12. The Tribunal shall have relief, under arrangements made by the Secretary of State, by way of refund of Insurance Premium Tax and Air Passenger Duty paid by the Tribunal in the exercise of its official activities.

PART 3

MEMBERS OF THE TRIBUNAL

13.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived as set out in paragraph (8), members of the Tribunal shall enjoy—

- (a) when engaged on the business of the Tribunal;
- (b) when residing in the United Kingdom for the purpose of holding themselves at the disposal of the Tribunal;
- (c) when on journeys in or through the United Kingdom in connection with the exercise of their functions, the privileges and immunities set out in paragraph (2).

(2) The privileges and immunities referred to in paragraph (1) are—

- (a) the like immunity from suit and legal process, the like inviolability of residence, the like immunity from personal arrest, detention and seizure of personal baggage, and the like exemption or relief from taxes and rates, other than duties (whether of customs or excise) and taxes on the importation of goods, as are accorded to or in respect of the head of a diplomatic mission;
- (b) the like exemption or relief from being liable to pay anything in respect of council tax, as is accorded to or in respect of the head of a diplomatic mission;
- (c) the like exemption or relief from duties (whether customs or excise) and taxes on the importation of articles imported for the personal use of a member of the Tribunal or of members of his family forming part of his household, including articles intended for his establishment and the like privilege as to the importation of such articles, as in accordance with paragraph 1 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention articles is accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (d) the like exemption and privileges in respect of personal baggage as in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention articles are accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (e) relief, under arrangements made by the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs, by way of refund of duty (whether of customs or excise) paid on imported hydrocarbon oil (within the meaning of the Hydrocarbon Oil Duties Act 1979) or value added tax paid on the importation of such oil which is bought in the United Kingdom by or on behalf of a member of the Tribunal and is for his personal use or for that of members of his family forming part of his household such relief to be subject to compliance with such conditions as may be imposed in accordance with the arrangements.

(3) The provisions of paragraphs (1) and (2) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom; but any such person who is a member of the Tribunal shall enjoy—

- (a) immunity from suit and legal process (even after he has ceased to exercise his functions) in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by him in the course of discharging his functions in connection with the Tribunal; and
- (b) exemption from income tax in respect of salaries and emoluments (excluding pensions and annuities) received by him from the Tribunal as a member of the Tribunal, except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived as set out in paragraph (8).

(4) Where the incidence of any form of taxation depends on residence, any period during which members of the Tribunal are present in the United Kingdom for the discharge of their functions shall not be considered a period of residence in the United Kingdom.

(5) Paragraph (2) (a) shall not apply to pensions or annuities paid by the Tribunal.

(6) Members of the family forming part of the household of a member of the Tribunal—

- (a) during any period in which he is resident in the United Kingdom for the purpose of holding himself at the disposal of the Tribunal; or
- (b) when he is on journeys in or through the United Kingdom in connection with the exercise of his functions, shall enjoy the privileges and immunities provided for in paragraph (2) during the period of that residence or when on such journeys.

(7) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived as set out in paragraph (8), members of the Tribunal after the expiry of their terms of office shall enjoy immunity from suit and legal process in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by them in the course of discharging their functions in connection with the Tribunal.

(8) Privileges and immunities accorded by this article may be waived by the Tribunal.

PART 4

REGISTRAR

14.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived as set out in paragraph (5), the Registrar, when engaged on the business of the Tribunal, shall enjoy—

- (a) the like immunity from suit and legal process, the like inviolability of residence, the like immunity from personal arrest, detention and seizure of personal baggage, and the like exemption or relief from taxes and rates as are accorded to or in respect of a diplomatic agent;

- (c) the like exemption and privileges in respect of his personal baggage as in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention Articles are accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (d) relief, under arrangements made by the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs, by way of refund of duty (whether of customs or excise) paid on any hydrocarbon oil (within the meaning of the Hydrocarbon Oil Duties Act 1979) which is bought in the United Kingdom by him or on his behalf and which is for his personal use or for that of members of his family forming part of his household, such relief to be subject to compliance with such conditions as may be imposed in accordance with the arrangements.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom; but any such person who is the Registrar shall enjoy—

- (a) immunity from suit and legal process (even after he has ceased to exercise his functions) in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by him in the course of discharging his functions in connection with the Tribunal; and
- (b) exemption from income tax in respect of salaries and emoluments (excluding pensions and annuities) received by him from the Tribunal as Registrar of the Tribunal, except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived as set out in paragraph (5).

(3) Where the incidence of any form of taxation depends on residence, any period during which the Registrar is present in the United Kingdom for the discharge of his functions shall not be considered as a period of residence in the United Kingdom.

(4) Paragraph (1) (a) shall not apply to pensions or annuities paid by the Tribunal.

(5) Privileges and immunities accorded by this article may be waived by the Tribunal.

