A) This subsection applies to the following persons—

- (a) the person who is the subject of the investigation (“the person under investigation”);
- (b) any person connected with the person under investigation;
- (c) where the person under investigation is an FCA investment firm, a person who provides, or has provided, a service to the firm or to a relevant parent undertaking of the firm;
- (d) where the person under investigation is a relevant parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm, a person who provides, or has provided, a service to the parent undertaking or to the firm.]

(2) An investigator may also require any person to produce at a specified time and place any specified documents or documents of a specified description.

(3) A requirement under subsection (1) or (2) may be imposed only so far as the investigator concerned reasonably considers the question, provision of information or production of the document to be relevant to the purposes of the investigation.

^{F1450}(3A) Where the investigation relates to a recognised investment exchange, an investigator has the additional powers conferred by sections 172 and 173 (and for this purpose references in those sections to an investigator are to be read accordingly).]

(4) For the purposes of this section and section 172, a person is connected with the person under investigation (“A”) if he is or has at any relevant time been—

- (a) a member of A’s group;
- (b) a controller of A;
- (c) a partnership of which A is a member; or
- (d) in relation to A, a person mentioned in Part I or II of Schedule 15.

(5) “Investigator” means a person conducting an investigation under section 167.

(6) “Specified” means specified in a notice in writing.

^{F1451}(7) The reference in subsection (3A) to a recognised investment exchange does not include a reference to an overseas investment exchange (as defined by section 313(1)).]

175 Information and documents: supplemental provisions.

(1) If [^{F1456}either regulator] or an investigator has power under this Part to require a person to produce a document but it appears that the document is in the possession of a third person, that power may be exercised in relation to the third person.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - (2) If a document is produced in response to a requirement imposed under this Part, the person to whom it is produced may—
- (a) take copies or extracts from the document; or
 - (b) require the person producing the document, or any relevant person, to provide an explanation of the document.
- [^{F1457}(2A) A document so produced may be retained for so long as the person to whom it is produced considers that it is necessary to retain it (rather than copies of it) for the purposes for which the document was requested.
- (2B) If the person to whom a document is so produced has reasonable grounds for believing—
- (a) that the document may have to be produced for the purposes of any legal proceedings, and
 - (b) that it might otherwise be unavailable for those purposes,
- it may be retained until the proceedings are concluded.]
- (3) If a person who is required under this Part to produce a document fails to do so, the [^{F1458}regulator] or an investigator may require him to state, to the best of his knowledge and belief, where the document is.
- (4) A lawyer may be required under this Part to furnish the name and address of his client.
- (5) No person may be required under this Part to disclose information or produce a document in respect of which he owes an obligation of confidence by virtue of carrying on the business of banking unless—
- (a) he is the person under investigation or a member of that person’s group;
 - (b) the person to whom the obligation of confidence is owed is the person under investigation or a member of that person’s group;
 - (c) the person to whom the obligation of confidence is owed consents to the disclosure or production; or
 - (d) the imposing on him of a requirement with respect to such information or document has been specifically authorised by the investigating authority.
- [^{F1459}(5A) Nothing in this Part is to be read as enabling a person to secure the disclosure by a telecommunications operator or postal operator of communications data without the consent of the operator.
- (5B) In subsection (5A) “communications data”, “postal operator” and “telecommunications operator” have the same meanings as in the Investigatory Powers Act 2016 (see sections 261 and 262 of that Act).]
- (6) If a person claims a lien on a document, its production under this Part does not affect the lien.
- (7) “Relevant person”, in relation to a person who is required to produce a document, means a person who—
- (a) has been or is or is proposed to be a director or controller of that person;
 - (b) has been or is an auditor of that person;
 - (c) has been or is an actuary, accountant or lawyer appointed or instructed by that person; or
 - (d) has been or is an employee of that person.

176 Entry of premises under warrant.

- (1) A justice of the peace may issue a warrant under this section if satisfied on information on oath given by or on behalf of the Secretary of State, [^{F1460}either regulator] or an investigator that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the first, second or third set of conditions is satisfied.
 - (2) The first set of conditions is—
 - (a) that a person on whom an information requirement has been imposed has failed (wholly or in part) to comply with it; and
 - (b) that on the premises specified in the warrant—
 - (i) there are documents which have been required; or
 - (ii) there is information which has been required.
 - (3) The second set of conditions is—
 - (a) that the premises specified in the warrant are premises of [^{F1461}a person to whom subsection (3A) applies];
 - (b) that there are on the premises documents or information in relation to which an information requirement could be imposed; and
 - (c) that if such a requirement were to be imposed—
 - (i) it would not be complied with; or
 - (ii) the documents or information to which it related would be removed, tampered with or destroyed.
- [^{F1462}(3A) This subsection applies to the following persons—
- (a) an authorised person;
 - (b) an appointed representative;
 - (c) a relevant parent undertaking of an FCA investment firm;
 - (d) a person who provides a service to an FCA investment firm or to a relevant parent undertaking of such a firm.]
- (4) The third set of conditions is—
 - (a) that an offence mentioned in section 168 for which the maximum sentence on conviction on indictment is two years or more has been (or is being) committed by any person;
 - (b) that there are on the premises specified in the warrant documents or information relevant to whether that offence has been (or is being) committed;
 - (c) that an information requirement could be imposed in relation to those documents or information; and
 - (d) that if such a requirement were to be imposed—
 - (i) it would not be complied with; or
 - (ii) the documents or information to which it related would be removed, tampered with or destroyed.
 - (5) A warrant under this section shall authorise a constable—
 - (a) to enter the premises specified in the warrant;

- (b) to search the premises and take possession of any documents or information appearing to be documents or information of a kind in respect of which a warrant under this section was issued (“the relevant kind”) or to take, in relation to any such documents or information, any other steps which may appear to be necessary for preserving them or preventing interference with them;
- (c) to take copies of, or extracts from, any documents or information appearing to be of the relevant kind;
- (d) to require any person on the premises to provide an explanation of any document or information appearing to be of the relevant kind or to state where it may be found; and
- (e) to use such force as may be reasonably necessary.

[^{F1463}(5A) A warrant under this section may be executed by any constable.

(5B) The warrant may authorise persons to accompany any constable who is executing it.

(5C) The powers in subsection (5) may be exercised by a person authorised by the warrant to accompany a constable; but that person may exercise those powers only in the company of, and under the supervision of, a constable.]

(6) In England and Wales, sections 15(5) to (8) and section [^{F1464}16(3) to (12)] of the ^{M11}Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 (execution of search warrants and safeguards) apply to warrants issued under this section.

(7) In Northern Ireland, Articles 17(5) to (8) and [^{F1465}18(3) to (12)] of the ^{M12}Police and Criminal Evidence (Northern Ireland) Order 1989 apply to warrants issued under this section.

^{F1466}(8)

(9) In the application of this section to Scotland—

- (a) for the references to a justice of the peace substitute references to a justice of the peace or a sheriff; and
- (b) for the references to information on oath substitute references to evidence on oath.

(10) “Investigator” means a person appointed under section 167 or 168(3) or (5).

(11) “Information requirement” means a requirement imposed—

- (a) by [^{F1467}a regulator] under section [^{F1468}[^{F1469}87C, 87J,]] 165 [^{F1470}, 165A, 169A] or 175; [^{F1471}or]
- [^{F1472}(aa) by the FCA under regulation 26, 28 or 33 of the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024; or]
- (b) by an investigator under section 171, 172, 173 or 175.

[^{F1473} 176A Retention of documents taken under section 176

- (1) Any document of which possession is taken under section 176 (“a seized document”) may be retained so long as it is necessary to retain it (rather than copies of it) in the circumstances.
- (2) A person claiming to be the owner of a seized document may apply to a magistrates' court or (in Scotland) the sheriff for an order for the delivery of the document to the person appearing to the court or sheriff to be the owner.
- (3) If on an application under subsection (2) the court or (in Scotland) the sheriff cannot ascertain who is the owner of the seized document the court or sheriff (as the case may be) may make such order as the court or sheriff thinks fit.
- (4) An order under subsection (2) or (3) does not affect the right of any person to take legal proceedings against any person in possession of a seized document for the recovery of the document.
- (5) Any right to bring proceedings (as described in subsection (4)) may only be exercised within 6 months of the date of the order made under subsection (2) or (3).]

Offences

177 Offences.

- (1) If a person other than the investigator (“the defaulter”) fails to comply with a requirement imposed on him under this Part the person imposing the requirement may certify that fact in writing to the court.
- (2) If the court is satisfied that the defaulter failed without reasonable excuse to comply with the requirement, it may deal with the defaulter (and in the case of a body corporate, any director or [^{F1474}other] officer) as if he were in contempt [^{F1475}; and “officer”, in relation to a limited liability partnership, means a member of the limited liability partnership.].
- (3) A person who knows or suspects that an investigation is being or is likely to be conducted under this Part is guilty of an offence if—
 - (a) he falsifies, conceals, destroys or otherwise disposes of a document which he knows or suspects is or would be relevant to such an investigation, or
 - (b) he causes or permits the falsification, concealment, destruction or disposal of such a document, unless he shows that he had no intention of concealing facts disclosed by the documents from the investigator.
- (4) A person who, in purported compliance with a requirement imposed on him under this Part—
 - (a) provides information which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular, or
 - (b) recklessly provides information which is false or misleading in a material particular, is guilty of an offence.
- (5) A person guilty of an offence under subsection (3) or (4) is liable—
 - (a) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, or both;
 - (b) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or both.
- (6) Any person who intentionally obstructs the exercise of any rights conferred by a warrant under section 176 is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction

^{F1478}Notices of acquisitions of control over UK authorised persons

Textual Amendments

F1478 Ss. 178-191G and cross-headings substituted (21.3.2009) for ss. 178-191 and cross-headings by The Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 \(Controllers\) Regulations 2009 \(S.I. 2009/534\), reg. 3, Sch. 1 (with reg. 8)

^{X2}178 Obligation to notify the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator]: acquisitions of control

- (1) A person who decides to acquire or increase control over a UK authorised person must give the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] notice in writing before making the acquisition.
- (2) For the purposes of calculations relating to this section, the holding of shares or voting power by a person (“A1”) includes any shares or voting power held by another (“A2”) if A1 and A2 are acting in concert.

