Mines (Explosives) Regulations 1956

PART III

Storage, issue and conveyance of explosive and detonators

Conveyance and care of detonators

- 8.—(1) Any shot firer to whom a detonator case has been issued shall—
- (a) retain the key of the case in his own possession throughout the period during which he is on duty;
 - (b) ensure that, apart from any check sheet for recording shots fired by him, nothing except detonators is in it;
 - (c) ensure that at any time at which it is not on his person it is in a safe place and, unless he remains in the immediate vicinity, in a securely locked box; and
 - (d) if at the end of his period of duty it contains any detonator, return it to the appropriate place on the surface appointed for the storage or deposit of explosives.
- (2) No shot firer shall remove a detonator from a detonator case unless it is required immediately for charging a shot hole.
