Soil Protection Review

1.—(1) Subject to sub-paragraph (6), a farmer must—

- (a) on or before 1st September 2006, complete a soil protection review for all the land within his holding;
- (b) update the soil protection review at least once in 2007 and at least once in each subsequent year; and
- (c) from 1st January 2007, take all steps reasonably practicable to implement the measures identified in the soil protection review.

(2) The Secretary of State must publish—

- (a) guidance about soil management, including guidance as to the preparation of a soil protection review, no later than the day after these Regulations come into force; and
- (b) revised guidance or supplementary guidance whenever she considers that it is expedient in the interests of good agricultural and environmental condition to do so;

in such a way as she considers appropriate to bring it to the notice of those likely to be affected by it.

(3) A farmer must retain copies of current guidance published by the Secretary of State pursuant to sub-paragraph (2), and he must ensure that this guidance and each soil protection review (and each updated review) completed are available for inspection by an authorised person.

(4) The Secretary of State may give a farmer specific guidance concerning the management of his land to ensure soils are well managed in accordance with the guidance referred to in sub-paragraph (2).

(5) Where the Secretary of State gives a farmer guidance of the kind referred to in sub-paragraph (4) the farmer must have regard to this guidance in completing, updating and implementing his soil protection review (as the case may be).

(6) A farmer is not required to—

- (a) include within the soil protection review any part of his holding which is common land; or
- (b) prepare a soil protection review where his holding, excluding that part of his holding which is common land or in relation to which he has rights in common, is 0.3 hectares or less.

(7) In this paragraph—

- (a) “common land” means land subject to rights of common which—
 - (i) has been entered in the register of common land or town and village greens, under the Commons Registration Act 1965(1); or
 - (ii) is land within one of the areas referred to in section 11(1) of that Act;

where the rights are exercised by someone other than the farmer who owns or occupies the land;

(b) “soil protection review” means a plan about the management of land which—

- (i) sets out problems identified in relation to the holding as to soil structure, soil organic matter and soil erosion and measures to help avoid those problems;
- (ii) is prepared and updated in accordance with the guidance published by the Secretary of State under sub-paragraph (2); and
- (iii) is set out in the same format as the template included in that guidance.

(1) 1965 c. 64.

Post-harvest management of land after combinable crops

2.—(1) If land has carried a crop of oil-seeds, grain legumes or cereals (other than maize) which has been harvested using a combine harvester or a mower, a farmer must ensure that, throughout the period in sub-paragraph (2), at least one of the following conditions is met on that land—

- (a) the stubble of the harvested crop remains in the land;
- (b) the land is left with a rough surface following ploughing, discing, tine cultivation or any other suitable agricultural method;
- (c) the land is prepared as a seedbed for a crop and the crop is sown within a period of 10 days beginning with the day after final seedbed preparation;
- (d) the land is under cultivation sequences used for the purpose of creating a stale seedbed; or
- (e) the land is sown with a temporary cover crop, so long as, if the cover crop becomes grazed out or cultivated out, the condition in paragraph (b) is then met as soon as is practicable without breaching the requirements in paragraph 3, and for the remainder of the period.

(2) The period begins with the first day after harvest and ends with the last day of February in the following year.

(3) In this paragraph, “stale seedbed” means an area of land which is subject to shallow cultivation to stimulate weed germination as part of a strategy of weed control.

Waterlogged soil

3.—(1) A farmer must not carry out a mechanical field operation or use, or allow the use of, a motorised vehicle on waterlogged soil unless—

- (a) the soil is within 20 metres of the access point to an area of soil which is not waterlogged;
- (b) the soil forms part of a track to an area of soil which is not waterlogged; or
- (c) the mechanical field operation or the use of a motorised vehicle is necessary—
 - (i) to improve the drainage of the soil;
 - (ii) to incorporate gypsum into the soil following an intrusion of saltwater;
 - (iii) for reasons of animal welfare or human safety; or
 - (iv) in order to harvest a crop of fruit or vegetables (excluding all varieties of potato, sugar beet, mangel, swede, turnip and fodder beet) —
 - (aa) in order to meet contractual obligations; or
 - (bb) where the quality of the crop would deteriorate if it were not harvested.

(2) The Secretary of State shall vary or suspend any of the requirements in sub-paragraph (1) in relation to an area and for a period of no more than two months, where, in her opinion—

- (a) an area is affected by exceptional weather conditions; and
- (b) those weather conditions justify the variation or suspension of the requirement in this paragraph, taking into consideration the economic impact of the weather conditions and the environmental effects of any variation or suspension of the requirements.