^{F1480}(2ZA) [This section does not apply if the only regulated activity for which the UK authorised person has a Part 4A permission is the regulated activity specified in article 63S of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001 (administering a benchmark).]

[In this Part, “the appropriate regulator” means—

- ^{F1481}(2A) (a) where the UK authorised person is a PRA-authorised person, the PRA;
(b) in any other case, the FCA.]

- (3) In this Part, a notice given under this section is a “section 178 notice” and a person giving notice is a “section 178 notice-giver”.

Editorial Information

X2 The substitution of ss. 178-191G for ss. 178-191 on 21.3.2009 which involves the insertion of several new headings in Pt. XII gives rise to a change in the structure of this legislation on SLD which breaks the continuity of historical versions of the existing provisions which are now brought under those new headings.

Assessment procedure

^{x9}185 Assessment: general

- (1) Where the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] receives a section 178 notice, it must—
 - (a) determine whether to approve the acquisition to which it relates unconditionally; or
 - (b) propose to—
 - (i) approve the acquisition subject to conditions (see section 187); or
 - (ii) object to the acquisition.
- (2) The [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] must—
 - (a) consider the suitability of the section 178 notice-giver and the financial soundness of the acquisition in order to ensure the sound and prudent management of the UK authorised person;
 - (b) have regard to the likely influence that the section 178 notice-giver will have on the UK authorised person; and
 - (c) disregard the economic needs of the market.
- (3) The [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] may only object to an acquisition—
 - (a) if there are reasonable grounds for doing so on the basis of the matters set out in section 186; or
 - (b) if the information provided by the section 178 notice-giver is incomplete.

“banking group company” has the meaning given in section 81D of [^{F1512}the Banking Act 2009].]

- (2) The assessment period may be interrupted, no more than once, in accordance with section 190.
- (3) The [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] must inform the section 178 notice-giver in writing of—
(a) the duration of the assessment period;
(b) its expiry date; and
(c) any change to the expiry date by virtue of section 190.
- (4) The [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] must, within two working days of acting under section 185 (and in any event no later than the expiry date of the assessment period)—
(a) notify the section 178 notice-giver that it has determined to approve the acquisition unconditionally; or
(b) give a warning notice stating that it proposes to—
(i) approve the acquisition subject to conditions; or
(ii) object to the acquisition.
- (5) Where the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] gives a warning notice stating that it proposes to approve the acquisition subject to conditions—
(a) it must, in the warning notice, specify those conditions; and
(b) the conditions take effect as interim conditions.

- (6) [^{F1513}Unless section 190A applies] the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] is treated as having approved the acquisition if, at the expiry of the assessment period, it has neither—
- (a) given notice under subsection (4); nor
 - (b) informed the section 178 notice-giver that the section 178 notice is incomplete.
- (7) If the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator] decides to approve an acquisition subject to conditions or to object to an acquisition it must give the section 178 notice-giver a decision notice.
- (8) Following receipt of a decision notice under this section, the section 178 notice-giver may refer the [^{F1479}appropriate regulator's] decision to the Tribunal.

Assessment and resolution

F1518 190A.

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) the appropriate regulator receives a section 178 notice in relation to a [F1519 qualifying credit institution], investment firm or banking group company,
 - (b) as a result of a direction under section 189(1A) or the application of section 189(1ZB), the appropriate regulator is required to act under this Part in a timely manner in relation to that notice, and
 - (c) the appropriate regulator does not complete the assessment required by section 185 before a relevant transfer instrument has been made by the Bank of England which transfers shares issued by, or voting power in, that [F1520 qualifying credit institution], investment firm or banking group company.
- (2) The transfer of shares or voting takes effect in accordance with the terms of the relevant transfer instrument, but the right of the person who acquires shares under that instrument (“the acquirer”) to exercise the voting power represented by those shares is suspended.
- (3) During the suspension, the voting power represented by the shares in question may be exercised by the Bank (and only by the Bank).
- (4) If the appropriate regulator issues a decision notice under section 189(7) objecting to the acquisition, the Bank may direct the acquirer to sell the shares within a period specified by the Bank in the direction (“the sale period”).
- (5) In determining the sale period, the Bank must take account of prevailing market conditions.
- (6) The suspension provided for in subsection (2) ends—
- (a) if the appropriate regulator gives notice under section 189(4)(a) or (b)(i) that it approves the acquisition, on the date of that notice, or
 - (b) if the Bank gives a direction under subsection (4), on the earlier of the day on which the sale period ends and the day on which the shares are sold.
- (7) In this section a “relevant transfer instrument” means an instrument made by the Bank acting in the exercise of its functions under sections 6A to 6C of the Banking Act 2009 or under the special resolution regime under Part 1 of that Act, which transfers, or has the effect of transferring, shares issued by, or voting power in, the [F1521 qualifying credit institution], investment firm or banking group company.]

Introductory

192A Meaning of “qualifying authorised person”

- (1) In this Part “qualifying authorised person” means an authorised person satisfying the following conditions.
- (2) Condition A is that the authorised person is a body corporate incorporated in the United Kingdom.
- (3) Condition B is that the authorised person is—
 - (a) a PRA-authorised person, or
 - (b) an investment firm.
- (4) The Treasury may by order—
 - (a) amend subsection (3) so as to add to or restrict the descriptions of authorised person who can be qualifying authorised persons, or
 - (b) provide that while the order is in force subsection (3) is not to have effect.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. - (5) Except as provided by subsection (6), an order under subsection (4) is not to be made unless a draft of the order has been laid before Parliament and approved by a resolution of each House.
- (6) An order under subsection (4) may be made without a draft having been laid and approved as mentioned in subsection (5) if the order contains a statement that the Treasury are of the opinion that, by reason of urgency, it is necessary to make the order without a draft being so laid and approved.
- (7) An order under subsection (4) made in accordance with subsection (6)—
 - (a) must be laid before Parliament after being made, and
 - (b) ceases to have effect at the end of the relevant period unless before the end of that period the order is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament (but without affecting anything done under the order or the power to make a new order).
- (8) The “relevant period” is a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the order is made.
- (9) In calculating the relevant period no account is to be taken of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than 4 days.

192B Meaning of “qualifying parent undertaking”

- (1) The parent undertaking of a qualifying authorised person or recognised UK investment exchange is for the purposes of this Part a “qualifying parent undertaking” if the following conditions are satisfied in relation to it.
- (2) Condition A is that the parent undertaking is a body corporate which—
 - (a) is incorporated in the United Kingdom, or
 - (b) has a place of business in the United Kingdom.
- (3) Condition B is that the parent undertaking is not itself an authorised person, a recognised investment exchange [^{F1544}, a recognised clearing house or a recognised CSD].
- (4) Condition C is that the parent undertaking is a financial institution of a kind prescribed by the Treasury by order.
- (5) “Recognised UK investment exchange” means a recognised investment exchange that is not an overseas investment exchange as defined in section 313(1).
- (6) The Treasury may by order—
 - (a) amend subsection (4) by omitting the words “a financial institution”, and
 - (b) make any amendment of subsection (2) that they consider desirable in connection with an amendment made under paragraph (a).

Power of direction

192C Power to direct qualifying parent undertaking

- (1) The appropriate regulator may give a direction under this section to a qualifying parent undertaking if either the general condition or the consolidated supervision condition is satisfied.
- (2) The general condition is that the appropriate regulator considers that it is desirable to give the direction in order to advance—
 - (a) in the case of the FCA, one or more of its operational objectives;
 - (b) in the case of the PRA, any of its objectives.
- (3) The consolidated supervision condition is that—
 - (a) the appropriate regulator is the competent authority for the purpose of consolidated supervision that is required, in relation to some or all of the members of the group of a qualifying authorised person, ^{F1545}in pursuance of—
 - (i) any implementing provision contained in subordinate legislation (within the meaning of the Interpretation Act 1978) made otherwise than by any of the following—
 - (aa) statutory instrument, and
 - (bb) statutory rule for the purposes of the Statutory Rules (Northern Ireland) Order 1979 (S.I. 1979/1573 (N.I. 12));
^{F1546} ...
 - (ii) any other implementing provision (as amended from time to time),
^{F1547} ...
 - ^{F1548} [Part 9C rules;
 - (iii) CRR rules; or
 - (iv) CRR rules; or
 - (v) rules made under section 192XA, and]
 - (b) the appropriate regulator considers that the giving of the direction is desirable for the purpose of the effective consolidated supervision of the group.
- ^{F1549}(4) In subsection (3)(a)—

“consolidated supervision” includes supplemental supervision;

“implementing provision” has the same meaning as in section 3M.]
- (5) In deciding whether to give a direction under this section, a regulator must have regard—
 - (a) to the desirability where practicable of exercising its powers in relation to authorised persons or recognised investment exchanges rather than its powers under this section, and
 - (b) to the principle that a burden or restriction which is imposed on a person should be proportionate to the benefits, considered in general terms, which are expected to result from its imposition.
- (6) “The appropriate regulator” means—
 - (a) where a direction relates to a qualifying authorised person or recognised investment exchange who is a PRA-authorised person, the FCA or the PRA;
 - (b) in any other case, the FCA.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

192D Requirements that may be imposed

- (1) A direction under section 192C may require the parent undertaking—
 - (a) to take specified action, or
 - (b) to refrain from taking specified action.
- (2) A requirement may be imposed by reference to the parent undertaking's relationship with—
 - (a) its group, or
 - (b) other members of its group.
- (3) A requirement may refer to the past conduct of the parent undertaking (for example, by requiring the parent undertaking to review or take remedial action in respect of past conduct).
- (4) A requirement imposed by the direction may be expressed to expire at the end of a specified period, but the imposition of a requirement that expires at the end of a specified period does not affect the power to give a further direction imposing a new requirement.
- (5) The direction—
 - (a) may be revoked by the regulator which gave it by written notice to the body to which it is given, and
 - (b) ceases to be in force if the body to which it is given ceases to be a qualifying parent undertaking.

