Power to investigate

10.—(1) Notwithstanding the obligations to investigate imposed by paragraphs 1 and 2 of Article 5 of Regulation 996/2010 and by Chapter 5 of Annex 13, the Chief Inspector may cause a safety investigation to be conducted in accordance with Regulation 996/2010, Annex 13 and these Regulations where—

Obligation to investigate accidents and serious incidents occurring outside the United Kingdom

11.—(1) Insofar as it is practicable to do so, the Chief Inspector must cause a safety investigation to be conducted in accordance with Annex 13 and these Regulations where—

- (a) an accident or serious incident occurs in or over a country or territory other than the United Kingdom or any other Contracting State;

Additional provisions – Inspectors’ powers

12.—(1) The power conferred by subparagraph (f) (power to call and examine witnesses) of paragraph 2 of Article 11 of Regulation 996/2010 must be exercised by the service of a summons signed by an Investigating Inspector and requiring any person (“witness”) to attend a witness interview at a time and place stated in the summons, in order to—

- (a) answer any question, or
- (b) produce any document, record, information or other evidence, which is, in the opinion of that Inspector, relevant to the safety investigation.

(2) A witness must be allowed the expenses of attending a witness interview, payable by the Secretary of State.

13. An Investigating Inspector has the power to—

- (a) record a witness interview in any manner that the Investigating Inspector considers appropriate;
- (b) take a statement from a witness and require the witness to make and sign a declaration of truth in relation to that statement; and
- (c) retain any evidence which is produced by a witness or which the investigator-in-charge has access to or control over, by virtue of paragraph 2 of Article 11 of Regulation 996/2010, until the completion of the safety investigation.

14.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2), an Investigating Inspector may, on production of that Inspector’s authority to act as an Inspector, enter and inspect any land or premises (including any dwelling and any aircraft) where, in the opinion of the investigator-in-charge, such action is necessary for the purposes of the safety investigation.

 - (ii) in Scotland, evidence on oath; or
 - (iii) in Northern Ireland, a complaint on oath;
- (c) the investigator-in-charge is satisfied that access to the dwelling is required urgently and that the requirement to obtain consent or a warrant would undermine the safety investigation.

(3) A justice may issue a warrant if the justice is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for entering and inspecting the dwelling for the purposes of the safety investigation and that at least one of the following conditions is met—

- (a) entry to the dwelling has been, or is likely to be, refused and notice of the intention to apply for a warrant has been served on the occupier;
 - (b) asking for consent to enter and inspect the dwelling would undermine the safety investigation;
 - (c) entry to the dwelling is required urgently;
 - (d) the dwelling is unoccupied or the occupier is temporarily absent.
- (4) A warrant may authorise a maximum of two Investigating Inspectors to enter and inspect a dwelling.
- (5) A warrant is valid for one month beginning on the date of its issue.

- “a justice” means—
- (a) in England and Wales, a justice of the peace;
 - (b) in Scotland, a sheriff or a summary sheriff; and
 - (c) in Northern Ireland, a lay magistrate.

Release of evidence to owner

15.—(1) This regulation applies where an aircraft, its contents or wreckage (“property”) is held by the Air Accidents Investigation Branch in a hangar, or in any other facility which is being used by the Branch, for the purposes of a safety investigation.

(2) Subject to paragraph (5), where any such property is no longer required for the purposes of the safety investigation the Chief Inspector must inform the owner of the property, by serving a notice in writing, that it will be released to the owner at the place and date specified in the notice and in accordance with any other arrangements that are specified in the notice.

(3) An owner on whom such a notice is served must collect the property in accordance with the arrangements specified in the notice (or in accordance with any alternative arrangements that the owner agrees in writing with the Chief Inspector), failing which—

- (a) the Chief Inspector may make arrangements for the destruction or disposal of the property; and
- (b) the reasonable costs of such destruction or disposal will be recoverable from the owner as a debt due to the Secretary of State.

(4) A notice served pursuant to paragraph (2)—

- (a) must not specify a date for collection of the property earlier than one month beginning with the date on which the notice was served; and

- (b) must include a warning that a failure by the owner to collect the property on the date specified in the notice (or such other date that the owner agrees in writing with the Chief Inspector) will entitle the Chief Inspector to make arrangements for the destruction or disposal of the property and that the reasonable costs of such destruction or disposal will be recoverable from the owner as a debt due to the Secretary of State.

