The Criminal Procedure Rules 2005

PART 57

PROCEEDS OF CRIME ACT 2002—RULES
APPLICABLE TO ALL PROCEEDINGS

Service outside the jurisdiction

57.13.—(1) Where this Part requires a document to be served on someone who is outside England and Wales, it may be served outside England and Wales with the permission of the Crown Court.

(2) Where a document is to be served outside England and Wales it may be served by any method permitted by the law of the country in which it is to be served.

(3) Nothing in this rule or in any court order shall authorise or require any person to do anything in the country where the document is to be served which is against the law of that country.

(4) Where this Part requires a document to be served a certain period of time before the date of a hearing and the recipient does not appear at the hearing, the hearing must not take place unless the Crown Court is satisfied that the document has been duly served.

[Note. Formerly rule 60 of the Crown Court (Confiscation, Restraint and Receivership) Rules 2003.]