192E Direction: procedure

- (1) If a regulator proposes to give a direction under section 192C, or gives such a direction with immediate effect, it must give written notice to—
 - (a) the parent undertaking to which the direction is given (or to be given) (“P”), and
 - (b) any authorised person or recognised investment exchange who will, in the opinion of the regulator, be significantly affected by the direction.

- (2) In the following provisions of this section “notified person” means a person to whom notice under subsection (1) is given.
- (3) A direction under section 192C takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice under subsection (1) states that that is the case,
 - (b) on such other date as may be specified in the notice, or
 - (c) if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (4) A direction may be expressed to take effect immediately (or on a specified date) only if the regulator reasonably considers that it is necessary for the direction to take effect immediately (or on that date).
- (5) The notice under subsection (1) must—
 - (a) give details of the direction,
 - (b) state the regulator's reasons for the direction and for its determination as to when the direction takes effect,
 - (c) inform the notified person that the person may make representations to the regulator within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not the notified person has referred the matter to the Tribunal), and
 - (d) inform the notified person of the person's right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (6) The regulator may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (7) If, having considered any representations made by any notified person, the regulator decides—
 - (a) to give the direction proposed, or
 - (b) if the direction has been given, not to revoke the direction,it must give each of the notified persons written notice.
- (8) If, having considered any representations made by any notified person, the regulator decides—
 - (a) not to give the direction proposed,

- (i) a credit institution, or
 - (ii) a designated investment firm.
- (2) A company is exempt from the requirement for approval if—
- (a) it is a parent financial holding company and its principal activity is to acquire holdings in subsidiary undertakings; or
 - (b) it is a parent mixed financial holding company and its principal activity with respect to institutions and financial institutions is to acquire holdings in subsidiary undertakings,
- and all of the conditions in subsection (3) are satisfied.
- (3) The conditions in this subsection are satisfied if—
- (a) the Bank of England has not identified the company as a resolution entity (within the meaning of section 3 of the Banking Act 2009) in a group resolution plan under Part 5 of the Bank Recovery and Resolution (No. 2) Order 2014;
 - (b) a credit institution or a designated investment firm which is a subsidiary undertaking in the same group as the company—
 - (i) has been designated by the PRA as responsible to ensure the group’s compliance with prudential requirements on a consolidated or sub-consolidated basis, and
 - (ii) has the power required to discharge those obligations effectively, whether under contractual arrangements with other companies in the group or otherwise;
 - (c) the company does not take any management, operational or financial decisions affecting—
 - (i) the group as a whole, or
 - (ii) any of its subsidiary undertakings which are institutions or financial institutions;
 - (d) the PRA is satisfied that there is no impediment to the effective supervision of the group on a consolidated or sub-consolidated basis.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, a company is established in the United Kingdom if the company is incorporated in, or formed under the law of, any part of the United Kingdom.

192Q. Application for approval or exemption

- (1) An application for—
- (a) the PRA’s approval for the purposes of section 192P(1)(a); or
 - (b) confirmation of exemption from the requirement for approval,
- must be made by the company concerned.
- (2) The application must—
- (a) be made in such manner as the PRA may direct; and
 - (b) contain or be accompanied by the information referred to in subsection (3).
- (3) The information referred to in subsection (2) is—
- (a) a description of the structural organisation of the group of which the company is part, indicating—
 - (i) its subsidiary undertakings and parent undertakings, and

- (ii) the location and type of activity undertaken by each of the entities within the group;
 - (b) the identity of at least two individuals who are directors of the company;
 - (c) a description as to how each director of the company complies with the requirements that they are of sufficiently good repute, and possess sufficient knowledge, skills and experience, to perform their duties as directors;
 - (d) where one of the subsidiary undertakings of the company is a credit institution or a designated investment firm—
 - (i) the identity of any persons who hold, whether directly or indirectly, qualifying holdings (within the meaning of Article 4(1)(36) of the capital requirements regulation), in the credit institution or designated investment firm, and the amounts of those holdings, or
 - (ii) if no person holds a qualifying holding in the credit institution or designated investment firm, the identity of the 20 largest shareholders in the credit institution or designated investment firm and the amount of their shareholdings;
 - (e) a description of the internal organisation and the distribution of tasks with the group.
- (4) The PRA may, by notice in writing, require the company to provide any further information necessary to enable the PRA to assess whether the conditions referred to in section 192P(2) and (3) or section 192R are fulfilled.

192R. Grant of approval

- (1) When the PRA receives an application from a company under section 192Q, it must decide whether—
- (a) to approve the company,
 - (b) to confirm that the company qualifies for an exemption under section 192P(2) and (3), or
 - (c) to take one or more of the measures in section 192T.
- (2) The PRA may only approve the company under this section where conditions A, B and C are satisfied.
- (3) Condition A is that the internal arrangements and distribution of tasks within the group of which the company is part are—
- (a) adequate for the purpose of complying with the requirements imposed by Directive 2013/36/EU UK law [^{F1586}, CRR rules]^{F1587} ... and the capital requirements regulation on a consolidated or sub-consolidated basis, ^{F1587} ...
 - [^{F1588}(aa) adequate for the purpose of complying with section 192XA rules, and]
 - (b) effective to—
 - (i) co-ordinate all the subsidiary undertakings of the company, including, where necessary, through an adequate distribution of tasks among subsidiary institutions;
 - (ii) prevent or manage intra-group conflicts; and
 - (iii) enforce the group-wide policies set by the company throughout the group.

- (4) Condition B is that the structural organisation of the group of which the company is part does not obstruct or otherwise prevent the effective supervision of the subsidiary institutions and parent institutions as concerns the individual, consolidated and, where appropriate, sub-consolidated obligations to which they are subject.
- (5) In assessing whether Condition B is satisfied, the PRA must take into account—
 - (a) the position of the company within the group;
 - (b) the shareholding structure of the company, and the group of which it is part; and
 - (c) the role of the company within the group.
- (6) Condition C is that—
 - (a) the PRA has received the information as to the identity of the shareholders of any credit institution in the group, and the amount of their shareholdings, which is required under Directive 2013/36/EU UK law; and
 - (b) the directors of the company are of sufficiently good repute, and possess sufficient knowledge, skills and experience to perform their duties as directors.
- (7) Where the PRA proposes to refuse approval, or to reject an application for confirmation of exemption, it must give the company a warning notice within four months beginning with—
 - (a) the date on which it received the application under section 192Q; or
 - (b) if later (subject to subsection (8) and section 387), the date on which it received any further information requested under section 192Q(4).
- (8) When the PRA decides to refuse approval, or to reject an application for an exemption, it must give the company a decision notice within six months of the date on which it received which the application under section 192Q.

192U. Directions: procedure

- (1) If the PRA proposes to give a direction under section 192T, or gives such a direction with immediate effect, it must give written notice to—
 - (a) the financial holding company or mixed financial holding company to which the direction is given (or to be given); and
 - (b) any authorised person or recognised investment exchange who will, in the opinion of the PRA, be significantly affected by the direction.
- (2) In the following provisions of this section “notified person” means a person to whom notice under subsection (1) is given.
- (3) A direction under section 192T takes effect—
 - (a) immediately, if the notice under subsection (1) states that that is the case;
 - (b) on such other date as may be specified in the notice; or
 - (c) if no date is specified in the notice, when the matter to which the notice relates is no longer open to review.
- (4) A direction may be expressed to take effect immediately (or on a specified date) only if the PRA reasonably considers that it is necessary for the direction to take effect immediately (or on that date).
- (5) The notice under subsection (1) must—
 - (a) give details of the direction;
 - (b) state the PRA’s reasons for the direction and for its determination as to when the direction takes effect;
 - (c) inform the notified person that the person may make representations to the PRA within such period as may be specified in the notice (whether or not the notified person has referred the matter to the Tribunal); and
 - (d) inform the notified person of the person’s right to refer the matter to the Tribunal.
- (6) The PRA may extend the period allowed under the notice for making representations.
- (7) If, having considered any representations made by any notified person, the PRA decides—
 - (a) to give the direction proposed; or
 - (b) if the direction has been given, not to revoke the direction,it must give each of the notified persons written notice.

192XA Rules applying to holding companies

- (1) The PRA may make rules described in subsection (2) applying to financial holding companies and mixed financial holding companies that are—
- (a) approved under section 192R, or
 - (b) designated under section 192T(2)(c), where it appears to the PRA to be necessary or expedient to make the rules for the purpose of advancing any of its objectives.

- (2) Those rules are—
- (a) rules imposing requirements to be complied with by holding companies on a consolidated or sub-consolidated basis;
 - (b) rules imposing requirements which, in the PRA's opinion, are likely to mitigate group risk;
 - (c) rules imposing reporting requirements related to requirements described in paragraph (a) or (b);
 - (d) rules imposing public disclosure requirements related to requirements described in paragraph (a) or (b);

- (1) This section applies to a section 192XA rule if, or to the extent that, section 192XA rules provide for it to apply to the rule.
- (2) The PRA may, on the application of or with the consent of a person who is subject to section 192XA rules, give the person a permission that enables the person—
 - (a) not to apply the section 192XA rule, or
 - (b) to apply the section 192XA rule with the modifications specified in the permission.
- (3) The PRA may—
 - (a) give permission under this section subject to conditions, and
 - (b) revoke or vary permission under this section.]

