(2) S.I.1972/1217; regulation 10(3) was amended by S.I. 1992/1283.

- (i) the name of every person whose liability is covered by the policy or security, or
  - (ii) (where it is not reasonably possible for the company to keep a record of those names) a description of the persons whose liability is covered by the policy or security;
  - (d) in respect of vehicles the use of which is covered by the policy or security—
    - (i) the registration number of every vehicle specifically identified by that number in the policy or security (a “specified vehicle”), and
    - (ii) a description of every other vehicle or class of vehicles which are identified in the policy or security other than by reference to a registration number;
  - (e) a description of every specified vehicle sufficient to enable it to be identified by a police officer;
  - (f) the date on which the policy or security comes into force and the date on which it expires;
  - (g) in the case of a policy, the conditions subject to which the person or persons whose liability is covered will be indemnified by the insurer;
  - (h) in the case of a security, the conditions subject to which the undertaking by the giver of the security will be implemented.”
- (4) For regulation 10(4) there is substituted—
- “(4) Records which are required to be kept under paragraph (1) shall be preserved by the company keeping them for a period of seven years commencing on the expiry of the relevant policy or security.
- (5) Every company, specified body and other person required by this regulation to keep records—
- (a) shall furnish, without charge, to the Secretary of State or a chief officer of police upon request any particulars contained in those records, and
  - (b) may provide copies of those records to the Motor Insurers' Bureau or, if the Bureau so requests, to a subsidiary company nominated by it but where copies are provided they must be provided in electronic form.
- (6) Where a copy of any record has been provided to the Motor Insurers' Bureau or its nominated subsidiary under paragraph (5)(b), the Bureau or its subsidiary shall—
- (a) in the case of a record which is required to be kept under paragraph (1), preserve that copy record for a period of seven years from the date of expiry of the relevant policy or security, and
  - (b) furnish, without charge, to the Secretary of State or a chief officer of police upon request any particulars which it holds by virtue of this regulation.”

Signed by authority of the Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Motor Vehicles (Third Party Risks) Regulations 1972 by altering the requirements as to the keeping of records of (i) policies of insurance and securities (and certificates thereof) issued under the Road Traffic Act 1988 and (ii) vehicles the use of which is exempt from the normal insurance requirement under section 144 of that Act.

The requirements are extended (in the case of insurance policies and securities) to include particulars of every person whose liability is covered by a policy or security and additional particulars of the vehicles whose use is covered. Records of old insurance policies and securities are required to be kept for a period of seven years after expiry. Copies of any records may be supplied to the Motor Insurers' Bureau or its nominated subsidiary in electronic form and kept by it on a database. In such cases the Bureau or its subsidiary must keep the copy records of expired policies and securities for the same seven-year period and disclose particulars of any record it holds to the Secretary of State or police on request.

A Regulatory Impact Assessment has been prepared and copies can be obtained from the Licensing, Roadworthiness and Insurance Division of the Department for Transport, Local Government and the Regions, Zone 2/07 Great Minster House, 76 Marsham Street, London SW1P 4DR (telephone number 020 7944 2463) or viewed on the DTLR website at www.dtlr.gov.uk. A copy has been placed in the library of both Houses of Parliament.
