Charities

9.—(1) This paragraph applies to any property which, immediately before the reorganisation date, is held, as sole trustee, exclusively for charitable purposes by an abolished authority.

(2) Where any property to which paragraph (1) above applies is held for the benefit of, or of the inhabitants of, or of any particular class or body of persons in, a specified area, the property shall, on the reorganisation date, vest (on the same trusts) in the successor authority the area of which, on and after that date, comprises the whole or the greater part of that specified area.

(3) Where any property to which paragraph (1) above applies is not held for such a benefit as is mentioned in paragraph (2) above, the property shall, on the reorganisation date, vest (on the same trusts) in the successor authority the area of which, on and after that date, comprises an area which, immediately before that date, is the whole or the greater part of the area of the abolished authority.

(5) Where, immediately before the reorganisation date, any property is held, as sole trustee, exclusively for charitable purposes by the relinquishing authority in relation to a transferred area and is so held for the benefit of, or of the inhabitants of, or of any particular class or body of persons in, a specified area the whole or the greater part of which is comprised in the transferred area, the property shall, on that date, vest (on the same trusts) in the acquiring authority in relation to that area.

(8) References in paragraph (7) above to a power with respect to a relevant charity do not include references to a power of any person by virtue of being a charity trustee of the charity; but where, under the trusts of such a charity, the charity trustees immediately before the reorganisation date include an abolished authority or the relinquishing authority in relation to a transferred area, or the holder of an office connected with such an authority, those trustees shall instead include the authority in which the property of the charity would have been vested as mentioned in paragraph (7) above or, as the case may be, the holder of the corresponding office connected with, or (if there is no such office) the proper officer of, that authority.

- (b) shall not, except with the consent of the Secretary of State, dispose of it for a consideration which is less than the best that can reasonably be obtained.

(2) Where the custodian authority is a successor authority, the authority shall, as soon as is reasonably practicable after a disposal under paragraph (1) above—

- (a) deduct the amount of any relevant expenditure from the amount received in respect of the disposal (“the disposal receipt”); and
- (b) if the amount found after that deduction is a positive amount, distribute that amount in accordance with provisions included in an agreement as mentioned in regulation 5(2)(d)(ii).

(3) Where the custodian authority is the relinquishing authority in relation to a transferred area, the authority shall, as soon as is reasonably practicable after a disposal under paragraph (1) above—

- (a) deduct the relevant proportion of any relevant expenditure from the appropriate proportion of the disposal receipt; and
- (b) if the amount found after that deduction is a positive amount, pay that amount to the acquiring authority in relation to the area.

(4) For the purposes of paragraph (3) above—

- (a) the appropriate proportion is the proportion equal to the proportion which the population of the transferred area bears to the population of the area which, immediately before the reorganisation date, was the area of the relinquishing authority; and
- (b) the population of an area shall be taken to be the number estimated by the Registrar General by reference to the date which, at the reorganisation date, is the latest date in respect of which such an estimate is available.

(5) Where the whole of a custodian authority’s relevant expenditure is not met by a deduction of such expenditure from the amount of a disposal receipt as mentioned in paragraph (2) or (3) above, that authority may recover an amount equal to the relevant proportion of any relevant expenditure which is not so met from—

- (a) where the custodian authority is a successor authority in relation to an abolished authority, any other successor authority in relation to that authority; or
- (b) where the custodian authority is the relinquishing authority in relation to a transferred area, the acquiring authority in relation to that area.

(6) For the purposes of paragraphs (3) and (5) above, the relevant proportion means such proportion as the authorities concerned may agree, or failing such agreement—

- (a) where those authorities are successor authorities in relation to an abolished authority, the proportion equal to the proportion which the council tax base of the authority from whom an amount is to be recovered for the financial year in which the disposal takes place bears to the aggregate of the council tax bases for that financial year of all the successor authorities; and

(5) 1972 c. 70; for “proper officer”, see section 270(3) of the Act.

- (b) where the authorities concerned are the relinquishing authority and the acquiring authority in relation to a transferred area, the proportion equal to the proportion which the relinquishing authority's estimate of the council tax base of the transferred area for that financial year bears to that authority's estimate of the council tax base for that year of the area which, immediately before the reorganisation date, was the area of that authority.

(7) In this regulation—

“relevant expenditure” means a sum equal to the amount by which the total of expenditure properly incurred by the custodian authority in connection with the management or disposal of surplus land exceeds the total of payments (other than the disposal receipt) received by that authority in respect of the land; and

“surplus land” means any land identified in an agreement as mentioned in paragraph (2)(d)(i) or, as the case may be, (6)(b)(ii) of regulation 5.

- (b) the records relate to—
 - (i) any property, rights or liabilities which are so vested in another body; or
 - (ii) any function which is exercisable, on and after the reorganisation date, by such other body, that other body shall be entitled during ordinary office hours, through any person authorised in that behalf, to inspect those records and to take, or be supplied with, copies of those records or of any part of them.

(2) The rights conferred by paragraph (1) above include the right to require any record which is not in legible form to be made available in legible form for the purposes of inspection or copying or being supplied with copies.

(3) In this regulation and regulation 12, “relevant authority” means—

- (i) an abolished authority; or
- (ii) the relinquishing authority in relation to a transferred area.

Continuity of matters

12.—(1) All contracts, deeds, bonds, agreements, licences and other instruments subsisting in favour of, or against, and all notices in force which were given, or have effect as if given, by or to, a relevant authority in respect of any transferred matters shall be of full force and effect in favour of, or against, the body to whom such matters are transferred.

(2) Any action or proceeding, or any cause of action or proceeding, pending or existing at the reorganisation date by or against a relevant authority in respect of any transferred matters may be continued, prosecuted and enforced by or against the body to which such matters are transferred.

(3) In this regulation, “transferred matters” means any property, rights or liabilities transferred by virtue of these Regulations or any other relevant instrument.
