Application for extension of time limit

51.—(1) The CAA may extend any time limit imposed by this Part whether or not it has already expired, if—

- (a) it would not be reasonable to expect any person subject to such a limit to comply or to have complied with the time limit; or
- (b) not to extend the time limit would result in substantial injustice.

(2) Before deciding whether or not to extend the time limit the CAA must give persons entitled to attend a hearing under regulation 59 an opportunity to submit written representations.
