AMENDMENTS TO THE PIPE-LINES ACT 1962

Consequential repeals and amendments

10. In subsection 12(5) for the words from the beginning to the words “and he may” there shall be substituted—

“(5) If—

- (a) any such pipe-line or length of a pipe-line as has been placed in land by virtue of a compulsory rights order is diverted from the land comprised in the order or is abandoned; or
- (b) a pipe-line construction authorisation relating to a pipe-line or length of a pipe-line to be placed in land in pursuance of a compulsory rights order becomes of no effect by virtue of subsection (4) of section one of this Act, the Secretary of State may by order revoke the compulsory rights order to the extent to which it appears to him to have become unnecessary in consequence of the diversion or abandonment or of the authorisation’s so becoming of no effect.

(5A) The Secretary of State may”.
