SCHEDULE 1

Regulation 13(2)

SCHEDULE SUBSTITUTED FOR SCHEDULE 7 OF THE PRINCIPAL REGULATIONS

“SCHEDULE 7

PURCHASE OF ADDED YEARS

1. The sum payable under regulation 25(1)(a) by an officer shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 7 and shall be paid by a lump sum payment within 3 months of either the material date or the end of the period referred to in paragraph 7(3)(a)(ii).

2. The sum payable under regulation 25(1)(b) by an officer shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 8 and shall be paid by additional percentage contributions beginning on the birthday following the material date and ending on the date of intended retirement:

Provided that the additional percentage contributions payable by an officer, together with any other contributions payable by him under these or the previous regulations, shall not in aggregate exceed 15 per cent. of his remuneration or such other limit as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may from time to time specify.

3. For the purposes of this Schedule “material date” means the date on which an officer’s election to make payment under regulation 25 is received by his employing authority.

4.—(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) and to the provisions of regulation 28 and paragraphs 5 and 6, the additional contributing service that an officer may elect to purchase shall not exceed the number of years set out in column (2) of Table 1 below opposite the number of years of service set out in column (1) which would be reckonable on his attaining the age of 60, if his employment as an officer continued to that age.

(2) Where an officer has previously purchased or elected to purchase a period of added years of contributing service under regulation 25 or any corresponding provision of the previous regulations—

- (i) that period shall not be included in ascertaining the number of years of contributing service of that officer which would be reckonable on his attaining the age of 60 if his employment as an officer continued to that age;
- (ii) the number of added years of contributing service which an officer has purchased or elected to purchase shall be deducted from the number of years of additional contributing service which that officer would otherwise be entitled to purchase.

5. The maximum number of added years of contributing service permitted under paragraph 4 shall be reduced, in such manner as the Secretary of State may consider in any particular case to be appropriate, to take account of any retained benefits to which the officer became entitled before the material date (whether payable before, on or after that date), and for the purposes of this paragraph "retained benefits" means—

- (a) any pension, lump sum retiring allowance or short service gratuity payable under these or the previous regulations;
- (b) any superannuation benefits, including a return of contributions, payable on termination of employment otherwise than as an officer; and
- (c) such other benefits as the Commissioners of Inland Revenue may from time to time specify:

Provided that this paragraph and paragraphs 4 and 6 shall not apply in respect of the purchase of any service under regulation 25(7) or regulation 25(2) as originally made.

6. Where the limits laid down from time to time by the Commissioners of Inland Revenue would allow added years to be purchased up to a different maximum from that provided in paragraphs 4 and 5, the maximum under this Schedule shall be increased or reduced accordingly.

7.—(1) For the purpose of calculating the sum to be paid by an officer under paragraph 1, Table 2 set out below shall apply in accordance with this paragraph.

- (2) The age of an officer means his age at the material date.
- (3) The remuneration of an officer means the aggregate of his remuneration as calculated under (a) and (b) below.
  - (a) The remuneration of an officer, other than a practitioner, means the annual average of his remuneration during the 3 months of continuous employment as such officer—
    - (i) before the material date; or
    - (ii) to the end of the first 3 months of such employment if that is later than the material date:

Provided that—

- (i) in the case of a medical or dental officer entitled under his terms of service to fees in respect of domiciliary consultations, such fees shall be disregarded; and
- (ii) in the case of an officer whose remuneration was reduced or suspended by reason of his absence from duty, the absence shall be disregarded and no account shall be taken of the reduction or suspension.

(b) The remuneration of a practitioner means—

- (i) the annual average of his total uprated remuneration (calculated in accordance with regulation 71(2)(a)) for service as a practitioner before the material date, any service that may be treated as practitioner service by virtue of regulations 72 and 73 being disregarded; or
- (ii) the annual average of his remuneration as a practitioner to the end of the first complete quarter of service as a practitioner if that is later than the material date.

(4) The sum payable by an officer shall be calculated by multiplying his total remuneration by the amount specified in column (2) of Table 2 opposite his age specified in column (1) and the length (expressed in years and fractions of a year) of the additional period that he elects to purchase and dividing the product by 100.

8.—(1) For the purpose of calculating the sum to be paid by an officer under paragraph 2, Table 3 set out below shall apply in accordance with this paragraph.

(2) The age of an officer means his age on his next birthday following the material date.

(3) The “date of intended retirement” means the date on which an officer will attain the age of 55, 60 or 65, whichever is the age to which he has elected to pay additional contributions, and on or before which he would become entitled to receive payment of benefits under regulation 8(1)(a)(ii).

(4) The remuneration of an officer means his total remuneration, including remuneration as a practitioner, during the period for which additional contributions are payable:

Provided that—

- (i) in the case of a medical or dental officer entitled under his terms of service to fees in respect of domiciliary consultations such fees shall be disregarded; and
- (ii) the provisions of regulation 7(3) shall also apply to contributions payable under paragraph 2 where an officer is on leave of absence from duty with reduced remuneration or without remuneration.

