(3) 1990 c. 8.

Transitional provisions in connection with planning functions

6.—(1) Subject to articles 7 and 8, this article applies as respects any planning functions which were transferred to the development corporation by the London Docklands Development Corporation (Planning Functions) Order 1990(5) and in respect of which the development corporation ceased, by virtue of the preceding provisions of this Order, to be the local planning authority responsible for exercising those functions.

(2) Anything which before the date of the coming into force of this Order was in the process of being done by, to or in relation to the development corporation in connection with any of the functions mentioned in paragraph (1) above may be continued after that date by, to or in relation to the authority.

Transitional provisions in connection with planning applications

7.—(1) This article applies as respects any application for planning permission or approval of reserved matters or for any other approval, consent or determination under the 1990 Act, or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990(6), or under any order or regulations made or having effect under either of those Acts—

- (b) in respect of which the development corporation ceases, by virtue of the preceding provisions of this Order, to be the local planning authority responsible for determining the application.

(2) Except where the development corporation transmits the application to the authority for determination in accordance with paragraph (3), the development corporation shall have in relation to an application the same powers and duties as it would have had if this Order had not come into force.

(5) Where notices, certificates, publicity or consultations have been, or are in the process of being, given or carried out in relation to an application before the day on which it is transmitted to the authority, paragraph (4) shall not be construed as requiring further notices, certificates, publicity or consultations solely because the application is treated as received by the authority from the applicant on that day.

(6) Where an appeal is made to the Secretary of State under section 78 of the 1990 Act(7) or section 20 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990(8) in relation to an application to which this article applies, the authority shall be the local planning authority for the purposes of the appeal.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order removes from the London Docklands urban development area an area of approximately 266.3 hectares comprising part of the London borough of Southwark. The area is shown edged with a black line and hatched on the map below.

The London Docklands Development Corporation is the local planning authority for the urban development area in place of any other authority which would be the local planning authority. By virtue of this Order, the council of the London borough of Southwark becomes the local planning authority for the excluded area.

The Order contains transitional provisions concerning the powers of the development corporation in the excluded area, its liability for compensation and its planning functions.

The maps referred to in the Order may be inspected during normal office hours at the following offices:
