EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Asbestos (Prohibitions) Regulations 1992 (S.I. 1992/3067) (“the Asbestos Regulations 1992”) and come into force on 24th November 1999. The Asbestos (Prohibitions) (Amendment) Regulations 1999 (S.I. 1999/2373) (“the Asbestos Amendment Regulations 1999”) also amend the Asbestos Regulations 1992 and come into force on 24th November 1999.

The Asbestos Amendment Regulations 1999 implement Commission Directive 1999/77/EC of 26th July 1999 adapting to technical progress for the sixth time Annex 1 to Council Directive 76/769/EEC on the approximation of laws, regulations and administrative provisions of the Member States relating to the restrictions on the marketing and use of dangerous substances and preparations (asbestos).

The Asbestos Regulations 1992 replaced the Asbestos (Prohibitions) Regulations 1985 (S.I. 1985/910 amended by 1988/711); they implemented, as respects the United Kingdom, Commission Directive No. 91/659/EEC (OJ No. L363, 31.12.91, p. 36) adapting to technical progress Annex 1 of Council Directive No. 76/769/EEC (OJ No. L262, 27.9.1976, p. 201) on restrictions relating to the marketing and use of dangerous substances and preparations (asbestos).

Regulation 2(8) of the Asbestos Amendment Regulations 1999 substituted a new Schedule for the Schedule to the Asbestos Regulations 1992. These Regulations amend that new Schedule in the following respects. They delete the references to paragraph 9 in paragraphs 1(k) and (l). This has the effect of removing the derogation from the prohibitions on the importation of chrysotile or products containing it for vehicle brake linings or required solely for their manufacture. The Regulations also delete the reference to paragraph 9 in paragraph 2(1). This has the effect of removing the derogation from the prohibitions on the supply or use of chrysotile and products to which chrysotile has been intentionally added required solely for the manufacture of vehicle brake linings. In addition, a new definition of “vehicle” is substituted for the existing definition in paragraph 9. The new definition of “vehicle” is the one used in the Road Traffic Act 1988 and includes motor cycles. Paragraphs 2 and 9 of the Schedule to the 1992 Regulations now disapply the prohibitions on the use of chrysotile and products containing it in respect of vehicle brake linings which are supplied or used for fitting to vehicles. The effect of the new definition of “vehicle” is to extend the derogation so that it includes motor cycle brake linings.

The Road Vehicles (Brake Linings Safety) Regulations 1999 (“the Brake Linings Regulations 1999”) restrict the supply of brake linings on safety grounds and give effect to Commission Directive 98/12/EC of 27th January 1998 adapting to technical progress Council Directive 71/320/EEC on the approximation of the laws of the Member States relating to the braking devices of certain categories of motor vehicles and their trailers. The Directive lays down standards for asbestos-free brake linings. Regulations 1, 2, 3 and 7 of the Regulations also come into force on 24th November 1999 and the remainder will come into force on 31st March 2001. Regulation 3 of the Regulations prohibits the supply, exposure for supply or fitting to a motor vehicle or trailer of brake linings containing asbestos.

This is subject to exceptions for brake linings intended for fitting to pre-1973 vehicles only and clearly so marked or in packaging so marked and for armed forces vehicles. The exception for pre-1973 vehicles will cease to have effect on 1st January 2005.