192Y. Power to impose penalty or issue censure

- (1) This section applies if the PRA is satisfied that a company which is or has been a financial holding company or a mixed financial holding company (“the company”) has contravened a requirement imposed by—
 - (a) this Part;
 - (b) a direction given to the company by the PRA under section 192T;
 - ^{F1599}(c)
[section 192XA rules; or]
 - ^{F1600}(ca)
[^{F1601}(d) the capital requirements regulation or an instrument made under that regulation.]
- (2) The PRA may impose a penalty of such amount as it considers appropriate on—
 - (a) the company; or
 - (b) any person who was knowingly concerned in the contravention.
- (3) The PRA may, instead of imposing a penalty on a person, publish a statement censuring the person.
- (4) The PRA may not take action against a person under this section after the end of the limitation period unless, before the end of that period, it has given a warning notice to the person under section 192Z.
- (5) “The limitation period” means the period of 3 years beginning with the first day on which the PRA knew of the contravention.
- (6) For this purpose the PRA is to be treated as knowing of a contravention if it has information from which the contravention can reasonably be inferred.

192Z. Procedure and right to refer to Tribunal

- (1) If a regulator proposes to take action against a person under section 192Y, it must give the person a warning notice.
- (2) A warning notice about a proposal to impose a penalty must state the amount of the penalty.
- (3) A warning notice about a proposal to publish a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (4) If the regulator decides to take action against a person under section 192Y, it must give the person a decision notice.

- (6) A decision notice about the publication of a statement must set out the terms of the statement.
- (7) If the regulator decides to take action against a person under section 192Y, the person may refer the matter to the Tribunal.

192Z1. Duty on publication of statement

After a statement under section 192Y(3) is published, the regulator must send a copy of the statement to—

- (a) the person in respect of whom it is made; and
- (b) any person to whom a copy of the decision notice was given under section 393(4).

192Z2. Directions and penalties: statement of policy

- (1) The PRA must prepare and issue a statement of policy with respect to—
 - (a) the taking of measures, including directions, under section 192T;
 - (b) the imposition of penalties under section 192Y;
 - (c) the amount of penalties under that section.
- (2) The PRA's policy in determining what the amount of a penalty should be must include having regard to—
 - (a) the seriousness of the contravention;
 - (b) the extent to which the contravention was deliberate or reckless; and
 - (c) whether the person on whom the penalty is to be imposed is an individual.
- (3) The PRA may at any time alter or replace a statement issued under this section.
- (4) If a statement issued under this section is altered or replaced, the PRA must issue the altered or replacement statement.
- (5) In imposing, or deciding whether to impose a penalty under section 192Y(2) in the case of any particular contravention, the PRA must have regard to any statement of policy published under this section and in force at a time when the contravention occurred.
- (6) A statement under this section must be published by the PRA in the way appearing to the PRA to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (7) The PRA may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of the statement published under this section.
- (8) The PRA must, without delay, give the Treasury a copy of any statement which it publishes under this section.

192Z3. Statement of policy relating to directions: procedure

- (1) Before issuing a statement of policy under section 192Z2, the PRA must—
 - (a) consult the FCA; and

F1603(1)

F1603(2)

F1603(2A)

(3) “An overseas regulator” means an authority in a country or territory outside the United Kingdom—

- (a) which is a home state regulator; or
- (b) which exercises any function of a kind mentioned in subsection (4).

(4) The functions are—

(a) a function corresponding to any function of [^{F1604}either regulator] under this Act;

F1605(b)

(c) a function corresponding to any function exercised by the Secretary of State under [^{F1606}the Companies Acts (as defined in section 2 of the Companies Act 2006)];

(d) a function in connection with —

- (i) the investigation of conduct of the kind prohibited by Part V of the ^{M14}Criminal Justice Act 1993 (insider dealing); or
- (ii) the enforcement of rules (whether or not having the force of law) relating to such conduct;

(e) a function prescribed by regulations made for the purposes of this subsection which, in the opinion of the Treasury, relates to companies or financial services.

^{F1633}206A Suspending permission to carry on regulated activities etc

- (1) If the [^{F1634}appropriate regulator] considers that an authorised person has contravened a relevant requirement imposed on the person, it may—
- (a) suspend, for such period as it considers appropriate, any permission which the person has to carry on a regulated activity; or
 - (b) impose, for such period as it considers appropriate, such limitations or other restrictions in relation to the carrying on of a regulated activity by the person as it considers appropriate.

[The power conferred by subsection (1) is also exercisable by the FCA if it considers ^{F1635}(1A) that an authorised person has contravened a requirement imposed on the person by—

(3) The period for which a suspension or restriction is to have effect may not exceed 12 months.

(4) A suspension may relate only to the carrying on of an activity in specified circumstances.

(5) A restriction may, in particular, be imposed so as to require the person concerned to take, or refrain from taking, specified action.

(6) The [^{F1641}appropriate regulator] may—

- (a) withdraw a suspension or restriction; or
- (b) vary a suspension or restriction so as to reduce the period for which it has effect or otherwise to limit its effect.

(7) The power under this section may (but need not) be exercised so as to have effect in relation to all the regulated activities that the person concerned carries on.

(8) Any one or more of the powers under—

- (a) subsection (1)(a) and (b) of this section, and
- (b) sections 205 and 206,

211 Statements of policy: procedure.

- (1) Before [^{F1670}a regulator issues] a statement under section 210, the [^{F1671}regulator] must publish a draft of the proposed statement in the way appearing to the [^{F1671}regulator] to be best calculated to bring it to the attention of the public.
- (2) The draft must be accompanied by notice that representations about the proposal may be made to the [^{F1672}regulator] within a specified time.
- (3) Before issuing the proposed statement, the [^{F1672}regulator] must have regard to any representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2).
- (4) If the [^{F1672}regulator] issues the proposed statement it must publish an account, in general terms, of—
 - (a) the representations made to it in accordance with subsection (2); and
 - (b) its response to them.
- (5) If the statement differs from the draft published under subsection (1) in a way which is, in the opinion of the [^{F1673}regulator], significant, the [^{F1673}regulator] must (in addition to complying with subsection (4)) publish details of the difference.
- (6) [^{F1674}A regulator] may charge a reasonable fee for providing a person with a copy of a draft published under subsection (1).
- (7) This section also applies to a proposal to alter or replace a statement.

The scheme manager

212 The scheme manager.

- [^{F1675}(1) The scheme manager” means the body corporate established by the Financial Services Authority under this section as originally enacted.
- (2) The regulators must take such steps as are necessary to ensure that the scheme manager is, at all times, capable of exercising the functions conferred on it by or under this Part or Part 15A.]
- (3) The constitution of the scheme manager must provide for it to have—
- (a) a chairman; ^{F1676}...
- [^{F1677}(aa) a chief executive ^{F1678}...; and]
- (b) a board (which must include the chairman [^{F1679}and chief executive]) whose members are the scheme manager’s directors.
- (4) The chairman [^{F1680}, chief executive] and other members of the board must be persons appointed, and liable to removal from office, by the [^{F1681}regulators] (acting, in the case of the chairman [^{F1682}and the chief executive], with the approval of the Treasury).
- (5) But the terms of their appointment (and in particular those governing removal from office) must be such as to secure their independence from the [^{F1683}regulators] in the operation of the compensation scheme.
- (6) The scheme manager is not to be regarded as exercising functions on behalf of the Crown.
- (7) The scheme manager’s ^{F1684}... officers and staff are not to be regarded as Crown servants.

The scheme

213 The compensation scheme.

- (1) The [^{F1685}regulators] must by rules [^{F1686}made in accordance with an order under subsection (1A)] establish a scheme for compensating persons in [^{F1687}cases where—
- (a) relevant persons are unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims against them, ^{F1688}...
 - [^{F1689}(aa) relevant exchanges are unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims made against them in connection with a regulated activity relating to a trading facility carried on by the exchange, or]
 - (b) persons who have assumed responsibility for liabilities arising from acts or omissions of relevant persons [^{F1690}or relevant exchanges] (“successors”) are unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims against the successors that are based on those acts or omissions.]
- [^{F1691}(1A) The Treasury must by order specify—
- (a) the cases in which the FCA may, or may not, make rules under subsection (1), and
 - (b) the cases in which the PRA may, or may not, make rules under that subsection.]
- (2) The rules [^{F1692}(taken together)] are to be known as the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (but are referred to in this Act as “the compensation scheme”).
- (3) The compensation scheme must, in particular, provide for the scheme manager—

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. - [^{F1693}(a) to assess and pay compensation, in accordance with the scheme, to claimants in respect of claims made in connection with—
- (i) a regulated activity carried on (whether or not with permission) by relevant persons; and
 - (ii) a regulated activity relating to a trading facility carried on (whether or not in accordance with any requirements relating to that activity resulting from section 286) by relevant exchanges; and
- (b) to have power to impose levies for the purpose of meeting its expenses (including in particular expenses incurred, or expected to be incurred, in paying compensation, borrowing or insuring risks)—
- (i) on authorised persons, or any class of authorised person;
 - (ii) on recognised investment exchanges carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility, or any class of such exchanges; or
 - (iii) on authorised persons and on recognised investment exchanges carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility, or on any class of such persons and exchanges.]

