

SCHEDULES

FOURTH SCHEDULE

ANCILLARY RIGHTS THAT MAY BE CONFERRED BY A COMPULSORY RIGHTS ORDER

- 1 A right for any person authorised by the person for whose benefit the compulsory rights order enures to pass over the land comprised in the order for the purpose of getting to or from the pipe-line on foot or with vehicles, and, where the right specified by the order is one of passing with vehicles, to transport materials, plant and apparatus therein.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Pipe-Lines Act 1962, Paragraph 1.