SCHEDULE

Article 2

All that land formerly occupied by the electricity substation at High Barnet, Ivere Drive, Barnet, London EN5 shown edged red on the attached plan marked 'High Barnet Substation'.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

Section 163 of the Greater London Authority Act 1999 prohibits Transport for London from disposing of any freehold interest in operational land without the consent of the Secretary of State. Under section 164 of that Act, Transport for London is required to ensure that none of its subsidiaries does anything which Transport for London has no power to do (including anything which Transport for London has no power to do because the consent of the Secretary of State has not been obtained).

The land at Ivere Drive, Barnet, London EN5, which is the subject of this Order has been operational land as defined in section 163(8) of the Greater London Authority Act 1999. It comprises of the area formerly occupied by an electricity substation used in connection with the provision of railway services. Section 163(3) provides that consent under section 163 is not required in respect of land which was formerly operational land if a period of at least five years has elapsed since the land was last operational land, but such a period has not yet elapsed in this case. Its disposal therefore requires the consent of the Secretary of State. The land is currently vested in London Underground Limited, a subsidiary of Transport for London, and the disposal of the land will be made by that company.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

By this Order the Secretary of State for Transport gives consent to Transport for London for the disposal of the land which is the subject of the Order.
