Habitats and Species Regulations 2017

PART 2

CONSERVATION OF NATURAL HABITATS AND HABITATS OF SPECIES

7.—(1) The relevant administration must designate as special areas of conservation such sites in the offshore marine area it considers to be sites of national importance.

(2) Sites of national importance are sites which contribute significantly to the objective in paragraph (3)(a) or the objective in paragraph (3)(b).

(3) The objectives referred to in paragraph (2) are—

- (a) the maintenance, or restoration, at favourable conservation status in their natural range, of the natural habitat types listed in Annex I to the Habitats Directive or the species listed in Annex II to that Directive; and
- (b) the maintenance of biological diversity within the Atlantic biogeographic region.

(4) For aquatic species which range over wide areas, such sites are to be determined to be of national importance only where there is a clearly identifiable area which is distinct in providing the physical and biological factors essential to their life and reproduction.

(5) in determining which sites are of national importance for the purposes of paragraph (1), the relevant administration must—

- (a) apply the Annex III criteria;
- (b) make its determination only on the basis of relevant scientific information; and
- (c) have regard to the importance of the population of a species or area of a habitat, found in the United Kingdom's territory, in ensuring that the objectives in paragraph (3) are met .

(6) For the purposes of paragraph (5)(a), the Annex III criteria are to be construed as if—

- (a) for “Community importance” there were substituted “national importance”;
- (b) a reference to a “Member State” is to be taken to be a reference to the relevant administration;
- (c) for “continuous ecosystem situated on both sides of one or more internal Community frontiers” there were substituted “continuous ecosystem extending beyond the borders of the United Kingdom; and
- (d) for “the biogeographical regions concerned and/or for the whole of the territory referred to in Article 2” there were substituted “the Atlantic biogeographical region”.

(7) The relevant authority must have regard to the advice of the Joint Committee in relation to the application of Annex III to the Habitats Directive.

(8) In relation to a site in the Welsh offshore region which before these Regulations come into force has been the subject of a proposal under regulation 8(1) of the Offshore Marine (Natural Habitats, &c.) Regulations 2007, the relevant administration for the purposes of paragraph (1) is the Secretary of State.

(9) In this regulation, “the Annex III criteria” means the criteria set out in Annex III to the Habitats Directive]

7A. The relevant administration must establish priorities for the designation of sites in the light of—

- (a) the importance of the sites for the maintenance or restoration at a favourable conservation status of—
  - (i) a natural habitat type specified in Annex I to the Habitats Directive; or
  - (ii) a species specified in Annex II to the Habitats Directive;
- (b) the importance of the sites for the coherence of national site network; and

12.—(1) The Secretary of State must classify as special protection areas such sites in the offshore marine area as the Secretary of State considers necessary to ensure that the objective specified in paragraph (2) is attained.

(2) The objective is that there are classified as special protection areas those sites across the United Kingdom's territory which are most suitable in number and size for—

- (a) the conservation of the species listed in Annex I to the Wild Birds Directive which naturally occur in that territory; and
- (b) the conservation of regularly occurring migratory species of birds not listed in Annex I which naturally occur in that territory.

(3) The Secretary of State must make the decision as to the sites to be classified under paragraph (1) only on the basis of relevant scientific information and—

- (a) in the case of a site to be classified for the purpose mentioned in paragraph (2)(a), on the basis of the criteria set out in Article 4(1) of the Wild Birds Directive; and

[<sup>F12</sup>(4) In applying the criteria referred to in sub-paragraphs (3)(a) and (b), references in Articles 4(1) and (4)(2) of the Wild Birds Directive to classifying the most suitable territories “in the geographical sea and land area where this Directive applies” are to be construed as referring to the most suitable sites in the offshore marine area, having regard to the importance of such territories for ensuring the survival and reproduction of that species in their area of distribution.]

F13(5) ....

F13(6) ....

(7) Nothing in this regulation requires the Secretary of State to classify as, or as part of, a special protection area any site which is or forms part of a site classified as a special protection area by—

are classified as special protection areas, in so far as they consist of sites in the Scottish offshore or Welsh offshore regions (as the case may be).