(5) Where any property referred to in paragraph (1) is no longer required for the purposes of the safety investigation and the Chief Inspector is satisfied that a person, body or authority (other than the owner) is entitled (under statutory or common law powers that apply in any part of the United Kingdom) to collect that property for the purposes of another investigation and has confirmed their intention to do so—

- (a) paragraph (2) does not apply to that property; and
- (b) the Chief Inspector must release it to that person, body or authority and inform the owner of the property, by serving a notice in writing, that it has been so released.

(6) In this regulation “owner”, in relation to an aircraft which is registered, means the registered owner of the aircraft.

Notice of safety investigation report

16.—(1) Where the investigator-in-charge considers that a safety investigation report could adversely affect the reputation of any person (“the person concerned”), the final safety investigation report must not be published until the investigator-in-charge has—

- (a) served a notice on the person concerned or, where that person is deceased, the person who appears to the investigator-in-charge to best represent the interests of the person concerned in the matter; and
- (b) made such changes as the investigator-in-charge thinks fit, following the consideration by that investigator of any representations that have been made pursuant to paragraph (2)(b).

(2) The notice referred to in paragraph (1)(a) must—

- (a) include particulars of any proposed analysis of facts and conclusions as to the circumstances and causes of the relevant accident or incident which could affect the person concerned; and
- (b) inform the person on whom it is served that written representations regarding that proposed analysis may be made to the investigator-in-charge by or on behalf of that person within 28 days, beginning with the date on which the notice was served, or within such longer period as the Chief Inspector may allow.

Pre-publication copies of the final safety investigation report

17. Before the publication of the final safety investigation report, the Chief Inspector must provide a copy of it to the Secretary of State and must also serve a copy of it on any person on whom a notice was served pursuant to paragraph (1)(a) of regulation 16.

Reopening of safety investigation

18.—(1) Subject to paragraph (3), where, following publication of a final safety investigation report relating to an accident or serious incident, evidence has become available which, in the Chief Inspector’s opinion, is new and significant, the Chief Inspector must cause the safety investigation to be reopened.

(2) Subject to paragraph (3), following publication of a final safety investigation report relating to an accident or serious incident, the Chief Inspector may cause the safety investigation to be reopened for any other reason where the Chief Inspector considers it appropriate to do so.

(3) The Chief Inspector must not reopen a safety investigation into an accident or serious incident in respect of which the task of conducting the safety investigation has been delegated to the Air Accidents Investigation Branch, pursuant to paragraph 2 of Article 6 of Regulation

996/2010 or paragraph 5.1, 5.1.1 or 5.1.2 of Annex 13, without first obtaining the consent of the head of the investigation authority which so delegated that task.

Amendments to the Civil Aviation Act 1982

19. In section 75 of the Civil Aviation Act 1982(a) (investigation of accidents), omit subsection (1A) (power to make provision for the purpose of implementing Council Directive 94/56/EC(b)).

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations revoke and replace (see regulation 5) the Civil Aviation (Investigation of Air Accidents and Incidents) Regulations 1996 (S.I. 1996/2798) and the Civil Aviation (Investigation of Military Air Accidents at Civil Aerodromes) Regulations 2005 (S.I. 2005/2693). They make consequential amendments to the Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 2013 (S.I. 2013/1471) (“RIDDOR”) in order to ensure that injuries arising from air accidents which are required to be notified to the Air Accidents Investigation Branch continue to be excluded from the relevant notification and reporting requirements in RIDDOR.

In part, these Regulations supplement Regulation (EU) No 996/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20th October 2010 on the investigation and prevention of accidents and incidents in civil aviation (OJ No L 295, 12.11.10, p35) (“Regulation 996/2010”), as amended by Regulation (EU) No 376/2014 (OJ No L 122, 24.4.14, p18).

(a) Subsection (5) of section 75 was amended (in relation to England and Wales) by the Criminal Justice Act 1982 (c.48), sections 37 and 46, and by the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 (c.10), section 85, and has been prospectively amended (also in relation to England and Wales) by the Criminal Justice Act 2003 (c.44), section 280 and Schedule 26.

The following provisions do not supplement Community obligations: regulations 11, 15, 16 and 18. Regulations 11 and 18 implement requirements in Annex 13 to the Chicago Convention (signed on behalf of the United Kingdom Government on 7th December 1944 at the International Civil Aviation Conference in Chicago). In regulation 2, “Annex 13” is defined as meaning that Annex as it has effect from time to time. Regulations 15 and 16 are purely domestic provisions.

