Citation, commencement and interpretation

1.—(1) These regulations may be cited as the Family Allowances (Qualifications) Regulations 1969 and shall come into operation on 4th March 1969.

(2) In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires—

“the Act” means the Family Allowances Act 1965;

“allowance” means an allowance under the Act;

“the Secretary of State” means the Secretary of State for Social Services;

“parent” means, in relation to any child, the person in whose family such child would, if living with such person, be treated as included for the purposes of the Act as being issue of that person or, in the case of a man and his wife living together, as being issue of either the man or his wife;

“a member of the forces” means any person who, being a member of the armed forces of the Crown raised in the United Kingdom or a member of any nursing or other auxiliary service similarly raised and forming part of or attached to those forces, is in receipt of service pay in respect of naval, military or air force service or is serving as a commissioned or enlisted member of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps/Expeditionary Forces Institutes;

“a merchant seaman” means—

(i) the contract was entered into in Great Britain; or

(ii) it was entered into outside Great Britain, and he had set out from Great Britain for the purpose of entering into such contract:

Provided that any such person as is referred to in paragraph (a) (ii) of this definition shall be treated as a merchant seaman for the purposes of these regulations during the period between his setting out from Great Britain and his entering into such contract;

- (b) any person who, having been a person referred to in paragraph (a) of this definition, has not, since last being such a person, ceased to be employed under contracts of service as master or a member of the crew either of one of Her Majesty's ships or of some other British ship:

Provided that a person shall be deemed not to have ceased to be so employed during any period during which he is temporarily prevented from being so employed;

- (d) any person who has set out from Great Britain for the purpose of entering into a contract of service as master or a member of the crew of any of Her Majesty's ships or of any other British ship or who, having so set out, has failed to enter into such contract and is proceeding or intending to proceed to Great Britain:

and other expressions have the same meanings as in the Act.

(3) References in these regulations to any enactment or regulations shall include references to such enactment or regulations as amended by any subsequent enactment, order or regulations.

(4) The rules for the construction of Acts of Parliament contained in the Interpretation Act 1889(b) shall apply to this instrument and to the revocations effected by it as if this instrument and the regulations revoked by it were Acts of Parliament, and as if each revocation were a repeal.

Interpretation

7. In this Part of these regulations, "presence" and "absence" mean actual presence in and actual absence from Great Britain respectively, and "present" shall be construed accordingly.

An adult's presence in or absence from Great Britain

8.—(1) For the purposes of section 20(2) of the Act—

(a) the presence of a person at any date shall be treated as temporary except in the following circumstances:—

- (i) if for at least 26 weeks in the aggregate out of the 12 months immediately preceding that date he has either been present or, when not so present, been a member of the forces, a merchant seaman or a person under treatment; or
- (ii) if the period of that presence has been immediately preceded by a period of absence throughout which there was a right to an allowance for his family;

(b) the absence of a person at any date shall be treated as temporary except in the following circumstances:—

- (i) if it is or was when it began for a purpose other than a temporary purpose; or
- (ii) if it has lasted for a continuous period exceeding 6 months; or

(2) Where at any date there is already in existence a right to one or more allowances for the family of a man and his wife, that family shall, for the purposes of this regulation, be treated as continuing in existence despite the death of either of them occurring whilst they are living together.

Aggregation of periods

9. For the purposes of regulation 8 periods during which a person is present and periods during which, when not so present, he is a member of the forces, a merchant seaman or a person under treatment, shall be aggregated.

- (1) the presence at any date of a child whose place of birth is not in the United Kingdom and who would, if his presence were treated as other than temporary, be included for the purposes of the Act in the family of any person other than a parent, shall be treated as temporary unless—
- (a) he has been present for the whole period of 6 months immediately preceding that date; or
  - (b) the period of that presence has been immediately preceded by a period of temporary absence; and
- (2) the absence of a child who is ordinarily resident in Great Britain shall be treated as temporary—

Subject to the qualification that a child born during the absence from Great Britain of his mother shall not be treated as ordinarily resident in Great Britain during any period before he first becomes present in Great Britain unless at the date of his birth the absence of his mother was temporary in accordance with the provisions of regulation 8(1)(b).

PART IV

RULES FOR DETERMINING WHETHER THE ABSENCE OF A CHILD FROM A PERSON OR THE INTERRUPTION OR REDUCTION OF A PERSON'S CONTRIBUTION IS OR IS NOT TO BE TREATED AS TEMPORARY

Interpretation

11.—(1) In this Part of these regulations unless the context otherwise requires “hospital” means any premises used for the reception and treatment of persons suffering from any illness, including any mental disorder within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1959(a), or of persons suffering from physical disability, and any premises used for providing treatment during convalescence or for medical rehabilitation.

