Citation and commencement

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Occupational Pension Schemes (Transitional Provisions) Regulations 1988 and shall come into force on 2nd September 1988 but shall have effect in accordance with regulation 12.

Interpretation

2.—(1) In these Regulations unless the context otherwise requires —

“the Board” means the Commissioners of Inland Revenue;

“business” includes a trade or profession and includes any activity carried on by a body of persons, whether corporate or unincorporate;

“control”, in relation to a body corporate or partnership, has the meaning given to it by section 840; and the definition of

“control” in that section applies (with the necessary modifications) in relation to an unincorporated association as it applies in relation to a body corporate;

“relevant employer” means —

- (a) an associated employer, or
- (b) an employer —

(1) 1988 c. 1; paragraph 1(2) was substituted by the Finance Act 1988 (c. 39), section 56.

- (i) who has acquired, or who has been acquired by, or who has merged with, an employer who had established a scheme before 17th March 1987, or
- (ii) who has taken over the whole or part of the business of such an employer;

“section” means a section of, and “Schedule” means Schedule 23 to, the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988(2);

“total pension” means in relation to an employee the aggregate of all benefits (including the value in terms of an annual pension of any lump sum or sums received or receivable by the employee) —

- (a) from schemes established by his employer, or to which his employer has contributed, and
- (b) from schemes to which his employer has not contributed and which provide benefits in addition to those provided by schemes to which he has contributed.

(2) For the purpose of these Regulations an employer is associated with another employer if (directly or indirectly) one is controlled by the other or if both are controlled by a third person, and the expression “associated employer” shall be construed accordingly.

Disapplication of paragraphs 2, 3, 4 and 6 of the Schedule

 - (i) benefits cease to accrue to the employee under the scheme and he becomes a member of another scheme established by his employer, or a scheme established by a relevant employer, (in this paragraph and in regulation 4 referred to as “the new scheme”); or
 - (ii) benefits cease to accrue to the employee under the scheme by reason of his secondment or posting to another employer if —
 - (a) at the end of the period of his secondment or posting he becomes a member of a scheme established by the employer by whom he was seconded or posted, or by a relevant employer, and
 - (b) at the time of his secondment or posting he had a definite expectation that the condition contained in sub-paragraph (a) of this paragraph would be met; or

 - (iv) benefits cease to accrue to the employee under the scheme by reason of her pregnancy or confinement if, within one month of returning to work, she becomes a member of a scheme established by the employer who established the scheme, or a scheme established by a relevant employer; or
 - (v) benefits cease to accrue to the employee under the scheme (where the circumstances are other than those specified in paragraphs (ii), (iii) or (iv)) if, within one month

(2) Schedule 23 was amended by the Finance Act 1988 (c. 39), section 56.

of benefits ceasing so to accrue, benefits again accrue to the employee under that scheme; or

- (vi) the employee becomes a member of a scheme which provides benefits in addition to those under the scheme of which he remains a member.

(3) The circumstances prescribed in this paragraph are circumstances where an employee was not a member of a scheme before 17th March 1987 but is to be regarded as being a member of that scheme before that date by virtue of regulation 2(2)(b) of the Occupational Pension Schemes (Preservation of Benefit) Regulations 1984⁽³⁾.
