1995 No. 1266

The Financial Services Act 1986 (Investment Advertisements) (Exemptions) Order 1995

Advertisements by certain markets

16.—(1) Section 57 of the Act shall not apply to an investment advertisement which is issued or caused to be issued by a market which is a relevant EEA market or is established under the rules of an investment exchange specified in Schedule 2 or 3 to this Order, if the only reason why section 57 would otherwise apply to the advertisement is that it contains information relating to the facilities provided by the relevant market.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph (1) of this article, information which identifies a particular investment as one which may be traded or dealt in on a market or which identifies particular persons as persons through whom transactions on a market may be effected shall not be regarded as information relating to the facilities provided by the relevant market.
