

Finance Act 1958

1958 CHAPTER 56

PART II

CUSTOMS AND EXCISE

11 Dog licences

The proviso to subsection (4) of section six of the Finance Act, 1908 (under which, on a change in the rate of any duty transferred by that section to local authorities in England and Wales, the transfer becomes inoperative), shall cease to apply to the duty on dog licences ; and accordingly those licences and the duty on them shall in England and Wales cease to be excise licences or an excise duty for any purpose (but without prejudice to the operation of the excise Acts in relation to them, in so far as those Acts apply at the coming into force of this section).