(3) Where the Secretary of State has varied or suspended the requirements she shall publish directions to the farmers in the area concerned stating, with reasons, the details and duration of the variation or suspension, and the farmers must comply with the requirement as varied in the directions, or in the case of a suspension of the requirement, need not comply with the requirement.

(4) In this paragraph, “mechanical field operation” includes any harvesting, cultivation or spreading operation (including the spreading of manure or slurry) by mechanical means.

Burning of crop residues

4. A farmer must not, on agricultural land, burn any crop residue of a kind specified in Schedule 1 to the Crop Residues (Burning) Regulations 1993⁽²⁾ unless the burning is for the purpose of—

- (a) education or research;
- (b) disease control or the elimination of plant pests where a notice has been served under article 32 of the Plant Health (England) Order 2005⁽³⁾; or
- (c) the disposal of straw stack remains or broken bales.

5. A farmer must not, on agricultural land, burn—

- (a) any crop residue of a kind specified in Schedule 1 to the Crop Residues (Burning) Regulations 1993 to which an exemption specified in paragraph 4(a) or (b) applies; or
- (b) any linseed residues;

otherwise than in accordance with the restrictions and requirements set out in Schedule 2 to those Regulations.

Overgrazing and unsuitable supplementary feeding

6.—(1) If the Secretary of State gives a farmer written directions concerning the management of land, which is, in her opinion, subject to overgrazing or the use of unsuitable supplementary feeding methods, he must comply with those directions on any area of land specified in them.

(2) A farmer must not—

- (a) allow overgrazing; or
- (b) use unsuitable supplementary feeding methods.

(3) The Secretary of State may notify a farmer of measures she considers to be appropriate to prevent overgrazing and unsuitable supplementary feeding.

(4) In this paragraph—

“overgrazing” means grazing with so many livestock as to affect adversely the growth, quality or diversity of any self-seeded or self-propagated vegetation characteristic of the area in which the land is situated; and

“unsuitable supplementary feeding methods” means methods that provide supplementary feed for livestock that affect adversely, through trampling or poaching of land by livestock, or through rutting by vehicles used to transport feed, the quality or diversity of any self-seeded or self-propagated vegetation characteristic of the area in which the land is situated.

Management of land which is not in agricultural production

7.—(1) Except on land which is set aside pursuant to Article 54 of the Council Regulation, a farmer on any eligible hectare⁽⁴⁾ which is not used for agricultural production—

- (a) must cut down any scrub and cut down or graze any rank vegetation at least once every 5 years; but—
 - (i) he must cut down no more than 50% of the area of that vegetation in the fourth year and no more than 50% of that area in the fifth year, in each five-year period that the land is not in agricultural production; and

(2) S.I. 1993/1366.

(3) S.I. 2005/2530.

(4) This term has the meaning given to it in Article 44(2) of the Council Regulation.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made).

- (ii) he must not cut down any vegetation in the period within any year beginning on 1st March and ending on 31st July, unless cutting down is necessary in order for the farmer to comply with paragraph 8;
- (b) must, on any land where crops have been harvested, establish a green cover (either through seeding or natural regeneration) as soon as is practicable on or after 1st March in the first year after the land has ceased to be used for agricultural production, unless he can prove that he intends to bring the land back into agricultural production before 15th May in that year;
- (c) must not use the land for non-farm vehicular use;
- (d) must not apply any inorganic fertiliser to the land;
- (e) must not apply manure or slurry to the land; and
- (f) must not store manure or slurry on a field, other than manure where—
 - (i) it is to be used on that field in the next growing season; or
 - (ii) it is to be used on an adjacent field where storage on that adjacent field carries a substantial risk of pollution of watercourses as a result of such storage; and the risk of pollution of watercourses through storage on the field on which the manure is stored is low.
- (2) However—
 - (a) the requirement in sub-paragraph (1)(a)(ii) does not apply where it would conflict with the farmer's obligations under paragraph 8 or 9;
 - (b) the requirements in sub-paragraph (1)(a)(ii) and (1)(b) do not apply to land out of production for the first fifteen months from the date of harvest, where—
 - (i) cutting or ploughing is necessary to control infestation by blackgrass (Alopercurus myosuroides), couch, (Agyropyron repens), creeping thistle (Cirsium arvense) or dock (Rumex species);
 - (ii) the farmer records this land as not being in agricultural production in the soil protection review referred to in paragraph 1 of this Schedule and takes soil protection measures which are appropriate considering the soil management guidance published under paragraph 1(2) of this Schedule; and
 - (iii) the farmer establishes a green cover (either through seeding or natural regeneration) on that land within fifteen months of the date of harvest;
 - (c) no requirement in sub-paragraph (1)(a) or (b) applies where it would conflict with the farmer's obligations under paragraph 25;
 - (d) no requirement in sub-paragraph (1)(d) or (e) applies where the land is situated in an area known to be used as a feeding area by geese in winter and is managed as such an area;
 - (e) the requirement in sub-paragraph (1)(e) does not apply where manure or slurry is applied as part of seedbed preparation during a period beginning two months before the day the crop is sown;
 - (f) no requirement of sub-paragraph (1) applies where it would conflict with the farmer's obligations under paragraphs 18 to 23; and
 - (g) no requirement of sub-paragraph (1) applies to the extent that the Secretary of State has, in order to enhance the environment or for reasons relating to crop or livestock production, given the farmer written permission to manage the land in a different way.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(a), the first year that land is not in agricultural production begins on the first day after the harvest or in the event that crops are not harvested on that land, the day after the land ceases to be in agricultural production.