(4) The Scottish Ministers must make their decision as to the sites to be classified under paragraph (1) only on the basis of relevant scientific information and—

- (a) in the case of a site to be classified for the purpose mentioned in paragraph (3)(a), on the basis of the criteria set out in Article 4(1) of the Wild Birds Directive; and
- (b) in the case of a site to be classified for the purpose mentioned in paragraph (3)(b), on the basis of the criteria set out in Article 4(2) of the Wild Birds Directive.

(5) But the Scottish Ministers may only classify a site as a special protection area under paragraph (1) if the Secretary of State has agreed that they so classify the site.

(6) The Welsh Ministers must make their decision as to the sites to be classified under paragraph (2) only on the basis of relevant scientific information and—

- (4) In paragraph (2)(a), “proportionate” means proportionate to the relative importance of—
  - (a) the part of the natural range lying in the United Kingdom’s territory, and
  - (b) the part of the natural range lying outside the United Kingdom’s territory,

Conservation measures relating to special areas of conservation

25.—(1) In relation to any site designated as a special area of conservation under regulation 11, competent authorities must, in so far as their functions may be so exercised, exercise such of their functions as they consider appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to Article 6(1) of the Habitats Directive by taking conservation measures corresponding to the ecological requirements of—

(4) Before a competent authority (other than a competent authority in Scotland or Wales) exercises any relevant function for the purposes of complying with paragraph (1), it must first consult the Scottish Ministers and the Welsh Ministers.

(5) Where, in relation to any site designated as a special area of conservation under regulation 11, paragraph (1) imposes a duty on more than one competent authority—

- (a) where the competent authorities do not include a competent authority in Scotland or Wales, the Secretary of State may give a direction that, in respect of any measure that may be necessary, the duty of the competent authorities in question is to be satisfied by the taking of that measure by such competent authority or authorities as the Secretary of State may specify in the direction, and any such direction has effect in the terms stated in the direction; and
- (b) where the competent authorities include one or more competent authorities in Scotland or Wales, the relevant administration may give a direction that, in respect of any measure that may be necessary, the duty of the competent authorities in question is to be satisfied by the taking of that measure by such competent authority or authorities as the relevant administration may specify in the direction, and any such direction has effect in the terms stated in the direction.

- (d) in any site classified as a special protection area under regulation 12 or 13, the disturbance of any of the species of bird for which the site was so classified, in so far as such disturbance could be significant in relation to the objectives of the Habitats Directive or the Wild Birds Directive.

- (d) in any site classified as a special protection area under regulation 12 or 13, the deterioration of the habitats of any of the species of bird for which the site was so classified.

(6) In considering the steps (if any) to be taken under paragraph (1), competent authorities must have regard to—

- (a) the need to maintain at, or restore to, favourable conservation status the natural habitat types and species specified in paragraphs (3) and (4), and the habitats of those species, which are present on the site concerned;
- (b) the matters referred to in Article 2(3) of the Habitats Directive;
- (c) any management scheme which has been established for the site concerned; and
- (d) the objectives of the Habitats Directive and, where appropriate, the Wild Birds Directive.

(7) In so far as the duty in paragraph (1) has been met in respect of a site by any competent authority in Scotland or competent authority in Wales, that paragraph does not apply to any other competent authority in respect of that site.

(8) Before a competent authority (other than a competent authority in Scotland or competent authority in Wales) exercises any relevant function for the purposes of complying with paragraph (1), it must first consult the Scottish Ministers or the Welsh Ministers (as the case may be), and for this purpose, a “relevant function” means any function exercisable for the purpose of securing any result which may instead be secured by the exercise of any function of the Scottish Ministers or the Welsh Ministers.

(10) A direction under paragraph (9)(b) may not be given unless the Scottish Ministers or the Welsh Ministers (as the case may be) and the Secretary of State have agreed that it may.

