EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order makes amendments to specified Orders and Regulations consequential upon the amendment of offences relating to the trafficking of people for sexual exploitation set out in the Sexual Offences Act 2003 (c. 42). Section 109 of the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012 (c. 9) amends the offences set out in the 2003 Act, repealing the offences at sections 57, 58 and 59 and inserting a new offence at section 59A (the “new offence”).

Paragraph 1 of the Schedule amends paragraph 3 of Schedule 1 to the Criminal Justice Act 1988 (Reviews of Sentencing Order) 2006 to specify the new offence for the purposes of Part IV of the Criminal Justice Act 1988 (c. 33). Part IV empowers the Attorney General to refer certain criminal cases to the Court of Appeal, with leave of that Court, where the Attorney General considers that the sentences imposed were unduly lenient.

(2) S.I. 2006/1116 as amended by S.I. 2012/1833.

(3) Section 59A was inserted into the Sexual Offences Act 2003 (c. 42) by section 109 of the Protection of Freedoms Act 2012.

(4) S.I. 2009/1168.

(5) S.I. 2013/435.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Paragraph 2 of the Schedule amends paragraph 1 of the Schedule to the Armed Forces (Review of Court Martial Sentence) Order 2009 to specify the new offence for the purposes of section 273(3) of the Armed Forces Act 2006 (c. 52). Section 273 empowers the Attorney General to refer certain offences to the Court Martial Appeal Court, with leave of that Court, where the Attorney General considers that the sentences imposed were unduly lenient.

Paragraph 3 of the Schedule amends the table in Part 7 of Schedule 1 to the Criminal Legal Aid (Remuneration) Regulations 2013 to insert an entry relating to the new offence. Schedule 1 sets out the graduated fees and fixed fees payable to advocates for proceedings in the Crown Court.

A full regulatory impact assessment has not been produced for this Order as no impact on the private or voluntary sectors is foreseen.