[^{F1694}(4) The compensation scheme may provide for the scheme manager to have power to impose levies—

 - (a) on authorised persons, or any class of authorised person;
 - (b) on recognised investment exchanges carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility, or any class of such exchanges; or
 - (c) on authorised persons and on recognised investment exchanges carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility, or on any class of such persons and exchanges, for the purpose of recovering the cost (whenever incurred) of establishing the scheme.]

[^{F1695}(5) In making any provision of the scheme by virtue of subsection (3)(b), the regulators must take account of the desirability of ensuring that the amount of the levies imposed on a particular —

 - (a) class of authorised person;
 - (b) class of recognised investment exchange carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility; or
 - (c) class of authorised person and of recognised investment exchanges carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility;

reflects, so far as is practicable, the amount of claims made, or likely to be made in respect of that class of person, exchange, or persons and exchanges.]

(6) An amount payable to the scheme manager as a result of any provision of the scheme made by virtue of subsection (3)(b) or (4) may be recovered as a debt due to the scheme manager.

(7) Sections 214 to 217 make further provision about the scheme but are not to be taken as limiting the power conferred on the [^{F1685}regulators] by subsection (1).

(8) In those sections “specified” means specified in the scheme.

(9) In this Part (except in sections 219, 220 or 224) “relevant person” means a person who was—

 - (a) an authorised person at the time the act or omission giving rise to the claim against him [^{F1696}, or against a successor falling within subsection (1)(b),] took place; or

(b) an appointed representative at that time.

[^{F1697}(10A) But a person is not to be regarded as a relevant person in relation to a regulated activity if, at that time, the person—

- (a) was a Gibraltar-based person with a Schedule 2A permission to carry on the activity, and
- (b) fell within a prescribed category, either generally or in relation to the activity.

(10B) Regulations prescribing a category of person for the purposes of subsection (10A) may, among other things, make provision by reference to—

- (a) whether the activity is carried on through a branch in the United Kingdom;
- (b) the level of protection provided by the compensation scheme and by any comparable scheme operating in Gibraltar.]

^{F1698}(10)

^{F1698}(11)

[^{F1699}(12) In this Part (except in sections 220 and 224) “relevant exchange” means a body corporate or unincorporated association which was a recognised investment exchange carrying on a regulated activity relating to a trading facility at the time the act or omission giving rise to the claim against it, or against a successor falling within subsection (1)(b), took place.

(13) In this Part “regulated activity relating to a trading facility” means—

- (a) the regulated activity of operating a multilateral trading facility; or
- (b) the regulated activity of operating an organised trading facility.]

[^{F1700}(14) In this Part, “funeral plan contract” has the same meaning as in article 59(2) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001.]

Provisions of the scheme

214 General.

- (1) The compensation scheme may, in particular, make provision—
- (a) as to the circumstances in which a relevant person [^{F1701}or relevant exchange] is to be taken (for the purposes of the scheme) to be unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims made against him [^{F1702}or it];
 - ^{F1703}(aa) as to the circumstances in which a successor falling within section 213(1)(b) is to be taken (for the purposes of the scheme) to be unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims against the successor that are based on the acts or omissions of a relevant person [^{F1704}or relevant exchange];
 - (b) for the establishment of different funds for meeting different kinds of claim;
 - (c) for the imposition of different levies in different cases;
 - (d) limiting the levy payable by a person in respect of a specified period;
 - (e) for repayment of the whole or part of a levy in specified circumstances;
 - (f) for a claim to be entertained only if it is made by a specified kind of claimant;
 - (g) for a claim to be entertained only if it falls within a specified kind of claim;
 - (h) as to the procedure to be followed in making a claim;
 - (i) for the making of interim payments before a claim is finally determined;
 - (j) limiting the amount payable on a claim to a specified maximum amount or a maximum amount calculated in a specified manner;
 - (k) for payment to be made, in specified circumstances, to a person other than the claimant.
- ^{F1705}(1A) Rules by virtue of subsection (1)(h) may, in particular, allow the scheme manager to treat persons who are or may be entitled to claim under the scheme as if they had done so.
- (1B) A reference in any enactment or instrument to a claim or claimant under this Part includes a reference to a deemed claim or claimant in accordance with subsection (1A).
- (1C) Rules by virtue of subsection (1)(j) may, in particular, allow, or be subject to rules which allow, the scheme manager to settle a class of claim by payment of sums fixed without reference to, or by modification of, the normal rules for calculation of maximum entitlement for individual claims.]
- (2) Different provision may be made with respect to different kinds of claim.
- (3) The scheme may provide for the determination and regulation of matters relating to the scheme by the scheme manager.
- (4) The scheme, or particular provisions of the scheme, may be made so as to apply only in relation to—
- (a) activities carried on,
 - (b) claimants,

PROSPECTIVE

^{F1707}214A Contingency funding

- (1) The Treasury may make regulations (“contingency fund regulations”) permitting the scheme manager to impose levies under section 213 for the purpose of maintaining contingency funds from which possible expenses may be paid.
- (2) Contingency fund regulations may make provision about the establishment and management of contingency funds; in particular, the regulations may make provision about—
 - (a) the number and size of funds;
 - (b) the circumstances and timing of their establishment;
 - (c) the classes of person from whom contributions to the funds may be levied;
 - (d) the amount and timing of payments into and out of funds (which may include provision for different levies for different classes of person);
 - (e) refunds;
 - (f) the ways in which funds' contents may be invested (including (i) the extent of reliance on section 223A, and (ii) the application of investment income);
 - (g) the purposes for which funds may be applied, but only so as to determine whether a fund is to be used (i) for the payment of compensation, (ii) for the purposes of co-operating with a bank liquidator in accordance with section 99 of the Banking Act 2009, or (iii) for contributions under section 214B;
 - (h) procedures to be followed in connection with funds, including the keeping of records and the provision of information.
- (3) The compensation scheme may include provision about contingency funds provided that it is not inconsistent with contingency fund regulations.]

215 [F1712] Rights of the scheme in insolvency]

[F1713] (1) The compensation scheme may make provision—

- (a) about the effect of a payment of compensation under the scheme on rights or obligations arising out of matters in connection with which the compensation was paid;
- (b) giving the scheme manager a right of recovery in respect of those rights or obligations.]

(2) Such a right of recovery conferred by the scheme does not, in the event of [F1714] a person's insolvency], exceed such right (if any) as the claimant would have had in that event.

[F1715] (2ZA) The compensation scheme may also make provision in relation to a relevant person, or to a successor of a description falling within section 213(1)(b), who enters into or carries out funeral plan contracts and is unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims made against them—

- (a) about rights or obligations in connection with any trust or contract of insurance relating to the funeral plan contracts entered into or carried out by such a person or successor;
- (b) about the effect of a payment of compensation, or of a payment in connection with securing continuity of funeral plan contracts under the scheme, on rights and obligations arising out of matters in connection with which the payment was made;
- (c) giving the scheme manager a right of recovery in respect of the rights or obligations referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b).

(2ZB) The amount required to be paid to the scheme manager under such a right of recovery conferred by the scheme may not exceed the amount paid or (in the opinion of the scheme manager) to be paid out by the scheme manager in connection with those funeral plan contracts.

- (b) a person whose funeral is to be provided or secured under a funeral plan contract with a relevant funeral plan provider; “relevant funeral plan provider” means a relevant person who—
 - (a) has permission to enter into or carry out a funeral plan contract as provider, and
 - (b) is unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims made against them.
- (3) The scheme may provide for the scheme manager to take such measures as appear to it to be appropriate—
 - (a) for securing or facilitating the transfer of a relevant funeral plan provider’s business so far as it consists of the carrying out of funeral plan contracts, or of any part of that business, to another authorised person;
 - (b) for securing the issue by another authorised person to the plan holders concerned of funeral plan contracts in substitution for their existing contracts.
- (4) The scheme may also provide for the scheme manager to make, or secure the making of, payments to a plan holder or to any other person in connection with the provision of a funeral—
 - (a) during any period while the scheme manager is seeking to make arrangements mentioned in subsection (1);
 - (b) if it appears to the scheme manager that it is not reasonably practicable to make such arrangements.
- (5) The scheme may also provide, in relation to the administration or winding up of a relevant funeral plan provider, for the scheme manager to make payments—
 - (a) in specified circumstances,
 - (b) but only if the scheme manager is satisfied that such payments are made in respect of any reasonable fees, costs, charges or other expenses reasonably and exclusively incurred for the purposes of complying with a request of the scheme manager under section 215B,to, or on behalf of, the relevant funeral plan provider or to the administrator or liquidator of the funeral plan provider.
- (6) A provision of the scheme made by virtue of section 213(3)(b) may include the power to impose levies for the purpose of meeting expenses of the scheme manager incurred in—
 - (a) taking measures as a result of any provision of the scheme made by virtue of subsection (3);
 - (b) making, or securing the making of, payments as a result of any provision of the scheme made by virtue of subsection (4) or (5).