(11) So far as lies within its powers, a competent authority in exercising any function in or in relation to the offshore marine area must use all reasonable endeavours to avoid any pollution or deterioration of habitats of wild birds (except habitats beyond the outer limits of the area to which the Wild Birds Directive applies).

Protection of European offshore marine sites and European sites

28.—(1) Before deciding to undertake, or give any consent, permission or other authorisation for, a relevant plan or project, a competent authority must make an appropriate assessment of the implications of the plan or project for the site in view of that site's conservation objectives.

- (2) In paragraph (1), a “relevant plan or project” is a plan or project which—
  - (a) is to be carried out on or in any part of the waters or on or in any part of the seabed or subsoil comprising the offshore marine area, or on or in relation to an offshore marine installation;
  - (b) is likely to have a significant effect on a European offshore marine site or a European site (either alone or in combination with other plans or projects); and
  - (c) is not directly connected with or necessary to the management of the site.

(3) A person applying to a competent authority for any consent, permission or other authorisation for a plan or project in the offshore marine area must provide such information as the competent authority may reasonably require—

- (a) to enable it to determine whether an assessment under paragraph (1) is required; or
- (b) for the purposes of an assessment under paragraph (1).

(4) The competent authority must for the purposes of the assessment—

- (a) where it relates to a European offshore marine site, consult the Joint Committee;
- (b) where it relates to a European site in England, consult Natural England;
- (c) where it relates to a European site in Wales, consult the Natural Resources Body for Wales;
- (d) where it relates to a European site in Scotland, consult Scottish Natural Heritage;
- (e) where it relates to a European site in Northern Ireland, consult the DAERA; and
- (f) if it considers it appropriate, take the opinion of the general public and if it does so, take such steps for that purpose as it considers appropriate.

(5) In the light of the conclusions of the assessment, and subject to regulation 29, the competent authority may agree to the plan or project only if it has ascertained that it will not adversely affect the integrity of the European offshore marine site or European site (as the case may be).

(6) In considering whether a plan or project will adversely affect the integrity of a site, the competent authority must have regard to the manner in which it is proposed to be carried out and to any conditions or restrictions subject to which the competent authority proposes that the consent, permission or other authorisation should be given.

(7) This regulation does not apply in relation to—

(c) the granting by the Secretary of State [<sup>F46</sup>or the agreement to the grant] of any Petroleum Act approval, Petroleum Act authorisation, Petroleum or Energy Act consent, Petroleum Act licence, or Energy Act licence.

(8) Where a plan or project requires an appropriate assessment both under this regulation and under the Conservation Regulations, the assessment so far as relating to that part of it that is to be carried out in the offshore marine area need not identify the extent to which the effects of the plan or project are specifically attributable to that part, provided that an assessment made for the purposes of this regulation and the Conservation Regulations assesses the effects of the plan or project as a whole.

(9) In paragraph (8) “the Conservation Regulations” means the 1994 Regulations or the 2017 Regulations (as the case may be).

(10) In this regulation—

“England” includes so much of the internal waters and territorial sea of the United Kingdom as are not part of Northern Ireland, Scotland or Wales; and “Northern Ireland” has the same meaning as in the Northern Ireland Act 1998 <sup>M2</sup>.

Considerations of overriding public interest

29.—(1) If it is satisfied that, there being no alternative solutions, the plan or project referred to in regulation 28(1) must be carried out for imperative reasons of overriding public interest (which, subject to paragraph (2), may be of a social or economic nature), the competent authority may agree to the plan or project notwithstanding a negative assessment of the implications for the site.

(2) Where the site concerned hosts a priority natural habitat type or a priority species, the reasons referred to in paragraph (1) must be either—

- (a) reasons relating to human health, public safety or beneficial consequences of primary importance to the environment; or
- (b) any other imperative reasons of overriding public interest.

(3) A competent authority [<sup>F47</sup>other than the relevant administration] may not agree to a plan or project under paragraph (1) for any reason referred to in paragraph (2)(b) unless it has had due regard to the opinion of the [<sup>F48</sup>relevant administration] in satisfying itself that there are such reasons.
