

Population (Statistics) Act 1938

1938 CHAPTER 12 1 and 2 Geo 6

An Act to make further provision for obtaining statistical information with respect to the population of Great Britain; and for purposes connected therewith. [30th March 1938]

1 Power to direct information to be furnished.

With a view to the compilation of statistical information with respect to the social and civil condition of the population of Great Britain, every person giving information in accordance with the Registration Acts, upon the registration, on or after the first day of July nineteen hundred and thirty-eight, of any birth, still-birth, or death, shall furnish to the registration officer such of the particulars specified in the Schedule to this Act as are appropriate to the registration and are within the knowledge of the person giving the information.

2 Duty of Registrar-General to collect information, and provision for expenses.

- (1) It shall be the duty of the Registrar-General to make such arrangements and to do all such things as are necessary for the collection and collation of all particulars furnished to registration officers pursuant to this Act, and for that purpose to make arrangements for the preparation and issue of any necessary forms and instructions.
- (2) The Registrar-General in the performance of his functions under this Act shall be subject to the control of, and shall comply with any directions given by, [<sup>F1</sup>the Chancellor of the Exchequer].
- (3) Any expenses incurred with the approval of the Treasury by [<sup>F1</sup>the Chancellor of the Exchequer] or by the Registrar-General in connection with the performance of his functions under this Act shall be defrayed out of moneys provided by Parliament.