217 Insurers in financial difficulties.

- (1) The compensation scheme may, in particular, include provision for the scheme manager to have power to take measures for safeguarding policyholders, or policyholders of a specified class, of relevant insurers.
- (2) “Relevant insurers” means relevant persons who—
 - (a) have permission to effect or carry out contracts of insurance; and
 - (b) are in financial difficulties.
- (3) The measures may include such measures as the scheme manager considers appropriate for—
 - (a) securing or facilitating the transfer of a relevant insurer’s business so far as it consists of the carrying out of contracts of insurance, or of any part of that business, to another authorised person;
 - (b) giving assistance to the relevant insurer to enable it to continue to effect or carry out contracts of insurance.
- (4) The scheme may provide—
 - (a) that if measures of a kind mentioned in subsection (3)(a) are to be taken, they should be on terms appearing to the scheme manager to be appropriate, including terms reducing, or deferring payment of, any of the things to which any of those who are eligible policyholders in relation to the relevant insurer are entitled in their capacity as such;
 - (b) that if measures of a kind mentioned in subsection (3)(b) are to be taken, they should be conditional on the reduction of, or the deferment of the payment of, the things to which any of those who are eligible policyholders in relation to the relevant insurer are entitled in their capacity as such;
 - (c) for ensuring that measures of a kind mentioned in subsection (3)(b) do not benefit to any material extent persons who were members of a relevant insurer when it began to be in financial difficulties or who had any responsibility for, or who may have profited from, the circumstances giving rise to its financial difficulties, except in specified circumstances;
 - (d) for requiring the scheme manager to be satisfied that any measures he proposes to take are likely to cost less than it would cost to pay compensation under the scheme if the relevant insurer became unable, or likely to be unable, to satisfy claims made against him.
- (5) The scheme may provide for the [^{F1731}either regulator or both regulators] to have power—
 - (a) to give such assistance to the scheme manager as it considers appropriate for assisting the scheme manager to determine what measures are practicable or desirable in the case of a particular relevant insurer;
 - (b) to impose constraints on the taking of measures by the scheme manager in the case of a particular relevant insurer;
 - (c) to require the scheme manager to provide it with information about any particular measures which the scheme manager is proposing to take.
- (6) The scheme may include provision for the scheme manager to have power—

F1748 218B Treasury's power to require information from scheme manager

Textual Amendments

F1748 S. 218B omitted (29.8.2023) by virtue of Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 \(c. 29\), ss. 62(3), 86(2)(h)

219 Scheme manager's power to require information.

- (1) The scheme manager may, by notice in writing [^{F1749}require a person]—
- (a) to provide specified information or information of a specified description; or
 - (b) to produce specified documents or documents of a specified description.

[^{F1750}(1A) A requirement may be imposed only—

- (a) on a person (P) against whom a claim has been made under the scheme,
- (b) on a person (P) who is unable or likely to be unable to satisfy claims under the scheme against P,
- [^{F1751}(ba) on a person (P) who is an insurer who has been given financial assistance under section 217ZA,]
- (c) on a person (“the Third Party”) whom the scheme manager thinks was knowingly involved in matters giving rise to a claim against another person (P) under the scheme, ^{F1752}...
- (d) on a person (“the Third Party”) whom the scheme manager thinks was knowingly involved in matters giving rise to the actual or likely inability of another person (P) to satisfy claims under the scheme [^{F1753}, or
- (e) on a person (“the Third Party”) whom the scheme manager thinks is or was at any relevant time involved in any contract of insurance or in the administration of any trust arrangement relating to a funeral plan contract entered into or carried out by a person (P)—
 - (i) against whom a claim has been made under the scheme, or
 - (ii) who is unable or likely to be unable to satisfy claims under the scheme against P.]

(1B) For the purposes of subsection (1A)(b) [^{F1754}, (d) and (e)(ii)] whether P is unable or likely to be unable to satisfy claims shall be determined in accordance with provision to be made by the scheme (which may, in particular—

- (a) apply or replicate, with or without modifications, a provision of an enactment;
- (b) confer discretion on a specified person.)]

(2) The information or documents must be provided or produced—

- (a) before the end of such reasonable period as may be specified; and

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

- (b) in the case of information, in such manner or form as may be specified.
- (3) This section applies only to information and documents the provision or production of which the scheme manager considers^{F1755} to be necessary (or likely to be necessary) for the fair determination of claims which have been or may be made against P].
- ^{F1756}(3A) Where a stabilisation power under Part 1 of the Banking Act 2009 has been exercised in respect of a bank, ^{F1757}[building society or credit union,] the scheme manager may by notice in writing require ^{F1758}[the bank, building society or credit union, or the Bank of England,] to provide information that the scheme manager requires for the purpose of ^{F1759}[determining the matters mentioned in section 214D(2)(a) and (b) above].]
- (4) If a document is produced in response to a requirement imposed under this section, the scheme manager may—
- (a) take copies or extracts from the document; or
 - (b) require the person producing the document to provide an explanation of the document.
- (5) If a person who is required under this section to produce a document fails to do so, the scheme manager may require the person to state, to the best of his knowledge and belief, where the document is.
- (6) If ^{F1760}P] is insolvent, no requirement may be imposed under this section on a person to whom section 220 or 224 applies.
- (7) If a person claims a lien on a document, its production under this Part does not affect the lien.
- (8) ^{F1761}.....
- (9) “Specified” means specified in the notice given under subsection (1).
- (10) ^{F1762}.....

[^{F1794}PART 15A

POWER TO REQUIRE FSCS MANAGER TO ACT IN RELATION TO OTHER SCHEMES

Textual Amendments

F1794Pt. 15A inserted (12.10.2010) by Financial Services Act 2010 \(c. 28\), ss. 17, 26(3); S.I. 2010/2480, art. 2(d)

Introduction

224B Meaning of “relevant scheme” etc

- (1) The following provisions apply for the purposes of this Part.
- (2) “Relevant scheme” means a scheme or arrangement (other than the FSCS) for the payment of compensation (in certain cases) to customers of persons who provide financial services or carry on a business connected with the provision of such services.
- (3) References to the manager of a relevant scheme are to the person who administers it or (if there is no such person) the person responsible for making payments under it.
- (4) “The FSCS” means the Financial Services Compensation Scheme (see section 213(2)).
- (5) “The FSCS manager” means the scheme manager as defined by section 212(1).
- (6) “Expense” includes anything that, if incurred in relation to the FSCS, would amount to an expense for the purposes of the FSCS.
- (7) “Notice” means a notice in writing.
- (8) In subsection (2)—
 - (a) “customers” includes customers outside the United Kingdom;
 - (b) “persons” includes persons outside the United Kingdom;
 - (c) references to the provision of financial services include the provision outside the United Kingdom of such services.
- (9) This Part applies to cases where the manager of the relevant scheme is the Treasury or any other Minister of the Crown as it applies to cases where that manager is any other person.

Power to require FSCS manager to act

224C Power to require FSCS manager to act on behalf of manager of relevant scheme

- (1) This section applies if compensation is payable under a relevant scheme.
- (2) The Treasury may by notice require the FSCS manager to exercise (on behalf of the manager of the relevant scheme) specified functions in respect of specified claims for compensation under the relevant scheme.
- (3) A notice may be given only with the consent of the manager of the relevant scheme.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (4) In subsection (2) “specified” means specified, or of a description specified, in the notice.
- (5) Claims or descriptions of claims may be specified by reference to the persons or description of persons whose claims they are.

224D Cases where FSCS manager may decline to act

- (1) This section applies where a notice under section 224C(2) (a “section 224C notice”) has been given in respect of a relevant scheme.
- (2) The FSCS manager is not under a duty to comply with the section 224C notice if, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving it, the FSCS manager gives a notice to the Treasury stating that a ground set out in section 224E applies.
- (3) Where a notice under subsection (2) is given, the FSCS manager may recover from the manager of the relevant scheme an amount equal to the total expenses incurred by the FSCS manager in connection with the relevant scheme in the period—
 - (a) beginning with the giving of the section 224C notice; and
 - (b) ending with the giving of the notice under subsection (2).
- (4) The duty to comply with the section 224C notice ceases if, after starting to comply with it, the FSCS manager gives a notice to the Treasury and the manager of the relevant scheme stating that a ground set out in section 224E applies.
- (5) Where a notice under subsection (4) is given, the FSCS manager must give the Treasury such information connected with the FSCS manager's exercise of functions in relation to the relevant scheme as the Treasury may reasonably require.
- (6) Any notice under this section—
 - (a) may be given only if, before giving it, the FSCS manager has taken reasonable steps to deal with anything that is causing the ground or grounds in question to apply; and
 - (b) must contain details of those steps.

224E Grounds for declining to act

- (1) This section sets out the grounds referred to in section 224D(2) and (4).
- (2) The first ground is that the FSCS manager is not satisfied that it will be able to obtain any information required in order to comply with the section 224C notice.
- (3) The second ground is that the FSCS manager is not satisfied that it will be able to obtain any advice or other assistance from the manager of the relevant scheme that is required in order to comply with the section 224C notice.
- (4) The third ground is—
 - (a) that the FSCS manager has not received an amount at least equal to the total expenses it expects to incur in connection with its relevant scheme functions; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) that there are no arrangements for the provision of funds to the FSCS manager to enable it to exercise those functions and meet those expenses; or

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 20 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (ii) that the FSCS manager considers that any such arrangements are unsatisfactory.
- (5) The fourth ground is that the FSCS manager considers that complying with the section 224C notice would detrimentally affect the exercise of its functions under the FSCS.
- (6) The fifth ground is—
 - (a) that there is no undertaking from the manager of the relevant scheme not to bring proceedings against the FSCS manager; or
 - (b) that the FSCS manager considers that the terms of any such undertaking are unsatisfactory.
- (7) The sixth ground is—
 - (a) that there are no arrangements for the reimbursement of any expenses incurred by the FSCS manager in connection with any proceedings brought against it in respect of its relevant scheme functions (including expenses incurred in meeting any award of damages made against it); or
 - (b) that the FSCS manager considers that any such arrangements are unsatisfactory.
- (8) In subsection (6) references to an undertaking of the kind mentioned there are to an undertaking not to bring proceedings in respect of the FSCS manager's relevant scheme functions except proceedings in respect of an act or omission of the FSCS manager that is alleged to have been in bad faith.
- (9) In this section “proceedings” includes proceedings outside the United Kingdom.