PART 5

OTHER OFFICIALS OF THE TRIBUNAL

15.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived in accordance with paragraph (5), officials of the Tribunal other than the Registrar, when engaged on the business of the Tribunal and as necessary for the independent exercise of their functions, shall enjoy—

- (a) immunity from suit and legal process (even after they have ceased to exercise their functions) in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by them in the course of discharging their functions for the Tribunal;
- (b) exemption from income tax in respect of salaries and emoluments received by them from the Tribunal as officials of the Tribunal;
- (c) the like exemption and privileges in respect of their personal baggage as in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention Articles are accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (d) the like exemption from duties (whether customs or excise) on the importation and re-exportation to their country of permanent residence, of articles which—
  - (i) at or about the time when an official of the Tribunal first enters the United Kingdom to take up that post of employment for the Tribunal in the United Kingdom are imported for his personal use, including articles intended for his establishment, and
  - (ii) are articles which were in the ownership or possession of an official of the Tribunal, or which he was under a contract to purchase, immediately before he entered the United Kingdom, and the like privilege as to the importation of such articles as in accordance with paragraph 1 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention articles is accorded to a diplomatic agent;

(e) the like immunity from personal arrest, detention and seizure of personal baggage as is accorded to a diplomatic agent.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity set out in sub-paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom.

(3) Where the incidence of any form of taxation depends on residence, any period during which officials of the Tribunal are present in the United Kingdom for the discharge of their functions shall not be considered as periods of residence in the United Kingdom.

(4) Paragraph (1) (b) shall not apply to pensions or annuities paid by the Tribunal.

(5) Privileges and immunities accorded by this article may be waived by the Registrar acting with the approval of the President of the Tribunal.

PART 6

EXPERTS

16.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Tribunal, experts appointed under article 289 of the Convention, during the period of their mission (including time spent on journeys in that connection), as necessary for the independent exercise of their functions, shall enjoy—

- (a) immunity from suit and legal process (even after they have ceased to exercise their functions) in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by them in the course of discharging their functions for the Tribunal;
- (b) the like exemption and privileges in respect of their personal baggage as in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention Articles are accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (c) the like inviolability for all papers and documents as is accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (d) the like immunity from personal arrest, detention and seizure of personal baggage as is accorded to a diplomatic agent.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity set out in sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom.

PART 7

AGENTS, COUNSEL AND ADVOCATES

17.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived in accordance with paragraph (3), and subject to the production of the required certificate, agents, counsel and advocates before the Tribunal during the period of their missions (including time spent on journeys in that connection), as necessary for the independent performance of their functions, shall enjoy—

- (a) immunity from suit and legal process (even after they have ceased to exercise their functions) in respect of acts, including words written or spoken, done by them in the course of discharging their functions for the Tribunal;

- (b) the like exemption and privileges in respect of their personal baggage as in accordance with paragraph 2 of Article 36 of the 1961 Convention Articles are accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (c) the like inviolability for all papers and documents as is accorded to a diplomatic agent;
- (d) the like immunity from personal arrest, detention and seizure of personal baggage as is accorded to a diplomatic agent.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity set out in sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom.

(3) Privileges and immunities accorded by this article may be waived—

- (a) in the case of agents, counsel and advocates representing, or designated by, a State which is a party to proceedings before the Tribunal, by that State;
- (b) in the case of all other agents, counsel and advocates, by the Tribunal.

(4) For the purposes of this article “required certificate” means a certificate signed by the Registrar certifying the status of the agent, counsel or advocate and specifying a time period reasonably required for the proceedings.

WITNESSES, EXPERTS AND PERSONS PERFORMING MISSIONS

18.—(1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Tribunal, witnesses, experts and persons performing missions by order of the Tribunal, during the period of their mission (including time spent on journeys in that connection), shall enjoy the privileges and immunities provided for in article 16 (1).

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not operate so as to confer any privilege or immunity set out in article 16 (1), sub-paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) on any person who is a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British Overseas citizen, a British national (Overseas) or permanently resident in the United Kingdom.

19. The International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (Immunities and Privileges) Order 1996 (7) is hereby revoked.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order confers the legal capacities of a body corporate and privileges and immunities upon the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (“the Tribunal”); and confers privileges and immunities on members of the Tribunal, the Registrar and other officials of the Tribunal, experts appointed under article 289 of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, agents, counsel and advocates before the Tribunal, witnesses, experts and persons performing missions by order of the Tribunal. These privileges and immunities are conferred in accordance with the Agreement on the Privileges and Immunities of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea done at New York on 1st July 1997 (“the Agreement”). The Order will enable Her Majesty’s Government to ratify the Agreement, and will enter into force on the date on which the Agreement enters into force in respect of the United Kingdom. The Order revokes the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (Immunities and Privileges) Order 1996.
