EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

Article 2 of this Order appoints 1st January 2015 as the day on which the penalty regime under Schedule 55 to the Finance Act 2009 (c.10), for failure to make returns or to deliver any other document, comes into force in relation to stamp duty reserve tax (SDRT). Those documents affected are notices of a charge to tax required to be made or delivered to HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) under regulations made under section 98 of the Finance Act 1986 (c.41).

Article 3 appoints 1st January 2015 as the day on which the penalty regime under Schedule 56 to the Finance Act 2009, for failure to make payments on time, comes into force in relation to SDRT. Those payments affected are those which become payable on or after 1st January 2015. Article 4 appoints 1st January 2015 as the day on which those parts of the interest regime set out in sections 101 and 102 of the Finance Act 2009 come into force in relation to SDRT.

Section 101 applies late payment interest to any sum due to HMRC by virtue of an enactment but paid late. Section 102 applies repayment interest to any amount payable by HMRC to any person by virtue of an enactment.

Article 5 provides for a consequential revocation. Article 22 of the Finance Act 2009, Schedules 55 and 56 (Income Tax Self Assessment and Pension Schemes) (Appointed Days and Consequential and Savings Provisions) Order 2011 (S.I. 2011/702) is omitted. The effect of omitting this article will be to revoke the previous penalty regime, which had been preserved by the article for the purposes only of SDRT.

A Tax Information and Impact Note has not been prepared for this instrument as it gives effect to previously announced policy and it is an appointed day order.
