

Oxford University Act 1862

1862 CHAPTER 26 25 and 26 Vict

6 Variation of the trusts of certain scholarships.

The University may vary by statute the directions, trusts, or regulations relating to the Kennicott Scholarships, and to the Johnson Scholarships, and to the Denyer Theological Prizes, with a view of promoting the study of theology, Hebrew, and mathematics respectively, and may for that purpose, if it be deemed advisable, convert the Denyer Theological Prize into a theological scholarship or scholarships.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Oxford University Act 1862, Section 6.