Rules

224F Rules about relevant schemes

- (1) The [^{F1795}regulators] may by rules make provision in connection with the exercise by the FSCS manager of functions in respect of relevant schemes.
- (2) The provision that may be made by the rules includes any provision corresponding to provision that could be contained in the FSCS; but this is subject to subsections (3) and (4).
- (3) The rules may confer on the FSCS manager a power to impose levies on authorised persons (or any class of authorised persons) for the purpose of meeting its management expenses incurred in connection with its functions in respect of relevant schemes.
- (4) But if the rules confer such a power they must provide that the power may be exercised in relation to expenses incurred in connection with a relevant scheme only if the FSCS manager has tried its best to obtain reimbursement of the expenses from the manager of the relevant scheme.
- (5) The rules may apply any provision of the FSCS, with or without modifications.
- (6) An amount payable to the FSCS manager as a result of any provision of the rules made by virtue of subsection (3) may be recovered as a debt due to the FSCS manager.
- (7) References to the FSCS manager's “management expenses” are to its expenses incurred otherwise than in paying compensation.]

The scheme

225 The scheme and the scheme operator.

- (1) This Part provides for a scheme under which certain disputes may be resolved quickly and with minimum formality by an independent person.
- (2) The scheme is to be administered by a body corporate (“the scheme operator”).
- (3) The scheme is to be operated under a name chosen by the scheme operator but is referred to in this Act as “the ombudsman scheme”.
- (4) Schedule 17 makes provision in connection with the ombudsman scheme and the scheme operator.

226 Compulsory jurisdiction.

- (1) A complaint which relates to an act or omission of a person (“the respondent”) in carrying on an activity to which compulsory jurisdiction rules apply is to be dealt with under the ombudsman scheme if the conditions mentioned in subsection (2) are satisfied.
- (2) The conditions are that—
 - (a) the complainant is eligible and wishes to have the complaint dealt with under the scheme;
 - (b) the respondent was an authorised person [F1796 or an electronic money issuer within the meaning of the Electronic Money Regulations 2011]]^{F1797}, or

- a payment service provider within the meaning of the Payment Services Regulations [^{F1798}2017],] at the time of the act or omission to which the complaint relates; and
- (c) the act or omission to which the complaint relates occurred at a time when compulsory jurisdiction rules were in force in relation to the activity in question.
- (3) “Compulsory jurisdiction rules” means rules—
- (a) made by the [^{F1799}FCA] for the purposes of this section; and
- (b) specifying the activities to which they apply.
- (4) Only activities which are regulated activities, or which could be made regulated activities by an order under section 22, may be specified.
- (5) Activities may be specified by reference to specified categories (however described).
- [^{F1800}(5A) If the FCA specifies activities which are account information services provided by authorised payment institutions or EEA authorised payment institutions, the FCA must specify to the same extent account information services provided by registered account information service providers or, as the case may be, EEA registered account information service providers.
- (5B) Expressions used in subsection (5A) and in the Payments Services Regulations 2017 have the same meaning in that subsection as they do in those Regulations.]
- (6) A complainant is eligible, in relation to the compulsory jurisdiction of the ombudsman scheme, if he falls within a class of person specified in the rules as eligible.
- (7) The rules—
- (a) may include provision for persons other than individuals to be eligible; but
- (b) may not provide for authorised persons to be eligible except in specified circumstances or in relation to complaints of a specified kind.
- [^{F1801}(7A) The rules must provide that a person within subsection (7B) is eligible in relation to a complaint to which subsection (7C) applies.
- (7B) A person is within this subsection if he or she has been identified by a respondent, in carrying on an activity to which the rules apply, as—
- (a) a politically exposed person;
- (b) a family member of a politically exposed person; or
- (c) a known close associate of a politically exposed person.
- (7C) This subsection applies to a complaint—
- (a) that the complainant has been incorrectly identified as a person within subsection (7B); or
- (b) relating to an act or omission of the respondent in consequence of the identification of the complainant as a person within subsection (7B).
- (7D) In subsection (7B), “politically exposed person”, “family member” and “known close associate” have the meanings given in regulation 35(12) of the Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Transfer of Funds (Information on the Payer) Regulations 2017.]
- (8) The jurisdiction of the scheme which results from this section is referred to in this Act as the “compulsory jurisdiction”.

227 Voluntary jurisdiction.

- (1) A complaint which relates to an act or omission of a person (“the respondent”) in carrying on an activity to which voluntary jurisdiction rules apply is to be dealt with under the ombudsman scheme if the conditions mentioned in subsection (2) are satisfied.
- (2) The conditions are that—

- (a) the complainant is eligible and wishes to have the complaint dealt with under the scheme;
 - (b) at the time of the act or omission to which the complaint relates, the respondent was participating in the scheme;
 - (c) at the time when the complaint is referred under the scheme, the respondent has not withdrawn from the scheme in accordance with its provisions;
 - (d) the act or omission to which the complaint relates occurred at a time when voluntary jurisdiction rules were in force in relation to the activity in question; and
 - (e) the complaint cannot be dealt with under the compulsory jurisdiction ^{F1803}
- (3) “Voluntary jurisdiction rules” means rules—
 - (a) made by the scheme operator for the purposes of this section; and
 - (b) specifying the activities to which they apply.
- (4) The only activities which may be specified in the rules are activities which are, or could be, specified in compulsory jurisdiction rules.
- (5) Activities may be specified by reference to specified categories (however described).
- (6) The rules require the [^{F1804}FCA's] approval.
- (7) A complainant is eligible, in relation to the voluntary jurisdiction of the ombudsman scheme, if he falls within a class of person specified in the rules as eligible.
- (8) The rules may include provision for persons other than individuals to be eligible.
- (9) A person qualifies for participation in the ombudsman scheme if he falls within a class of person specified in the rules in relation to the activity in question.
- (10) Provision may be made in the rules for persons other than authorised persons to participate in the ombudsman scheme.
- (11) The rules may make different provision in relation to complaints arising from different activities.
- (12) The jurisdiction of the scheme which results from this section is referred to in this Act as the “voluntary jurisdiction”.
- (13) In such circumstances as may be specified in voluntary jurisdiction rules, a complaint—
 - (a) which relates to an act or omission occurring at a time before the rules came into force, and
 - (b) which could have been dealt with under a scheme which has to any extent been replaced by the voluntary jurisdiction,is to be dealt with under the ombudsman scheme even though paragraph (b) or (d) of subsection (2) would otherwise prevent that.
- (14) In such circumstances as may be specified in voluntary jurisdiction rules, a complaint is to be dealt with under the ombudsman scheme even though—
 - (a) paragraph (b) or (d) of subsection (2) would otherwise prevent that, and
 - (b) the complaint is not brought within the scheme as a result of subsection (13), but only if the respondent has agreed that complaints of that kind were to be dealt with under the scheme.

Determination of complaints

228 Determination under the compulsory jurisdiction.

- (1) This section applies only in relation to the compulsory jurisdiction ^{F1805}....
 - (2) A complaint is to be determined by reference to what is, in the opinion of the ombudsman, fair and reasonable in all the circumstances of the case.
 - (3) When the ombudsman has determined a complaint he must give a written statement of his determination to the respondent and to the complainant.
 - (4) The statement must—
 - (a) give the ombudsman’s reasons for his determination;
 - (b) be signed by him; and
 - (c) require the complainant to notify him ^{F1806}..., before a date specified in the statement, whether he accepts or rejects the determination.
 - (5) If the complainant notifies the ombudsman that he accepts the determination, it is binding on the respondent and the complainant and final.
 - (6) If, by the specified date, the complainant has not notified the ombudsman of his acceptance or rejection of the determination he is to be treated as having rejected it.
- ^{F1807}(6A) But the complainant is not to be treated as having rejected the determination by virtue of subsection (6) if—
- (a) the complainant notifies the ombudsman after the specified date of the complainant's acceptance of the determination,
 - (b) the complainant has not previously notified the ombudsman of the complainant's rejection of the determination, and
 - (c) the ombudsman is satisfied that such conditions as may be prescribed by rules made by the scheme operator for the purposes of this section are satisfied.]
- (7) The ombudsman must notify the respondent of the outcome.

- (b) a direction that the respondent take such steps in relation to the complainant as the ombudsman considers just and appropriate (whether or not a court could order those steps to be taken).
- (3) A money award may compensate for—
- (a) financial loss; or
 - (b) any other loss, or any damage, of a specified kind.
- (4) The [^{F1810}FCA] may specify [^{F1811}for the purposes of the compulsory jurisdiction] the maximum amount which may be regarded as fair compensation for a particular kind of loss or damage specified under subsection (3)(b).
- ^{F1812}(4A)
- (5) A money award may not exceed the monetary limit; but the ombudsman may, if he considers that fair compensation requires payment of a larger amount, recommend that the respondent pay the complainant the balance.
- (6) The monetary limit is such amount as may be specified.
- (7) Different amounts may be specified in relation to different kinds of complaint.
- (8) A money award—
- (a) may provide for the amount payable under the award to bear interest at a rate and as from a date specified in the award; and
 - (b) is enforceable by the complainant in accordance with Part III of Schedule 17
^{F1813}
- (9) Compliance with a direction under subsection (2)(b)—
- (a) is enforceable by an injunction; or
 - (b) in Scotland, is enforceable by an order under section 45 of the ^{M17}Court of Session Act 1988.
- (10) Only the complainant may bring proceedings for an injunction or proceedings for an order.

Information

231 Ombudsman’s power to require information.

- (1) An ombudsman may, by notice in writing given to a party to a complaint, require that party—
 - (a) to provide specified information or information of a specified description; or
 - (b) to produce specified documents or documents of a specified description.
- (2) The information or documents must be provided or produced—
 - (a) before the end of such reasonable period as may be specified; and
 - (b) in the case of information, in such manner or form as may be specified.
- (3) This section applies only to information and documents the production of which the ombudsman considers necessary for the determination of the complaint.
- (4) If a document is produced in response to a requirement imposed under this section, the ombudsman may—
 - (a) take copies or extracts from the document; or
 - (b) require the person producing the document to provide an explanation of the document.
- (5) If a person who is required under this section to produce a document fails to do so, the ombudsman may require him to state, to the best of his knowledge and belief, where the document is.
- (6) If a person claims a lien on a document, its production under this Part does not affect the lien.