(2) For the purposes of this Part of these regulations a man and his wife living together shall be treated as one person and reference to a person (other than a fit person) shall be construed as references to such persons as are mentioned in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) respectively of section 3(1) of the Act, that is to say, a man and his wife living together, such a man as is mentioned in the said paragraph (b) and such a woman as is mentioned in the said paragraph (c).

Absence from a parent and interruption or reduction of a parent's contribution

12.—(1) Subject to the provisions of regulation 14 in determining whether any absence (other than at a school) of a child from a parent or any interruption or reduction of a parent's contribution to the cost of providing for a child is or is not to be treated as temporary for the purposes of section 17(7) of the Act the following rules shall apply:—

- (a) any such absence, interruption or reduction due to the child undergoing treatment as an in-patient at a hospital shall be treated as temporary while the child is undergoing such treatment;

- (b) any such interruption or reduction due to the child being at a school shall be treated as temporary while the child is at that school; and
- (c) any such absence which does not fall within sub-paragraph (a) of this paragraph shall be treated as temporary for a period of 12 weeks and no longer, and any such interruption or reduction which does not fall within sub-paragraph (a) or (b) of this paragraph shall be treated as temporary for a period of 4 weeks and no longer:

Provided that if the absence, interruption or reduction has been immediately preceded by an absence, interruption or reduction falling within sub-paragraph (a) or (b) of this paragraph, or by absence at a school, the said period of 12 weeks or 4 weeks shall not begin to run until after the termination of that immediately preceding absence, interruption or reduction as the case may be.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (1)(c) of this regulation, a child's absence from a parent (other than absence at a school or while undergoing treatment as an in-patient at a hospital) shall cease to be treated as temporary if for a period of 4 weeks the child, whether residing in a residential establishment or boarded out under the Children Act 1948(a) or the Social Work (Scotland) Act 1968(b) or otherwise, has been—

- (a) kept in the care of a local authority under either of the said Acts; or
- (b) in the care of a voluntary organisation.

Absence from a person other than a parent and interruption or reduction of such person's contributions

13. Subject to the provisions of regulation 14, any absence (other than at a school) of a child from a person other than a parent and any interruption or reduction of the contribution of a person other than a parent to the cost of providing for a child shall, for the purposes of section 17(7) of the Act, be treated as temporary for the first 4 weeks thereof and no longer.

Further provisions relating to absence and to interruption or reduction of contributions

14. Notwithstanding anything contained in regulations 12 and 13, no absence (other than at a school) of a child from any person, and no interruption or reduction of the contribution made by any person to the cost of providing for a child, shall be treated as temporary for the purposes of section 17(7) of the Act in the following circumstances:—

- (1) if there is in force an order under the Children and Young Persons Act 1933(c) or the Children and Young Persons (Scotland) Act 1937(d) committing the child to the care of a fit person:

Provided that this shall not apply to any absence from, or to any interruption or reduction of the contribution made by, such fit person; or

- (2) if the absence, interruption or reduction is or is intended to be other than temporary.

Interruption of training

16. A person who is not in receipt of earnings which exceed 2 pounds a week shall be treated for the purposes of the Act as undergoing full-time training during any period in which he is undergoing such training and any period in which such training would have continued but for—

- (1) interruption due to holidays; or
- (2) interruption due to illness or disability of mind or body of that person; or

- (4) any other interruption of that person's full-time training which is of a temporary nature and which it is reasonable to disregard in the circumstances of his case:

Provided that after the first 4 weeks of any such interruption as is specified in paragraph (3) or (4) a person shall not be treated by virtue of either of those paragraphs as undergoing full-time training during any further period for which that interruption continues.

Computation of earnings

(2) In relation to any person undergoing full-time training, the earnings to be taken into account shall be limited to the net remuneration or profit of that person derived by him from that full-time training ascertained in accordance with the following provisions of this regulation.

(3) For the purposes of the foregoing paragraph, the following expenses shall be deducted from a person's remuneration or profit:—

  - (b) expenditure on food or accommodation in the course of travel shall be included in the expenses incurred in respect of that travel.
- (5) The provisions of this paragraph shall apply to any case in which there is a variation in the amount of a person's weekly earnings:—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These Regulations revoke and consolidate with amendments the Regulations hitherto in force for the purpose of the Family Allowances Act 1965 relating to qualifications for allowances under that Act in respect of nationality, residence, absence from Great Britain, providing for and maintaining a child, and instruction in a school and training.

Regulations 12(2) and 15(2) incorporate amendments of substance. Regulation 12(2) adopts a uniform limit of four weeks for the period during which a child's absence from his parents may be treated as temporary, if the child is not at a school or in hospital and is in the care of a local authority or voluntary organisation. The previous Regulations allowed a maximum period of twelve weeks in some circumstances. Regulation 15(2) extends (by a maximum of sixteen weeks) the period of four weeks during which a child removed from one school for transfer to another may be treated as continuing to receive instruction in a school, in cases where school holidays occur during the transfer period.

The other amendments are of a formal nature or made for purposes of clarification.
