6.—(1) A personal pension scheme shall not accept a transfer payment from —

- (a) a retirement benefits scheme, or
- (b) a statutory scheme

(in this regulation referred to as “the paying scheme”) in the circumstances specified in paragraph (2) unless the administrator of the personal pension scheme has obtained the certificate specified in paragraph (3) from the individual referred to in paragraph (2).

(2) The circumstances specified in this paragraph are circumstances where, in respect of any employment to which the proposed transfer payment, or any part of it, relates —

- (a) an individual is, or has been at any time during the period of ten years prior to the date on which a right to a cash equivalent arose, a controlling director, or
- (b) an individual’s annual remuneration is, or was for any year during the period of ten years prior to the date on which the right to a cash equivalent arose, £100,000 or in excess of that amount.

- (ii) where a transfer payment has been accepted by the paying scheme from a retirement benefits scheme or statutory scheme, the retirement benefits scheme, or statutory scheme, NS up to a maximum of 40, and NS is the maximum benefits which could have been provided under the rules of the paying scheme in respect of the number of potential years of service expressed in the denominator NS, taking into account the maximum benefits that the scheme could have provided for the individual and his dependants, and on the assumptions that —
 - (i) had the individual remained a member of the scheme the benefits which would have accrued to him throughout the period between the end of his actual service and his normal retirement age under the rules of the paying scheme would have increased at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and
 - (ii) that pensions payable thereafter would increase at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum; and

(b) except in the circumstances and to the extent specified in paragraph (4), the proposed transfer payment represents the whole of the individual's accrued rights to benefits under the paying scheme.

(4) The circumstances specified in this paragraph are circumstances where, to the extent that any enactment requires or permits an occupational pension scheme to restrict the amount which may be transferred —

- (a) regulation 2A of the Occupational Pension Schemes (Transfer Values) Regulations 1985⁽⁶⁾ applies and the transfer value provided by the occupational pension scheme does not include benefits which accrued to the individual as a member of the scheme in relation to the service before 6th April 1988, or
- (b) the individual's benefits include rights to a guaranteed minimum pension or protected rights and the personal pension scheme receiving the transfer payment is not an appropriate personal pension scheme.

Requirements as to the application of transfer payments

7. Where a personal pension scheme accepts a transfer payment the whole of the transfer payment shall be applied to a personal pension arrangement made in accordance with the scheme.

8.—(1) Subject to regulation 9, where a personal pension scheme accepts a transfer payment from —

- (a) a retirement benefits scheme, or
- (b) a statutory scheme,

(2) The accumulated value may be applied —

- (a) wholly to secure the payment of an annuity which satisfies the conditions contained in section 636 of the Act, or
- (b) as to not more than 25 per cent. to secure the payment of a lump sum and as to the balance to secure the payment of such an annuity as is referred to in paragraph (a).

9. Where the administrator of a personal pension scheme, having taken all reasonable steps, is satisfied that there is no surviving spouse to whom an annuity referred to in regulation 8(2)(a) can be paid, the whole of the accumulated value may be paid as a lump sum.