Control of weeds

8.—(1) If a notice has been served on him under section 1 of the Weeds Act 1959⁽⁵⁾, a farmer must not unreasonably fail to comply with the requirements of that notice.

(2) A farmer must take all reasonable steps to prevent the spread of ragwort (Senecio jacobaea), spear thistle (Cirsium vulgare), creeping or field thistle (Cirsium arvense), broad-leaved dock (Rumex obtusifolius) and curled dock (Rumex crispus) on his land and onto adjacent land.

(3) If, in any appeal against a determination of the Secretary of State that there has been a non-compliance in relation to this paragraph, a code of practice providing guidance on how to prevent the spread of ragwort (Senecio jacobaea) made under section 1A(1) of the Weeds Act 1959 appears to be relevant to any question arising in the appeal, it must be taken into account in determining that question.

9. A farmer must take all reasonable steps to prevent the spread of rhododendron (Rhododendron ponticum), Japanese knotweed (Reynoutria japonica), giant hogweed (Heracleum mantegazzianum) and Himalayan balsam (Impatiens glandulifera) on his land and onto adjacent land.

- (b) land which is within 1 metre of the top of the bank of a watercourse or field ditch.

- (b) to land forming part of a parcel of 2 hectares or less, as measured within permanent boundary features;
- (c) in relation to the use of pesticides, if the only application of pesticides is the spot-application of herbicides to control the spread of any of the weeds mentioned in paragraph 8 or 9;
- (d) to the extent that the Secretary of State has, for reasons relating to livestock production, crop production or the enhancement of the environment, given the farmer written permission to do otherwise;

(3) A farmer may cultivate the land referred to in sub-paragraph (1)—

- (a) in order to establish a green cover where that land does not already have a green cover, and that land is part of a field which—

 - (b) it obstructs or interferes with the view of drivers of vehicles or the light from a public lamp;
 - (c) it overhangs a highway so as to endanger or obstruct the passage of horse-riders; or

Public rights of way

27. A farmer must not—

- (a) without lawful authority or excuse, disturb the surface of a visible footpath, a visible bridleway, or any other visible highway which consists of or comprises a carriageway other than a made-up carriageway, so as to render it inconvenient for the exercise of a public right of way; or
- (b) without lawful authority or excuse, in any way wilfully obstruct the free passage along a visible highway.

28. A farmer must maintain any stile, gate or similar structure, other than a structure to which section 146(5) of the Highways Act 1980⁽²³⁾ applies, across a visible footpath or bridleway in a safe condition, and to the standard of repair required to prevent unreasonable interference with the rights of persons using the footpath or bridleway.

29.—(1) Where a farmer has disturbed the surface of a visible footpath or bridleway (other than a field-edge path) as permitted under section 134 of the Highways Act 1980, he must, within the relevant period under section 134(7) of that Act, or within an extension of that period granted under section 134(8) of that Act—

- (a) so make good the surface of the path or bridleway to not less than its minimum width as to make it reasonably convenient for the exercise of a right of way; and
- (b) so indicate the line of the path or bridleway on the ground to not less than its minimum width that it is apparent to members of the public wishing to use it.

(2) In this paragraph, “minimum width”, in relation to a highway, has the same meaning as in Schedule 12A to the Highways Act 1980.

“bridleway”, “carriageway”, “field-edge path”, “footpath” and “made-up carriageway” have the meaning given to them in section 329(1) of the Highways Act 1980;

“highway” has the meaning given to it by section 328 of the Highways Act 1980; and “visible” means visible as a route to a person with normal eyesight walking or riding along it.