Regulation 3 defines (a) “an act of unlawful interference”, for the purposes of paragraph 2 of Article 12 of Regulation 996/2010 (which requires the investigator-in-charge to inform the competent authorities when it becomes known or is suspected that such an act was involved in an accident or serious incident), and (b) “victim” (of an accident), for the purposes of paragraphs 4 and 5 of Article 15 of that Regulation (provision of information by the investigation authority to victims and their relatives prior to publication).

Regulation 7 provides that the Air Accidents Investigation Branch (“the AAIB”) (part of the Department for Transport) continues to be designated as the safety investigation authority for the United Kingdom, for the purposes of Article 4 of Regulation 996/2010, and the accident investigation authority for the purposes of Annex 13.

Regulation 8 provides that the sole objective of a safety investigation is the prevention of accidents and incidents, without the apportionment of blame or liability.

Regulation 9 provides for the appointment of Inspectors of Air Accidents, a Chief Inspector of Air Accidents and a Deputy Chief Inspector and provides that the investigator-in-charge of a safety investigation is the Chief Inspector or any other Inspector selected by the Chief Inspector for that purpose.

As permitted by Regulation 996/2010, regulation 10 empowers the Chief Inspector to cause a safety investigation to be conducted in accordance with Regulation 996/2010, Annex 13 and these Regulations where an accident, serious incident or any other incident occurs in or over the United Kingdom and involves an aircraft to which Regulation 996/2010 would not otherwise apply (including an aircraft engaged in military, customs, police or similar services), but only in cases where the Chief Inspector expects to draw safety lessons for civil aviation from a safety investigation.

Regulation 11 implements paragraph 5.2 of Annex 13. It requires the Chief Inspector to cause a safety investigation to be conducted (insofar as it is practicable to do so) where an accident or serious incident occurs in or over a country or territory other than the United Kingdom or any other State which is party to the Chicago Convention. It applies where the accident or serious incident involves an aircraft in respect of which the United Kingdom is the State of Registry, the State of the Operator, the State of Design or the State of Manufacture (as defined in the regulation) and where an investigation is not conducted by another State.

Regulations 12 to 14 confer powers on the Inspectors of Air Accidents, which are supplemental to those conferred by Regulation 996/2010 and Annex 13, to enable them to conduct safety investigations effectively.

Regulation 15 makes provision for the release of evidence by the AAIB following the completion of a safety investigation and for the recovery of the reasonable costs of destruction or disposal of such property where the owner fails to collect it.

Regulation 16 requires the investigator-in-charge to provide any person whose reputation could be adversely affected by a safety investigation report (or such other person who appears to best represent that person’s interests) with particulars of any proposed analysis of facts and conclusions as to the circumstances and causes of the accident or incident prior to the publication of the report, and to permit that person to make written representations regarding that proposed analysis. Following the receipt of such representations, the investigator-in-charge must make such changes to the report as the investigator thinks fit.

Regulation 17 requires the Chief Inspector to provide a pre-publication copy of the final safety investigation report to the Secretary of State and any person on whom a notice has been served under regulation 16.

Paragraphs (1) and (3) of regulation 18 implement paragraph 5.13 of Annex 13 and require the Chief Inspector to reopen a safety investigation where new and significant evidence becomes available. Paragraph (2), which empowers the Chief Inspector to reopen a safety investigation for any other reason where the Chief Inspector considers it appropriate to do so, is a purely domestic provision. In both cases, the Chief Inspector must not reopen a safety investigation which has been delegated to the AAIB without the prior consent of the head of the investigation authority which delegated it.

Regulation 19 repeals subsection (1A) of the Civil Aviation Act 1982 (1982 c.16), in order to reflect the repeal (by Regulation 996/2010) of Council Directive 94/56/EC of 21st November 1994 establishing the fundamental principles governing the investigation of civil aviation accidents and incidents (OJ No L 319, 12.12.1994, p14).

Regulations 20 to 28 specify the acts and omissions that contravene these Regulations. Regulation 29 provides that subsection (5) of section 75 of the Civil Aviation Act 1982 (penalties) applies to all of those provisions, irrespective of whether they are made under section 75.