(5) The sum payable by an officer shall be the percentage of remuneration specified in the column of Table 3 which is appropriate to his date of intended retirement opposite his age multiplied by the length (expressed in years and fractions of a year) of the additional period he desires to reckon as contributing service in pursuance of regulation 25(1)(b), and rounded to the next 0.01 per cent. above.

9. If on application for the purpose made in writing by the officer to the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State is of the opinion that payment in accordance with paragraph 2 is causing, or continuation of such payment would cause him financial hardship and in his discretion consents to the discontinuance of such payment, the officer shall not continue to make such payment and regulation 25(11)(c) shall apply.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations further amend the National Health Service (Superannuation) Regulations 1980 which provide for the payment of pensions and other benefits to persons engaged in the National Health Service.

The main changes are—

- (a) The period for which a widow's pension is payable at the same rate as her late husband's remuneration if he died while still employed in the National Health Service, or at the same rate as his pension if he was receiving a pension under the regulations at the date of his death, is extended from the first three to the first six months after his death where there are dependent children (regulations 6 and 8).
- (b) A widow who had married her late husband after he had become entitled to receive payment of a pension under the regulations will be entitled to a widow's pension at the rate of her late husband's pension for three months after his death provided she is entitled to a continuing widow's pension (regulation 6).
- (c) The provision which enables a widow's pension to be paid again to a former officer's widow who has married again and that marriage has ended if the former officer's period of service in the health service had included a period on or after 25th March 1972 will also apply to the widow of an officer who had ceased to be employed before 25th March 1972 (regulation 6).
- (d) The condition for entitlement to payment of a child's allowance to the dependent child of a deceased officer of a minimum of five years' service in the National Health Service is removed and child's allowance is calculated on the basis of a minimum of 10 years' service except that where the officer's maximum service up to the age of 65 would have been less than 10 years the period of service is limited to that period (regulation 7).
- (e) The period for which a child's allowance is payable at the same rate as a deceased officer's remuneration or pension rate, as the case may be, is extended from three to six months where the deceased officer was not survived by a widow or widower (regulation 7).
- (f) Provision is made for a child's allowance to be payable at the same rate as a deceased officer's pension or remuneration for three months in respect of a child who is not dependent on the surviving widow or widower and the period for which a child's allowance is payable is extended until the child attains 17 (regulation 7).
- (g) The limit of an annual sum payable, below which the Secretary of State may discharge his liability by payment of a lump sum is increased from £39 to £78 (regulation 9).
- (h) Provision is made to allow an officer to purchase additional service by payment of contributions of a fixed percentage of superannuable pay which provides greater flexibility by allowing purchase of periods of less than a complete year at any time in an officer's career provided that he can pay contributions for at least two years from his next birthday until the date he intends to retire (being when he reaches 55, 60 or 65). This provision replaces the previous provision which allowed an officer to pay by instalments over a period of years. Purchase by payment of a single lump sum is retained as an option for officers in their first twelve months after becoming subject to the provisions of the regulations (regulation 13).

- (i) Provision is made to allow an officer to purchase an unreduced retiring allowance by payment of contributions of a fixed percentage of superannuable pay. This provision will enable an officer to purchase an unreduced retiring allowance at any time during his career provided that he can pay the contributions for at least two years from his next birthday until the date he intends to retire (being when he reaches 55, 60 or 65). This provision replaces the previous provision which enabled an officer to pay by instalments over a period of years. The right to purchase an unreduced retiring allowance on payment of a single lump sum is retained for those officers who apply within twelve months of marriage or, if they are married before they become subject to the regulations, within twelve months of that date (regulation 16).
- (j) Provision is made to enable officers who had elected to remain subject to the terms of certain superannuation schemes instead of participating in the National Health Service superannuation scheme, to remain subject to those schemes on re-employment in the National Health Service with preserved benefits or after having become entitled to receive payment of a pension (regulation 19).
- (k) Provision is made to enable a transfer payment to be made to a superannuation scheme established for the staff of a European Community institution in respect of an officer who becomes employed by a Community institution, subject to approval by the Occupational Pensions Board and the Superannuation Funds Office in individual cases (regulation 23).
- (l) Provision is made so that where a transfer of accrued pension benefit to a superannuation scheme established for the staff of a European Community institution is made in respect of an officer and the pension benefits provided by that scheme are below the level of guaranteed minimum pension (as defined in regulation 3 of the principal regulations) that any shortfall in that amount is made up (regulation 10).
- (m) The provision which precludes an officer from allocating part of his pension to his surviving spouse or dependant where the amount of the spouse's or dependant's pension would be less than a specified amount is amended by increasing that amount from £39 to £78 (regulation 25).

The regulations also make minor drafting and other amendments of the principal regulations.

Pursuant to the power conferred by section 12(1) of the Superannuation Act 1972 regulation 11 has retrospective effect as from 6th April 1978 in respect of any person who was an officer on or after that date. Regulation 6(d) has retrospective effect as from 1st June 1981.