Super-complaints and references to FCA

234C Complaints by consumer bodies

- (1) A designated consumer body may make a complaint to the FCA that a feature, or combination of features, of a market in the United Kingdom for financial services [^{F1833}or of a market in Great Britain for claims management services] is, or appears to be, significantly damaging the interests of consumers.

[But a complaint may not be made to the FCA under this section if it is a complaint ^{F1834}(1A) which could be made to the Payment Systems Regulator by a designated representative body under section 68 of the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 (complaints by representative bodies).

“Designated representative body” and “the Payment Systems Regulator” have the same meaning in this subsection as they have in that section.]
- (2) “Designated consumer body” means a body designated by the Treasury by order.
- (3) The Treasury—
 - (a) may designate a body only if it appears to them to represent the interests of consumers of any description, and
 - (b) must publish in such manner as they think fit (and may from time to time vary) criteria to be applied by them in determining whether to make or revoke a designation.

- (4) Sections 425A and 425B (meaning of “consumers”) apply for the purposes of this section, but the references to consumers in this section do not include consumers who are authorised persons.
- (5) In this section—
- (a) “market in the United Kingdom” has the meaning given in section 140A [^{F1835}(and “market in Great Britain” is to be construed accordingly)];
 - (b) the reference to a feature of a market in the United Kingdom for financial services [^{F1836}, or of a market in Great Britain for claims management services,] has a meaning corresponding to that which a reference to a feature of a market in the United Kingdom for goods and services has (by virtue of section 140A(3)) for the purposes of Chapter 4 of Part 9A.

234D Reference by scheme operator or regulated person

- (1) A relevant person may make a reference to the FCA where it appears to that person that either the first set of conditions or the second set of conditions are satisfied.
- (2) Each of the following is a “relevant person”—
 - (a) the scheme operator;
 - (b) a regulated person.
- (3) The first set of conditions is—
 - (a) that there may have been—
 - (i) in the case of a reference by the scheme operator, a regular failure by one or more regulated persons to comply with requirements applicable to the carrying on by them of any activity, or
 - (ii) in the case of a reference by a regulated person, a regular failure by that person to comply with requirements applicable to the carrying on by that person of any activity, and
 - (b) that as a result consumers have suffered, or may suffer, loss or damage in respect of which, if they brought legal proceedings, a remedy or relief would be available in the proceedings.
- (4) The reference to the failure by a regulated person (“R”) to comply with a requirement applicable to the carrying on by R of any activity includes anything done, or omitted to be done, by R in carrying on the activity—
 - (a) which is a breach of a duty or other obligation, prohibition or restriction, or
 - (b) which otherwise gives rise to the availability of remedy or relief in legal proceedings.

 - (b) the remedy or relief,
- arises as a result of any provision made by or under this or any other Act, a rule of law or otherwise.
- (6) The second set of conditions is—
- (a) in the case of a reference by the scheme operator, that one or more regulated persons have, on a regular basis, acted or failed to act, in such a way that, if a complaint were made under the ombudsman scheme in relation to that conduct, the ombudsman would be likely to determine the complaint in favour of the complainant,
 - (b) in the case of a reference by a regulated person, that the regulated person has, on a regular basis, acted or failed to act in such a way that, if a complaint were made under the ombudsman scheme in relation to that conduct, the ombudsman would be likely to determine the complaint in favour of the complainant, and
 - (c) in either case, that—
 - (i) if the complaint would fall within the compulsory jurisdiction ^{F1837} ..., the ombudsman would be likely to make an award under section 229(2)(a) or give a direction under section 229(2)(b), or
 - (ii) if voluntary jurisdiction rules made for the purposes of section 227 provide for the making of an award against a respondent or the giving of a direction that a respondent take certain steps in relation to a complainant, and the complaint would fall within the voluntary jurisdiction, the ombudsman would be likely to make such an award or give such a direction.
- (7) “Consumers” has the meaning given in section 1G.
- (8) “Regulated person” means—
- (a) an authorised person;
 - (b) an electronic money issuer, as defined in section 1H(8);
 - (c) a payment service provider, as defined in section 1H(8).

- (a) include a copy of the complaint or reference, and
 - (b) state the FCA's reasons for its proposals.
- (3) The Treasury may by order amend subsection (1) by substituting any period for the period for the time being specified there.

234F Section 234E: exceptions

- (1) This section applies where the FCA has received a reference under section 234D from a person who is a relevant person as a result of subsection (2)(b) of that section.
- (2) The duty to respond in section 234E does not apply if the FCA considers that the reference is frivolous, vexatious or has been made in bad faith.
- (3) The FCA must within 90 days after the day on which it receives the reference inform the person who made it—
 - (a) that the duty to respond under section 234E does not apply by virtue of this section, and
 - (b) of its reasons for reaching the conclusion in paragraph (a).
- (4) The Treasury may by order amend subsection (3) by substituting any period for the period for the time being specified there.

234G Guidance

- (1) The guidance given by the FCA under section 139A—
 - (a) must include guidance about the presentation of a reasoned case for a complaint under section 234C or a reference under section 234D, and
 - (b) may include guidance about such other matters as appears to the FCA to be appropriate for the purposes of section 234C or 234D.
- (2) Guidance given under this section is to be taken to be general guidance as defined in section 139B(5).

^{F1840}234I The FCA's functions under Part 4 of the Enterprise Act 2002

- (1) The functions to which this subsection applies (“the concurrent functions”) are to be concurrent functions of the FCA and the Competition and Markets Authority (referred to in this Part as “the CMA”).
- (2) Subsection (1) applies to the functions of the CMA under Part 4 of the Enterprise Act 2002 (market investigations), so far as those functions—
 - (a) are exercisable by the CMA Board (within the meaning of Schedule 4 to the Enterprise and Regulatory Reform Act 2013), and
 - (b) relate to the provision of financial services [^{F1841}or to the provision of claims management services in Great Britain].
- (3) But subsection (1) does not apply to functions under the following sections of the Enterprise Act 2002—
 - section 166 (duty to maintain register of undertakings and orders);
 - section 171 (duty to publish guidance).
- (4) So far as is necessary for the purposes of, or in connection with, subsections (1) and (2)—
 - (a) references in Part 4 of the Enterprise Act 2002 to the CMA (including references in provisions of that Act applied by that Part) are to be read as including references to the FCA, and
 - (b) references in that Part to section 5 of that Act are to be read as including references to section 234M of this Act.
- (5) But subsection (4) does not apply—
 - (a) in relation to section 166 or 171 of that Act, or
 - (b) where the context otherwise requires.
- (6) Section 130A of the Enterprise Act 2002 has effect in relation to the FCA by virtue of subsections (1) and (2) as if—
 - (a) in subsection (2)(a) of that section, the reference to the acquisition or supply of goods or services of one or more than one description in the United Kingdom were a reference to the acquisition or provision in the United Kingdom of financial services [^{F1842}or in Great Britain of claims management services], and
 - (b) in subsection (2)(b) of that section, the reference to the extent to which steps can and should be taken were a reference to the extent to which steps that might include steps under Part 4 of that Act can and should be taken.
- (7) Before the CMA or the FCA first exercises any of the concurrent functions in relation to any matter, it must consult the other.
- (8) Neither the CMA nor the FCA may exercise any of the concurrent functions in relation to any matter if any of those functions have been exercised in relation to that matter by the other.

234L Provision of information and assistance to a CMA group

- (1) For the purpose of assisting a CMA group in carrying out a relevant investigation, the FCA must give the CMA group—
 - (a) any relevant information which the FCA has in its possession, and
 - (b) any other assistance which the CMA group may reasonably require in relation to any matters falling within the scope of the investigation.
- (2) A “relevant investigation” is an investigation carried out on a reference made by the FCA under section 131 of the Enterprise Act 2002 by virtue of section 234I.
- (3) “Relevant information”, in relation to a relevant investigation, is information—
 - (a) which relates to matters falling within the scope of the investigation, and
 - (b) which—
 - (i) is requested by the CMA group for the purpose of the investigation, or
 - (ii) in the FCA's opinion, it would be appropriate to give to the CMA group for that purpose.
- (4) A CMA group, in carrying out a relevant investigation, must take into account any information given to it under this section.
- (5) In this section “CMA group” has the same meaning as in Schedule 4 to the Enterprise and Regulatory Reform Act 2013.

CHAPTER I

INTERPRETATION

235 Collective investment schemes.

- (1) In this Part “collective investment scheme” means any arrangements with respect to property of any description, including money, the purpose or effect of which is to enable persons taking part in the arrangements (whether by becoming owners of the property or any part of it or otherwise) to participate in or receive profits or income arising from the acquisition, holding, management or disposal of the property or sums paid out of such profits or income.
- (2) The arrangements must be such that the persons who are to participate (“participants”) do not have day-to-day control over the management of the property, whether or not they have the right to be consulted or to give directions.
- (3) The arrangements must also have either or both of the following characteristics—
 - (a) the contributions of the participants and the profits or income out of which payments are to be made to them are pooled;
 - (b) the property is managed as a whole by or on behalf of the operator of the scheme.
- (4) If arrangements provide for such pooling as is mentioned in subsection (3)(a) in relation to separate parts of the property, the arrangements are not to be regarded as constituting a single collective investment scheme unless the participants are entitled to exchange rights in one part for rights in another.
- (5) The Treasury may by order provide that arrangements do not amount to a collective investment scheme—
 - (a) in specified circumstances; or
 - (b) if the arrangements fall within a specified category of arrangement.
